"The mutiny of the warships provided the revolutionary committee with a good opportunity to influence the masses. The committee visited the battleship and assured the mutineers that the garrison of Odessa had laid down its arms, and that the whole Black Sea squadron had joined hands with the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine. According to eye-witnesses, officers took an active part in the council on board the battleship, especially two young cadets. The results of the anarchist intrigues among the workmen and mutinous sailors became immediately evident. The troops were unable to use their arms against the crowds of workmen in the vicinity of the harbor for fear of the possibility of an enfilading fire from the battleship.

"Several times during the night of June 28 the mob attacked the troops and police with revolvers, but each time they were scattered by a volley from the soldiers. The number of rioters killed or wounded is not yet known but must exceed several hundreds. The damage can only be estimated in the millions of roubles.

"None of the representatives of the foreign powers suffered. The Consulates were guarded by troops.

"On June 29, a state of war was proclaimed, and the city was cordoned by troops. The disorders then ceased."

Used Real Shot.

The story confirms the reports that the Kniaz Potemkine in the evening of June 28 fired three blank shots, as prescribed by the Russian naval code, for the funeral of a sailor, and followed these up with two live shots destroying part of a house. Otherwise the battleships did no damage.

The Government report then proceeds to relate the arrival of Rear Admiral Kruger's squadron, during the morning of June 30, as follows:

"As the squadron approached the Odessa pier the Kniaz Potemkine cleared for action, advanced to meet it and cut through its line. As she passed the mutineers received an ovation from the crew of the Georgi Pobledonosets. Rear-Admiral Kruger thereupon signalled the squadron to swing round and return to Sebastopol, but the crew of the Georgi Pobledonosets prevented that vessel from following and put ashore all their officers disarmed, with the exception of Lieut. Grigorieff, who blew out his brains. On the advice of the revolutionists a committee of 20 was elected to take charge of the vessel under the direction of a boatsman's mate, and apparently against the latter's will.

Discussion on Board.

"Dissension prevailed among the crew, only part of which was influenced by the revolutionists, and wanted to follow the Kniaz Potemkine. The latter threatened to fire on the Georgi Pobledonosets if she tried to rejoin the squadron at Sebastopol.

"The anti-revolutionary section, however, ultimately gained the upper hand, and, when in the afternoon of July 1 the two battleships weighed anchor, the Georgi Pobledonosets put on full speed, entered the harbor and sent the boatswain's mate and some sailors ashore to signify her submission."

FACE OF JOHN HAY.

Although Body Lies in State Public Will Not See It.

Cleveland, O., July 5.—The remains of John Hay now lie in state at the spacious chamber of commerce corridors of this city, guarded by a detail from Troop A., of which the illustrious dead man was an honorary member.

Mrs. Hay wished, above all, that the body should not lie in state for public view. The people of the city will therefore have no opportunity of seeing the face of the dead secretary of state. The body will lie in state in the hall of the chamber of commerce building for two days, but exposed only to the eyes of the troopers, who will stand guard over the coffin. Even the funeral services themselves will be like those of one of the country's most humble citizens. The last words will be spoken over the body of the dead in the privacy of his dearest relatives and closest friends in life.

—The midnight train last night was run in two sections.

HOW YOU GET CONSUMPTION.

Most "lungers" allowed their power of resistance to fall very low. Favorable conditions were provided for the development of the baccilli. Consumption was the result.

But in a healthy body Consumption can't take root. The most potent health-maker is Ferrozone. Take it regularly and you needn't fear tuberculosis.

FERROZONE

Supplies exactly what the man verging on Consumption needs. It forms rich, nutritious blood, strengthens the nerves, puts vim and endurance into every organ of the body.

For the tired, weak—anyone in poor health—Ferrozone is worth its weight in gold. Avoid substitutes!

Women

Are the Up-to-Date Remedy.

Medicines, like clothes, are made from different materials now than they were twenty-five years ago. Some of the materials used in making Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women were not then discovered then. You cannot get these new ingredients in the old time remedies. And yet these ingredients are used now in diseases of women by all the world's greatest physicians.

Progressive women—thinking women keep up-to-date in the matter of medicines as well as clothes. They are buying Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets, the twentieth century preparation for women, and the one now recognized beyond doubt or question as the one best adapted to their special needs.

They make healthy women.

DEATH OCCRRED IN BROOKLYN, N.Y.

Of Mr. Wm. Brennan, ex-Former Resident of Norwood.

Late News from that Village—Many Visitors—Deaths.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Norwood, July 4.—Mr. Coleman Elliott left on Saturday on an extended trip to Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Wm. Rutherford, formerly druggist of this place, now of Nelson, B.C., is visiting with his uncle, Dr. S. P. Ford, Ridge street. Mr. Rutherford has been a resident of Nelson for the past eight years.

Mr. E. Wright, of Campbellford, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Geo. Elphick.

Mr. Wm. Spencer, of Toronto, is staying with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kindred, of Havelock, were guests at the home of Mr. Thos. Fraser last week.

Mr. R. Lees, of St. Thomas, is the guest of his father-in-law, Mr. R. W. Waters.

Mrs. Sperry and Mr. H. Sperry spent Dominion Day at Mr. D. A. Fraser's.

Mr. Harry Stewart, of Hamilton, is home attending the funeral of his uncle, the late Geo. Ross.

Mr. W. L. Cameron is in Toronto this week.

Mrs. F. H. Birt spent the holiday in Toronto, the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. Sanders.

Mr. Archie Campbell, of North Bay, was in town on Monday.

The death of the late Wm. H. Brennan, formerly of this place, occurred at the home of his mother, Brooklyn, N.Y., on Friday, June 30th, a the age of 33 years. The remains were brought to Norwood on Saturday. The funeral took place from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. A. Breault, Spring street, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Service was held at St. Paul's church. Place of interment, Roman Catholic Cemetery. His mother and his brother, Mr. Chas. Brennan accompanied the corpse. He leaves besides his mother, three sisters and three brothers, Dr. Fred Brennan, of South Africa; Mr. O. Brennan, Chas. Brennan, Miss Maude Brennan and Miss F. Brennan, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. A. Breault, of Norwood.

Mr. W. H. Adams, who has been appointed to take charge of the Methodist church here, occupied the pulpit at both morning and evening services of last Sunday. Both services were very well attended, Miss Bessie Sperry Peterborough, sang a very pretty solo at the evening service.

Mr. C. Brown I.P.S., of Peterborough is presiding over the Departmental Examinations, being held here the first two weeks of July.

Miss. Geo. E. Mills and Miss Fanny Squire are attending the Methodist Summer School in session now at Twelve O'Clock Park, as delegates for the Epworth League of this place.

Mr. J. L. Squire was in Toronto on business on Monday.

Miss Jessie Calder of Deseronto, is home for her vacation.

Miss May McCarthy, of Campbellford, spent Sunday at home.

The Baptist Sunday School of Norwood together with the Baptists of the Ninth Line, held a very successful picnic on July 3rd, in one of the groves north of Norwood.

The Congregational picnic of the Presbyterians was held on Monday at the Narrows, Trent Bridge. The day being beautiful it was very largely attended. Nearly all the families of the church being represented. The Committee of Arrangements, consisting of Dr. Robertson, chairman, Messrs. Alfred Robson, Ashton Little and A. S. Harrison, deserve praise for the well made perfect management of the day. The afternoon was partly devoted to sports, consisting of jumping by the boys and foot racing by the boys and girls. The egg race was exceedingly amusing, and all heartily took part. There was a tug of war between the married and unmarried men, which resulted after a series of hard pulls in a tie. The "Arrow," a small launch plied the waters all afternoon for the purpose of giving the children boat rides. In connection with the sports, prizes were rewarded.

Miss Waters and Miss Leighton left on Tuesday on a trip through Quebec.

Mr. Fred Buck spent Friday in Toronto.

Mr. Arthur Wigmore who has been taking a commercial course in the Belleville Business College, has successfully passed his examinations and is home.

Mr. Ewart Wansborough, junior clerk of the Union Bank, is spending a few days at his home in Fergus.

Miss Grace Foster is staying with friends in Havelock.

The Norwood football team played an exhibition game against the Havelock team on Dominion Day at Park and Pleasure Grounds, Havelock. The game resulted in a tie.

The home baseball team were defeated the same afternoon by the Havelock baseball team, with a score of 7-3.

Miss M. Morrison spent the holiday in Peterborough.

Misses Bertha and Stella Seawright are guests of friends in Peterborough.

Miss Eakins spent a few days in Peterborough with her sister Mrs. Gray.

Mr. J. Leighton is spending a short vacation at the home of his father, Mr. R. Leighton, Principal Public School.

The death of Mr. George Ross occurred at his residence in Asphodel on Sunday, July 2nd, after a short illness. The funeral took place from his late residence, lot 15, concession 10, Asphodel on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30. Service at the house at 2 p. m. Rev. Mr. George MacLennan, Presbyterian minister, conducted the funeral service. The deceased was a bachelor, 70 years of age. In religion he was a Presbyterian and was a Liberal in politics.

The funeral of the late Geo. McGee took place from his late residence, lot 11, concession 11, Asphodel, on Tuesday, July 4th, at two o'clock. The funeral left the house at 2.30, and from there proceeded to the Norwood cemetery for interment. The cortege was one of the largest known in this section for some time, as the deceased was very highly respected.

Rev. Mr. Adams, Methodist Minister, conducted the funeral service. The deceased leaves a mother three brothers and one sister, viz. Andrew McGee, Samuel McGee, Alex. McGee, and Mrs. Samuel Scott, all of Asphodel. The pall bearers were his six nephews, Henry Thistlewaite, jr., Samuel Scott, jr., Andrew Thistlewaite, Andrew McGee, William McGee and John Scott.

Mr. Herbert Stewart, of Calgary, Alta., is renewing old acquaintances in town.

DOMINION DAY AT HAVELOCK

Successful Celebration Held in the Eastern Village.

Large Crowd in Attendance—Evening Concert was Much Enjoyed.

Special to the Examiner.

Havelock, July 4th.—The Dominion Day Celebration which took place in Havelock, on Saturday, was a great success in every way. Hundreds came in during the morning from the country and surrounding villages and by 2.30 p.m., there were between twelve and thirteen hundred people on the grounds, not counting the large number who had passes on account of the sports.

The first event on the programme was the football match between Norwood and the locals. Neither team won, there being no scoring. After the game had started the local bunch thought that they had their work cut out for them, but after about fifteen minutes play the ball was in the Norwood territory, but owing to the lack of practice on the part of the locals, in shooting, some good chances were missed. The game was swift from the start to finish.

Right after the football match the baseball game was pulled off, when the locals again trimmed the Norwood nine to the tune of 7—4. McCabe and Sherry were the battery for the visitors; McCorry and Bellegham for the locals. It was a much better game than that played in Norwood last Wednesday, but the excitement was not so great, possibly owing to it not being a league match.

After the baseball match came the running and jumping contests. Mr. E. Bellegham won the hop, step and jump with 41 ft. 3 1-2 inches while Mr. A. Ford won both the 100 yard and 200 yard race, with N. Stibbs a close second in both cases.

Owing to the Peterborough people not having been able to send a lacrosse team down to play, it was decided to play a game between the town boys and the C. P. R. After about thirty minutes play the C. P. R. team walked off the field disgusted on account of it being a little too one sided to suit them. The score at this time was 5—2 in favour of the town.

The voting contest between the two popular men, W. W. Webster, locomotive foreman, and Mr. P. G. Cromar, agent for the same company, was a complete success. Mr. P. G. Cromar had the honour of winning the $16 walking cane by a small majority.

The accomodation for the visitors was, we must say, the finest that has been known in town, as the three hotels managed to supply all demands, while Mr. H. J. Andrews had all kinds of refreshments on the grounds, where it was badly needed.

The different committees appointed and also the general management must be congratulated on the successful manner in which everything was run off, not a hitch being noticed throughout the whole day.

A much better day could not have been found, as the sun shone all day and the grounds were in the very best of condition, allowing the people more chance to come in. The gate receipts amounted to $317.16, which was exceedingly good for this place.

A grand concert was put on in the evening, at which Mr. J. H. Cameron, of Toronto, entertainer and reciter, assisted. His sketches were much appreciated. Miss M. Conlin, of Norwood, acted as accompanist. The latter also favoured the audience with a piano selection, in which she displayed fine musical taste. The programme was as follows:—

Violin solo ..... Selected
Mr. W. Culligan
Song ..... Mother England's Sons
Mr. J. H. Cameron
Solo ..... Selected
Mr. Mat Swain
Sketch ..... Jack's Pardon
Mr. J. H. Cameron
Piano solo ..... Selected
Miss M. Conlin
Song ..... Ain't it funny what a difference what a few hours make."
Mr. J. H. Cameron
Violin solo ..... Selected
Mr. W. Culligan
Descriptive story ..... A Race
Mr. J. H. Cameron
Song ..... Selected
Mr. M. Swain

This finished the evening and every person went home satisfied that they had received their money's worth and had spent a good day.

Interesting Letter from Barriefield Camp—Few Accidents are Reported.

Kingston Camp, Barriefield, July 3.

The Peterborough boys of the Third Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, are having a most delighted time at their annual drill. The weather has been fine. The general opinion is that the men are as good as ever went under canvas.

Very few accidents have been reported. Only one man has been hurt—Pte. Brown, of A Squadron, who was thrown from his horse and received a severe shaking up, by alighting on his head. He was removed to the field hospital and is now doing nicely.

One of the horses belonging to B squadron had his leg broken and had to be shot.

Pte. Patrick Allen of the Peterborough boys, was thrown from his horse by his horse stumbling over a stone, and turning a complete summersault. The animal alighted on his back with his four legs in the air. Allen was lucky in not receiving any injuries whatever, and in a minute he was on his mount again and in his place in the ranks.

Pte. Moloney of Doura, goes around the camp with his usual happy smile. He is quite a favourite among the boys.

The many friends of Jos Duffus, [illegible] will be glad to learn that he has been promoted to the rank of Sgt.-Major for the whole regiment. Sgt.-Major Duffus is an excellent type of a Canadian soldier, and has the faculty of winning the respect and confidence of all the men who may come under his command.

The squadron, which is in command of Major Hall and Capt. T. J. Johnston, will arrive home on Saturday evening, July 8th, and no doubt will have benefitted very much by their two weeks' outing. Any who may have the pleasure of seeing them on Saturday evening, cannot help but admire their soldierly appearance. They will probably arrive early in the evening.

Plans and specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department or on application to the caretaker of Public Building, Guelph, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable, the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, June 24, 1905.

Newspapers inserting this advertisement without authority from the Department, will not be paid for it.

THE Oxford Hot Water Boiler takes advantage of every known scientific point which will increase the generation and distribution of heat.

We have increased its power enormously by making the walls of the fire pot slant inwards above the fire. This gives a greater surface for the direct action of the rays of heat.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The first water section over the fire is double depth, with bell-shaped flues, which also increases the surface directly displayed to the action of the heat.

These are but two of the exclusive points which make the Oxford Hot Water Boiler the most economical and most efficient home-warming apparatus on the market. If you will drop us a post card, we will send you our catalogue, which explains the whole system.

TAKES UP WORK OF DEAD HUSBAND

Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., Equips a Labrador Expedition.

Wife of Deceased Traveller was Born Near Rice Lake.

The lamented death of Mr. Leonidas Hubbard Jr., in Labrador, caused deep regret in this town, because of the fact that Mrs. Hubbard was well known here, having been born within a few miles of Peterborough. In view of this fact the following details from the New York World will be read with deep interest:—

The work of exploring Labrador, commenced by Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., with Dillon Wallace as his companion, and in the prosecution of which the former lost his life in the wilderness, is to be continued by his widow. Mr. Wallace is making a second venture on his own account. The Wallace and the Hubbard families are now estranged. One of the causes of the bad feeling is attributed to a passage in his book where fault is found with Hubbard "for plunging into an unknown country without provision."

For her own information Mrs. Hubbard will endeavour to learn additional facts about her husband's death

Like her husband, Mrs. Mina Benson Hubbard was born and brought up on a farm. Her childhood's home was on the Rice Lake plains, Northumberland Co., Ontario. She was educated at the Collegiate Institute, Cobourg, Ontario, and subsequently graduated from the Brooklyn Training School for Nurses and also from the General Memorial Hospital, New York City.

After doing private nursing for a time, she became assistant superintendent of the S. R. Smith Infirmary, Staton Island, but left the place to assume the superintendency of the Virginia Hospital, Richmond, Va. On Jan. 31, 1901, she was married to Leonidas Hubbard, jr. They made their home in Wurtsboro, Sullivan Co., N. Y. On April 1st, 1902, Mr. Hubbard became assistant editor of Outing and moved with his wife to Congers, near Tarrytown, on the Hudson. It was on June 20th, 1903 that Mr. Hubbard started on his Labrador expedition. The following January his wife received the telegram announcing his death, on Oct. 18th, in the interior of Labrador.

When Mr. Hubbard determined to explore the perilous wastes of Labrador, his wife did not seek to hold him back. Together they studied his proposed route and its possibilities. When he had died in his undertaking she resolved to take up and continue his work of exploration.

Not only is her expedition thoroughly planned and completely equipped but she is personally fitted to lead it. She is lithe and athletic, swift on foot, expert in canoeing and on snow-shoes, a sure rifle shot and an experienced fisherman. She will be able to keep the pace that will be set by her Indian guides. Mrs. Hubbard is a skilled amateur photographer, and in her outfit are two cameras with the best possible lenses. She carries excellent mathematical instruments and will make a correct map of the route which she traverses.

LOCATING LAND GRANTS FOR VETERANS

Mr. J. A. Fife Will Take Trip to New Ontario.

Mr. J. A. Fife, who two years ago went into the Abittibi District, with the Cameron surveying party, and whose letters on his trip, which appeared in this paper created considerable interest, has decided to make another trip to New Ontario this year.

He will go up next month and will spend about four weeks in that country locating land grants for those who are in possession of 'veterans' scrip. Mr. Fife's experience in this part of the province should make his services in locating land valuable, since he is thoroughly familiar with the characteristics of the country.

ENJOYABLE DAY AT STONY LAKE

Murray Street Baptist Sunday School Had Delightful Trip.

Prize Winners in the Games—Master Normie Wilson Won Special Prize.

The members of the congregation and friends of the Murray street Baptist Sunday school, to the number of about two hundred and fifty, spent a delightful day at Stony Lake yesterday upon their annual excursion. The weather was delightful nearly all day, and the short shower or two only served to make the atmosphere more invigorating.

Reaching Lakefield in good time by train, they were met by te City of Peterborough, and landed for early dinner at Sandy Point, an ideal spot for such important business, and games. After a good time here a trip above Boschink and back to Burleigh, called for the ever-popular baskets and the good cup of tea. After tea the day's sailing ended with a quick run to Lakefield, where a roomy G. T. R. special waited to bring the party to town.

The beauty and freshness of Stony Lake, with its pretty cottages and islands, make one feel good, whether or no.

The highest appreciation of the boat accommodation and of the kindly management of the crew, was freely expressed on all sides.

The winners in the games were:
Boys' race, 8 years and under — Donald Edwards, Willie Hardwick.
Girls' race, 8 years and under — Minnie Cross.
Boys' race, 12 years and under — Kenny Routley.
Girls' race, 12 years and under — Margaret Eastwood.
Boys' race, 16 years and under — Roy Wilson.
Girls' race, 16 years and under — Ethel Rutherford.
Boys, over 16 — J. Ellis.
Girls, over 16 — Emily Miller.
Boys 3 legged race — J. Ellis and R. Lang.
Girls' 3 legged race — E. Miller and E. Yelland.
Boys' boot race—Wilbert Yelland.
Wheel barrow race — L. Cross and W. Garbett.
Lady teachers and officers' race — Muriel Martin.
Barace class race—J. Ellis.

A special prize was given to the scholar who had done the most to make the outing a financial success and the winner of this was Normie Wilson, who sold tickets to the value of between $50 and $60.

HAPPENINGS AT STONY LAKE

Many Interesting Personal Notes From the Resorts.

Tourist Lady Landed a 13-Pounder Yesterday—Peterborough Visitors.

(Special to the Examiner).

Mr. J. J. McBain and Miss Ada, spent a few days at their cottage Bona Vista.

Mr. Schneider and wife have returned home after spending a few days at the Lake.

Miss Eva Bradd, Peterborough, and Miss Bella Emery, of Rochester, came up the Lakes yesterday.

A party from Toronto, consisting of eleven young ladies, is staying at Mr. Colville's cottage. The financial affairs of the party are conducted by Miss Hawes.

Mrs. Dunn of Lakefield, is at "Elfin Nook" for the season.

Mr. T. Barrie is having a new cottage erected at his island.

Mr. Aikins of Toronto, arrived at his cottage, Mount Julian, yesterday.

Miss Ray, Lakefield, has opened her cottage for the season.

Mr. B. shortly returned home after an outing at the Lakes.

Mr. Alexander, who has just returned from France, is occupying his new cottage on Hall's Island.

Mrs. Sterling, Toronto, who is a guest at the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing, succeeded in landing a thirteen pound lunge yesterday.

F. H. Fean, of the Machine Telephone Co., Peterborough, is registered at the Victoria House.

Mr. Jas. Connell spent the week-end at the Lake.

Mr. H. Sutherland of Toronto, has re-opened his cottage, Inglestane, for another season.

Mr. Baptie of Lakefield, is at Forest Nook.

Mr. Harry Thompson has returned home from spending the holiday at the Lakes.

The Methodists of Lakefield held their annual excursion up the Lakes yesterday, per steamer Stony Lake. The City of Peterborough was to have carried the excursionists but was unable to reach Lakefield.

ALL SAINTS' W. A. MET YESTERDAY

Were Entertained by Miss Chamberlen.

The members of the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' church, held their closing meeting for the summer season yesterday at the residence of Miss Chamberlen, by whom they were delightfully entertained.

Among other matters which arose for discussion was that of the running of an excursion. While definite arrangements have not yet been concluded it will probably take place in about two weeks.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served, and a most charming time spent.

The Auxiliary will not meet again until September.

DEADLY WORK OF "YELLOW JACK"

Mr. Edward Tighe Writes Interesting Letter From Panama.

The Country is Scourged by Loathsome Disease—Startling Information—Life in the Tropics.

An interesting letter has been received by The Examiner from Mr. Edward Tighe, a notice of whose departure for the Isthmus of Panama appeared in these columns some time ago.

Mr. Tighe, who is a well-known Peterborough boy, accepted a position with the Isthmian Canal Commission, in which he is now engaged. He writes from Culebra under date of June 6th.

Mr. Tighe states that he had a pleasant voyage to the tropics and a safe arrival, though he is not feeling quite so well as he expected.

Regarding the conditions there he says that it is very warm, with a daily downpour of rain which will continue during the coming several months. There is sickness of every kind, Yellow Fever being the leading epidemic, claiming from two to four victims each week. The natives state that the worst period of sickness has not yet arrived. There are now 180 patients in the Hospital.

The writer states that he intends leaving at the earliest opportunity, and that anything which may be said about Panama, no matter how bad it may appear should be considered as the truth. The people of the United States should be made aware of the conditions to avoid being enticed to the country by misleading information.

Mr. Tighe says there is no good water to drink, and the meals are the worst he has ever seen. He also makes the startling statement that the remains of the victims of the disease are buried only at night, in order that the number may be concealed from many who would leave were they fully cognizant of the actual conditions. This he has seen occur on several occasions.

Mr. Tighe in conclusion states that "Americans are leaving on every boat, and it will soon be his turn if the deal don't come to me for Yellow Jack".

MRS. LYNCH WAS NOT TO BE FOOLED

Good Story Told on Former Peterborough Lacrosse Player.

The following good story on Mr. Fred. Lynch, formerly of Peterborough, is told in the Daily Province, of Vancouver, B. C.

A story comes from Portland that is too good to keep. It might be said that when the tale was put up to the principal in the matter he could only laugh and acknowledge its truth.

Everybody knows Mr. Fred. Lynch, the dangerous man on the home for the Westminster lacrosse team. Well, nearly everybody too, knows that Freddie was married the other day, and everybody wished Mr. Lynch and his bride all kinds of good luck and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch took in the Portland Fair during their honeymoon, and were in Portland on a Saturday night. Somehow or another it got to Mr. Lynch's ears that there was a lacrosse match on for the next day between two local teams. Mr. Lynch went to church Sunday morning, but had a friend to see in the afternoon and strolled out to the lacrosse park. In a minute he was talking lacrosse, and in another minute several of the old British Columbians had recognized him. In another minute he couldn't help it, he had on an old uniform and was playing. In the first twenty minutes Freddie scored five goals, when he thought of his bride downtown.

But an enterprising newspaperman had got on to things and a photographer snapped Freddie, and the Oregonian had a column about him with all kinds of pictures adorning the article.

ICE CREAM MADE YOUNGSTER ILL

Two Significant Facts Reported From the South End.

All Saints' Garden Party Loses Ice Cream Freezer.

The Examiner is informed that late last night one of the local disciples of Esculapius, was called in to attend a boy in the south end of the town, who was suffering from a severe pain in the region of the stomach. The doctor, to get at the bottom of the trouble, questioned the boy, and the latter admitted having taken a larger quantity of ice creamy than was good for him, and that quantity was conservatively estimated at 2 gallon. The doctor states that this is no fiction, but a cold fact.

There is a significance in a report which almost simultaneously reached the Examiner this morning, to the effect that at the garden party in connection with the Girls Guild of All Saints' church last night, a large ice cream freezer, containing about two and a half gallons of that commodity mysteriously disappeared from the rectory grounds where the party was held.

The ladies do not wish anyone harm, but no doubt there will be some satisfaction in the knowledge that if the above report is true one of the boys is sorry by this time that his appetite for ice cream was so hard to satisfy.

ELECTRIC FLUID'S STRANGE PRANKS

Considerable Damage Done During Yesterday's Storm.

Runaway Horse Injures a Boy—Other Injury Inflicted.

The excessive heat this week brought on a severe electrical storm which passed over the city yesterday afternoon. A large number of trees and poles were struck, but no serious damage was done. The play of the lightning was quite noticeable along George, Simcoe and Hunter streets, several clips holding a telephone cable were cut off before the rain came on. Fortunately the wires and poles were not wet or there would have been calls for the fire brigade.

As two clerks were pulling up the awning on Mr. A. Rountree's George street grocery store, they instinctively dropped the ropes and ran into the shop, as a blinding flash of lightning traversed along the wire ending on a pole at the corner of George and Hunter streets.

A cart horse standing near the Simcoe street, entrance of Messrs. J. C. Turnbull and Company's dry goods store, became startled by this commotion of the elements and made a dash up Simcoe street; suddenly turning towards the north side of the street, the horse in its terrified plunge jumped onto the pavement knocking down a lad named Morris. Morris had his shoulder injured, and was conveyed to a near-by house on Simcoe street where he and his mother are temporily residing. It was ascertained last night that the injury was not likely to prove serious, but the body received a bad shock and affright.

GARDEN PARTY WAS ENJOYED

All Saints' Girls' Guild Held Successful Affair.

A Pleasant Evening and a Financial Success.

In spite of the downpour of rain yesterday, the garden party in connection with and under the auspices of the Girls' Guild of All Saints' Church, held at the Rectory grounds, was very successful. The attendance was very satisfactory and a most enjoyable evening was spent by those who partook of the generous hospitality of the young ladies of the Guild.

The grounds, which were very tastefully decorated and specially lighted with electric lights and Chinese lanterns, presented a pretty appearance.

The young ladies waited on their guests and paid them every attention and succeeded in making everyone feel at home.

Features of the party were the booths devoted to the sale of fancy aprons, ice cream, etc. That at which the fancy aprons were exposed for sale was in charge of the Misses Melville and Miss Cairns. The candy table was presided over by Miss Hutchinson, Miss Buller and Miss Mulholland, while another apron table was well looked after by Mrs. T. Sabia and Miss Rickey. The ice cream table, which was a very popular one, was under the direction of Mrs. Cottrell and Miss Best.

The financial results were highly satisfactory, especially in view of the fact that the weather during the afternoon was most disagreeable, and also taking into consideration that during the evening a large freezer containing two and one-half gallons of ice cream disappeared from the grounds.

HENRY GRIEFF WAS DISCHARGED

His Employer Reports Favorably of Him.

Another Enforcement of the By-law—Yards in Rear of Many Stores in Bad Condition.

Henry Grieff, charged with stealing a sum of money from Mr. Moncrief of Pontypool, pleaded guilty: but as his employer spoke well of him, he was discharged, after receiving a warning and some healthful advice from the Magistrate.

Mr. Thos. Barrie's case next monopolized the attention of the court. He was charged with permitting boxes, paper and other inflammable material to remain in the yard in the rear of his store, and also with neglecting to remove accumulations of rubbish, injurious to the public health.

Mr. Barrie said that he had no entrance to the yard, but carried his ashes and clippings from the store around into the yard from the Simcoe street entrance. Further, he said that other stores in the block deposited their ashes and rubbish in the yard, and either refused altogether or gave little assistance to have it removed. An inspection of the yard showed that Mr. Barrie could not be the only contributor to the piles of boxes and papers from which many small fires have originated, and the magistrate remanded the case for a week to give Mr. Barrie time to make an agreement with the other merchants to have the rubbish removed.

Meanwhile other merchants who have a similar state of affairs existing in the rear of their premises should take warning, and see that the nuisance is removed.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT THIS MORNING

Two Young Ladies Meet Wite a Slight Mishap While Out Driving.

This morning as Miss Connors and sister-in-law, Mrs. Nerses of Rochester were out driving near Jackson Park, their horse shied at a street car and turned into the ditch, throwing both occupants onto the grass. Neither of the young ladies were hurt, and the horse started home without them.

NORMAL SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

Peterborough Candidates Carry Off Honours.

The list of successful candidates at the Toronto and Ottawa Normal Schools, includes the following of local interest:

Passed with honours — Miss M. E. Stubbs, Lakefield; Mr. P. T. Pilkie, Keene.

Pass Standing — Miss J. H. Lightfoot, Peterborough; Miss L. Marrett, Millbrook; Miss H. Might, South Monaghan.

Interim certificate, valid for two years; after one year's successful teaching, certificates will be made permanent—Wm. O'Brien.

Interim certificate, valid for two years; one year's successful teaching admits holders to final examinations at Normal School — Miss B. M. Clarry, Millbrook.

St. Paul's S. S. Excursion To-morrow to Jubilee Point.

The steamboat company informed Mr. Madill that the accident which happened to the rudder of the City of Peterborough yesterday is of so small a nature that the boat is repaired to-day, and will be able to take the excursion as arranged.

OTHER UNIONS ASKED TO HELP

Striking Barbers Will Be Assisted by Fellow-Union Men.

President of the Union States Their Side of the Case.

The trouble which developed in the ranks of the barbers does not show much sign of a speedy settlement. Last night the Harnessmakers' Union was waited on by representatives of the Barbers' Union, who stated the case, and asked for sympathy, which was promised, and each union as it meets will be approached in the same way. The Trades and Labour Council will also be acquainted with the facts of the case, and asked for help.

At present four journeymen barbers are on strike, and ar drawing strike pay from the union, and five master barbers have had their cards taken away from them, in default of paying the fine imposed as punishment for remaining open on Saturday.

The men say that they can easily get positions, and are not troubling about the matter. The President of the Union stated to the Examiner that at the meeting of the bosses to consider the question of remaining open or closing on Saturday, the vote stood 6—5 in favour of remaining open, and not 11—6, as had been reported. He is also authority for the statement that the journeymen were willing to work on Saturday, but they objected to working until 12 o'clock Friday night as well, and it was really this point which caused the trouble. He claims that the bosses wanted the men to work late Friday night as well as Saturday, to which they objected hence the trouble.

It appears too that none of the by-laws passed by the local union have been submitted to the National President, this course being necessary only when they conflict with the rules of the National Union.

It is not probable that any serious trouble will be experienced.

Oddfellow's Attention.

A special meeting of the members of Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges, I.O.O.F., is called for this evening at eight o'clock sharp in the lodge rooms to arrange for the funeral of Bro. J. H. Cameron of Jacks Lodge, Little Falls, Minn., which will take place from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Frank Pearson, town.

FELL FROM AN UPPER WINDOW

Little Girl Fell to Ground But Boy Saved.

Mrs. A. J. Cameron Sustained Injuries in Preventing the Fall—The Girl Not Hurt.

During the progress of the storm yesterday afternoon, two small children of Mr. A. J. Cameron, residing at the north end of the town, were at a partly open window in the second story. The two children were amusing themselves by stretching their hands outside to catch the drops as they fell, when suddenly the window sash gave way, and the little girl, Jessie, overbalanced and fell. Mrs. Cameron, who was close by, made an effort to save the little boy, and was successful in catching him, but had the misfortune to badly cut her arm on the broken glass.

The wound was quite a severe one, and a doctor had to put five or six stitches in it. Beyond a few bruises and scratches the little girl escaped injury as a result of her involuntary flight through the air.

EXCURSION TO MOUNT JULIAN

The Charlotte Street Sunday School Had a Pleasant Outing.

At Stony Lake Yesterday Occasion was Much Enjoyed.

Those who attended the Charlotte street Sunday School excursion to Stony Lake yesterday did not have a dry time in more than one sense of the word. And speaking of the weather, there was sufficient variety to satisfy even the most exacting — a combination of heat and refreshing breezes, intermixed with moisture and other things, but more so of the former. However, despite the gentle droppings from the clouds, the outing was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The excursionists left by special train for Lakefield where the popular steamer "Stony Lake" was waiting to convey the party up the lakes. Most of those present disembarked for dinner at Mount Julian, while the boat proceeded to Burleigh Falls. A stop of two hours was made at Julian, but owing to the showers no sports could be indulged in.

A very severe storm was encountered on the return trip. While on Clear Lake, about a mile from Young's Point, the rain and hail descended in torrents and it was impossible to see more than a few rods ahead of the boat. A few who were imbued with a somewhat adventuresome spirit remained on deck during the dampness, but were eventually forced to beat a hasty and somewhat dilapidated retreat. The ladies found the conditions very depressing on curls and crimps and things. However no evil resulted and Lakefield was reached in safety, all having greatly enjoyed the day's outing.

THE TRANSFER VOYAGE DOWN THE OTONABEE

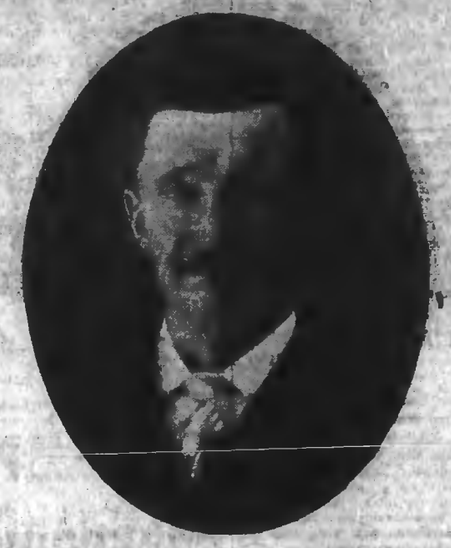
Joint Swings Transfer—Expedition of Sister County Representatives—Swings Inspected and Assumed from Peterborough to Trent Bridge—The Work of Formal Transfer of the County Swings Completed Yesterday—Praise for Government and Superintendent.

Yesterday the work of completing the formal transfer of the County swings to the Dominion Government was completed by an excursion down the river as far as Trent Bridge, almost the Ultima Thule of practical navigation. At nine o'clock the party, consisting of members of the County Councils of Peterborough and Northumberland and Durham, embarked upon the staunch and sidy steamer "King Edward," under Capt. Copperthwaite, with Mr. Clem. Gordon doing his trick at the wheel in a satisfactory manner. He seems to know every inch of the way from Balsam Lake to Trent Bridge.

The Party.

The party chiefly consisted of the following:—From Northumberland Lt.-Col. Thos. McLean, Port Hope, Warden; Mr. Thomas Baker and Mr. Thomas Leith, Commissioners of Roads and Bridges, and Mr. R. A. Mulholland, Port Hope. The Peterborough contingent consisted of Mr. W. T. Buck, Warden; Mr. S. Stenson, Mr. Robert Shaw, Mr. John Menogue, Mr. T. Andrews, Mr. Wm. Carey, Mr. Thos. Webster, County Councillors; Mr. E. A. Peck, County Solicitor, Chancellor of the Exchequer pro diem; Mr. E. M. Elliott, County Treasurer, and Mr. J. E. Belcher, County Engineer. There were besides a few guests of the County including prominent business men and manufacturers and representatives of the press. Mr. J. H. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Waters, was present, representing the Government.

The steam down the river was simply delightful. The sky was over cast, the curtain of shifting clouds combining with the refreshing breeze to temper the air to a charming coolness. The King Edward clove her way through waters at a rate of twelve miles an hour. The pleasure of the sail down was quite indescribable. The fields and forest were clad in their brightest green and those who had never been down the river before were simply enthusiastic over the quiet beauty of the winding river, and the changing charm of the varied scenery.



WARDEN BUCK, Of Peterborough County.

Condition of the River.

The water was at a good level—the level at which it has been kept during the season from early spring. It was to be remarked that so admirably had the waters been controlled by Mr. McClellan that the adjacent shores of the river this spring escaped the annual floods which have been a feature of every other spring for years. It was also to be noticed that the channel has newly been marked with buoys in a most satisfactory manner and generally the navigation interests of the river have been admirably looked after. On the voyage down the county swings at the locks was looked over and transferred, as were also the swings at Wallace Point and Bunsfort. The bridge was the object of special interest to the Northumberland and Durham contingent. It was pointed out by the County Engineer as "Jimmy Stratton's bridge," and its usefulness in making South Monaghan practically a part of Peterborough for market purposes was regretfully admitted by the united counties representatives. By reference elsewhere it is seen that $850 has been placed in the Dominion estimates for a new wharf on the south side of the river at this point.

In the Trent River.

On straight south, through the short channel, opposite Jubilee Point, to Rice Lake, where of course, the water is high, the rise bode yet showing sparingly, to the beautiful Trent River to Hastings, which was reached early in the afternoon. Here the bridge was inspected with merely moral interest for it has been in the hands of the Government for years. After an excellent dinner served at the Claydon House by Mine Host Spellman who, by the way, is an old Peterborough boy the steamer continued its voyage further down to Trent Bridge. This is wholly outside Peterborough county and it was also transferred to the Government. Trent Bridge has two or three claims to distinction. It is almost the lowest point of river navigation. It is a beautiful spot and a favourite summer resort, attracting tourists from as far south as Georgia. A third claim to distinction is the fact that the famous George Brown is the custodian of the swing. Here, many of the Peterborough people were glad to meet Mr. T. C. McFadden, a former citizen who is conducting a prosperous general store business.

The Government Thanked.

On the return voyage to Hastings a little meeting was held in the cabin of the "King Edward" and resolutions adopted as follows:—

Moved by Lt.-Col. McLean, warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, seconded by W. T. Buck, warden of the county of Peterborough, that this company representing the united counties and the county of Peterborough, hereby express its hearty appreciation of the promptitude and liberality of the Hon. J. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals in His Majesty's Government of the Dominion of Canada, in taking over the swings of the bridges upon the line of the Trent Canal, thus facilitating the navigation interests of the said canal, and saving to the two counties interested, a large annual expenditure.

Col. McLean in speaking to his motion, said it gave him and his fellow councillors from the sister counties, the greatest pleasure to meet with the representatives of Peterborough. They represented 70,000 persons, and the present was an occasion when politics should be laid aside and the liberality and public spirit of the Government heartily recognized. Their action in assuming the swings represented a great saving of the counties as well as an important step in promoting the interests of navigation. He believed in giving credit where credit was due, and he had great pleasure in moving the resolution which he was sure voiced the sentiments of his own people as well as those of Peterborough.

Mr. Warden Buck in a few appropriate words, seconded the resolution, which was unanimously and heartily adopted.

Moved by Mr. W. H. Meldrum, managing director, Otonabee Power Co., and the Peterborough Canoe Co., seconded by Mr. F. Fowlds, Hastings, that this company, representing the power producing and navigation interests of the Trent Canal system, desire to express very emphatically its appreciation and approval of the admirable and thorough manner in which Mr. J. H. McClellan, Superintendent of the Trent Canal waters, has managed the conservation of the waters tributary to the Trent Canal system, preserving an equable flow and an ample reserve for the warm months of summer, to the manifest benefit of the interests of navigation and power production.

Mr. Meldrum, in making the motion spoke in the highest terms of approval of the course of the Superintendent in so carefully and capably attending to the regulation of the flow of the waters of the river which was of great benefit to the users and producers of power. Even one day's failure of efficient power supply, would represent in Peterborough, a loss of about $2,000 in wages paid to employees in local industries, and he took great pleasure in moving the resolution.

Col. McLean added a few words of approval of Mr. McClellan in his position, in which he aimed to do his duty faithfully. He believed the right man had been selected to fill a post of great responsibility and that he would fill the bill in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, county engineer, also spoke in warm terms of approval of the work of Mr. McClellan. He spoke especially of the watts in the upper lakes. It was high, and cottagers and others may be slightly inconvenienced, but not to any serious extent, and nothing in comparison to the immense benefits to navigation and power production. At present, the waters there were "right to a hair" and could not be considerably lowered without injury to navigation and other interests.

The motion was enthusiastically carried.

The party, after supper at the Clarendon House returned to town by train, every member being delighted not only with the pleasures of the voyage but with the important conditions the ceremonies of the day had represented.

THIRD READING HAS BEEN SET

Committee Gets Through With Autonomy Bills.

OUR NORTHERN TERRITORY

Action by Imperial Parliament Required to Protect It—Eloquent Tributes to the Late Dr. Johnston—Ventilation of the Chamber—Budget on Thursday—Supplementary Estimates $13,000,000.

Ottawa, July 5.—The most sanguine expectations of progress in the House were realised yesterday, and the Saskatchewan bill and several minor supplementary measures were all given second reading and passed through committee. They stand for third reading to-day, and if that is accomplished, as it no doubt will be, the budget speech will be delivered on Thursday by Hon. Mr. Fielding. Discussion on the Saskatchewan bill was confined to the schedule.

On section 16 of the bill Mr. Bourassa and Mr. R. L. Borden moved the amendments offered by them respectively to the same clause in the Alberta bill, and both were declared lost, no vote being taken. A similar fate met Mr. Lake's amendment to clause 20, providing that lands, etc., shall be vested in the Province.

Mr. Barker moved an amendment to the preamble, which, he said, was on the same terms as he moved in regard to the Alberta bill. He gave no further explanation, and the amendment was rejected without being read.

The bill was then reported, and stands for third reading.

Discussion on an act respecting the Northwest Territories brought a declaration from Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick that Canada's territorial interests in the north should be protected by action by the Imperial authorities.

Tributes to Dr. Johnston.

A touching tribute was paid to the late Dr. Johnston in the House yesterday. The desk of the deceased member was covered with a magnificent wreath, and before the orders of the day were called in the House Sir Wilfrid Laurier arose and said: Mr. Speaker, once again it is my very sad duty to have to inform the House that we have lost by death one of our colleagues. Dr. Johnston, the member for West Lambton, is no more. This is the fourth time during the present session that death has visited the members of this House. Nobody could have believed that when we met here five months ago that our late friend, who then appeared to be the very incarnation of rugged health, would be one of the first victims. But such is the uncertain tenure of life that as upon many other occasions, the hand of fate has been laid upon him who looked to be the strongest. I need not say to the House that Dr. Johnston was one of the most popular members amongst us. He had no enemies. All his acquaintances were his friends. He was beloved on this side, and I knew he was equally respected by hon. gentlemen opposite."

Mr. Borden said: "On behalf of those who sit to your left, Mr. Speaker, I join with what has been said by the Prime Minister. Our friend, Dr. Johnston, who has passed away, was a man of very kindly and genial disposition, and I cordially endorse what the right hon. gentleman opposite has said as to the respect and esteem in which he was held by those who sit on this side of the House."

Out of respect to the bereaved, the House rose at 5 o'clock until 8, and a large number of the members of both sides as well as the Parliamentary press gallery, attended a short funeral service at the deceased member's residence and accompanied the body to the station.

The remains will reach Barnia at 12.30 on Wednesday.

M. P.'s Lives Endangered.

Chief Conservative Whip Taylor called the attention of the Prime Minister to the utter lack of ventilation in the corridors and especially the chamber of the House. Mr. Taylor waxed eloquent over the mediaeval system of ventilation that existed, and pointed out that the mercury stood several degrees higher inside the chamber than outside in the open air. Underneath the chamber there were large furnaces going at full blast, merely to heat water.

Mr. Foster declared that a member took his life into his hands when he spent a greater part of the session in such a death trap.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier closed the incident by remarking that he would make it his personal business to see the Minister of Public Works and see what could be done to remedy conditions. He quite agreed that things were not all they might or should be in the matter of ventilation.

Salaries For the Governors.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved a resolution that to-day the House consider in committee of the whole the following resolution: "Resolved that section 3 of the revised statutes entitled, an act respecting the salaries of certain public functionaries and other annual charges of the consolidated revenue, be amended by adding at the end thereof the following words and figures: The Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan $9,000, the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta $9,000."

Budget On Thursday.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that the third reading of both the Alberta and Saskatchewan bills would be proceeded with to-day.

"If these bills are disposed of to-morrow I intend to present the budget on Thursday," announced Hon. Mr. Fielding, amid applause.

Supplementary Estimates.

Supplementaries to the amount of $13,414,973 were tabled last evening and bring the total appropriations asked for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, up to $81,979,371. There are a large number of promotions and increases of salary in the civil service, several of the beneficiaries being appointees of the late Government. This shows that the present Government recognises merit regardless of politics.

Hogs.

Deliveries were light and prices lower. Mr. Harris quotes selects at $6.40, and lights and fats at $6.15 per cwt. Market weak and prospects still lower.

WANTS EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Deputation Asks That Napanee Be Selected By Government.

Toronto, July 5.—T. G. Carscallen, M.P.P., W. J. Paul, M.P.P., Warden Martin of Lennox, Mayor Lowry of Napanee, John W. Robinson, president of the Napanee board of trade, and G. F. Ruttan of Napanee saw the Premier and Hon. Nelson Monteith yesterday and asked for the establishment of an experimental farm and agricultural school in Lennox, to serve the eastern part of the Province. The claims of the section were promised consideration.

Hon. Mr. Monteith was also waited on by Mr. Newman, secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, and Mr. Smith of the The Farmers' Sun, who asked that a seed exhibit be made in conjunction with the fat stock show at Guelph.

THE UNIONIST WON.

Elected In Kingsinford Over Liberal Opponent By 603.

London, July 5.—The Parliamentary election at Kingsinford, Staffordshire, caused by the death of Col. W. Webbe (Conservative), resulted in the return of Henry Staveley Hill (Unionist) by a majority of 603 over the Liberal candidate, Major Dunne.

No Liberal has been returned for the constituency since the Redistribution Act of 1885. At the last contested election, in 1892, the Conservatives had a majority of 1,571. The electorate numbers 12,365.

The constituency in the southwest part of the country is well within the "sphere of influence" of Mr. Chamberlain.

SUBSIDY OF ONTARIO.

Government Objects to Cut in the Rate of Interest.

Toronto, July 5.—Hon. Col. Matheson said yesterday that Ontario's half-yearly subsidy of $670,000 from Ottawa, now due, had not yet been received by the treasury.

This subsidy will be the subject of a lawsuit this fall. Recently the Dominion Government decided that they would pay only 4 per cent. instead of 5 per cent. on the Upper Canada grammar school and land improvement funds. It makes a difference of $20,000. The Government entered suit in January and the case will come up in September, the Ontario Government's interests being watched by Messrs. Irving and Shepley.

The Dominion Government continues to pay 5 per cent. on the common school fund, in which Quebec shares.

A Protectionist Ministry.

London, July 5.—(C.A.P.)—A Melbourne correspondent states that Lord Northcote refused Premier Reid's request for dissolution, and that Deakin is now engaged in forming a strictly protectionist Ministry. Deakin hints that the question of preferential trade will be the first to gain attention.

Raised a Pay Cheque.

Montreal, July 5.—V. Malrooski, an employe of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. at Montreal, who was arraigned yesterday morning on a charge of forgery having raised the amount of one of the company's pay cheques, was sentenced to two months' hard labor.

20,000 Chinese Protest.

Hong Kong, July 5.—A meeting, representing 20,000 Chinese, was held at Canton July 1 to discuss the Chinese Exclusion Act. As a result the native Christians formulated a petition to President Roosevelt protesting against the exclusion act.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton Street, Port Hope, Ont., states:—"I was troubled for some time with kidney disease, and though I tried a great many different medicines, never succeeded in obtaining relief until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease.

MOBILIZE SWEDISH ARMY.

Thinks to Give Added Force to Norway Settlement Proposal.

Stockholm, July 5.—The Associated Press is in a position to state that an order for the mobilization of the Swedish army has been issued and that a proclamation to this effect will probably be issued within a week. The mobilization is intended as a means of giving added force to any proposal for settlement which the special committee appointed by the Riksdag may make to the Norwegian Storthing.

King Oscar granted a private audience to a correspondent of The Associated Press, and said emphatically that he would never allow any of his sons or his grandsons to accept the Norwegian throne. In speaking of the attitude of Norway, the King displayed deep emotion and expressed heartfelt sorrow at Norway's treatment of him after 32 years of unceasing labor for its prosperity.

Gets $1,200 Compensation.

Toronto, July 5.—For injuries received while unloading a car on the Tillsonburg, Lake Erie & Pacific R.R., Chief Justice Falconbridge yesterday gave Adam Meenie, a laborer, $1,200 compensation. Meenie asked for 10,000, who at a previous trial was given only $1,000. The company appealed and lost $200. They will appeal again.

Neglect to Muzzle Dogs.

London, July 5.—Over 25 summonses were issued yesterday for persons who have failed to comply with the dog-muzzling bylaw. Unless a satisfactory explanation is given the magistrate intends to impose a fine.

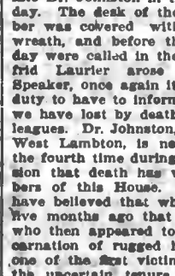
DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



O. A. Oppenheaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Montgomery Co., Pa. (Box 199), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow severe until it caused vomiting and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months without any benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had catarrh of the stomach, ulceration, thickening of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no cure. Then my attention was called to Dr. Pierce's medicines, so I sent for Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's prescriptions, recommended to be "just as good."

BABY SCREAMED DAY AND NIGHT

From Pain of Itching Eczema—Unless Hands Were Tied Would Scratch Till Face Was Raw—Mother Could Get No Rest.

FACE NOW CLEAR. CURED BY CUTICURA

"For over two years my little baby girl suffered with a raw, itching, and painful eczema, the pain causing her to scream day and night, and my wife could get no rest. We tried several doctors, but without success. Unless we kept her hands tied she would scratch until her face was like raw beef. One cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment completely cured her, healing her face without mark or blemish.—(signed) W. J. Morgan, Orchard Town, New Lambton, N. S. W., Australia."

AWFUL SUFFERING

Baby's Face Solid Sore—Cured by Cuticura.

"My baby's face was a mass of sores. The doctor treated it for eczema, but the child was getting worse, the disease eating the flesh away from his nose, and spreading to his body. Neighbors said it was the worst case they had ever seen. His suffering was terrible, and he would scratch and tear away the flesh. One set of Cuticura Remedies cured him completely, healing his face without scar or blemish.—Wm. Cridland, 35 Winchester St., Pentonville Rd., N. London, Eng."

—Mark Street Sunday School Picnic takes place to Stony Lake on Thursday, July 6th, per G.T.R. and steamer Stony Lake. Tickets—adults 75c, children 40c. 2end

—Mr. John F. Rickerby has purchased the C. P. R. Hotel from his brother, Mr. George Rickerby, who left on Monday for South Carolina, where he will spend the summer.

—Come for a sail to-night or a fish. Boats to hire at the new Otonabee boat house, terminus of the street railway. Leave order with caretaker on premises. Moderate charges. H. B. Rye, proprietor. dtf

—Strawberries—fresh picking to-day from Cedar Park Gardens; will have them regularly until close of season. Fresh crock butter arriving daily; good time to buy. Also sound potatoes and new cabbage, at James B. Ball's, 141 Hunter street. 'Phone 455. dtf.

—Messrs. S. A. Oke and Co., are receiving shipments daily of choice strawberries, the kind that makes your mouth water to look at them. Just now is probably the best time of the year to buy berries for preserving, and orders should be left with this firm.

STEAMER "CITY" SHIPPED RUDDER

And as a Result Did Not Take Excursion To-day.

St. John's Sunday School Took Trip to Crawford's Grove.

The steamer "City of Peterborough" arrived here this morning from Lakefield, where she remained last night, her stay there being necessitated by a minor mishap, which she met with at the lock last night. Her rudder became unshipped, and it took several hours to place the steamer in commission again. She was put into shape and started on her homeward journey this morning, though she did not arrive here in time to take St. John's excursion to Stony Lake, the Water Lily as a consequence taking the party to Crawford's Grove, instead. A few however went to Stony Lake by train to Lakefield.

This afternoon, about four o'clock the "City" went to the grove to take the excursionists for a run down the river and home, so that while the trip up the river was not taken, the day was an enjoyable one in spite of this disappointment.

CHEESE SOLD AT 9 9-16 CENTS

Largest Board of the Season Held This Morning.

All Except Three Factories Sold at the One Price.

This morning there were 5,649 boxes of cheese boarded at the meeting of the Peterborough Board, and with the exception of three factories all sold at the one price, 9 9-16c. The three exceptions were Westwood, Myrtle and Buckhorn, for which factories Mr. Fitzgerald paid 9 5-8c. The Board this morning was the largest of the season, but the price paid was hardly as high as some of the salesmen would have liked. 9 9-16 being considered slightly low for this time of the year. The following factories boarded the number of cheese set opposite:—

Keene	240
Warminster	180
Shearer	145
Central Smith	250
North Smith	200
Villiers	135
Warsaw	170
Westwood	250
Oakdale	220
Missing Link	100
Daisy D.	70
Lakefield	160
Pine Grove	200
Peterborough	96
Otonabee Union	70
Maple Leaf	155
Myrtle	220
Ormonde	220
Young's Point	80
Lang	185
Fraserville	150
Indian River	200
North Dummer	90
East Emily	155
Trewarn	150
Ballyduff	70
Sandhurst	150
Cedardale	100
Stony Lake	62
Mount Pleasant	105
Norwood	110
Brickley	145
Shamrock	130
Fleetwood	250
Dartford	120
Buckhorn	108
South Burleigh	42

The buyers present were Messrs. Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Morton, Brentnall.

Mr. Kerr started the bidding at 9c. Mr. Fitzgerald raised to 9 1-8, and Mr. Wrighton to 9 1-4. Mr. Whitton bid 9 5-16, and Mr. Rollins raised to 9 3-8. Mr. Fitzgerald bid 9 1-2 and Mr. Wrighton said 9 9-16c. Mr. Fitzgerald bid the high price of 9 5-8 called Westwood, Myrtle and Buckhorn; all accepting. At 9 9-16 he called Central Smith and Keene, both salesmen refusing to accept. Mr. Cook, at 9 9-16 called Missing Link, Fraserville, East Emily, Trewarn, Otonabee Union, Peterborough and Lang; all accepting. At the same price Mr. Whitton took Ormonde, Dartford, Shamrock and Brickley. Mr. Morton at the same figure took Fleetwood, Oakdale and Norwood. Mr. Kerr offered the same price for Warsaw, Warminster, Ballyduff, Pine Grove, Mount Pleasant, Maple Leaf, Indian River and Shearer, all accepting.

Mr. Fitzgerald bid 9 9-16 and bought Central Smith, Cedardale, Keene, Bensfort. At the same price Mr. Rollins bought North Smith, Villiers, Young's Point, North Dummer, Stony Lake, South Burleigh, Daisy D., Lakefield, which cleared the Board, which adjourned to meet in two weeks.

DOZEN HORSES AT THE TRACK

Excellent Prospects for the Summer Race Meet.

Turf Club are Enthusiatic Over the Coming Races.

The track at the Driving Park these days presents a busy scene. Already twelve horses have arrived at the stables, and are in training for the annual meet which opens a week from Friday. From present prospects this summer's race meet will be the most successful in the history of the Peterborough Turf Club.

The horses which have already arrived, are:—The World, Chatelaine, Feston, Orillia Belle, Minnie Bolt, Marston Moor, Greenfield, Jas Allen, Helen J., Billy P., Donna Belle, Victoria.

It is expected that there will be another big bunch of horses in this afternoon, and to-morrow morning training will start in earnest.

The officers of the Club are greatly encouraged by the excellent prospects for the meet, and there is no doubt of its success.

BUILDERS DEFY BUILDING BY-LAW

This is the Statement of Ald. Johnston.

Believes the Matter Should be Looked Into—May Amend the Law.

Ald. Johnston called the attention of the Committee of the Whole at its meeting last night, to the building bylaws which he thought should be amended. At present some of the builders were practically ignoring the bylaw. He was of the opinion that it was better to allow anyone to erect a nine inch brick wall for a wood shed, than to allow some of the present buildings to remain as they were. Common sense should be applied to the regulations of the buildings of the town, and if the present bylaw was good, it should be enforced, which was not done at the present time, and he had known men to defy the town to compel them to erect structures to comply with the bylaw. If the bylaw were not good, it should be amended. It was decided to refer the matter to the Fire, Water and Light Committee to look after.

BAND CONCERT MUCH ENJOYED

Over 2000 People at Jackson Park Last Night.

Street Railway Had Busy Night—Choice Musical Programme Presented.

The second band concert given at Jackson Park last night was attended by a crowd which numbered about the same as that of last week.

The Street Railway Company report that last night about 2,500 fares were collected, and it is estimated that the crowd in all, numbered considerably over 2,000 people. A choice programme of a pleasingly varied character was rendered by the 57th Regiment Band, the music being listened to with great pleasure by the hundreds strolling through the park, or seated upon the grass. The provisions for the conveyance of the crowd to and from the park were excellently carried out, not a hitch occurring.

To judge from the enthusiasm displayed last night, there can be little doubt that the concerts will increase in popularity as the season progresses.

OPENED TENDERS FOR CRUSHING

Mr. John Gibson Gets Contract at $2.79 Per Cord.

An Increase of 19 Cents Per Cord Over Price Paid Last Year.

Last night, at the conclusion of the meeting of the Committee of the Whole, the Board of Works met, and opened the tenders for crushing and hauling stone for the streets.

Three tenders were received, as follows:

S. Kennedy, $3 per cord.
John Gibson, $2.79 per cord.
T. Rahill, $2.85 per cord.

Ald. Johnston moved that the tender of Mr. Gibson be accepted, and that the chairman of the Board of Works confer with the City Engineer, as to the quantity of stone required.

The Board has not decided as yet just what streets will be macadamized, and the quantity of stone required has not been determined.

Ald. Johnston thought that the Board should go ahead at once, and place all the stone possible on the streets while the money lasts, but Ald. Adams pointed out that they had undertaken considerable other work, which would also be somewhat costly, and was not inclined to go very extensively into the matter of gravelling the streets until they saw how the finances were going to hold out.

Last year the contract was let at $2.60 per cord, an increase this year of 19 cents per cord. This, however, is much cheaper than it is possible to do the work by day labour, Mayor Best stating that when the town did the crushing it cost about $4.

THE TEACHERS WERE RE-ENGAGED

Regular Meeting of Separate School Board.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening, there being present Mr. J. Beaty, in the chair, and Messrs. Hourigan, Ball, Hickey, Primeau, Laine, Carveth, and Guselin. Rev. Father McColl, Superintendent of schools, was in attendance.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The reports of attendance for the month of June were received and are as follows:

	Roll.	Ave.
Convent School	376	241
Murray street School	233	313
Lake street School...	213	189
	732	683

On motion of Mr. Ball, seconded by Mr. Hickey, the teachers at Murray street school were re-engaged for the ensuing year.—Carried.

Some small accounts were referred to the Finance Committee, and the Board adjourned.

According to the final estimates of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments, New York City this year is worth $5,912,186,227, and will pay taxes on this amount. This is an increase of $271,613,570 over the value of the city last year.

Mine Owner Dead.

Colonel Isbrom S. Hollitte, a prominent mine owner and capitalist of California, is dead. He was a partner in many ventures with John Hays Hammond, and was well known in New York financial circles. He was a native of California, 52 years of age.

A Bridge Accident.

In a rush to escape an impending storm, fifty persons were thrown into the lake at Celeron, N. Y., last night, by the collapse of a small bridge over which the crowd was hurrying. Ten of them were taken to the hospital. Others who suffered minor injuries went to their different homes.

Fatal Explosion.

Five men were burned, two perhaps fatally, in the explosion of four cases of bromine at the plant of the Shoikopf, Hartford & Hanna Company, Buffalo, yesterday. The men were engaged in removing several casks from the sun to a covered place, when a bottle exploded, setting off the remainder.

Sold His Wife.

The sale of wives in heathen lands is no novelty, but Frontenac county in this fair province, confesses to a case of barter of this kind. Stanley Paterson, a young man living near Dead Creek, is reported to have sold his wife last week to Melvin Sedore for $18. The woman seems to be quite satisfied with the bargain.

Whites in Rand Mines.

The number of whites employed in the Rand, South Africa, gold mines on May 31, was 16,676, showing an increase of 441 on the number employed on April 30, and of 3,349 on the number employed at the corresponding date last year. The mineral output for May is valued at close on $10,000,000.

An Italian Mistreated.

At Brockville, a few days ago, an Italian named Raggazino was released from jail here after serving a sentence for abduction of two young girls named Widdis, who live a few miles from Brockville. Yesterday Raggazino made his appearance in the vicinity of the Widdis home and during the night was treated to a coat of tar and feathers. He walked into town afterwards and appealed to the police for assistance.

Canadian Honoured.

The Rev. Thomas S. Linscott of Brantford, Ontario, has received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the Ohio Northern University of Ada, Ohio. Dr. Linscott was at one time enrolled as a student of this learned institution. The Ohio Northern is one of the largest Universities in Ohio, having an annual enrollment of more than three thousand students, turning out not less than three hundred graduates annually.

Fourth of July Results.

According to despatches received by the Chicago Record-Herald from 150 of the principal cities of the United States, 30 people were killed and 1,977 injured by explosions of firecrackers, firearms, gunpowder and toy pistols on the fourth of July. In comparison with other years this is considered a heavy loss. Every succeeding celebration has its deaths and injuries. It is possible that drastic legislation will follow.

An English Innovation.

The Midland Railway Company, of England, has introduced on the Scotch expresses new dining and sleeping cars of an improved pattern. The new sleeping cars are 65 feet long and 9 feet wide. This exceptional width admits of spring mattress beds 6 feet 2 inches long being arranged transversely with a corridor the full length of the vehicle for access to lavatories and other portions of the train. The floor is double to deaden sound, the carpets are Axminster pile, and there are silent sliding doors. The compartments are lofty, airy and well ventilated.

CASE OF MODERN KNIGHT ERRANT

How a Rickety Waggon and Dashing Team Helped a Pic-nic.

An Interesting Incident Recorded from St. John's Pic-nic.

An incident worthy of mention in connection with the picnic of St. John's Sunday school at Crawford's Grove, yesterday, is recorded, and a well known young gentleman is the hero. Late in the afternoon this young gentleman hitched a team of horses to a democrat waggon, which had seen better days, and hied away to the Grove, with the object of giving anyone who wished it a ride. Upon his arrival at the picnic grounds he was hailed with open arms by Mr. Hughes Charles, who at that time was confronted by a serious problem. The boat had not yet come to take the excursionists on the return trip, and how to get the three or four hundred people back to town was a problem which Mr. Hughes Charles did not know how to solve, but the arrival of the young man with his dashing team presented a possible solution, and he immediately set him to work. Quickly loading up the rig with children he set off for the terminus of the street railway tracks, and upon his return another load was piled on, and so it continued until well on in the evening.

The young gentleman entered with zest into the spirit of the thing, and the fact that he had to go without his supper until 10.30, was a matter of very minor consideration.

THE PARK STREET ANNUAL EXCURSION

Will be Held at Jubilee Point This Year

At the Teachers' Meeting of the Park Street Baptist Sunday School the report of the boat committee was accepted by the leaders, fixing the date of the picnic to Jubilee Point for Thursday, July 13th. The following committees were appointed for that day:—Ice cream for boat, the Misses G. Buntin, A. Miller and Edith Gillespie. Sports—Messrs. Chas. Darris, A. Haddow, A. Lakpin, F. Reid. Mr. T. G. Gillespie was appointed to procure a barrel of ice water for the journey. Decided on motion to start from Peterborough at 9 a. m. and to return at 5 p. m. Sharp from Jubilee wharf. $5.00 were voted to be spent in prizes by sports committee.

A PLEA FOR BETTER STREET CROSSINGS

Why Not Inaugurate Them in the City of Peterborough.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—I was in Hastings on Tuesday and noticed that the village authorities were laying down cement pavements. I noticed also that at the same time concrete crossings were put in, thus finishing the work. The crossings are neatly grooved and the finishing coating is made very strong—half and half, and of cement to one of sand.

Now how would it be if our merchant—I don't mean cap-headed—citizen men should make the experiment of putting in a few crossings in Peterborough? We haven't any at present except a few heaps of wobbly cedar blocks obstructing traffic and pedestrianism at street intersections. Why don't they put in crossings at the same time they lay down pavements? I would suggest that the surface of such handsome crossings should be formed of one part asphalt to one part of ground granite, and if properly put down would make, I think, a good durable crossing. I noticed that the Examiner recently offered a reward for the discovery of one decent street crossing in Peterborough. I have been trying hard to earn the reward but as the weather is unfavorable I have not succeeded.

Yours truly,
STICK-IN-THE-MUD.

P.S.—Thank Heaven it can't be said of aldermen as of the Athenians of old that they are always ready to apply—its only a question of the cost and experience with local cement crossings. P. S. S.

AUTONOMY BILLS PASSED.

Final Scenes of the Great Parliamentary Struggle—The Slaughter of Amendments Was Complete.

Ottawa, July 6.—After months of discussion covering the widest range and involving much bitterness and racial and religious feeling, both here and in the country, the House of Commons last night passed the Alberta and Saskatchewan autonomy bills. This result was not achieved without evident signs of relief and of happiness that the end had come to a troublesome debate.

Perfunctory Amendments.

The last day was marked chiefly by the formality of presenting some dozen amendments, the mere reading of which generally sufficed to bring them before the House. There was a short general talk on clause 16, but Mr. Borden's amendment eventually was defeated by a majority of 66. The budget speech will be delivered to-day by Hon. Mr. Fielding, and the report last night was that Hon. Mr. Foster will be the only Conservative to reply.

Election Act Amendment.

Mr. R. L. Borden introduced a bill to amend the Dominion elections act by adding a couple of sub-sections. One provides a penalty of $200 on any person who circulates a false statement of the withdrawal of a candidate, and the other requires all bills, posters and circulars issued in promotion of a candidate's interest to bear the name and address of the printer and publisher thereof. The latter, Mr. Borden explained, was taken from the English election act.

Third Reading Postponed.

The Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern Railway Bill came up in the House for its third reading last night. When Mr. Foster moved his amendment. The bill will again come up on Monday. It was fully expected that the third reading would have been given last night.

MR. McDOUGALL'S EVIDENCE.

Auditor-General on What That Official Ought To Be.

Ottawa, July 6.—When the public accounts committee met yesterday Mr. Bergeron moved that the statement of Auditor-General McDougall in regard to suggested changes in the Audit Act be printed, but Mr. Fielding said that the matter was not yet ended.

The Auditor-General proceeded to read another lengthy statement to the committee. He claimed the saving on the Sorel Bridge matter was due to him and that Mr. Schreiber should have discovered the facts. He doubted the advisability of having a large committee to investigate this matter, and urged the Audit Act amendments be referred to a small committee which should sit continuously. He thought the Auditor-General should have no politics and act absolutely impartially. Railway subsidies, he said, should be under the Audit Act. Mr. McDougall contended for the unitary method of so much per yard, etc., and not by the bulk sum.

After dealing with his early experiences with the Conservative administration Mr. McDougall declared an Auditor-General should have no politics, neither should he accept favors from the Government or anyone having dealings with the Government.

"I am not advocating that a man must hold himself so straight as to lean back, as if he belonged to a party before he entered the service. He ought to treat that party as if he had never belonged to any party," said Mr. McDougall, adding: "Perhaps these remarks may be of some little service in dealing with the next man."

Leave Tokio July 10.

Tokio, July 4.—On account of repairs to the steamer Minnesota at Nagasaki, it is doubtful if Baron Komura and his staff will depart for Washington before July 10 to participate in the peace negotiations between Japan and Russia. Premier Katsura will act as Foreign Minister during the absence of Baron Komura.

Cornwall Strikers Beaten.

Cornwall, July 4.—The strike of the motormen and conductors of the Cornwall Electric Street Railway was called off last night, and it is understood that most of the men will return to work to-day at the old scale of wages, 13 cents an hour. They struck last week, asking first 17 and then 15 cents.

Government Resigns.

The Hague, July 4.—The Cabinet headed by Dr. A. Kuyper has resigned. The resignation is due to the defeat of the Government in the recent elections in Holland.

Death of Thomas Ridout.

Ottawa, July 4.—Thomas Ridout, one of the pioneers in the Federal civil service, died yesterday afternoon. The late Mr. Ridout, was 75 years of age.

FLYING THE FLAG OF REBELLION

The Standard of Russia Revolution Formally Raised---Potemkine's Proclamation--The Mutineers Intimidate a Small Port and Requisition Food Supplies and Coal---Black Sea Squadron Hides Under Sebastapol's Guns---Cossacks Fire Upon Workmen at St. Petersburg---The Armistice Situation.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—The battleship Knias Potemkine has arrived at Theodosia, a port on the eastern coast of the Crimean peninsula, without the torpedo boat which she towed out of the harbor of Kustenji. It is believed that the battleship took the crew of the torpedo boat on board and abandoned or sank her while on the way to Theodosia.

Summoned by the Knias Potemkine, representatives of the Town Council went on board the battleship and were received in the admiral's cabin by the commission commanding her.

The commission demanded the delivery of five hundred tons of coal and provisions of various kinds within twenty-four hours, and threatened that in the event of non-compliance, after due warning to the inhabitants, the town would be bombarded.

The commission also proposed that the Mayor shall transmit to the population a proclamation demanding the termination of the war, and a convocation of zemstvos, etc. Learning of these demands, many inhabitanst fled the town. The workmen insisted that the demands be granted.

A special meeting of the municipal council was called and the council consented to deliver the provisions, but refused to comply with the demand for coal for the reason that the town had none.

The mutineers yesterday formally raised the standard of rebellion and issued the following declaration: "The crew of the Knias Potemkine notify the foreign powers that the decisive struggle has begun against the Russian Government. We consider it to be our duty to declare that we guarantee the complete inviolability of foreign ports."

67 Will Be Shot.

Odessa, July 6.—Sixty-seven of the mutineers from the Georgi Pobiedonosets, including the ringleaders, were imprisoned yesterday. It is expected that all of them will be shot.

Destroyer Got Supplies.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 6.—The Russian torpedo-boat destroyer Stremitelny, anchored off Varna, opposite Prince Ferdinand's palace, Tuesday evening. The commander of the vessel requested supplies which were immediately granted and the destroyer sailed.

Cossacks Fired on Strikers.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—Cossacks fired on the Putiloff works strikers yesterday morning. The trouble was started by the arrest of a youth while entering the works. The police suspected him of having dynamite in his possession. On being made a prisoner the young man drew a revolver, and shot his captor dead, and was himself wounded by a bullet fired by another policeman. The strikers quickly congregated on the Peterhoff road, and Cossacks were ordered to disperse them. The soldiers charged, using their whips, and then fired a volley, causing several casualties among the strikers. The excitement in the district is intense.

Going Toward Batoum.

Bucharest, July 6.—The captain of a vessel which has just arrived here from Galath, reports that he met the battleship Knias Potemkine going toward Batoum.

Mutineers Demand Supplies.

Theodosia, July 6.—The Russian battleship Knias Potemkine has arrived here and asked for coal, provisions and medical attendance. The mutineers demanded that the authorities of the town guarantee their safety during the stay of the ship here.

Theodosia, formerly Kaffa, is a seaport of Russia on the southeast coast of the Crimea, 70 miles east of Simpheropol. It has a population of about 39,000.

Again Back at Sebastopol.

Sebastopol, July 6.—The Black Sea squadron, under Rear-Admiral Kruger, returned here yesterday from its second voyage to Odessa. The squadron included the battleship Georgi Pobiedonosets.

WHAT NO ARMISTICE MEANS.

If Japan Does Not Agree Russia Will See Revolution.

St. Petersburg, July 6.—The situation regarding the armistice is as follows: Russia has formally signified to President Roosevelt her desire for a lasting peace not only by the appointment of plenipotentiaries, who will be accompanied by experts, fully empowered to conclude a treaty subject only to the ratification of the respective Governments, but as a final step has indicated her readiness to suspend hostilities. She has avoided formally asking for an armistice as a matter of pride, but under the circumstances Russia could hardly go further than she has.

Japan, so far as known, has not yet indicated her attitude, or, if she has Russia has not been so informed.

An eminent ambassador of a great European power said to the Associated Press: "If Japan declines it may prove to be a misfortune for the whole world. The position of Russia is critical. The Emperor, crushed by the defeats in the Far East and with almost civil war at home, has bowed his head to the inevitable. He wants peace, and Japan has the proofs in her possession. Japan has vindicated her power before the world and has won the admiration of the world.

"Nothing becomes a victor so much as a broad spirit of magnanimity. If Japan stil insists in humbling the Emperor's head into the dust and forcing a useless battle, which will result in the loss of tens of thousands of lives, she may produce a cataclysm of anarchy greater than that of the French revolution, which will leave Russia no Government to negotiate with, besides threatening the peace of Europe."

Japan has another proof that Russia has decided on peace in the abandonment of further mobilization in the St. Petersburg and other districts, where, in spite of the deplorable internal situation, such a step would not have been taken if the Government seriously contemplated a continuation of the war.

CHURCH AND STATE DIVIDE

After Long Fight French Chamber of Deputies Passes Momentous Bill Amid Intense Excitement.

Paris, July 4.—The bill for the separation of church and state passed the Chamber of Deputies late last night by the decisive vote of 341 to 233. The result was greeted by Governmental cheers and Opposition hisses, and there was intense excitement.

The system swept away by this bill dates from 1801, when the famous "concordat" was signed by Pius the Seventh and Napoleon. This gave religion governmental status, the churches being Government property with the clergy paid by the state and the entire church administration being under the direction of a member of the President's Cabinet. The new system abolishes all laws and regulations under the concordat and terminates the authority of the concordat itself.

GIRL BITTEN BY A CAT.

Beaten Off By Boy, Runs to Swamp—Posse in Pursuit.

Galt, July 5.—John Houghton living in the Township of Dumfries, had a pet cat. Yesterday it manifested peculiar conduct and finally made a fierce attack on Houghton's little daughter, whom it bit on the leg, and to whom it clung till the child's brother beat it off.

The cat attacked one of the chickens and tore it to pieces, after which it fled to the swamp. A posse is hunting for the beast, which, it is believed, has hydrophobia.

Dr. Virdon was called and cauterized the ugly wound.

Texas Tornado Kills Inmates and Carries Away Houses—Twenty-four Already Reported Dead—The Dead and Injured List May Yet Reach Sixty—Hundreds of Head of Stock Destroyed—Towns of Nocana and Montague Devasted—Reports of Tornado's Work Still Coming In

Nocana, Texas, July 6.—A tornado and thunderstorm passed a few miles west and south of here yesterday morning, killing 14 persons and injuring many others and destroying a number of houses. The latest reports from the storm-swept district give the following casualties:

Dead—Mrs. C. C. Shackelford, Miss Shackelford, daughter; Mrs. S. E. Tumbleson and three children, Mrs. Mary Lester and four children Caleb White, Mrs. Irb Williams, Irb Williams, Frank Eakin, killed by lightning.

Many farm houses were swept entirely away. The school house, three miles west of here, was damaged. Reports of the work of the tornado are still coming in.

The number of killed and injured will probably reach 60.

Ten Lives Lost.

Montagu, Texas, July 6.—Ten persons are dead as the result of a tornado which passed over Montague yesterday afternoon.

They are A. P. Earl, Miss Sadie Earl, daughter of A. P. Earl; Burke Earl, his son; Baby Lawrence Pillow, Tomlinson family, consisting of husband, wife and four children.

Many houses were demolished, including 15 dwellings.

The tornado lasted perhaps 30 minutes. Hundreds of head of stock were killed.

B. F. BLACKLEY DROWNS.

First Fatality at Jackson's Point—Got Over His Depth.

Jackson's Point, July 6.—The residents of this resort were Tuesday shocked by the occurrence of the first drowning accident which has ever taken place here, so far as is known.

The victim was John F. Blackley, aged 21, of Pittsburg, Pa. With his brother and Mr. Thomas, at whose cottage he was staying, he went in bathing. The three men had a boat with them. The boat upset, and young Blackley got beyond his depth. He became tired and cried for help. An oar was shoved to him, but would not sustain him afloat.

The body was recovered within 10 minutes, and for two hours resuscitation efforts were made.

The fatality has cast a gloom over the locality, many residents having witnessed the accident. The body was sent to Pittsburg yesterday.

Two Drowned in Quebec.

Quebec, July 6.—Jean Oulett and Napoleon Bureau were drowned at St. Raymond Tuesday by the upsetting of a boat, in which they were seated together with Boromme Bureau, brother of the latter. Boromme Bureau saved himself with difficulty.

Don Claims Another Victim.

Toronto, July 6.—The Don has claimed another victim. This time it is Fred, the son of Andrew F. Simons of 16 Boucher street. The little chap was not quite 9 years of age, and got out of his depth while swimming. The body was recovered about 8 o'clock.

Two Boys and Old Gun.

Sprague, Man., July 6.—A shooting accident occurred at Sprague Landing. Two small boys named Homer and Fanstrom were playing with an old gun, not knowing it was loaded and it went off, shooting Homer in the abdomen, inflicting serious wounds. Recovery is doubtful.

Paris Green Mistaken for Ginger.

Norwood, July 6.—A sudden death occurred at lot 11, con. 11, Asphodel, when Andrew McGee, aged 41, died from poisoning, the result of taking a dose of paris green in mistake for ginger.

Fatal Explosion in Mines.

Bluefields, W. Va., July 6.—By an explosion in the Tidewater coal mine at Vivian, 22 miles west of this city, yesterday, nine miners, all of whom were Italians, were injured and two of them died later in the hospital, while three more are in a precarious condition, with slight chance of recovery.

38 Fourth-of-July Killed.

Chicago, July 6.—According to despatches received by The Record-Herald from 150 of the principal cities of the United States, 36 people were killed and 1,677 injured by explosions of fire-crackers, fire arms, gunpowder and toy pistols on the fourth of July.

Buried Into a Ravine.

Lascahamp, July 6.—Court Thiesy, while driving an automobile to attend the big race yesterday collided with a stone wall near the small town of Lepuy, and was buried into a ravine. The count was taken to a hospital, where he died two hours later. A lady who accompanied him was dangerously injured.

Motor Cars Overturn.

Clermont, Ferrand, France, July 6.—A motor car carrying four officials of the automobile club of France was overturned in a ditch yesterday. M. A. Chard, the manager of the club, was severely injured and the others were injured in a lesser degree. Another car which was traveling rapidly turned over and mortally injured a child. At Clarons-sur-Marne a motor car dashed into a wall here yesterday, killing the driver. The two occupants of the car were injured.

Prize Fighter Killed.

Aberdeen, Wash., July 6.—Fred Ross, who was knocked out by Jack Donnelly in the sixteenth round of a prize fight Monday night, is dead. The coroner has ordered the arrest of Donnelly.

COUNCIL DECIDES TOWN NEEDS A FIRE ENGINE

And the Fire, Water and Light Committee Were Given Authority to Prosecute Investigation to Ascertain Which Make is the Best and Report to the Council on the Matter in the Near Future—Extension Ladders Also Required—Second Call Equipment in the Fire Hall Discussed.

The council has at last taken action on the question of a new fire engine, and as the result of a full discussion of the matter last night, at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council, the Fire, Water and Light Committee will make an investigation. It will get all the information possible from the manufacturers of fire engines, and will visit the cities where the different fire engines may be seen in operation, and will recommend to the council a course of action. The council was unanimous in their opinion that a new engine was an immediate necessity, and the committee was given to understand that the sooner it got to work, and reported to the council, the better it would be pleased. As to the question of paying for the engine, the opinion seemed to be that the best way was to buy the engine, and pay for it with money borrowed from the bank, and submit a bylaw to the ratepayers in January to issue debentures, the aldermen expressing the opinion that the citizens would support the council in their action in buying it.

Those present at the meeting last night were: Mayor Best, Ald. Hicks, Hall, Adams, Johnston, Emery, Bagley, Mason, Crowe, and McIntyre.

Mayor Best introduced the principal business of discussion, that of the question of purchasing a new fire engine. He said that his own opinion was that the town should get a new engine, and a good one. The money could be borrowed from the bank to pay for it until the ratepayers could vote on the question. He believed that the people would sanction the action of the council in buying a new fire engine, and that if a bad fire occurred before an engine was purchased, the council would be censured by the people for their negligence of the town's interests. There was no doubt in his mind that the ratepayers would support the council if they purchased an engine.

Immediate Action Necessary.

Ald. Hicks urged that the council should take immediate action in the matter, and suggested that the plan of campaign be laid now, and the committee get to work as soon as possible.

Ald. Adams expressed his belief that a Canadian engine should be purchased. Ald. Hall moved that the Mayor and Johnston and Hicks and Chief Rutherford, be a committee to take up the question of purchasing an engine, and this was amended later to read "the Fire, Water and Light Committee," which was carried by the committee.

Ald. Hicks stated that some provision should be made, by which a second call could be answered by the fire brigade. At present there was no provision by which a second alarm could be answered, while the first equipment was at a fire. In one week, two cases of this kind happened. Fortunately neither of these fires were serious, but they might easily have been, and the results might have been disastrous. Ald. Bagley suggested that a one horse hose reel would be the proper thing, which was concurred in by the committee.

Extension Ladders.

Ald. Hall also thought that an extension ladder should be purchased to reach the high buildings in the town. The chief stated that at present there was practically only one fire ladder in possession of the brigade. Ald. Hicks recognized the necessity for the ladder, he thought that the other things were more necessary. The way things were going now, they were proposing to buy the whole equipment with the exception of the new hall, which the people have already voted down. He thought that it was necessary to get an engine and said that in his opinion the Fire, Water and Light Committee should be given authority to act at once and that it should have power to go to any place to inspect engines without having to come back to the council.

To Report at Once.

He believed that they should have authority to look into the whole matter thoroughly and be prepared to report fully to the council recommending what engine to be purchased. He suggested to facilitate the matter, a committee composed of members from all committees of the council be appointed to deal with this most important question. Ald. Hall amended his motion to read that the Committee be given the authority to procure all the information and to report to the council. The motion was carried, with the remark of the mayor that it was now in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and they had better get to work at once, which they promised to do.

An Expert's Advice.

Ald. Crowe was of the opinion that when the committee took its tour of investigation, they should take an expert with them, and he had a man in his mind, who he thought would be the proper person.

The proposal was not considered seriously by the committee, one of the members remarking that on previous occasions, when they had employed experts, they had disregarded their advice.

ARRIVED FROM THE OLD LAND

Mr. Herbert E. Bayley Will Take Up Residence Near Peterborough.

England Adds to the Population of Canada—Are Pleased with Peterborough.

Among the guests at the Munro House are: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Bayley and Miss Bayley of Berkhamstead, Hertfortshire, England, who arrived in town yesterday from Montreal, where they disembarked from the Dominion Liner "Celtic". Mr. Bayley states that the party had a pleasant voyage out, unaccompanied by any incidents so thrilling as those which befell his four sons on their initial voyage to Canada some weeks ago. His sons who are now residing near town came over upon the ill-fated "Parisian" which sank in Halifax Harbour. Two are now engaged with Mr. Thompson of Hiawatha and the others with Mr. Howard Smithson of Greystock. Mr. Bayley states that he is very favourably impressed with Peterborough and its surroundings and will take up residence as soon as the preliminary arrangements are concluded.

HIGH MORAL TONE IN CAMP LIFE

A Great Change Has Taken Place in Recent Years.

Tribute to Work of Y. M. C. A.—The 3rd Dragoons Reach High Standard.

Special Staff Correspondent

Camp Barriefield, Kingston, July 5th.—Military camp life is judicially changing in its moral tone. This fact is very noticeable to anyone who has attended camp for any length of time. The brigade camp of some years ago, it cannot be denied took the form to some extent at least of a 12 days' debauch for a certain class of men, and 12 days of general depravity for others. A prejudiced feeling existed amongst the better class of young men towards volunteer camp life and the class of men, generally speaking, were not of very high moral or intellectual standard.

To anyone who has given the matter more than a passing thought it can be quite evident that the camps of recent years are improving in their moral tone and to-day the young man who attends camp finds the association, generally speaking, of the average good moral type, and the knowledge he obtains while in camp is educating at most that is good in every way.

There are several reasons to account for this but the chief of these seems to be that greater care has been taken of late years to provide a rational class of amusement for the men while off duty. In this regard the splendid work that is being done by the Y. M. C. A. is to be commended. Every year the Y.M.C.A. spends considerable money in entertaining in camp headquarters in which services are held nightly, and the men are permitted to make themselves at home. Writing materials and other accommodation is provided and it is not surprising then that the Y.M.C.A. tent is each evening filled with an intelligent-good looking lot of young men.

The military authorities assist the Y.M.C.A. in their work and this year each regiment subscribed thereby to a fund under the control of the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of obtaining suitable prizes for the sports which were run off on Saturday afternoon. Each day during the various regiments are represented on the baseball fields and keen but good natured rivalry exists. Speaking briefly, the men who make up the 3rd Dragoons are of an exceptionally fine class. They are young farmers of farmers' sons for the most part of good education and very marked appearance. The men are all good horsemen and take to drill with much enthusiasm.

Speaking of camp entertainment, Monday night furnished a splendid illustration of how the men entertain themselves and how others are entertained. A most interesting concert took place in front of "D" (Millbrook) Squadron's lines in which some rare talent was in evidence. Many good old camp song airs were to be heard, step dancing was performed on an oat box, and recitations by non-professional artists were rendered. There seems to be every reason to believe that "D" Squadron has the best talent in the entire cavalry brigade.

The Dragoons have shown up splendidly this camp. They have gone through several inspections and so far they have completely outclassed the 4th Hussars, with whom they are brigaded. More than this it is a fact that so far the 3rd Dragoons have surpassed any cavalry regiment in Canada, being considerably superior to the cavalry regiments recently in camp at Niagara, which included the Governor General's Body Guards of Toronto. An advantage which the 3rd Dragoons has over most regiments is that the men are invariably excellent riders.

To-day (Tuesday) the men of the 3rd underwent an inspection by Major General Lord Aylmer. The inspection was quite satisfactory to both the general and the officers and men of the 3rd. The men also were given shot-target instruction and in the afternoon they visited the "butts".

To-day there was a kick in camp regarding the class of meat that was brought to the camp. The meat was certainly not fit to be given to anyone. Major W. T. Hall, who was field officer of the day, refused to accept the meat, and the matter is being investigated.

Last night the officers of the 3rd Dragoons had a group photo. taken which promises to be an exceedingly good group picture.

Perhaps the best infantry regiments in camp is the 45th Regiment of Victoria under command of Lieut.-Col. Sylvester, of Lindsay. The regiment is up to full strength. The 46th (Durham) Lieut.-Col. H. A. Ward, M. P., is unfortunately about half strength only.

The band of the 16th Regiment (Dicton) serenaded the 3rd Dragoons last night and their music was much appreciated. There is by the way, some talk of organizing a band in connection with the 3rd Dragoons.

OLD AGE

Comes to Everyone, But its Visits May Be Postponed.

Old age is not a question of years. Some men are old at forty; others are young at sixty.

It's a mighty hard proposition to look young, no matter how young you feel, if your hair is falling out, and your head becoming bald.

Perhaps you are tired trying ineffectual remedies for this evil.

We don't blame you, if you are.

LETTER FROM VOLUNTEER CAMP

Former Peterborough Boy Writes an Interesting Letter.

A letter received last night by the Examiner from the Volunteer Camp, Kingston, and dated July 1st, contains the following of local interest:—

"This afternoon the proceedings took the nature of a good programme of sports. Mr. Percy K. Holmes, Physical Director of the Peterborough Y. M. C. A., who attends to that end of the business here, arranged a very interesting and successful programme, and some good events were pulled off, such as 100 and 200 hundred yard dashes, putting the shot, jumping, wrestling, etc. The prizes were presented in the Y. M. C. A. tent to-night.

A meeting was held as usual at 8 o'clock, Col. Edwards, who commands the 7th Brigade, delivered a short and most interesting address which held the attention of the audience.

The camp this year is going off fine and a very successful second week is looked for by the officers in charge.

A POINTER WORTH HAVING.

The merits of Ozone are well known, but in buying it one must be sure to get the purest form. Also, Ozone should always be taken along with "Celery King" the famous tonic laxative. The purest form in which Ozone is put up is "Solution of Ozone" (the coupon kind) and each bottle of this brand contains a coupon entitling you to a package of "Celery King" free.

No other firm in the world can give "Celery King" with Ozone. We give because our Ozone thus brings the highest results. In addition, you get just about twice as much "Solution of Ozone" for your money as of other kinds, and you also get it in the purest and most concentrated form. You also get "Celery King" free, instead of having to buy it which you would need to do in order to have full benefit from the use of Ozone.

Your druggist should have "Solution of Ozone" (the coupon kind.) If not, write to the Public Drug Co. Bridgeburg. Sold by W. B. Warne.

No furnace drudgery in the House

The most exasperating mystery about coal-dust is a dwelling furnace. The dirt and soot, the ash sifting and draft worry of many heaters, make life a burden. With the new "Hecla" hot water heater, there are no worries. Its firebox is so simple a child can understand them; the shaking down apparatus is provided with the simplest effort, grinding noise and disturbing vibration. It is a cheap, simple, economical heater, perfectly safe, as it burns its own gas no matter how the drafts are set. Write to H. R. A good baking oven is what every housewife requires in a range. Other advantages add to the usefulness of the range, but an easily regulated, perfect baking and roasting oven is an indispensable feature. It is the perfection in operation of the oven of the

that has made it such a striking success.

It is in the oven construction that the greatest difference is found between the Imperial Oxford and any other range on the market. The diffusive oven flue draws the cold air from the finer, super-heats it, and distributes it throughout the oven, keeping it at an even temperature in all parts. This flue also makes it easy to regulate the heat of the oven and secures a marked saving in fuel. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford, write to us direct and we will send you our catalogue and tell you where you can see the range.

NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE BUILDING.

While Sir William Macdonald in Canada, and Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockfeller, are spending their millions to promote the cause of higher education—mere individuals — the fifteen thousand people of Peterborough decline to expend $100,000 in the erection of a building suitable for giving the children of the city an educational equipment for life. The action of the men mentioned was perhaps prompted by the feeling of the disadvantages they laboured under in the early part of their careers from lack of a good education, and a natural desire that others should enjoy the advantages of which they were deprived, and such a practical example of the great importance of such an education should weigh with the voters of Peterborough.

It was not by any means edifying, in many cases humiliating, to listen to the arguments advanced by some ratepayers to justify their action—"O, I have no children to educate, and I am not going to commit myself to paying the huge sum of 47 cents on the thousand of assessment to help educate other people's children." "I have got my own educated at the expense of others in the Collegiate Institute, and I intend to ignore the demands of fair play, and will not help educate anybody else in return for what I received." "I believe the Public school is good enough for the poor man: if anybody wants his children to have an education the Public school cannot give him, let him pay for it himself."

All these positions are the outcome of the most narrow prejudice, and most absolute selfishness, and they argue an utter absence of public spirit — the first element of good and progressive citizenship; and the spirit behind them, applied to the discharge of the other duties of citizenship, will make the possessor a mere parasite upon the civic body politic — taking all from the funds of common benefits, and contributing nothing.

In spite of this discouraging attitude of so many, the case is not hopeless yet. It is the duty of the Board of Education, who have in the past gravely neglected this part of their duty, to inaugurate, and continue, a campaign of popular education on the subject, and by prompt, careful, and business-like discharge of their duties, win the confidence of the public. The building of a creditable and suitable Institute Building is as important today as if the people had not unaccountably—and temporarily—blocked the project. The School Board cannot afford to drop the idea, they must persevere and submit bylaw after bylaw and meanwhile educate the people.

It is not possible that the vote of June represents a full and fair expression of the real sentiments of the great mass of the properly qualified electors. If this vote represents the true feeling of the City, then Peterborough cannot even boasting of her progressive and enterprising spirit any too soon. Many may forget that in the matter of Government grant Peterborough is in a practical position of pauperism — accepting Government charity, that is, receiving as a favour what we are not entitled to and have not earned. It is a fact that the Provincal Government would be justified in withholding the annual grant to the Collegiate Institute and thus degrading our Institute to the status of an ordinary High School. At present it has neither buildings nor grounds nor equipment to meet the conditions which justify the payment of a Collegiate Institute Government grant. Why should the Government continue to make the yearly grant merely as a favour, as a charity? Through influence and "pull" the late Government of the Province was induced to recognize the Court House grounds as a part of the Collegiate Institute grounds and the Institute was allowed to keep its standing—always on the understanding that suitable buildings and equipment would be provided to permit Peterborough to honestly earn the Government grant and not accept it as a charity.

We all boast of Peterborough as a most desirable manufacturing centre, and rightly so too, so far as economical and abundant power and good transportation facilities are concerned, but can we boast of the City of Peterborough being a desirable place of residence? Can we hope to attract population if we can only offer educational advantages inferior to those possessed by scores of minor towns, and even villages? We may publish abroad our attractions as an industrial centre as the centre of enterprise, as a city of progressive spirit. But how will it look if some of these days we have to publish at the same time the humiliating fact that the Government grant to the Collegiate Institute is withdrawn because the citizens were too niggardly to vote enough money to build a decent Collegiate Institute building? And that, if outsiders should take residence in the City of Peterborough they would have higher educational advantages available inferior to many a country village?

If we couldn't afford to spend $100,000 to build a creditable and sufficient Institute building it would be another matter. Where is there a town or minor city in the comfortable financial position that Peterborough is to-day? Where is there a town or minor city that possesses more civic advantages for which the people have not paid a cent? We have Victoria Park, Central Park, Nicholls Park, Jackson Park, Inverlea Park and Dickson Park, and the ratepayers have not been called upon to contribute a dollar to their purchase price. The Nicholls Hospital, a public institution has been presented to the City free and with all these it would seem that it is not making any extravagant demand upon the ratepayers to ask them to contribute funds for the erection of a respectable and adequate Collegiate Institute building. They are certainly more able to do so than the ratepayers of 1800 to the number of only 4,500 with an assessed value of a little over a million, as compared with a population of 15,000 and an assessed value of between five and six millions at the present time, were to put up the cost of a $35,000 building. We want a sufficient and a creditable building. The proposed site of the building is along side the imposing armouries on the Court House grounds. We don't want an insignificant squat school building along side this beautiful structure. We want a building that will not only be a credit to the City but one that will answer our educational requirements for fifty years to come as the old Collegiate buildings have done.

Have the ratepayers ever reflected that Peterborough never had an institute building—that we have been leasing a public school building and dispossessing the public schools—depriving them of room that is badly needed? The construction of a new building is demanded in the interests of the public schools, not only as a source of future supply for teachers, but for the room now occupied by the Collegiate Institute, and to which it has no moral right.

A new building is not a necessity for the present generation of ratepayers. They have received their school education largely at the expense of others, and now to deny to others the privileges they have enjoyed the benefit of, is, well—selfish, to put it most mildly. The cost of a good new building will not fall upon the present body of taxpayers only—it will be distributed over the space of a generation and be very largely paid by those who get the benefit.

The interests of education and the good name of the City demand a good and sufficient new building. We must aim to make Peterborough an attractive City to live in, we must attract population, must make Peterborough an educational centre. They are narrow-gauge reasoners, who object to building an Institute to educate pupils from the county, and other places. We don't educate them: they pay their way, not only pay for their maintenance while in the city attending the Institute, but their fees, of $25 a year, represent a yearly contribution of capital at 5 per cent. of $500, the capital which each outside pupil invests in a Collegiate Institute building. We should make Peterborough an educational centre for this district, as well as a commercial and industrial centre. Looking at the matter broadly Peterborough is not making an expenditure of $100,000 in an Institute building, but an investment, which will yield not only educational but cash returns.

The School Board must not let the matter rest, but keep it in agitation, and educate the people. We believe if the people are brought to think about the matter, if they are brought to have confidence in the bona fides and business ability of the School Board, if the School Board will strive to make themselves, in every way, worthy of this confidence, success will be achieved. Don't drop the new Institute project: educate the people, give them confidence, and submit another bylaw. If they won't vote for it, use the money already voted to put in a foundation, and leave it there, until the people come to a more liberal frame of mind. The School Board has, theoretically, at least, the interests of the town at heart. But it is to be feared that very many who voted against the bylaw had only their own narrow, personal, individual interests, at heart, forgetful of the educational interests, and the interests of the good name and progress of the city. Narrow-guage railways are as much a thing of the past as corduroy roads. Narrow-guage ideas of our civic responsibilities, and civic duties, are equally antiquated. Let us be alive.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

The Examiner has received a number of brief communications within the past week upon various subjects, and of these, two were to-day received upon post cards.

That there are many readers who have short suggestions or inquiries to make, is apparent, and with a view to accommodating such contributors a column will be opened for the daily use of our readers, in which brief inquiries and replies, suggestions, or remarks will be published. The correspondence in the column will be confined entirely to that received upon post cards, and in opening it, the Examiner believes that it will serve an excellent purpose and be utilized by many. It is hoped that it will prove a medium through which readers may secure information upon questions in which it is desired.

The necessity for brevity will be apparent and it is hoped that many readers, if they will exercise this quality as do our preachers in their exhortations during the hot weather, the same excellent results will be obtained.

The invariable custom of the Examiner regarding ananymous letters will not apply to this column, and the names of contributors will not be published unless desired. Anything, however, of a personal or scurrilous nature will be strictly prohibited, as this would be entirely at variance with it's purpose.

Editor Examiner:—

Sir,—Is it not time that the milk dispensers of the town were in some way protected? While I do not wish to suggest that any of the local dealers resort to the Brantford system of embalming, I think I am largely supported in the view that the appointment of a milk inspector is an immediate necessity.

ANTI-FREEZINE.

Dear Editor,—In addition to the excellent report upon crop prospects which appear from time to time in your columns, I would suggest that a report regarding those upon many of our leading streets would be interesting I would also suggest to those in authority that if the hay were cut and preserved it might be utilized next winter to feed the fire team.

LARGE EXCURSION FROM PORT HOPE

A Large Party Had Most Enjoyable Outing.

The excursion of the Methodist church Port Hope, which passed through town yesterday to and from Stony Lake, appeared to be well patronized, the party numbering fully 350.

The pleasure-seekers arrived in town about nine o'clock, a.m., on their way to Lakefield, where they embarked upon the steamer Stony Lake, and after a pleasant day's outing in Kawarthadom, returned to Peterborough early in the evening.

After a short stay in town the majority of the party departed for home, a number, however, remaining here over night. The excursionists report having had a most enjoyable outing.

ANOTHER DOCKET OF MERCHANTS

Charged With Obstructing the Sidewalks.

All Were Discharged with Warnings—Cyclist Fined.

At this morning's police court, there was another docket of merchants charged with obstructing traffic, by allowing boxes, crates and bundles to remain on the sidewalk.

The first called was the Peterborough Hardware Co. Mr. Eastwood, representing the firm, said that farmers placed their purchases on the outside of the sidewalk so as to be easily accessible when they drove up to get them. Mr. Eastwood thought that the farmers ought to be made liable and not the firm, but the magistrate ruled otherwise. The case was dismissed with a warning.

The next to appear was Mr. Turner of the Peterborough Music store. He was charged with allowing organ and piano cases to remain on the sidewalk contrary to the bylaw. He placed the blame with the express company, who were to take the cases away as soon as they were set out. This case was also discharged with a warning.

Mr. R. Dutton was next up, charged with allowing crates and boxes to remain on the sidewalk after 12 o'clock, noon. Mr. Dutton did not know that goods could not remain on the sidewalk in the afternoon, and the magistrate discharged him.

Mr. Jas. Murty and a representative of Robt. Neil appeared for a similar offence, but they said they had no intention of infringing on the by-law. They explained that when a large shipment of goods was received they could not take them in in a minute and consequently they were charged with obstructing the sidewalk. They were discharged also.

Miss Stephenson was fined $2 for riding on the sidewalk.

BRIDE FORMERLY RESIDED HERE

Miss Vivian Hudspeth Married at Port Hope.

Groom was Mr. W. H. Nightingale—An Interesting Society Event.

A very fashionable wedding took place at high noon yesterday at Trinity College School chapel, Port Hope, when Miss Vivian Hudspeth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hudspeth of Peterborough, and ward of Miss Evans, to Mr. William Henry Nightingale, a former master of Trinity College school, were united in marriage. The chapel was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Broughall, jr., Master of Trinity College School.

The bride who was given away by her brother, looked exceedingly pretty in a gown of embroidered cream chiffon, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a handsome bouquet of bride's roses.

The bridesmaids were Misses Gertrude and Helen Hudspeth, sisters of the bride, and were dressed in crepe de chene with pink flower girdle. The groom was supported by Mr. Harold Rathbon, of Toronto, and the ushers were Messrs. Ernest Rathbon, of Toronto, Stanley Burton, Winnipeg, and Adam Hudspeth, Chicago, Dr. Petrie, Musical Professor, at Trinity College School, presided at the organ, and while the register was being signed, Miss Bertha Smith sang very sweetly and with much feeling, "O Perfect Love."

After the ceremony lunch was served at the home of Miss Evans, Augusta street, and Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale left by the flyer for a wedding tour, after which they will return to Port Hope, before taking up their residence in Edmonton, N. W. T.

Mr. Hammond of Peterborough, was one of the guests.

HORSE INJURED ON TOWN BRIDGE

And the Corporation May Be Compelled to Pay Damages.

Brock and Aylmer Street Bridge in Poor Condition—It Will be Repaired.

Ald. Adams at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night brought up the question of a stone crusher and said that it was necessary to purchase a new crusher for the gravel pit, as the people were making fun at the men on the roads for the unsatisfactory quality of the stone now being used and for the method of placing it on the streets. He said that the present method was an expensive one, and it was necessary to buy a new crusher. Ald. Hicks suggested that the Board of Works be authorized to look into the matter and see what a new crusher would cost, and moved to that effect, which was carried.

Ald. Adams had called attention to the poor condition of the Brock and Aylmer street bridge. A horse went through the bridge yesterday, and was rather severely injured, and the owner, Mr. Hubble, had notified the engineer that he would look to the town to pay the expense of doctoring the animal.

Ald. Hicks suggested that a rock elm top should be placed on the bridge. He thought that this would make a good job and moved that the chairman of the Board look into the cost of putting on a new covering on the bridge, which motion was passed by the committee.

A WEDDING IN EMILY TOWNSHIP

Many Guests from Peterborough at the McGahey-Zealand Wedding.

A pretty wedding took place on June 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zealand, of Emily, when their youngest daughter, Gladys, was united in marriage with Mr. Edward McGahey, a prosperous young farmer of the same township. Rev. W. Hallam, of Lindsay, officiated. The bride looked charming in a gown of white taffeta silk handsomely trimmed with chiffon ruching and Brussels lace, wore a veil of silk illusion caught up with a dainty wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and smilax. She entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Babcock, of Lindsay. She was attended by Miss Lillie McGahey, sister of the groom, dressed in cream crepe de chine with yoke of Dunbase lace, and carried pink carnations. The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Ed. Zealand, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony all repaired to the dining room, which was beautifully decorated with roses and smilax, and did ample justice to the sumptuous repast which was prepared for them. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and games.

The bride's going away suit was a stylish tailor-made of navy blue ladies' cloth and she wore a hat to match. The wedding presents were numerous and valuable. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet set with pearls, and to the bridesmaid a gold locket and chain. A large number of invited guests were present, including some from Toronto, Port Hope, Peterborough, Islay, Salem and Lindsay.

ACCIDENT TO WARDE GRAHAM

Foot Was Severely Cut at Dickson Co.'s Mill,

Slipped, Causing Foot to Come in Contact with Circular Saw.

Mr. Warde Graham, an employee of the Dickson Co., this afternoon sustained a painful accident as a result of which he is now under treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The accident occurred about one o'clock. The unfortunate young man was crossing a platform near a circular saw when he slipped, causing his foot to come into contact with the saw, resulting in a severe gash across the front of the foot, which will probably necessitate the amputation of several toes.

The injured young man was at once removed by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital where the wounds were dressed by Dr. Eastwood. An early recovery is hoped for by his many friends.

TENNIS TEA WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Delightful Function at Nicholls Oval Last Night.

The Nicholls Oval Tennis Club held their second tea of the season last night at the courts. There was a fair attendance of members and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The committee in charge of the tea were Miss Faint, Miss Waram and Miss Detcher who deserve great credit for the success of the pleasing function. A number of games were played and arrangements for the tournament were discussed. The first games in the tournament will be played on Monday and a meeting of the executive committee will be held on Saturday when the draws will be made. A very pleasant series of games is looked forward to by the members of the club.

LOCAL CANOES IN WILDS OF ALASKA

Highly Satisfactory Evidence of Their Value.

Mr. Geo. E. Lucas Writes to the English Canoe Co.

Up to within the last few years Peterborough's chief distinction in the eyes of the outside world was the fact that it was the home of the famous Peterborough Canoe. It is almost impossible to get any place in the Dominion without coming across someone who has purchased a canoe made in this town, and perhaps their feet more than anything else has helped to advertise this city.

The best feature of it is that these canoes have always turned out satisfactory, and an example of this is found in a letter received by the English Canoe Company from Mr. Geo. E. Lucas, Dawson, Alaska. In part Mr. Lucas says:—

"I have a 16 1-2 foot canoe of your make which I have had since 1898. It has travelled over 29,000 miles on the Yukon and tributaries, and is still in good order, with the exception of six or eight ribs in the bottom, which were cracked by it getting jammed in the ice last fall. This canoe has outlasted all others made in the United States, etc."

The writer goes on to say that for 1200 miles coming down the Yukon, he hung out a bag of sand attached to a rope from his canoe, and this answered the dual purposes of drawing this canoe and contents along for the 1200 miles at a rate averaging five miles an hour and kept the canoe in the centre of the river; all he and his mate had to do, was to sit still and the current did the rest without steering.

The local company is now building two "freighter" canoes, which will, on completion be shipped to Mr. Lucas in Alaska.

ST. ANDREW'S AT CHEMONG LAKE

Annual Excursion Being Held This Afternoon.

This afternoon the annual picnic of St. Andrew's Sunday School is being held at Chemong. The members of the school were conveyed to the beautiful park in busses, leaving the church at 1.30 this afternoon, and a very large number availed themselves of the opportunity of spending a half day at Chemong, drinking in the invigourating breezes of the lake. A good programme of sports has been arranged and a most enjoyable time is anticipated. Last night the attendance will be supplemented by a number who will go out to enjoy the evening at the lake.

Mr. H. Crane, Sophia Street.

Gives Credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for Restoring His Health and Curing Him of Headaches.

Mr. Harris Crane, Sophia street, Peterborough, Ont., and who is employed in Hall's store, states:—"I believe the close confinement at shoe work was responsible for my becoming nervous, and as a natural result I did not sleep and at times had severe attacks of splitting headaches. I heard of the good results obtained by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and decided to try it. I can now say that I am more than pleased with the results, as it has benefitted me very much. It built up my system, restored my nerves, and I am now entirely free from headaches. I have every reason to give the credit to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

You will find it interesting to weigh yourself, while using this preparation, and note the increase from week to week. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certain to prove beneficial to you if your blood is thin and watery, and the nerves exhausted. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

GEORGE STREET LOST LAST NIGHT'S GAME

The Playing Was Not Up to the Usual Standard.

The first half of the game between George Street and St. Andrew's Guild League teams was played last night on St. Andrew's grounds. Dopey play on the part of the George Street team lost them the game. Swanson for St. Andrew's pitched a fair game, and few hits were made off him. Parnell for George Street, was rather wild, but the batsmen did not bat him hard. The fielding of the Methodists being below par resulted in the score of 7-3.

Nelson McWilliams umpired to the satisfaction of both teams. The line up:—

George Street (2)—Wilson, c.; Parnell, p.; Weatherstone, 1st; Pedlar, 2nd; McMillan, 3rd; Kendry, s.s.; Curtis, l.f.; Robertson, r.f.; N. Millar, l.f.

St. Andrews (7)—Swanson, p.; McDonald, c.; Dunsford, 1st; Dormer, 2nd; Tamblyn, 3rd; Dobson, s.s.; Butcher, l.f.; Elliott, c.f.; Saltsdon, r.f.

LACROSSE.

BASEBALL.

All records for lengthy ball games in Boston were broken Monday afternoon in the American League championship series, when Philadelphia defeated Boston 4 to 2, after 20 exciting innings. The previous record, a Boston-Providence game, 18 innings, has stood since 1876. Harris gave the finest exhibition of infielding seen in that city for years, accepting 16 chances, many of them difficult, out of 17. Young's remarkable steadiness, not giving a base on balls in the entire game, was also a feature.

It was a pitcher's battle between Rube Waddell and Cy. Young, the latter weakening in the twentieth inning, Philadelphia tied the score in the sixth, when Davis knocked a home run, sending Hoffman in ahead of him. After that both teams tried hard to get a man across the plate.

ROAD MAKING IN CAVAN TOWNSHIP

Farmers Are Now Busy With Roadwork —Personal News of Interest.

From our Own Correspondent.

Mount Pleasant, July 5th. — Mr. W. J. McLean, his wife and daughter, Toronto, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. J. McLean, at the old home here.

The new pastor of the Methodist church delivered his first discourse here last Sunday. His subject was "The vine and its branches."

In the absence of the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Webster of Oakwood, occupied the pulpit. The sermon was founded on the text, "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost."

Those who were at the Sunday school picnic on the first say that they had a good time.

Road making is the order of the day. In the course of time we hope to have our leading roads a credit to the old and wealthy township of Cavan.

TO TAKE LONG TARIFF TOUR

Tariff Commission Will Visit Every Province in Canada.

SEPTEMBER OR OCTOBER

Will See the Beginning of the Enquiry by Probably Hons. Messrs. Fielding, Paterson and Brodeur—Task Before the Commissioners This Time a More Complex One Than in 1897.

Toronto, July 6.—(Globe Special).—Ottawa, July 5.—The Tariff Commission, which, according to report, will consist of Messrs. Fielding, Paterson and Brodeur, will not begin its sittings immediately after Parliament prorogues. On the contrary, the Ministers will remain for a while in Ottawa to clear off the slate of unfinished business, after which they will disperse for a vacation. The latter part of September, or the beginning of October will witness the commencement of the inquiry.

A start will be made in Ontario and Quebec, after which a tour will be made of the lower Provinces. A visit of the commission to the west will follow, and, contrary to procedure in 1892, when Winnipeg was the western limit, the personal investigation will be extended to British Columbia, where there is a great field of inquiry, by reason of the recent great commercial development.

The task before the commissioners will be more complex than in 1897, when the question was merely one of revising the tariff so as to be more in consonance with the needs of the consumer. Canada will have a maximum and a minimum tariff, the former to be applied doubtless to those countries whose tariffs are hostile to us, and the latter to meet the case of countries which believe in reciprocity. Then there will be a British preferential tariff. Rumor has it that there will not be any slavish adherence to the principle of British preference of 33 1 3 per cent., but rather in tariff treatment of British goods in each class, all to be considered on their own merits, so that in some cases it may be less and in others more than one-third of the existing duty. The advantage of this system will be in its elasticity.

AN HISTORIC RELIC.

Vancouver's Letter Tells of Meeting of Hawaiian Chiefs.

Honolulu, June 28.—A letter bearing the signature of George Vancouver, the great explorer, has been found among the documents found among the archives of Hawaii. It was written in 1794, and is a testimonial left by the explorer with King Kamehameha, the Great, testifying to his peaceful disposition and kind treatment of Vancouver and his men. The document is well preserved.

Many other similar relics have been found, among them being numerous treaties with the various powers of the world by the Hawaiian monarchy. There are also letters signed by the Hawaiian king of the early part of the last century, showing their allegiance to Great Britain, and one from the first Kamemaeha to King George III., telling of the complete conquest of all the Hawaiian group by the island king. Vancouver's letter tells of a meeting of chiefs at which the sovereignty of Great Britain was acknowledged.

20,000 ARE EXPECTED.

London Liberals to Have a Great Time Saturday Next.

London, July 6.—Already the committee have handed out thousands of tickets for the big Liberal picnic in Queen's Park on Saturday next, but the demand has not yet been half satisfied. At the present rate, with fine weather, there should not be less than 20,000 people on the grounds.

A program of sports will be pulled off, the whole to be under the auspices of the Liberal Association of London.

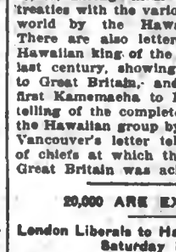
Cheque For $670,000.

Toronto, July 6.—The Dominion Government has forwarded to the Provincial Treasurer of Ontario a cheque for $70,000, the amount of the half-yearly subsidy to the Province under the terms of Confederation.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce thinks that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.—take his advice and be well.



Mrs. E. D. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., O., writes: "I have received the 'Medical Adviser.' enclosed new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it."

On receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, we will send to any address a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's great 1008-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Or, for 50 stamps the same in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Little pill, Little dose, but give great results in a curative way in all derangements of Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, July 5.—(Special.)—The receipts were 660 cattle, 50 milch cows, 800 sheep and lambs, 150 calves, 900 hogs and 30 stock hogs. The butchers were out strong, and trade was good, as the prices of cattle were lower than on Monday, but there were no really prime cattle on the market, and 5¼c per lb. was the highest price paid; pretty good sold at 3¾c to 4c, and the common stock at 2½c to 2¾c.

There were a number of good milch cows, but there is very little demand for them, and milkers bring from $5 to $10 less money than such cows sold for six weeks ago. Prices ranged from $25 to $50 each; six of the best calves sold for $50, the others at $2.50 to $7 each. Sheep sold at 3½c to 4c per lb. Lambs are scarce and good lots sell at $6.50 to $5 per head. Fat hogs sold at 6½c to 7¼c per lb. Store hogs sold at $7 to $10 each, and young pigs at $1.50 to $3.00 each.

Arrested for Wrecking Trains.

Quebec, July 6.—Three men have been arrested at Chateau Richer on suspicion of having attempted to wreck trains on the Quebec Railway Light and Power Co. line, running between Quebec and St. Anne de Beaupre. They are Charles Roy, Apollinaire Blais and George Gauchon, all residents of Chateau Richer.

ENGLAND'S TRIBUTE.

St. Paul's Cathedral Crowded at Solemn Memorial Service in Memory of John Hay.

London, July 6.—England yesterday paid to the memory of United States Secretary of State Hay a tribute seldom accorded to a foreigner, when solemn memorial services were held in St. Paul's Cathedral in his honor.

The immense edifice was crowded. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Davidson, Dean Gregory and Archdeacon Sinclair took part in the services. King Edward was represented by the Earl of Denbigh, and Premier Balfour, who was unable to attend as the House of Commons was in session, was represented by Malcolm G. Ramsey.

Among the others present were Marquis and Marchioness Lansdowne, Lord Halsbury, Lord High Chancellor and the Lord Mayor and sheriffs in their robes of office. Earl Spencer, the Marquis of Bath, Lord Tweedmouth, the Duke of Marlborough, the Duke of Portland, Earl Waldergrave, the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Strathcona, the Canadian High Commissioner, the Mexican and Cuban Ministers and representatives of the embassies and legations.

The American colony was fully represented, including Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid and the staff of the embassy, and Consul-General Wynne, the staff of the Consulate. Among the visiting Americans present were J. P. Morgan, Rear Admiral Watson and a hundred others.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney (Helen Hay), in deep mourning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Paget, entered the cathedral just before the services commenced with the playing of Chopin's funeral march, which was followed by the processional, "Now The Laborer's Task is O'er," and the impressive funeral service of the Church of England. The lesson being first epistle to the Corinthians, chap. xv., 20 v. The anthem was "Blessed Are the Departed."

Archdeacon Sinclair read the prayers and the Archbishop of Canterbury pronounced the benediction, the services being closed with the dead march from Saul, played on the organ.

OBSEQUIES AT CLEVELAND.

Assemblage At Grave Small Owing to Wish of Widow.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 6.—At almost exactly noon yesterday the body of John Hay was laid to rest in Lake View Cemetery. Around the open grave at the last moment stood with bowed heads the president and vice-president of the United States, members and ex-members of the present Cabinet, and men who had, in former years, served with the dead secretary in the official family of President McKinley. There were many others who willingly would have paid a tribute of honor and respect to Mr. Hay, but it was the wish of the family that the funeral should be conducted for John Hay—the man they knew and loved in private life and not for the brilliant, forceful premier whose name is honored wherever clean and successful statesmanship is esteemed among men.

Arabian on the Rocks.

Port Arthur, July 6.—The Arabian, loaded with merchandise, went aground while entering the harbor here last night. She ran upon the rocks, and the men came ashore. The tug Gordon went out and lightered her, when she backed off and was not damaged.

Women in Peace Movement.

New York, July 6.—"The Women's Peace Circle of the City of New York," founded by Helen Matilda Schram, was incorporated yesterday. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt sent a letter of congratulation on the objects of the new society.

Nervous, Sick Headache.

Mr. O. Barber, Simcoe County, Ont., writes, "I was troubled for a long time with headaches, which would come on about once a week with such violence that I could not eat nor do my work. I tried headache powders and quick cures which did no good. About six months ago I took six bottles of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I have not been troubled with headache since."

Honor To the Dead.

Sarnia, July 6.—The remains of the late Dr. T. G. Johnston, M. P., arrived here at 1.30 yesterday afternoon from Ottawa. At London the train was met by a number of Sarnia persons representing the Town Council and the West Lambton Reform Association. On arrival at the tunnel station the members of the bereaved family entered carriages and were driven to their residence. The body was transferred from the private car to the hearse. A large crowd of citizens stood with bared heads. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, under Masonic auspices.

BLOOD POISON
On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old cures" (mercury—danger of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Our Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the blood, and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. COMPANY MUST HEAT THE WATER

Before They Get the $100 for Wiring Jackson Park.

Aldermen Take This Position—A Heated Discussion on the Question.

The matter of paying for the wiring of Jackson Park, as agreed upon by the council, was brought up at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night, and a somewhat heated discussion took place on the question as to whether the town was under obligation to pay the $100 agreed upon, before the company had installed the heating apparatus for procuring hot water for picnic parties, which the Mayor claims, the manager had promised to him.

Ald. Hicks was of the opinion that the $100 should be paid now, and the company requested to install the heating apparatus, if possible, but took the ground that to make that a condition of the payment of the money was unfair to the company, since it had been placed in the agreement as a secondary consideration.

Ald. Mason read a letter from the Peterborough Light and Power Company, asking that the $100 be paid for the wiring in Jackson Park, and stating that the company was experimenting with the question of heating water and that if they were successful they would install it.

Ald. Hicks moved that the $100 be paid without respect to the question of the water heating. He believed that it was not fair to hold the company to the agreement as to the hot water. This was a second consideration, and the company had not assented to making that a condition of the payment of the $100. He believed that it was possible that the company would install the heating apparatus, but that it should not be made a condition of the payment of the money. He moved that the $100 be paid, which was seconded by Ald. Bagley.

Ald. Hall moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Adams, that the money be paid when the agreement in reference to the hot water heating apparatus is carried out.

The motion was supported by the mover and seconder only, all the other members of the council voting for the amendment, and it is now "up to" the company to get their heating plant ready before they get the $100.

PLEASANT DAY AT CRAWFORD'S

St. John's Annual Sunday School Picnic.

Were to Have Gone to Stony Lake But Accident Prevented That Trip.

The excursion of St. John's Sunday school yesterday was, by an unfortunate chain of circumstances, prevented from running according to "schedule." The steamer City of Peterborough, which was chartered for the trip, was, through a regrettable accident, detained at Lakefield, preventing it from getting down to take the party as arranged. Under the circumstances it was decided by the management to take the steamer Water Lily. This conveyed as many of the excursionists as it could accommodate to Crawford's Grove, the remainder of the party, which numbered altogether about 250, going down by street cars.

Notwithstanding the difficulties which had been experienced, an enjoyable afternoon was spent by the party, an interesting programme of sports being proceeded with. The different events were closely contested and resulted in some exciting finishes. The events with their respective winners, were as follows:

Boys' foot race, 100 yards, 12 to 16 years—E. Bradburn, H. Wallace.

Girls' foot race, 100 yards, 12 to 16 years — Miss Edna Canliff, Miss Nellie Graham.

Young men's race, 200 yards — 16 years and over — C. Read, C. Ray.

Young ladies' race, 100 yards, 16 years and over — Miss Lillian Rush, Miss Mabel Bradburn.

Boys' foot race, 100 yards, 9 to 12 years — Hugh Wallace, Stanley Long.

Girls' foot race, 50 yards, 9 to 12 years — Miss Madge Graham, Miss Cecilia Clementi.

Married ladies race 50 yards — Mrs. Fredenburg, Mrs. McMaster.

It was hoped that the steamer City of Peterborough might be secured for the return trip, but for some reason this was found to be impossible, and the party was conveyed back by the steamer Water Lily, which made two trips, the first detachment reaching town about eight o'clock, and the last at nine.

The pleasure of the party was in no small measure enhanced by the musical selections of a phonograph kindly supplied by Mr. T. Arnott, to whom the thanks of the Superintendent are extended.

400—411 GEORGE STREET - - PETERBOROUGH

PREPOSTEROUS PROPOSAL COMES FROM COBOURG

Mr. Crossen and Mr. Culverwell Want Government to Decree That Power From Healey's Falls Shall be Utilized in Northumberland and Durham Counties—Claim That Greater Part of the Water Comes From Those Counties—An Absurd Position.

The Healy's Falls power question is again brought to the front, and this the proposition is made that the Government shall decree that all the power developed at that waterfall shall be used in the united Counties of Northumberland and Durham, and this matter is set forth in two letters as follows:

To His Worship Mayor W. J. Maher and Members of the Council of the Town of Cobourg.

Gentlemen,—In regard to the request being made to your Council by Mr. J. A. Culverwell, as engineer, of Port Hope, and owner of several parts of Healy Falls waterpowers, that your honourable body should memorialize the Department of Railways and Canals, Department of Public Works of Canada, and Crown Lands Department of Ontario, that they should when issuing leases of the portions of waterpowers at Healy Falls which they possess, have a condition attached to the leases that the power shall be utilized only in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham in which these water falls are located, and over which nearly half the drainage of the United Counties flow, and also that you take action in conjunction with Mr. Culverwell and his associates to secure the leases of the portions of the waterpower owned by the Government, with the distinct arrangement with Mr. Culverwell and his associates, that the portions of Healy Falls now owned by them shall be subject to the utilization, only in the United Counties limits; also, in this matter I would respectfully urge your council to take action as above requested by Mr. Culverwell, and as now requested by myself, and that you will appoint a deputation consisting of yourself and say two other councillors, to interview the Departments both at Ottawa and Toronto, in the matter, and press for its immediate settlement after an investigation has been made by the governments, I know several prominent ratepayers will be glad to join this deputation.

You will notice the United Counties Council took action in this matter last Friday, at the request of Messrs. Culverwell, Mayor Maher, ex-Mayor Hayden and F. M. Field and myself, and I know the matter will be followed up closely by the Counties' Council.

As most other counties have electric power, it is absolutely necessary for the manufacturing progress of our United Counties that electric power shall be available from Healy Falls for use. You can readily understand how a disadvantage our local manufacturers are labouring under at present when their steam power is costing them on an average of about double the cost of electric power. Then also our electric railway possibilities which are most necessary to open up the interior of our counties are depending upon our being able to secure electric waterpower for its motive power. Surely it is within the province of the ratepayers to expect that this action will be taken by Governments in the protection of the birthright of our United Counties of Northumberland and Durham when the matter is pressed by your Honourable Body, along with the Counties' Council, and particularly so when important parts of the water power of Healy Falls power have been purchased by Mr. Culverwell and associates, and also, as I understand, by the procedure they have taken with the Department, that they are entitled to their leases.

Then, too, this request is not an arbitrary one, as the Counties to the north on the Trent Valley waters are more than amply provided for with waterpower for present use and future necessities.

Again impressing you with the urgency of this important matter, I am respectfully,

Yours truly,

WM. J. CROSSEN,

The Crossen Car Mfg. Co., Cobourg, Ltd.

J. A. CULVERWELL'S LETTER.

Port Hope, June 24, 1905.

His Worship Mayor W. J. Maher and Council, Cobourg, Ont.

Gentlemen,—With regard to the letter of Mr. W. J. Crossen of the Crossen Car Mfg. Co., of Cobourg, addressed to you re the Healy Falls water power properties—important portions of which are owned by myself and associates, and balance portions by the Dominion and Ontario Governments, I would respectfully request you to take action in the matter as requested by Mr. Crossen, and that, too, immediately, else it may be too late to offset the underground methods of a Dominion Government Canal engineer, (R. B. Rogers, of Peterborough) and his partner, (J. M. Milbourn of Lakefield).

I am quite ready and will agree to act in accord with and in conjunction with the council the town of Cobourg under the terms of Mr. Crossen's letter.

As the Healy Falls water powers have an available head of sixty feet on the Trent River in the United Counties, and authentic reports show that the flow of water in the summer will only produce within 5,000 (effective) horsepower, — you can readily see that this whole property—the only available power for this district—is all easily required for use in the United Counties.

Mr. Crossen's letter concisely set out my case and its urgent importance to this town and I shall to-night address you more fully to the matter.

I am going to inform you that the council of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham have last week, as requested by me and others,—memorialized both Governments in this matter, and the Warden, Col. McLean of Port Hope, assures me I (we) will be followed up by vigourous action.

Respectfully yours,

J. A. CULVERWELL.

(for self and associates.)

RESOLUTION OF COUNCIL OF COBOURG.

Moved by Councillor Ewing, seconded by Councillor H. Field, that having heard the petition of John Alexander Culverwell, of Port Hope, and his letter, and also the letter of W. J. Crossen, of the Crossen Car Mfg. Co., of Cobourg, and the addresses of ex-Mayor E. S. Hughs, K. C., Frank M. Field and Geo. Plunkett in support thereof, the Mayor and Clerk be a committee to prepare, sign and transmit a memorial to the Commissioner of Lands and Mines for Ontario the Minister of Railways and Canals, the Minister of Public Works for Canada, requesting that in any concessions granted respecting the waterpowers at or near Healy Falls on the River Trent above Campbellford, a condition be attached that the power be utilized only within the territorial limits of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham as per the conditions stated in Mr. W. J. Crossen's letter of June 26th, And we hereby adopt the request made by Mr. Crossen in his above mentioned letter. And that the corporation seal be attached to this resolution and to be signed by the Mayor and Clerk. Carried unanimously.

Dated at Cobourg this June 26, 1905.

D. H. MINAKER, Town Clerk.

W. J. MAHER, Mayor.

MR. J. J. TURNER A GOOD SAILOR

Interesting Letter from Peterborough Man With Manufacturers.

Writer Communicated With His Majest King Edward—A Delightful Trip.

Mr. J. J. Turner, with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on their trip to England and the continent, has written a letter to the Examiner giving some interesting information in connection to the trip of the Victorians across the Atlantic. The letter follows:

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir,—I thought you would probably be pleased to hear what kind of trip I had across the Atlantic Ocean with the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. In the first place the Victorian is a very fine steamer—very steady and comfortable, but very slow, as the best time we made was about fifteen knots. I am pleased to say that we had a very jolly party of the Canadian Manufacturers on board. There are 273 in the party and they are from all parts of Canada. We had the whole of the saloon and the best parts of the vessel for our party. We had very pleasant weather generally, though cold for the first few days. We passed several icebergs, and had a couple of days a little rough. We were also detained by fog for a few hours off the banks of Newfoundland. We passed the time away by holding concerts, playing quoits and shuffle Board. Mr. Ackerman was sick for a couple of days but got around alright and looks better for it now. Mr. Waddell had one did not get sick and enjoyed the trip. We published a paper every day (during the voyage. The name of it was "On the Go" and five hundred copies were printed each day and sold out by the ladies. The proceeds are to be donated to the Seaman's Orphans' Home. We had church service on Board and the collections amounted to nearly seventy dollars. We had about two hundred presents. I am pleased to inform you that I was not even sick and did not miss any meals. We have been informed that we are to attend Divine service at Westminster Abbey on Sunday morning, June 18th and St. Paul's in the afternoon. We have just passed a resolution, which was forwarded by your humble servant that we write King Edward that 273 of that loyal Canadian subjects have arrived in England. We expect his reply. When we arrive at the Hotel Cecil, London. I believe this will be one of the best and most profitable trips that was ever taken by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and will be the means of binding us closer to the Mother Country.

With best wishes for all the people of Peterborough and Canadians and all other nationalities, believe me to remain, Mr. Editor,

Sincerely yours,

J. J. TURNER.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JOHN CAMERON

Remains Laid to Rest This Morning—Many Friends Present.

The funeral of the late John Cameron took place this morning under the auspices of the local Lodges of Oddfellows, from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Alf. Pearson, Park street south. The funeral was largely attended, many Oddfellows from Perth, besides the local Lodges, being present. Those present from a distance were Miss Cameron of Brockville; Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, and Mr. Clemens of Perth; and William Pearson, of Ottawa.

The floral display was large and included a pillow of flowers from the Perth Old Boys' Committee; a wreath from the Perth Oddfellows; and three links of flowers from the local Lodges of Oddfellows, besides many bouquets from sympathising friends.

The pall bearers were Messrs. F. Solitt, Albert Edwards, Wilbert Mason, Dr. McKercher, Thos. Hooper and R. J. Matchett. The services at the graveside were conducted by Rev. Mr. Langford, and Bros. Solitt and Hill for the Oddfellows.

The cortege to the train in Perth was the largest ever seen in that town, the Perth Old Boys and Oddfellows attending in a body.

The late Mr. Cameron had a bright and happy disposition, and was a general favourite with all who knew him. His untimely death is deeply regretted by his numerous friends.

PRESENTATION TO DR. McKINNON

Millbrook Citizens Honour a Popular Physician.

Presented With Club Bag and Surgical Case—Mrs. McKinnon Remembered.

Dr. and Mrs. McKinnon were remembered in a tangible way before their departure from Millbrook for Peterborough, the doctor by the citizens of Millbrook and Mrs. McKinnon by her Sunday School class who presented her with a lovely hon bon silver dish. The doctor's remembrance consisted of a solid leather club bag and a surgical case. The presentation took place in the Council Chamber on Friday evening, the Reeve taking charge of the proceedings. Short speeches of regret over their departure and appreciation of their good citizenship were made by Messrs. W. Vance, A. A. Smith, C. H. Winslow, R. J. Dosk, W. Archer, S. W. Clarke, A. T. Armstrong, and others to which the doctor made a pleasing reply, regretting that so many pleasant ties were about to be severed.

RECORD CATCH AT STONY LAKE

Interesting Personal Happenings in Kawartha Country.

Many American Fishing Parties Enjoying Good Luck—Eleven Bass in One Hour.

Miss Gwendoline Hall is summering at the lakes.

Mr. Geo. Bennett was at Stony Lake on Wednesday on a business trip.

Mr. Wm. Irwin who has been at "Headlands" for the past few days, has returned home.

Mr. Sandford Hall is recruiting his strength with a holiday at the lake.

A fishing party consisting of W. G. Clarke and wife, and D. L. Trumpbery and wife, Homage Fatle, N.Y., are guests at the Victoria House, McCracken's Landing.

An accident, which might have been attended with serious consequences, happened to a young Peterborough gentleman the other day as he was getting into a canoe off Mr. "Bob" McCracken's wharf. Had it not been for the proximity of the wharf and the opportune assistance of Mr. A. P. Carveth, who happened at the time to be reposing near by, a fatality would undoubtedly have occurred.

Mr. Oxley, who is at Rev. E. Gibson's cottage, Boschink, landed a six-pound bass yesterday.

The record catch of the season is that of Messrs. Oldfield and Ganger, of Rochester, guests at the Victoria House, who had the good fortune to land eleven bass in one hour, the largest being almost five pounds.

Mr. Gerald Rickham is at the lake for the season.

WERE WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. James Leahy Celebrate Golden Wedding.

An Interesting Social Gathering in Douro Yesterday.

Yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Leahy, lot 8, concession 2, of Douro, a pleasing event took place, the occasion being the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Leahy, who 50 years ago yesterday plighted their troth, and who during the half century, which has elapsed since that happy day, have been highly respected citizens of Douro.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock mass was sung at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Father Torpey, and it was attended by a large number. Subsequently the whole party adjourned to the comfortable residence when a delightful day was spent. About 150 guests were present, and during the day Mr. and Mrs. Leahy were made the recipients of a number of presents in honour of the wedding anniversary which they were celebrating. These presents included a number of handsome articles and sums of money in gold coin.

A sumptuous dinner was served, partaken of by the hundred and fifty guests, and the health of the bride and groom was heartily drunk. A number of congratulatory addresses were also given by those present, and to these Mr. Leahy, on behalf of Mrs. Leahy and himself responded in a happy vein; thanking his friends for the honour which had been shown, and which he fully appreciated.

Five sons and six daughters have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Leahy, and the majority of these were present at the celebration yesterday.

The sons are, Patrick, of Douro; Edward, of Dummer; Michael James, of Douro; Joseph, in Poughkeepsie, New York Seminary, and Barton, of Douro. The daughters are Mrs. T. Fitzcharles, of Otonabee; Mrs. James Dalton, of Dummer; Mrs. Fitzpatrick, of Emily. Misses Nora and Catherine, at home and Emma, a nun in St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Leahy, whose maiden name was Margaret O'Leary, has one sister, Mrs. David O'Grady, who resides in Douro.

Mr. and Mrs. Leahy were the recipients of many congratulatory messages from their friends at a distance. They are both hale and hearty, and that they may have many years of usefulness yet before them is the sincere wish of their many friends, in which wish the Examiner heartily concurs.

DOCTORS FORM A UNIFORM TARIFF

In Future All Physicians Will Make Same Charge.

Contract Practice to be Discussed at Next Meeting.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Central Ontario Medical Society, which was held last night over the Ontario Bank. The drawing up of a uniform tariff was concluded. A number of copies will be printed and each member of the society presented with one.

The meeting then adjourned to meet next Thursday evening, July 13th, at 8.30, in the same place, when the above tariff will be signed, and the subject of contract practice and other matters of importance dealt with.

MASTER BARBERS COMING TO TERMS

One has Paid his Fine and Others May Follow.

The union card is again displayed in W. G. Rundle's shop. Mr. Rundle paid his fine of $5 for working on the morning of Dominion Day, and both of his men returned to work this morning.

The places of the striking men on the other shops have been filled. Some of the other barbers who worked on Dominion day are expected to follow Mr. Rundle's example, and the strike will be practically over.

DEATH OCCURRED AT ADVANCED AGE

John Lowry, Sr., One of Dummer's Oldest Residents Passes Away.

The death occurred at an early hour this morning at his home in Warsaw, of one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of that place in the person of John Victor Garner Lowry.

The deceased who had reached the advanced age of 79 years, has been in declining health during the past year, though his condition did not become critical till the last few days, when death occurred from senility.

The late Mr. Lowry was born in Monaghan County, Ireland, and removed to Canada when three years of age, and after residing during early manhood in Montreal and Toronto, removed to Warsaw, where he has lived almost continuously during the past 60 years.

Surviving members of the family are three daughters and four sons,—Mrs. A. F. Calder, Peterborough; Mrs. George Clements, Dummer, and Miss Lizzie, of Peterborough; Samuel and John, of Peterborough; Henry, of Montreal, and Thomas J., of Highland Grove.

The arrangements regarding the funeral will be announced later.

William Schulpke of Musevtim, Io., dislocated his jaw while gaping, after taking a short nap. It took three doctors an hours to replace it.

Fire Brigade Troubles.

Owing to the dismissal of the chief and the deputy chief of the Central Fire Company, of St. Catharines, following the installation of a paid chief, the company has given notice of its intention to disband within the next sixty days, disrupting the fire department.

Adulterated Food.

Health Commissioner Darlington, of New York, yesterday reported that 1,091,291 pounds of adulterated food was detected and committed by his inspectors in New York city during week beginning June 18. This amount he said equalled one-fifth of all the adulterated food in the year of 1904.

A Daring Feat.

James Wadsworth of Queenston, with three companion river men, yesterday successfully took a line of rope across Niagara River in a boat just below the Devil's Hole rapids, a feat never before attempted. The connection between the two shores was needed in the building of a transmission line across the gorge.

Shot by an Enemy.

At Newark, N.J., Henry Copeland, while painting a target at the Sangerfest picnic at Hills Grove here was shot, as he declares, by an enemy. The bullet entered his left jaw, and he is now unconscious in an hospital. While conscious for a moment, he gasped, "An enemy shot me!" Then he relapsed into unconsciousness again.

Gold in the Yukon.

Capt. Fitz-Horrigan, who has completed five years' service as inspector in Yukon Territory, stationed at White Horse, is in Ontario on a four months' leave. He says the total gold brought out since 1896 is $126,000,000, and he believes the sources of supply have hardly been tapped. His home is at Picton.

Ministers Salaries.

Hamilton Presbytery discussed the salaries of ministers at its meeting yesterday. The ministers thought an effort should be made to have the minimum of $900 paid. With that end in view it was agreed that the augmentation fund committee should arrange for a general exchange of pulpits, to take place as soon as possible after the second Sunday in September, when special sermons on the subject will be preached.

A Matrimonial Mix.

Mrs. Joseph Hargrove is under remand at Hamilton on a charge of obtaining a deed of property from her husband on the false pretence that she was previously married, which, as it is alleged, Hargrove is her fourth husband and her third is still alive. Her counsel stated her third husband, according to all that had been heard of him the past nine years, was certainly dead.

Lawson in Canada.

Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, author of "Frenzied Finance," who is on Saturday to tell a large audience of Chautauquans at Orillia, Ont., some things he thinks he knows, is making the journey through Canada by the C. P. R. He believes if he were to travel via New York, he would be held up under some pretence or other by the Standard Oil interest long enough to prevent his delivering the address.

Adventure with a Cat.

John Hewetson, township of Dumfries, says a Galt telegram, had a pet cat, which for many years was as gentle as the proverbial lamb. Yesterday it sprang at Hewetson without provocation, fastened its teeth in his throat, where it bit on the jugular vein, and clung till the animal's heart ceased to beat, and it fled to the swamp. A posse is to-day hunting for the beast, which it is believed has hydrophobia. Dr. Varden was called and cauterized the wound.

Stole $10,000 Necklace.

"Annie Grahl," in Chicago, claiming to be an actress, was committed yesterday at a New York police court to stand trial at the Old Bailey on the charge of stealing a pearl necklace from Christie's auction room in London, England. The woman, whose real name is thought to be Annie Gleason, according to the prosecuting counsel, visited Christie's, inspected the necklace and secured a duplicate, of imitation pearls, which on a second visit she substituted for the genuine while the attendant's back was turned.

Funeral of Dr. Johnston.

Sarnia, July 7.—Sarnia was in mourning yesterday, all places of business and industry being closed out of respect for the late Dr. Johnston, M. P. Hundreds visited the residence, where the body lay in state, the casket banked with floral offerings. The streets in the vicinity of the house were crowded before the hour of the funeral, and the procession was the longest ever seen in Sarnia. The funeral was under the auspices of the Masons, of whom there were over 300 in attendance. Right Worshipful Bro. Judge Daniel F. MacWatt conducted the Masonic portion of the services and Rev. Canon Davis of St. George's Episcopal Church officiated at the house and grave.

To Regulate Sparrow Lake.

Orillia, July 7.—The Dominion Government has taken steps to put in a stop log dam at McDonald's Falls, on the Severn River, to regulate the waters of Sparrow Lake. For several years past navigation on Sparrow Lake has reached the danger point in the latter part of the summer. The fact was brought to the attention of the Department of Railways and Canals last fall, when Capt. Thomas Wood sent in a bill for $40 damages to his steamer Champion, caused by low water. The bill was not honored, but a promise was made to put in a dam to regulate the waters, which is now about to be executed.

Died Sitting in Chair.

Toronto, July 7.—Sergt. Oldbury, aged 79, who has been a resident at the fort for over 27 years, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. He was having his hair cut, and without saying a word the old man fell forward. Death was from heart failure. Deceased, before coming to Canada, had for 23 years been attached to the second battalion, Essex Regiment, the 56th Foot, with which he served in India for a number of years. He had one son, who was killed in the battle of Omdurman, in the Soudan campaign. He will be buried with military honors Saturday afternoon.

Lawyer Becomes a Felon.

New York, July 7.—James S. Alderdice, a lawyer, convicted of forgery, was yesterday sentenced to eighteen years' imprisonment in Sing Sing by Recorder Goff. The maximum penalty for this offence is twenty years. The forgeries were committed in efforts to obtain possession of the estate of Mary J. Oliver, a resident of Harlem, who lived the life of a recluse. Alderdice was Mrs. Oliver's attorney.

HER MAD CAREER IS NOW ENDED

Kniaz Potemkine Has Been Blown Up Near Theodosia—Revolt in the Crimea—The Caucasus in a State Bordering on Anarchy---Good State of Discipline Said to Prevail on Board Kniaz Potemkine--Russia Asks Armistice--Appeals Directly to Japan for Cessation of War.

Odessa, July 7.—It is reported that the battleship Kniaz Potemkine has been blown up near Theodosia.

Bombarding the Town.

London, July 7.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Odessa says it is reported there that the Kniaz Potemkine is bombarding Theodosia, that the town is burning and that the soldiers of the garrison are engaged in looting. He says it is also reported that another torpedo boat has joined the mutineers.

Good Discipline.

Theodosia, July 7.—A correspondent of the Associated Press, who visited the Kniaz Potemkine in company with the Mayor, found the battleship commanded by an elected committee of seven, headed by "Ensign and Quartermaster" Alexieff, a quasi-commissioned rank in the Russian navy. Everything was in order and good discipline prevailed. All the guns were loaded, and it was said that the mutineers had a full supply of ammunition. The crew consisted of 750 men and there were 15 more in the torpedo boat.

Ablaze With Revolt.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—Such news as came from the Black Sea and Caucasus during yesterday was extremely alarming. The whole Crimea Peninsula is on the verge of revolt and anarchy reigns in the mountains of the Caucasus from Batoum to Baku. Only brief details are available on account of the rigid censorship established by Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black Sea fleet. Even foreign embassies having consuls at Theodosia have not received any word.

At Theodosia the workmen are backing the mutineers. The crews of several ships in the harbor have joined the mutineers, and the well-to-do class of the population has fled in panic. The guns of the Kniaz Potemkine are trained on the city and a bombardment is momentarily expected.

Fanned the Flame.

Telegrams from the Caucasus, where a state bordering on anarchy has existed for a month, say the news of the mutiny on board the Kniaz Potemkine made an electric impression and was the signal for a general movement with which troops and police are absolutely powerless to cope. Railroad traffic in all directions has ceased and the people are fleeing on horseback and all kinds of vehicles over the mountain roads and trails.

Life Guards Refused Orders.

Berlin, July 7.—A correspondent at Kattowitz, Silesia, says he learns that sixteen men designated in each company of the Lithuanian Life Guards Regiment in Warsaw to go to Manchuria refused to go and their comrades declined to make them do so. Their colonel sent to another Life Guard regiment for help, but these men also refused orders. Upon a similar refusal of a third Life Guard regiment, the colonel applied to the commander of Warsaw, who sent a detachment of Cossacks. Some of the mutineers fired on the Cossacks, who returned the fire, fourteen altogether being killed before those who resisted were arrested.

Dock Strike Ends.

Cronstadt, July 7.—The dock laborers' strike here has been settled, the commercial transport companies reducing the hours of work to nine hours per day and increasing the men's wages 10 per cent.

Mikado Request to Envoys.

Tokio, July 7.—The Emperor delivered an address yesterday to the peace plenipotentiaries, charging them that they should devote yourselves with all power to discharge your mission and make every effort to secure the re-establishment of peace on a durable basis."

RUSSIA ASKS ARMISTICE.

Appeals Directly to Japan for Cessation of War.

London, July 7.—In spite of the denials by the Foreign Office I have excellent authority for stating that Russia is persisting in her efforts to secure an armistice," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Times. "I am assured that representations to this effect have been made direct to Japan, but Tokio has vouchsafed no reply.

According to the Odessa correspondent of The Novosti the total losses through the outbreak there are estimated at a million sterling. The insurance offices refuse payment of the claims, alleging that the State is responsible.

Admiral Kruger's three battleships have proceeded with the Georgi Pobiedonosets to the Sea of Azoff, presumably to protect property or perhaps capture the Potemkine at Theodosia. The newspapers are not allowed to publish details of the Potemkine's doings or even mention the proclamation is sued by its crew, guaranteeing protection to foreign commerce.

Uprising at Baku.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—The situation at Baku is so serious that the oilmen have telegraphed to the Minister of the Interior for permission to organise a militia in self-defence.

Sebastopol, July 7.—Admiral Chouknin has issued an order forbidding the sale of firearms. The population is in a ferment.

BALLOT FOR THE RUSSIAN.

Right to a Representative Assembly Now Almost Secured.

St. Petersburg, July 7.—The Novosti this morning prints what it claims is the actual text of the final draft of Minister of the Interior Bouligane's project for the formation of a representative Assembly.

The question of the election of members to the lower House of the Legislative Assembly is settled, not on the basis of property, but on that of universal suffrage of men and women, the latter voting by proxy. The classes absolutely debarred are Jews, the nomadic races, persons not of Russian nationality, Governors and other Imperial and local administrators, and all persons connected with the police. It is provided that the disability of the Jews shall continue until their status shall have been defined by the popular Assembly. Persons convicted of crime, etc., are also deprived of the suffrage.

The Emperor possesses the right of absolute veto as well as the power to prorogue the Assembly. The interpellation of Ministers will take place behind closed doors if reasons of State are pleaded.

SECRETARY OF STATE ROOT.

Chosen by President Roosevelt and Accepts the Office.

New York, July 7.—It can be definitely stated that President Roosevelt has offered the position of Secretary of State to Elihu Root, and that Mr. Root has accepted.

Sketch of His Career.

Elihu Root, who was born February 15, 1845, is one of the most skilful of American lawyers, and ranks among the men of most solid reputation in American politics. He is a New Yorker, his father having been a professor of mathematics in Hamilton College, through which institution young Root subsequently worked his way. President Arthur, in March, 1883, gave him his first political appointment as Attorney of the southern district of New York. He advanced steadily, and President McKinley selected him as Secretary of War in 1899. He was also a member of the Alaskan Boundary Committee. At the time Mr. Choate was appointed Ambassador to England Mr. Root was recognised as his only rival.

SUBMARINE SINKS. CREW SAFE.

Ten Men Are Under Water, But Reply to Signals.

Ferryville, Tunis, July 7.—A French submarine boat with a crew of thirteen on board foundered here yesterday.

The commander and two men were hurled in the air just before the submarine sank.

The divers says that the men entombed in the submarine boat at the bottom of Bizerta Bay reply to their calls.

Crew Are Saved.

Paris, July 7.—A despatch received from Ferryville indicates that the crew of the submarine boat which foundered there yesterday has been saved.

BUDGET SPEECH BROUGHT DOWN

Hon. W. S. Fielding's Eighth Budget Contains no Surprises—Tariff Revision in 1906—Canadian Credit is Excellent—Practically No Increase of Debt Since 1895—Heavy Borrowing for the Next Few Years for the Building of the National Railway—The Tariff Changes.

Ottawa, July 7.—The budget for 1905, as delivered by Hon. Mr. Fielding yesterday afternoon, was remarkable for its lack of surprises and for the brevity of debate which followed, and was completed last evening. Mr. Fielding's speech was itself brief, in keeping with the dog-day atmosphere of the House and the general desire to close up the business of the session. The Government took the ground that, in view of the coming investigation by a tariff commission, only urgent changes would be made in the tariff. It was announced that the commission would make a thorough tour of Canada and endeavor to report in time for next year's session and frame a tariff on what is known as the maximum and minimum system.

Changes in the Tariff.

The following changes were announced in the tariff by Mr. Fielding:—Rolled oats, duty of 60 cents per hundred pounds; dry white lead, raised from 5 to 30 per cent.; white lead ground in oil, increased from 25 to 35 per cent.; cement, 25 per cent. ad valorem imposed on bags containing cement; wines from South Africa, 25 cents per gallon, to meet the duty on French light wines.

The settlers' effects enactment was made more strict to exclude goods for sale or manufacturing plants. Beet sugar and alluvial gold mining machinery will be continued on the free list till July 1, 1906. Molasses importations from the British West Indies, via Newfoundland, are to be treated as direct importations.

Our Financial Condition.

The general condition of Canada's finances, as described by Mr. Fielding, reflected the growth of the expenditure to meet the large needs of the Dominion's development and the failure of revenue to quite keep pace. There was a surplus of $3,000,000 of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditure during the year just closed, but, counting the capital expenditure, the Minister of Finance estimates an addition of $1,240,000 to the debt on the year's transactions. Mr. Fielding emphasized the necessity for caution in expenditure, but repeated the familiar doctrine that "wise expenditure is true economy." The new Transcontinental Railway would involve large expenditures for the next few years, but he believed the House and the country would expect the road to be pushed with all possible energy.

Beware, Says Mr. Foster.

Mr. Foster's reply was directed as a warning to the Government against incurring further heavy expenditures while the revenue was practically stationary, especially in view of the fact that they would have shortly to meet heavy loans and borrow largely for the construction of the new railway. Mr. Foster's speech was marked by good-natured raillery, but his voice was not strong, and the effort lost some of its effect on that account. Other speakers in the debate were Messrs. Cockshutt, Clements, Gallihar and Daniel.

Not Chargeable to Capital.

Mr. Foster held that bounties should not be charged to capital account. If the Government undertook to build a railway the cost was an item chargeable to capital, but the moment it was built and in operation the capital account should be closed and the maintenance and betterment should come out of income, year by year, and be placed against the revenue of the road.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MRS. GLENN

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation; but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation; but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhœa, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

WATER POWERS COMMISSION.

Has Instructions of a Wide Nature From the Government.

Toronto, July 7.—The instructions to the recently-appointed power commission are of a much wider nature than was at first supposed. The official document naming and outlining the duties of the commission provides, in addition to the outline of their duties already given, that they are to ascertain the rates or prices that would require to be charged consumers of hydraulic or electrical power in order to meet all expenditure of maintenance and operation and to ascertain the savings that would accrue annually to consumers by the substitution of such rates for the rates now paid.

The commission will also ascertain the actual cost of existing hydraulic and electrical power undertakings, the capacity, state of development, quantity of power supplied and contracted for, the rates charged and to be charged, the actual value of such undertakings, and the estimated capital, if any, necessary to complete such undertakings.

Helpless With Salt Rheum.

"For many months my wife was unable to serve herself with her hands because of salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment has entirely cured her and we strongly recommend it to any who suffer from similar ailments, believing that it has no equal. Mr. Ludger Duguay, Pigeon Hill, Missisquoi Co., Que.

A Girl to Be Pitied.

London, July 7.—A Central Prison term for one year was handed out to Albert Smith, the young man who was found guilty of inflicting a knife wound upon young Frank Walsh because he thought that the latter had called him "blubber," a sobriquet which is said to have stuck to him for some years. As the magistrate passed sentence Smith's wife set up a great wail. She had been married but a week, and that week has been spent alone.

Jaures Forbidden to Speak.

Berlin, July 7.—Chancellor von Buelow telegraphed to Prince Radolin, the German Ambassador at Paris, yesterday to inform M. Jaures, the French Socialistic leader, that the German Government thought it best to debar him from speaking in Berlin July 9, as it had been announced he intended to.

Despatcher Has Been Dismissed.

Toronto, July 7.—David Kennedy, a G. T. R. despatcher at Dundas, has been discharged for holding up a train under the block system for five minutes. He has served the railway for 23 years, and fellow-telegraphers say his dismissal is not owing to his fault, but because he was on the recent committee seeking increases in salary. His reinstatement will be asked for.

Explosion Kills Five.

Uniontown, Pa., July 7.—As the result of an explosion early yesterday at the shaft of the Taylor Coal and Coke Co., at Searight, Pa., six miles west of here, five men were killed and four injured, one fatally.

CROP PROSPECTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Special Reports Compiled by The Examiner Give Reason to Hope That This Year All Kinds of Crops in Peterborough County Will Be Excellent—Hay is Heavy, While Grain and Roots for the Most Part Give Promise of Good Yields.

From crop reports published in to-day's Examiner from different parts of the county it will be seen that the prospects for a bountiful harvest this year are excellent. From all sections of Peterborough reports, gathered for this paper by its staff of correspondents, come bearing most encouraging news, and unless some, at present, unforeseen circumstance arises, the farmers of this county will have no reason to be disappointed at the results of their labour this year.

The crops in the different localities are reported on during the first week in July as follows:—

Lakefield, July 5.—(Special.) — The crops in the vicinity of Lakefield and surrounding country are at the present time more promising than they have been for years at the same stage of growth. Peas are especially good, the straw long, and yield, in some districts, marvellous. Oats are promising well. Fall wheat of which there is a considerable acreage sown, is good. Spring wheat, good. New clover is excellent, while old meadows are not so good. Barley is reported good. The frequent rains in the early summer caused a great growth of straw on most grains, and some of the farmers thought that there would be little else but straw, but the warm weather setting in when it did has made a wonderful change and the grain is heading out well and promises, if the unforeseen does not happen, to give the farmer ample return for his labour, filling his granaries and more to the utmost capacity. It looks at present as though the chief difficulty with the farmers of this district would be to procure help to harvest their crops.

Burleigh and Anstruther, July 5. —(Special.)—There is very little fall wheat grown in this part of the county.

The grains principally grown here are oats and peas.

Some spring wheat has been sown and looks favourable.

The prospects for oats and peas are good. They are looking well.

The prospects for hay is fair, as the frost seems to have injured it to some extent. The hay is not expected to reach nearly so high a standard as it did last year.

A great quantity of roots are raised here and are looking well.

The crops on a whole are looking fairly well.

Keene, July 5. — (Special.) — Excepting on some very low land, the prospects for good crops are excellent. Many farmers in this vicinity claim that in this vicinity the crops will be the best for years.

Hay, on account of the recent wet weather is much improved. Crop is now being harvested; it is a good average yield.

Fall wheat, although a considerable portion was killed by frost in the spring, is doing well.

Oats give promise of a good crop, and are heading out finely.

Peas look well; early varieties are already podded.

Spring wheat and barley are doing well.

Farmers complain that the roots did not come up well.

The prospects are that there will be an abundant crop of small fruits. Apples will yield heavily.

Beaufort, July 5. — (Special.) —If we were to give in the fewest words the probable outlook in the maturing crops, we would say that in no recent year, has there been such uniform growth in everything sown or planted for this year's produce.

The wheat and hay which were held back by the cold weather of April, have since come to a quite showy appearance. Though a little setback may be noticed in these the quality will be the best judging from appearances.

Peas, barley and oats will be more than usual in bulk, peas showing an exceptionally fine and vigorous growth.

All kinds of roots show rapid growth, the seeds apparently all having produced plants, now well advanced.

The fruit yield promises abundance. Less spraying than usual is being done. Altogether there is a noticeable absence of insects.

In connection, it might be said that attention is being given more now to raising the better class of horses, and also of cattle. Quite a number of the former have died this year before reaching a week old.

Mount Pleasant, July 5. — (Special) —All crops in the township of Cavan look exceedingly well at this season of the year.

The hay crop gives promise of being a heavy yield, although the farmers predicted otherwise.

The fruit crop appears promising.

Omemee, July 5. — (Special.) — The weather is very favourable for good crops of every description, and the prospects are bright.

Crop prospects are interesting, not only to the farmer who grows them but also to every business man, and incidentally to all, for it is a recognized fact that as long as the farmers are prosperous so long will those who are engaged in other lines of business prosper, and a good crop means that for a year at least the mechanics and business men will be busy.

Every day now of warm, dry, weather will mean dollars in the pockets of the farming community. The early grains are almost ready for the knife and the hay crop is being saved. If present conditions continue, judging from the optimistic reports given above, this year will be a banner year for Peterborough county.

IN THE INTERESTS OF DAIRYMEN

What the Liberal Government Has Accomplished.

Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P., Tells of Good Work in the Commons.

In the House of Commons on Tuesday, in committee of supply, the subject of cold storage was taken up, Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P. Brockville, took part in the debate, and his remarks are reported in Hansard as follows:—

Mr. D. Derbyshire, (Brockville.) I compliment the hon. member for East Lambton (Mr. Armstrong) on the manner in which he brought this matter before the House, and I wish to say that the Eastern Dairymen's Association would possibly desire to make him an honourary member of that body. This question has been engaging the attention of the dairymen of Canada for a great many years. In 1899, the right hon. the Prime Minister, the Minister of Agriculture and other members of the Government met in Montreal a deputation of the Eastern Dairymen's Association, the Dairymen's Association of Bedford, and the Montreal Butter and Cheese Exchange, for the purpose of ascertaining our views on this question of cold storage. (We then pressed on the Government the necessity for affording to us in Canada the facilities provided in other countries for carrying perishable products to the British markets. The Government listened to us attentively and acceded to our request to the extent of giving us a moderate system of cold storage, which although not all that we wanted, was a great deal better than what we had hitherto.

From year to year the cold storage accommodation has been improved until now every steamer that comes to the port of Montreal is provided with it without subsidy. Competition has brought this about. Of course, in the beginning the Government had to subsidize the steamers in order to show the good results that would accrue to the people of Canada from the cold storage system. But now the steamers are providing it themselves, and the one which has the best equipment and can carry the goods to the British market in the best condition, is the one that will get the most goods. Then, in order that the goods may be landed in Great Britain in proper condition, the Surrey commercial dock in London has been fitted up to receive the goods in cold storage the moment they arrive; and other docks in every part of the United Kingdom will have to give the same accommodation, or the goods will go to the Surrey dock. We feel proud of the record of the Government in connection with this cold storage system. There is nothing for which they stand stronger before the country. In the year 1897, when we commenced shipments in cold storage, we shipped $13,000,000 worth of cheese; but, as the result of placing our goods on the British market in better condition than other countries were placing theirs, we gained in our exports, until in the year 1904 we exported $34,000,000 worth of cheese. We did almost as well with our butter. In 1899, when we had not the cold storage system for it, our exports of butter amounted to only $1,000,000. But the Government took hold of the matter in a business way, with the result that in the year 1903 we exported $7,500,000 worth. We are going steadily ahead all the time. Last week we shipped 11,810 packages of butter as compared with 6,602 packages in the corresponding week of last year, so that everything in connection with this cold storage business has been handled in the best possible way; and to-day it is not costing the Government a dollar, because all the ships have to give the facilities in order to get the trade in this large and expanding business. The furnishing of these cold storage facilities is the most important thing the Government has done since they came into power, and I feel proud of their record in this matter. As a result of better facilities, in place of shipping $4,000,000 of bacon, as we did in 1896, we shipped last year $13,500,000 worth. In 1896 our exports of butter, cheese and bacon amounted to $19,455,000; but in 1904 they amounted to $47,697,000, showing what the people can do when they have the facilities for carrying on their business in the best possible way. In other words, because this Government have given the country the facilities to enable them to place their goods on the British market in the best possible condition, we have added to the wealth of the country $3,000,000 every year since they have been in power. In nothing has the Government been stronger than in this matter, and I feel proud of the Minister of Agriculture. He has not given us all we have asked, but we are in hopes of bringing him to time. With the assistance of my good friend from East Lambton (Mr. Armstrong), I am sure that we are going to persuade him to give us better facilities for carrying the goods to Montreal. Last week we should have had refrigerator cars for that purpose. The heat came very suddenly, and we had not the cars, but the Government have agreed to give us the ice cars for the next week so that we are going to be able to deliver our goods from every factory to the cold curing chamber in Montreal; so that the best facilities will be provided to ensure our goods being placed on the British markets in a satisfactory condition. A few years ago we felt that something should be done to improve the curing rooms of our country; and we talked the matter over with the Minister of Agriculture. He at once established four central experimental cold curing stations, two in Ontario, and two in Quebec. In three years these stations have cured 119,985 boxes of cheese. This cheese has been cured in such a way as to justify the experiment, and all the factories in the country will require to be put in better condition to properly cure their cheese. Thousands of dollars are now being spent every year in building cool curing stations. We are getting all the time into a better position for placing our goods on the British markets. I feel proud of the record of the Government on this cold storage business, and I hope that they will give us still better facilities in the future. I hope my good friend from East Lambton will give us all he assistance he can, and will join the Eastern Dairymen's Association, and become a prominent man in the country.

Mr. Chas. and Miss Myrtle Buchanan of town, left to-day for an extended visit to friends in London and Detroit.

Last Wednesday the local baseball nine journeyed up to Norwood to meet the nine of that town in the fifth game of the T.V.B.B.L. Owing to Norwood winning from Roseneath by a score of 8—2 the locals thought that they would have their work cut out for them, but after the first innings this impression gradually faded away until when the ninth was called the score stood 27—3 in favour of Havelock. Not knowing the strength of the Norwood bunch the locals put out their best efforts not knowing when the other nine would let out but it was "all day" when McCorey began putting them over the plate. Norwood made their three runs in the second innings and from that time to the finish not a man saw a view of the plate. The line-up was as follows:—

Norwood.—McCabe p; G. Sherry, c; Pettigrew, 1st; G. Howson, 2nd; J. Smith 3rd; C. Powers, ss; Stewart, rf; Kemp cf; Packenham, lf.

Havelock.—D. McCorry p; K. Ballegheim c; Jas. Black, 1st; O. Ford, 2nd; B. E. White, 3rd; J. Mahoney, ss; J. Kelsey rf; H. Forman, cf; W. Rose lf.

The umpire was Mr. W. Christie of Toronto who gave the best of satisfaction to both parties.

The Town Council has moved the arc lamp at the south-west end about five pole lengths further south while a fifty candle power lamp has been put on the spot known as Scott's Hill. A great deal of dissatisfaction is being experienced in connection with this, and the public opinion is that the lights on the streets had best be left alone.

Miss Grace Foster, of Norwood, is the guest of friends in town.

Miss Mary Johnston, of Norwood, was the guest of friends in town on Monday.

Dr. H. C. Kindred arrived in town on Friday last. He will make a short visit with his father-in-law, Mr. D. Waller. Everyone will be pleased to know that Mr. Kindred passed all his examinations with highest honours, and is now a full-fledged M.D.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. McKenna, son Bertram, and daughter Mary, of Hancock, Mich., who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. McIntyre for the past two weeks, left for their home on Monday.

Mr. A. Gabriel, of Toronto Junction is the guest of Mr. E. Lancaster of town.

Miss Violet Smith, of Stirling, is visiting her home in town.

Mrs. Geo. Warren, of Smith's Falls, has been the guest of the Direct House, for the past few days.

Mr. E. Buckles, of Smith's Falls, spent Thursday in town.

Miss Lillian Campbell, who has been visiting her mother in town left on Friday for Illinois where she is training in one of the hospitals.

ALWAYS THE GAME.

In answer to an invitation from Le Nationalist, Mr. A. E. Kemp, M.P., for East Toronto wrote a long letter in which the following passage in deprecation of the race and creed cry occurs:—

"The conditions and necessities of commerce are the greatest factors in drawing the different races together.

"Racial issues are usually invented, and their importance magnified by mischievous, cunning-minded politicians, for what they conceive to be their own personal advancement.

"The best way, in my humble opinion, to draw the English and French-speaking elements nearer each other, is to cease in a specific manner discussing the question.'

Its quite a pity that Mr. Kemp kept his sentiments respecting the evils of raising racial issues. He might have profitably expressed them in Parliament instead of joining his party in full cry in the hunt after the French people and the Roman Catholic hierarchy, and endorsing his cause by his vote. While Mr. Kemp could hope to make party capital by joining in or condoning rabid denunciation and persecution of his French fellow-citizens and the heads of their religion, he played the game. When he thinks he sees a chance to rehabilitate himself and relieve his party from a part of the just odium it has received, he still plays the game.

—A GNAT—AND—A CAMEL.

A paragraph in the Examiner a day or two ago stated that the ministers of Campbellford had pronounced against conducting funeral services on Sunday. This seems to be an arbitrary evasion of duty. In case of a death on Friday, Saturday would be a premature day for burial, and Monday, for obvious reasons, especially in warm weather, would be too long to defer the funeral. The ground taken by some is that Sunday funerals are inconsistent with a proper observance of "the Lord's Day, or Christian Sabbath,"—what a Pharisaic roll is there in this phrase. Now, if a funeral is a merely secular performance, like a barn raising, or tree planting, it might be regarded as a desecration of Sunday, but, if conducted with religious observances and ceremonial, does not the ceremony sanctify the occasion? Would the Campbellford ministers be willing to sanction the "evil" of a funeral without religious rites, that "good," represented by avoidance of Sabbath desecration, "may come"? As to Sunday funerals "interfering with Sunday school services," it may be suggested that funerals and deaths interfere with a great many worthy human arrangements, and such interference is something we can neither avoid nor fix the date of. Ministers who are inclined to risk the woe to "them that are at ease in Zion," may feel justified in resenting the interruption to the restful routine of Sunday duties a funeral represents, but the hollow plea that a funeral ceremony is a desecration of the Sabbath day, is quite untenable — it seems no more a desecration than a baptismal, and not nearly as much so as society church parades, and flower services—sanctimonious vehicles for vain display in the name of religious services. Let ministers exercise a sweet reasonableness in the demand they make upon the deference to be exacted from the public, who are not more inclined to accept the doctrine of ministerial infallibility, or ministerial relief from judgment, by the same standards as ordinary man, than to regard as a calf from the Lord, the case when a minister accepts a bigger salary, combined with higher toned social, and other advantages. The sooner some ministers moderate some of their pretences, and pretensions, the better for their influence with the people. Printing offices often have to print funeral cards on Sunday, for funerals on Monday: but, says the minister, printers get paid for such work. Does this mean that a good fat fee for a Sunday funeral would eliminate the "Sabbath desecration" idea?

COMMON SENSE HAS OBJECTION

To The Examiner's Article on the Collegiate Institute.

Prominent Men Adopt a Policy of Abuse—People do not Want an Expensive Building.

Sir,—Allow me to say a word respecting your editorial on the defeat of the school by-law. Both before and since the defeat of it I had many conversations with that class of people most likely to be benefitted by the expansion of our Collegiate Institute system. I refer to those who do not wish to send their children farther. They do not want it. You ask the people of this town to spend a large amount of money on a very ornamental building for the benefit of the few who will however, patronize the institute. But you all say that an opportunity, anyhow, should be allowed to the mass of the people in order that they may educate their children to this extent if they choose. But the great mass of the people declined to take the bait. They see that it does not work out in this way. It is all a tremendous and expensive attempt to glorify a discredited educational system. The people at large have told you that they do not want it. Why persist? The Y.W.C.A. cost $30,000.00 and is surely good enough for the few whose children are seeking higher education. Before closing let me say a word about the personal abuse resorted to by some of our most prominent men. They profess to be patriots but sometimes as a law-professing cottager did the other day, they resort to the most commonplace abuse. It is always anonymous, of course.

Yours, etc.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — As a resident of Park street I would like to know when the street railway company or the Street and Bridge Committee are going to repair Park street between Charlotte and McDonel streets.

Park street is one of the prettiest thoroughfares in town, but it is at present in a disgraceful condition. Wake up, Larmouth and Adams!

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Can you or some correspondent of your post card column complete the couplet, and tell me the authorship of a line that I dimly remember. It refers to the hollowness of military glory and the fate of a soldier—"And have his name spelled wrong in the gazette." I want to find out the author and place of occurrence of the above words, and also the words that belong to them.

Maud.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Your correspondent yesterday spoke of inspection of milk. Well, we must have milkmen licensed and registered before they can be got at for inspection. The license fee need not be large, only enough to insure registration, and consequent come-at-ability. By all means give us inspection. We don't want embalming fluid in our milk—don't want corpse preservative, as they had in Brantford, in our coffee, or on our strawberries. Yours,

Pure Milk.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — I notice that you have opened a column for post card letters—a good idea. I wish to ask through this column if the aldermen leave the mudholes in the streets to help them muddle matters? If they do the thing works well.

Yours, etc.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Demise of Mrs. Wm. Leahy Yesterday in Douro.

Deceased was One of Most Highly Respected Residents of That Township.

After a lingering illness of about one year's duration the death occurred yesterday at her home, of Mrs. Wm. Leahy, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Douro Township. Death was the result of cancer, for which malady an operation was performed about one year ago. This, however, failed to bring about the desired results, and her condition gradually grew more critical up to the time of her demise.

The late Mrs. Leahy whose maiden name was Mary Holland, was born in Ireland seventy-three years ago, and removed to Canada at an early age. Here she was married to the late Mr. Leahy, who predeceased her by about twenty-nine years. She has resided in Douro Township almost continuously since settling there. Surviving the deceased are four children of whom the eldest is Mr. Wm. J. Leahy, of the Midland Hotel, Lakefield. The others are Jamess, of Douro, Mrs. Hennessy, of New York City, and Mrs. P. J. Grady, of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning from the family residence, lot 7, concession 6, Douro Township, to St. Joseph's Cemetery.

MR. D. SWANSON MAKES A CATCH

And Mr. R. J. Winch is the Gainer of a 20 Pound 'Lunge.

Mr. R. J. Winch came down last night from Stony Lake to spend a few days in town. He states that during his stay at the lake he has not done any fishing himself, but he did not come back empty handed in spite of this fact, for through the generosity of Mr. David Swanson of the Quarry Mine, he brought down a 20 pound 'lunge, which he caught at the lake. Mr. Swanson is one of the best fishermen on the lakes and Mr. R. B. Lamb was also the richer by a ten pounder, which Mr. Swanson donated to him.

These are some of the largest catches recorded at the lakes this season so far.

THREE SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSIONS WERE HELD

Yesterday Was a Popular Day for Pic-nics—Three Most Successful Excursions Were Held at Suburban Resorts—Rice, Chemong and Stony Lake Each Honoured by an Excursion.

PRESBYTERIANS AT RICE LAKE

St. Paul's Annual Sunday School Excursion.

An Enjoyable Day's Outing was Spent Yesterday—The Prize Winners.

The annual Sunday school excursion in connection with St. Paul's and Knox churches, was held yesterday. At nine a.m., the City of Peterborough in holiday attire, steamed out from the Wolfe street wharf, with many glad children and teachers and parents. The vessel was in first class trim, and the crew most obliging, and the trip down the river was all that could be desired.

Arriving at Jubilee Point at noon tables were spread, and soon many hungry picnic mouths were in operation.

By two p.m., news spread through the picnic grounds that Messrs. Mcdill and Bennet, and Rev. W. M. MacKay had finished dinner, and accordingly a baseball match took place between St. Paul's and Knox churches, resulting in a victory for the former.

The games resulted as follows:

Foot race, girls, 6 and under — Daisy Burgoine, Flossie Vickers, Jean Anderson, Helen Baptie.

Foot race, boys, six and under—Leith Barkley, Jack Fife, Geo. Dodds, Stanley Anderson.

Foot race, girls, 6 to 10 — Vertha Watt, Ethel Goodenough, Clara Barkley.

Foot race, boys, 6 to 10 — Arnold Howson, Ross Laing, Charles Burgoine.

Boys' boot race — Reuben Beavis, Arthur Houston, Stanley Wade.

Boys' wheelbarrow race — Evans White and Fred Anderson; Masters Gibson and Meehan.

Foot race, girls, 11 to 14 — Martha Pogue, Mira White, Clara Dodds.

Boys' 3-legged race — Savigny Laing and Stanley Wade; Kennie Crane and Ross Laing.

Girls' boot race — Edith McAndrew, Ethel Goodenough.

Boys' hopping race—Evans White, Savigny Laing, G. Tovey.

Arithmetic race — Savigny Laing, Winnie Anderson.

Winner of championship prize — Savigny Laing.

After a hotly contested tug of war the prize winners were presented with their laurels by Dr. Torrance.

At five p.m., all were on board again homeward bound. Feasting and music, whisperings, conundrums, and bear stories, etc., caused the evening's sail to pass away all too quickly. The City of Peterborough and her crew, proved to be all that could be expected, and came in for considerable praise.

CHEMONG PARK SCENE OF PIC-NIC

St. Andrew's Annual Sunday School Excursion Yesterday.

A Delightful Day was Spent at That Beautiful Resort.

At Chemong Park yesterday afternoon the annual picnic of the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church was held under most pleasing conditions, and this event was in every respect a delightful one. This was the first public picnic from Peterborough at Chemong this year, and if succeeding similar events are productive of as much pleasure this popular resort will be a very gay place indeed.

The members of the school with their friends left the Church at 1.30 yesterday afternoon, about 200 persons taking the trip in ten busses. The drive through the Township of Smith was thoroughly enjoyed, and on arrival at the park the picnicers proceeded to enjoy themselves in the various ways which presented themselves. A large number took to the water, and that expanse was soon dotted with skiffs and canoes, while a number enjoyed a bathe in its cool depths.

On land a good programme of sports was run off, the committee having charge of that feature being Messrs. P. A. Kerr, T. E. Elliott, Stewart Lang and J. Hart.

The events with the winners were:—

Boys' race, 12 and under, Mc'. Dobson and Arnold McWilliams.

Girls' race, 12 and under, Mary Potter and Blanche Hart.

Boys' race, 12 and over, Mitchell Hart and Allan Wade.

Girls' race, 12 and over, Ethel Robson and Ruby Hart.

Boys' three-legged race, Allan Wade, Norman Lang and F. Dobson, Wm. Robson.

Egg and spoon race, Annie Reid and Ethel Robson.

Wheelbarrow race, Norman Lang and Allan Wade; F. Dobson and A. McWilliams.

Needle and thread race, Blanche Hart and Vera Peters.

Pig-a-back race, Norman Lang and Allan Wade; Mitchell Hart and N. Strand.

Potato race, W. Robson and A. McWilliams.

Obstacle race, F. Dobson and M. Hart.

The dainties provided so bountifully by the ladies were partaken, of and a delightful evening was spent. At six o'clock two large busses left town with those who were unable to go earlier in the day, and they also spent a pleasant evening, boating being the most popular form of recreation. The busses left for home, the first at 8 o'clock, and the last at 10.30 or later, and the universal verdict was that the day had been a successful one.

CHARMING TRIP TO STONY LAKE

Mark St. Methodist Sunday School Had Delightful Outing.

Weather was Perfect and Arrangements Complete in Every Detail.

Among the most delightful of the many recent excursions to Stony Lake was that of the Mark street Methodist Sunday School which left town yesterday morning by special train to Lakefield.

The party which numbered about 125 people embarked upon the steamer Stony Lake, and enjoyed a charming day's sail.

A stop was made at McCracken's Landing, where a number of the party took dinner, while others dined upon the boat. The sail was from there continued to various points upon the lake, including Juniper Island, Burleigh, Crowe's Landing, the party returning to Lakefield early in the evening, where a special train waited to convey them home.

The committee in charge was Messrs. J. C. Miller, O. S. Matchett, and W. Hooper, whose arrangements for the trip were highly satisfactory to all, and were carried to a successful termination in every particular.

WERE WEDDED IN TORONTO

Mr. Allan McCarthy Married to Miss Bertha D. Finton.

On the evening of July 5th, at the residence of Mrs. Jennings, 474 West Marion street, Toronto, Mr. Allan McCarthy, contractor, of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Miss Mary D. Fenton, of Brantford. Guests were present from Toronto, Paris, Brantford, Peterborough and other places. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. German, pastor of North Parkdale church. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left for an extended tour in the east, and will take up residence in Peterborough on their return.

Campers Appreciate.

Clark's Lunch Tongue — juicy and deliciously cool—spread between two pieces of thin bread well buttered — it makes a tasty morsel.

STRAWBERRIES AND A CONCERT

A Delightful Evening Was Spent at St. Mark's.

Festival and Entertainment—An Enjoyable Programme Rendered.

The congregation of St. Marks' Church, ought certainly to be much satisfied at the great success that attended their strawberry festival and concert held last night in Zion Foresters' Hall, Otonabee. About 230 people partook of the refreshments provided by the good ladies of the church, and everyone spoke in great appreciation of the excellent strawberries and cream, etc., which made up the menu.

The orchestra of Messrs. R. and A. Wilson delighted the large audience with choice selections of music. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was chairman. It was at a late hour before the audience assembled to enjoy a fine programme of music and addresses. Rev. Dr. Crothers, of George Street was present and gave a felicitous address. He was glad to be present and to have the opportunity of showing his good will and brotherly interest in the Anglican congregation, of which his friend, Mr. Langfeldt, was the rector. Dr. Crothers, after referring to the sumptuous repast and complimenting the ladies on the great success manifested by such a large audience, spoke on the great influence which the church, the public school and the press exerted in the building up of a united nation. Miss Gertie Kendry and Mr. R. A. Sutcliffe delighted the audience with well rendered vocal solos, which were enthusiastically received. The programme had to be shortened on account of the intense heat and the late hour. Mr. J. L. Armstrong, of St. Luke's church, acted as accompanist. The audience dispersed at about eleven o'clock after singing the National Anthem.

LUNCH COUNTER WILL BE ADDED

New Feature Being Added to Demetre Bros. Business.

The handsome establishment of Demetre Bros., corner George and Charlotte streets, is now undergoing still further alterations, and a new feature will be added to the business which will undoubtedly find a place in popular favour.

The bright, airy room at the rear of the store is being transformed into a properly equipped lunch room with buffet and tables. The interior of the room will, when the alterations are completed, present a bright and attractive appearance. It will be conducted on the European plan.

HONOURED A FORMER REEVE

Residents of Douro Present Address to Mr. James McCliggott.

For 25 Years a Public Official in That Township.

Yesterday the vicinity of No. 5 Lock on the Trent Canal presented a scene which bore in some respects strong resemblence to that of July 7th, 1904, when the opening ceremonies in connection with the 45th lock were held. On this occasion the crowd numbered almost as many, but the object of their visit to the lock was that of honouring Mr. James McCliggott, the present caretaker of the lock, who for a quarter of a century past has filled numerous offices in the township Council of Douro. He has filled successively and successfully the offices of Councillor,

MR. J. McCLIGGOT.

Deputy Reeve, and Reeve of Douro, and while holding the second was by virtue of the office, a member of the County Council.

About a year ago he decided to abandon the active part taken in municipal affairs and retire to a government position well earned and now to be efficiently filled. Mr. McCliggott has accepted the position tendered him of lockmaster at No. 5 lock.

Yesterday afternoon about 100 of his friends gathered at this house, near lock No. 5, and presented him with a handsomely illuminated memorial, testifying to the valuable and faithful services he had rendered his county and township for nearly the length of a generation.

Reeve F. Moher read the presentation address and Mr. W. O'Brien, township clerk, on behalf of Mr. McCliggott's many friends, presented the beautiful memorial. This letter is a specimen of the cunning workmanship of a skilled penman.

A number of addresses were given by Mr. McCliggott's friends, all of whom testified to the faithfulness and efficiency with which he filled his public duties.

The whole party were afterwards entertained to dinner by Mr. and Mrs. McCliggott, and a delightful afternoon was spent.

PONIES ARE ALL WORKING OUT WELL

An Afternoon Look-In at the Grounds of the Turf Club—Most Successful Race Meet in History of Town in Project—Many Fast Ones Quartered at the Grounds—Some Interesting Try-Outs Daily.

A look-in at the grounds of the Turf Club presents a scene of surprising animation and cannot fail to convince the observer that the club's race meet on July 12-13, will be the most successful in the history of racing affairs in town.

The stables are filling up rapidly about fifteen fast ones being domiciled there yesterday, while others are constantly coming in. The work outs are most interesting and are being eagerly watched by the "wise ones," who are already preparing to "pick them." The horses, scarcely without an exception, which have so far arrived, are in excellent condition, and lovers of the ponies will be treated to some exciting finishes at the meet.

A number of outside horsemen are in town taking an active interest in the training of their respective ponies, and some fast time is being made in the work-outs which are constantly going on. The track is in splendid condition, which is all that needs to be said in view of this reputation as the fastest half mile in Canada. It will be still further improved between now and the 12th of July by innumerable harrowings. The conditions for training have been highly favourable and the grooms are kept constantly busy.

A feature of the preparations for this year's meet is the careful provision for the comfort of the racing enthusiasts among the fair sex, many of whom are taking a deep interest the preliminaries, and who will undoubtedly attend in large numbers. The fair lovers of the ponies, are, as is generally conceded ever the greatest enthusiasts, and their bright gowns and inspiring presence is a necessary adjunct of every successful race meet. The average man who marvels greatly and smiles with a superior air at their manner of picking winners, usually has an opportunity to dolefully ruminate as he plods his way homeward, sans car ticket. This year, the seats in the covered portion of the grand stand will be covered and other provisions made to ensure the comfort of the fair sex.

A proposition which is being much discussed among members of the Turf Club is that of "hanging up" a special $50 purse to be added to the purse of any race in which the track records of 2.14 1-4 is beaten. The record is now held by Mr. Geo. Powell's Sphinx B., which carried off that honour two years ago. The suggestion is an excellent one and should be productive of many beneficial results. And, it may also be added that it certainly will be well-earned money. It is to be hoped that it will be carried into effect. The race in which the honour was carried off by Sphinx B. is well remembered among turf enthusiasts in town.

Among the fast ones in training now are Teston and Chatelaine, owned by Chas. Phair, of Toronto. Teston is entered in the half mile heats. Chatelaine, which ran third in the half mile, and second in the three-quarter at Port Hope, is in excellent condition. The World, Elwood & Latimer's speedy pacer, which captured first money in both the half and three-quarter mile heats in Port Hope is being carefully trained and looks to be in the pink of condition.

Joe Allan, which carried off second money in the 2.50 class at Port Hope, is working-out in good form. He is by Mistrolio, dam Jubert, of Abdullah and celebrated his 5th birthday upon "the Glorious Fourth." He has won four seconds. Helen R., owned by Fred Davey, which took in her second first money in the Trot Class "Free-for-All," looks good for further honours. She has a mark of 2.16. Mr. George Curtis, who is staying in town, is giving "Miss Keswick" his personal attention, and she is showing up well in her workouts. She is by Keswick, dam Minnie by Toronto Chief, and has a mark of 2.16. She won third in the Free-for-All at Port Hope, in which event she will also be entered, here. She was sent out yesterday afternoon in company with Otillia Belle, and did the long mile in 2.31 1-2. Mr. Curtis, who is a well known and popular veteran of the turf is also the owner of a promising green horse, Hot Wilk, by Red Wilkes, which has worked halves in 2.10 and miles in 2.27.

Otillia Belle is reported to be doing good things and certainly looks the goods. She should be a first money favourite. She took initial currency in the 2.50 class at Port Hope. She went out splendidly yesterday. Victoria, owned by J. W. Coveney, ran third in the three-quarter mile at Port Hope, in which the track record was broken.

The local horses are all doing good things. Dr. Johnston has recently added White Blaze to his string, having made the purchase from John Kelleher. Donna Belle is, of course, receiving careful attention and a spectator remarked yesterday that he had never seen her in such excellent condition. She is if anything a few pounds heavier. Billy P. is working out excellently. He captured second money in the Free-for-All at Port Hope and looks good to more than duplicate the performance. Mr. George Lipsett has good reason to hope some hopes upon the present condition of Miss Hamley. She swept out yesterday in splendid style.

It would be difficult to find in town a busier man than Mr. Arthur Rountree, the popular and energetic secretary of the Racing Association, who has by his untiring efforts been such a factor in the development of clean track sport in town. He yesterday had his hands full in looking after the entries which were arriving from all sides. These closed last night and are very satisfactory in every way. The general outlook for the races is most auspicious and there will be more money distributed among horse owners than ever before in the history of the local Turf Club. There are more high-class horses to partake of it. The class of horses engaged is better than usual, and it is well known that a very few pounds of class offsets many pounds of superior condition. There will be a large field to go to the post and some most spirited contests are already assured.

ENTRY LIST IS NOW CLOSED

Large Field of Horses for Turf Club Meet.

The entries received in the different events by Secretary Rountree, of the Turf Club, are as follows:—

2.40 class—3.
2.19 class—5.
2.24 class—6.
3-4 mile heat, running—7.
1-2 mile heat, running—8.
Free for all—4.

The latter includes two horses with a mark better than 2.09.

The official badges are now ready and are the usual card with slik button-hole cord. They admit a gentleman and his lady friends and cost $2.00 for two days privileges, and $1 for one day. In the heavy storm of Tuesday afternoon, a large section of the north fence of the grounds blew down and four horses, three owned by Mr. Leary, and one by Mr. A. Rountree, escaped and are still missing.

Yanks Lead By Five Points.

Bisley Camp, England, July 7.—The match between the Metropolitan, N. Q. & N. Y., and the Queen's Westminster Volunteers for the Sir Howard Vincent Shield, began yesterday. The weather conditions were unfavorable. The teams—eight men on each side—yesterday fired 15 shots each at 500 and 600 yards. The Americans were five points ahead at the end of the 500 yards range shooting, the score being Americans 892, Westminsters 887. The scores for the 600 yards resulted: Americans 529, Westminsters 509. The Americans thus lead by five points at the two ranges.

The Diamond Sculls Race.

London, July 7.—F. S. Kelly of Oxford, easily beat H. T. Blackstaffe of the Vesta for the Diamond sculls in 8 minutes 10 seconds, which establishes a new record for the course.

THIS MAN BUMP IS PATRIOTIC

Collector of That Name At Charlotte Outswells Himself.

ORDERS BRITISH FLAG DOWN

Capt. Simmons of Kingston Schooner Acacia Was Strongly Tempted to Waste a Shot on Him — Bump May Hear More of It — Minister Prefontaine Says He had No Right to Make Demand.

Buffalo, July 7.—According to a report current among marine men here yesterday, an appeal to the Ottawa and Washington authorities to have the American customs officials at Charlotte, N. Y., punished will be made by Capt. William Simmons of the Kingston schooner Acacia. Simmons happened to be at Charlotte on Tuesday, when the residents had the port fairly alive with stars and stripes in honor of Independence Day. Simmons showed his Canadian patriotism by hoisting a Canadian flag, but by so doing enraged Deputy Collector Duan Bump of Charlotte, who compelled the Canadian to lower his colors.

Simmons Threatened to Shoot.

New York, July 7.—A Rochester despatch to The Tribune says: A protest has been filed with the Canadian Minister of Marine by Capt. Simmons of the Canadian schooner Acacia, because the port collector compelled him to lower the British flag on his vessel in the harbor of Charlotte on July 4. Collector Bump was informed that the Acacia had floated the Union Jack on the morning of the 4th of July, and he ordered Capt. Simmons to haul it down, saying it was an insult to the national holiday. Simmons refused, and threatened to shoot the collector if he boarded his vessel. Finally Simmons lowered the flag when threatened with refusal of his clearance papers.

No Protest In Ottawa Yet.

Ottawa, July 7.—Neither the Secretary of State nor the Minister of Marine has received any protests from Capt. Simmons of the Canadian schooner Acacia, to the effect that when in Charlotte, N. Y., on July 4, he was ordered to lower the British flag, otherwise clearance papers would be refused him.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine said that although he had not received a protest it might be on the way. "If the United States Collector of Customs has been guilty of the conduct ascribed to him from the press despatches," the Minister observed, "representations will be made to the proper authorities. He had no right to ask that the flag be lowered or to refuse clearance papers."

EPWORTH LEAGUERS IN SESSION

Gathering of Over 20,000 Delegates and Friends at Denver.

Denver, July 7.—The seventh international convention of the Epworth League opened yesterday with three simultaneous meetings, which taxed to the utmost the capacity of Coliseum Hall, Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church and Central Presbyterian Church, the largest auditoriums in this city. Fully 20,000 delegates and visitors have been attracted.

The chairmen were Bishop Joseph Berry of Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. Stephen J. Herben of Chicago, editor of The Epworth Herald, and Rev. Melvin Taylor of Quebec, Canada.

Governor McDonald, Mayor Speed and others made welcome adresses, and responses were given by Rev. G. F. Salton, Ottawa, Ont.; Rev. S. D. Chown, D. D., Toronto; Rev. I. Tovell, Toronto, and others.

GUELPH TROLLEY ACCIDENT.

Albert Leonard, Accused of Releasing the Brake, Sent For Trial.

Guelph, July 7.—Albert Leonard of Creemore, who was charged with letting off the brake on a street car, allowing it to run down a steep grade, and causing considerable injury to twelve passengers, was again before the Magistrate yesterday, and sent up for trial. He was bailed out in the same sureties of $1,000 and two bondsmen.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friends "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. I could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, despondency and dumbness. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my child received from your medicine," writes Mrs. W. A. Scoggs, of Silica, Linn Co., Ore. "He had been troubled nearly a year with liver complaint, indigestion and constipation. I gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' and they did him great good. I give the 'Discovery' credit for saving the present right of the 'Kiddo.' He seems to be perfectly well now."

If you want a cure accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Three ORIENTAL Liver Pellets. Don't put up with the old Dr. P. V. Pierce cure in a new wrapper. Three ORIENTAL Liver Pellets cure. They're made of purely vegetable extracts, guaranteed free from mercury, mineral and poisonous drugs. They're the smallest, easiest to take, most natural and most effective. They're the original Dr. Pierce Pellets, and their substitutes are the usual failures. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market since Tuesday, as reported by the railways, were 110 car loads, composed of 1587 of the cattle kind, 1577 hogs, 1575 sheep and lambs and 200 calves.

Exporters.

The demand for shipping cattle was limited, with prices easier, especially for grass-finished cattle. Prices ranged from $4.90 to $5.20, two loads of stable-fed cattle being sold at the latter price. The bulk of shipping cattle sold at about $5 per cwt. Bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt., with an odd one of choice quality at $4.

Butchers.

The demand for butchers' cattle was fair, but prices were much lower. Two or three picked lots of stable cattle, heifers and steers, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, of prime quality, were reported having been sold at $4.80 to $5 per cwt. early in the day; loads of good butcher sold at $4.40 to $4.50; medium cattle at $4 to $4.30; common mixed loads at $3.50 to $4 per cwt.; best butcher cows, $3.75 to $4; common butcher cows, $2.50 to $3.25; canners, $1.50 to $2 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

Several loads of feeders and stockers were offered and sold as follows: Best feeders, 900 to 1050 lbs., sold at $3.75 to $4.15; feeders, 800 to 900 lbs., at $3.50 to $3.80; stockers of good quality at $3.40 to $3.70; common at $2.75 to $3. There were about 4 loads of ill-bred eastern cattle that were almost unsaleable, steers selling as low as $2.50 and bulls, 400 lbs. each, sold at $1.50 to $2 per cwt.

Milch Cows.

About 20 milch cows and springers were offered. There were few of choice quality and the common class was almost unsaleable. Prices ranged from $20 to $48 each.

Veal Calves.

Prices were firm at $2 to $10 each, or $3.50 to $5.75 per cwt., with a few of prime quality at $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Prices were firm, but unchanged. Export ewes, $3.70 to $4.00 per cwt.; bucks, $3 to $3.25 per cwt.; lambs, $3.00 to $6.25 each, or $6 to $6.40 per cwt., or, in other words, 6c to 8c per lb.

Hogs.

Prices unchanged at $6.40 for selects and $6.15 for lights and fats, with prospects for lower prices at an early date.

HOW DID HE DIE?

Oliver Findlay Shot and Killed at Webbwood — Son of Rev. Dr. Findlay of Barrie.

Webbwood, July 7.—Oliver Findlay, son of Rev. A. Findlay, D.D., of Barrie, superintendent of Presbyterian missions for Ontario, was found dead in his room in the Windsor Hotel yesterday. Death was caused by a revolver shot, the revolver being found at his feet. A coroner's inquest is being held by Coroner Flaherty of Massey.

The deceased was a popular young man, and was employed as roadmaster's assistant at the C.P.R. station here. He was an active member of the Presbyterian Church, and his untimely death caused a great shock to his many friends here.

Dr. Findlay has the sincere sympathy of the whole community in this his second loss, a son having been killed in the South African war.

Body Found in the River.

New Hamburg, July 7.—A young Englishman, named Briddlebank, was drowned here while bathing in the River Nith yesterday afternoon. His clothes were found lying upon the bank, and search was made, when his body was found near the bank. He came here from Liverpool about two years ago.

Mud Delays Trains.

Winnipeg, July 7.—Mudslides, following heavy rainfalls in the Rainy River district, have interfered with C. N. R. traffic during the past few days. Three men were injured yesterday in an accident on the C. P. R. Prince Albert branch.

One Drowned; Two Escape.

Winnipeg, July 7.—F. Johnson was drowned in the lake at J. Carless' bathing place, Macleod, N.W.T. The two Carless boys had a narrow escape.

Thirty Passengers Hurt.

St. Paul, Minn., July 7.—About thirty people were injured Wednesday night in the Great Northern westbound flyer at Springbrook, 21 miles east of Williston, N.D. All of the injured men were able to resume their journey yesterday, except C. H. Stricker of Boise City, Idaho, who is reported to be in a critical condition.

Fifteen May Be Drowned.

Concepcion, Chili, July 7.—A boat containing 15 persons, who left the British steamer Tropic when that vessel went ashore fifteen miles north of Concepcion recently, is missing.

Death List is Twenty-Six.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 7.—Twenty-six persons are known to have been killed and 50 injured by the tornado which swept over a portion of Montague County, in the northern part of this state, Wednesday afternoon. The property loss will probably aggregate $300,000.

FLOODS IN ALGOMA.

Washouts On Canadian Northern Railway—Western Traffic Suspended.

Winnipeg, July 7.—There were no trains from Port Arthur yesterday over the Canadian Northern line on account of bad washouts and mud slides from Mattawin to Port Arthur, caused by cloudbursts and rising of the rivers. No. 1 train has not left Port Arthur and No. 2 is at Kashabowie, awaiting word that the track is clear to proceed.

Fort William, July 7.—Swollen by the heavy rains of the past two days, the Kaministiquia River has gone on a rampage that will cost the loggers and lumber dealers of this section thousands of dollars. A number of booms between this place and Stanley have broken loose, and every available man in Fort William and Port Arthur is engaged in catchings logs and towing booms to places of safety.

Nervous, Sick Headache.

Mr. O. Barber, Simcoe County, Ont., writes, "I was troubled for a long time with headaches, which would come on about once a week with such violence that I could not eat nor do my work. I tried headache powders and quick cures which did no good. About six months ago I took six bottles of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I have not been troubled with headache since."

LOCKED UP IN FREIGHT CAR.

Windsor Youths Take a Trip That Frightens Parents.

Windsor, July 7.—Percy Deneau and Roy Brown of Windsor and Jim Garrison of Detroit, all about 13 years of age, were locked in a car in the Grand Trunk yards Monday evening. The boys went through to Niagara Falls and arrived home yesterday afternoon.

Deneau admits that the lock in was a pre-arranged matter by Garrison. The parents of the boys were almost frantic until their return, as the boy who locked them in by their own request could give no clue that would help locate the car.

BISHOP OF DIOCESE OF OVER 140,000 MILES

His Lordship Bishop Scollard Tells La Presse of His New Diocese---A Great Future in Store for That Part of the Province---Bright Prospects for Sault Ste. Marie ---Kind Words for the French-Canadians in the New Country---Many New Churches to be Constructed---A Prosperous Diocese.

La Presse, Montreal, of July 5th, publishes an interview with the Rt. Rev. Bishop Scollard, on the occasion of his visit to that city, where he is the guest of the Abbe Martin Callaghan, of St. Patrick's church.

To a representative of La Presse Bishop Scollard said: "The entire extent of my diocese is 700 miles in length and 200 in breadth. It extends from North Bay nearly to Rat Portage, now Kenora. The site of the Episcopal See has not yet been definitely fixed. Some think it will be Sault Ste. Marie, others have contrary opinions. Sault Ste. Marie derives its importance largely from its industries, but if the great American trusts seize upon them, as is expected by some, the future of the city will be promising."

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP SCOLLARD, Of Sault Ste. Marie Diocese.

Meanwhile Rev. Father Scollard remains at North Bay, where he has begun to exercise his Episcopal functions.

"Are there many French-Canadians in your diocese, your Lordship?"

"Yes, a great number, and the greater part of them seem to be perfectly happy in their adopted country, and prosper in a remarkable manner. They are industrious and religious and I delight very much to meet them. Up to the present I have not been able to visit and know perfectly the district which is entrusted to me. I cannot therefore give very precise information on which to base a very definite opinion, nevertheless I can truly say that the country where I am is very large and there is a great extent of arable land, especially at St. Charles and in the new parish of Causeby. Many of the lands in the new parishes are unoccupied. They will double in value as will also the whole district, when in two or three years the Grand Trunk Pacific will have been constructed. At the present time four churches are in course of construction, one at Verner, another at St. Paul's, sixteen miles south of Verner, and a third at Causeby near the French River, while the fourth at Cashby, in the vicinity of Sturgeon Falls.

"Thus it is seen that Catholics are making progress and if manifestations continue, the population will be trebled in a short time. That will be to the advantage of Catholics. When I shall have better known my diocese," concluded the bishop, "I can speak to you more fully of the country and of your Catholic compatriots, the French Canadians who live there. I propose also to send articles to journals who are interested in colonization and propagation of Catholicism."

The article is accompanied with an excellent portrait of the face of the bishop, so well known in Peterborough.

NARROW ESCAPE OF TOURISTS

A Party on Sturgeon Lake Were in Peril.

Caught by Squall and Nearly Went to the Bottom.

A camping party which had been enjoying a pleasant time at Ball Point, Sturgeon Lake, were returning to Lindsay at an early hour Monday morning of last week, when they were caught in a terrific gale, which jeopardized their lives. They were being brought up by Ald. George Rea, of Lindsay, in his splendid yacht, in the party were Mr. and Mrs. George Rea, Mr. James Robinson, of St. Louis, Missouri, Mr. Gilbart Hickson, Miss Nellie Greer and Miss Mabel Thorn, of Ranboro. As the yacht was not of sufficient size to carry their camping accoutrements, they were being towed behind in a skiff, which contained trunks, valises, clothing and other necessaries of camp life.

When the storm swept down on them the skiff was carried away from the yacht, but under the skilful seamanship of Messrs. Rea and Hickson the boat was recaptured and soon got into line when a great swell sent it bottom side up and all the contents either went to the bottom of floated away and were a total loss as nothing was recovered.

LOUISA HOWELL GETS SIX MONTHS

Well Known Local Character Goes to Mercer.

The case of Louisa Howell, charged with keeping a disorderly house or house of ill fame at 66 McDonel street, monopolized the attention of this morning's Police Court.

A number of residents in that neighborhood testified to the bad reputation of the house, and those living next door said that profane and obscene language and singing often kept them awake at night.

No defence was given, and the magistrate sentenced her to six months in Mercer Reformatory.

THE DOCTORS AGREE.

Two Physicians Both Agree on the New Scientific Dandruff Treatment.

Dr. J. M. Powell, of Spokane, Wash., says: Herpicide has given good satisfaction in my family for dandruff."

Dr. W. G. Alban, of Walla Walla, Wash., says: "I find Herpicide all that is claimed for it as a dandruff cure. I shall prescribe it." Dandruff is a germ disease and you can't cure it unless you kill the dandruff germ, and you can't do that unless you use Newbro's Herpicide, the only preparation in the world that destroys the parasites. A delightful hair dressing, allays itching instantly, makes hair glossy and soft as silk. It is a sure dandruff destroyer. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh, special agents.

JAP EMPEROR GIVES $5,000

To Help the Work of the Y. M. C. A. in That Empire.

Summary of the World Wide Work of the Association—Mr. Wanamaker Helps.

A special appeal is being made by the Young Men's Christian Association on behalf of the World Wide Work. The field, it is pointed out, is the three hundred million young men of the non-Christian world. The resources consist in the membership of the 60 Young Men's Christian Associations of Ontario and Quebec—and all friends interested in the world's evangelization.

The Aim.—For each of the larger Associations to undertake the support of a representative in a non-Christian field.

For two or more of the smaller Associations to unite in a similar effort.

The support of at least three additional representatives should be undertaken before the present year.

The Method.—To prosecute an aggressive educative campaign among all Associations.

The holding of conferences with a view to stimulating a missionary spirit in keeping with the great need of the non-Christian World.

To present to individual contributors the unparalleled opportunity of supporting personal representatives in the foreign field.

To awaken so real a missionary interest among the entire membership as to cause every member to become a systematic contributor to the young men's work of the world.

Accomplishments.—A contribution of 11 Canadians has already been made, some of whom are being supported by the Ontario and Quebec Associations.

The Opportunity.—The Hon. John Wanamaker, who has recently given $100,000 for the erection of three Association buildings in China, Corea and Japan, respectively, in making the gift said.—"The Young Men's Christian Associations have the patent on opportunity, and can act with freedom and effect if they have the necessary administrative force and financial support."

The magnificent testimonial accorded the work of the Young Men's Christian Association by the Emperor of Japan, in a recent personal gift of $5,000 serves to illustrate the wonderful opportunity for Christian Work now presented in the Far East.

To enter this open door means a liberal and immediate expenditure of both men and money.

The Need.—The Inter-Provincial Associations are under obligations to provide the sum of $1,200 before December 31st, 1905, for the support of Mr. J. N. Farquhar, who is now their representative in Calcutta, India.

Mr. Wm. Sheo, of Stinson's shoe store is the local treasurer of the fund, and to him contributions may be made.

MR. A. L. DAVIS IS PRESIDENT

Of the Imperial Guarantee and Accident Co.

A New Accident Company Organized in Toronto—The Directors.

The first meeting of shareholders of the Imperial Guarantee and Accident Insurance Company of Canada was held in the board room of the National Trust Company, Toronto yesterday afternoon, and the following gentlemen elected as the Board of Directors viz.:

Hon. F. T. Frost, Frederic Nicholls, Elias Rogers, J. J. Kenny, H. C. Cox, G. A. Morrow, E. Biekerdike, M.P., Hon. Geo. A. Cox, P. G. Goldsmith, M. D. and A. L. Davis.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Mr. A. L. Davis was elected President and General Manager; Hon. Geo. A. Cox Vice-President, and Mr. E. Willans Assistant General Manager and Secretary.

One hundred thousand dollars has already been deposited with the Dominion Government for the security of policyholders and a license issued to enable the company to carry on all lines of personal accident, sickness and guarantee insurance.

The subscribed capital stock amounts to $1,000,000, with $200,000 paid thereon at a premium of 25 per cent., thus allowing the company to commence business with a surplus of $50,000 over and above the paid-up capital which will at once place it in the front rank of companies engaged in accident and guarantee insurance in Canada.—Toronto Star.

BAND CONCERT AT VICTORIA PARK

Pleasing Programme Rendered by 57th Regiment Band.

The band concert last night in Victoria Park, was largely attended, and proved one of the most delightful of the season. The improved lighting of the Park added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

A choice and pleasingly-varied programme was rendered by the 57th Regiment Band. The opening number was the "Tipperary March," the sprightly movement of which was rendered with a catchy dash an verve. This was followed by the "Baqu Bame" overture, which also appealed strongly to the audience.

One of the most enjoyed numbers, was the lullaby, "Sweet and Low," the delicate pianissimo passages of which were rendered with charming expression.

The medley, "Reminiscences of Ireland," and the euphonium solo which, followed were heartily applauded. The march, "Vanguard," composed by Bandmaster Gliddon, was rendered with military spirit and precision. The other numbers were a selection from "Hoity-Toity," song and dance, "The Honeysuckle and the Bee," and the medley from "Floredora," with the concluding Grand March from "Faust."

CLOSING DAYS OF THE CAMP

Grand Military Tatoo at Barriefield Camp.

Stampede in Cavalry Lines—Interesting Letter from Examiner Representative.

Camp Barriefield, Friday, July 7 To-day was another fine day in camp. In fact ever since the troops went under canvas on Tuesday, June 27th, they have been favoured with the most delightful weather. As a matter of fact some days have been very hot but the men stood it well. Not a parade has been interrupted by reason of the weather. The men have been very quick in getting on to the drill and the divisional review which took place this afternoon, showed the troops to have reached a high state of efficiency. The camp is now nearing a close and a grand sham battle to-morrow, will bring to a close one of the most successful of the many successful camps on historical old Barriefield Commons.

The Tatoo

The soldiers as well as the people of Kingston, were treated to a grand military tatoo. It was a grand sight undoubtedly and certainly added to the entertainment of the officers and men at camp. The exact ground on which the tatoo was held is just across the road from the cavalry brigade and directly in front of the 7th Infantry Brigade.

A large square was staked off and roped in, around which several thousand soldiers and hundreds of citizens of Kingston, in carriages, autos and on foot took up their position on points of vantage. At about nine o'clock the report of a gun announced the opening of the tatoo. This was followed by a shrill blast from a trumpet, and immediately the band of the 16th (Picton) Regiment, with glaring torches, struck up their regimental march and paraded into the central square and took up their position at the north-east corner. No sooner had the 16th Regiment band stopped playing, than the band of the 40th Regiment, Cobourg, followed in the same order, playing its regimental march. In a similar manner, the bands of the 46th, (Lindsay) 46th, (Port Hope) 47th, (Tronton) and the 49th, (Prescott), marched in. The massed bands then played a stirring quick step, while the entire grounds became illuminated with red lights, making an exceptionally brilliant scene. The fireworks which followed were really grand, many very pretty figures being exhibited. For an hour and more the air in vicinity of the camp grounds was full of illuminated explosives and a continual roar of discharging explosives. The tatoo was a grand success and was a great source of entertainment to all.

A rather annoying feature of the tatoo, however, was the fact that the fireworks through short sightedness on the part of some one the fireworkks were directed over towards the cavalry lines, and resulted in a regular stampede of the horses. General disorder prevailed and many horses broke loose. It took some time, before the horse lines were put in order again.

The March Past.

The military review and march past, which took place on the common just across the Cataraqui bridge, passed off very successfully. Major General Lord Aylmer and his staff, took up there position, while the following troops marched past to the airs of various "regimentals," played by the massed bands:

5th and 14th Field Artillery.
3rd Dragoons and 4th Hussars.
16th, 40th, 45th, 46th, 47th and 49th, Regiments of Infantry.

The troops presented a very smart appearance, and the Inspecting General was favourably impressed by the marching of the men.

General Notes.

One of the most popular commanding officers in camp is Lieut.-Col. W. W. Brown of Colborne. Lt.-Col. Brown has come up from the ranks, and saw service in South Africa. He is of a very soldierly appearance, and is highly esteemed by the men of all ranks.

Gentleman cadet Victor Nordheimer of Toronto, is attached to the cavalry brigade under Lt.-Col. Clyde. Cadet Nordheimer is quite popular amongst the officers of the Third Dragoons with whom he messes.

Capt. McLaughlin, who is in command of A Squadron, comes from Bowmanville, where he is a successful practising barrister.

Capt. Garvin, the very efficient quartermaster of the Third Dragoons, who is noted for his poetical pretensions, has composed a regimental song, and dedicated it to his regiment. Capt. Garvin has composed both the words and music, and is busy teaching his fellow-officers the air. The song is certainly a good effort.

Kingston is as dead as it is possible for a city to be, without having its charter as a city revoked. Very few of the soldiers in camp now-a-days bother going into the city to spend the evenings as there is very little entertainment afforded. The street cars are a thing of the past, and but little activity is in evidence. The soldiers at the Kingston camp find more entertainment on the camp grounds.

Lt.-Col. E. E. Edwards of Peterborough, who is in command of one of the infantry brigades, is regarded as one of the best Brigadiers in the entire division.

Many expressions of regret at the absence from camp of Lt. Percy Price, are heard. Lt. Price is in New Ontario.

CONTRIBUTIONS HAVE BEEN LARGE

$6,000 Has Been Collected in Town.

For Queen's University Endowment Fund—$100 Recieved From Yukon.

Since Rev. Alfred Gandier preached here, some weeks ago, Rev. J. J. Wright has been prosecuting a canvas on behalf of the Dominion movement for the endowment of Queen's University, and from our own city alone, though the canvas is not yet completed, the donations have reached the sum of $6,000.

One feature which seems to appeal to a great many is the gift of $100, which secures the right to nominate one student to attend classes in Arts for four years free of fees. Twenty have already taken advantage of this privilege.

A contribution was this morning received by Mr. Wright from White Horse, in the far-off Yukon. This is the third contribution from the far north, and it shows the wide-spread influence of this institution.

THROWN FROM MILK WAGGON

Mr. Jesse Lowther Received Severe Injury Yesterday.

Accident Occurred in Smith Township—Patient Now at Nicholls Hospital.

Mr. Jesse Lowther, Hunter street, yesterday sustained a most unfortunate and severe injury as the result of an accident.

Mr. Lowther was engaged in driving a milk wagon on which were a number of cans, to the fourth line of Smith cheese factory, when the team took fright and bolted, throwing him heavily to the ground. The extent of the injuries received are not yet fully known, but it was found upon examination that several ribs were broken, one of which had been driven into the lung.

The injured man was removed to his home in Peterborough, where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Morgan, who afterwards had him removed to the Nicholls Hospital.

Mr. Lowther is to-day resting as easily as may be expected and if no unlooked for developments occur, an early recovery is hoped for.

RUNAWAY CAUSED SOME EXCITEMENT

Dr. Scott's Horse Broke Away in a Spirited Dash.

Dr. Scott's horse this morning while tied in the shade in front of his residence Brock street, became alarmed for some unknown cause and did a rather exciting hot-weather stunt.

The animal which is a rather spirited one made a dash down Chamberlain street with buggy attached, and after devious turnings upon Stewart, Brock and Water streets, concluded its flight at the Nicholls Hospital where it was captured. No damage happily, resulted.

MUTINEERS HAVE SURRENDERED

Potemkine's Crew in Hands of Roumanian Authorities.

Asked for Passports and Guarantee That They Shall Not be Extradited.

Special to the Examiner

Kustonji Roumania July 8. — The mutinous crews of the Kniaz Potemkine and her consort the rebel torpedo boat have surrendered to the Roumania authorities. Have been landed and are now being despatched in small parties to different places in Roumania. The mutineers offered to present the battleship to the Roumania Government as they declared they are anxious that she should not be handed over to Russia. The mutineers asked the Roumania authorities to guarantee that they would furnish the sailors who surrendered with Roumania passports and also to guarantee that they shall not be extradited to Russia.

EYE PAINFULLY INJURED SIGHT MAY BE LOST

Miss Moloney Meets with a Most Distressing Accident.

Mary Ann Moloney an unmarried woman a member, in a domestic capacity of the household of Mr. Calcutt, Fifth Ward, yesterday met with a very painful accident. She went to a dimly lighted kitchen closet and in stooping to reach some object on the floor her eye came in violent contact with the point of a saucepan handle which penetrated to some depth. Surgical aid was at once summoned and the patient removed to St. Joseph's Hospital. The doctors can't say yet whether or not it will be necessary to remove the injured eye.

CAME FOR HEALTH AND FOUND DEATH

Demise of Mr. Richard Allison, of Toronto, Yesterday.

Yesterday, Mr. Richard Allison, a brother of Mrs. C. Clemence, 7 Walton street, city, died rather suddenly. Mr. Allison, who resided in Toronto, and who has been suffering from ill-health for four or five years, came down to Peterborough some time ago for the benefit of his health, and was the guest of his sister. It had been arranged that Mr. Allison should go to Buckhorn for a short stay, but yesterday uraemic convulsions set in with fatal results. Deceased was unmarried, and has several relatives residing in Toronto and other places. The funeral, which will be private, will take place on Monday from Mr. Clemence's residence, 7 Walton street.

DIED

A LARGE ESTATE AND SIMPLE WILL

The Late Mrs. Cox Left $582,000—Estate Bequeathed to Husband.

(Toronto Star.)

The will of the late Mrs. Margaret Cox, wife of Senator George A. Cox, was filed for probate by Malone, Malone & Holden in the Surrogate Court to-day. It is a very brief and simple document, typewritten on one page of paper, and it contains only three provisions. These are as follows:—

"I hereby revoke all former wills and testimentary dispositions of my estate.

"I appoint my husband, the Honourable George Albertus Cox, to be the executor of this my will.

"I give, devise, and bequeath to my said husband, all my estate real and personal, of every nature and kind, in whatsoever situate, for his sole and only use."

The value of the estate is $582,181.10 and the real estate comprises nearly half of that amount. It is estimated at $256,800, and the balance, $325,281.10, is made up of stock shares and cash.

There are three properties included in the real estate valuation. The Home Bank site, at 8 and 10 King street west, the property at 144 Yonge street, a present leased to Benjamin Kent, and an undivided two-thirds interest in part of the block on which the Robert Simpson Company's store is situated, are the three. The latter property is irregular in shape, having a 24-foot frontage on Yonge street, near Richmond, and is leased to Joseph Logan Thompson. The other property is a summer residence at Peterborough.

The Province is made richer by almost $30,000 by this will, for the succession duties, computed at the 5 per cent. rate, amount to $29,109.05.

THE POTEMKINE IS STILL AFLOAT

Escaped Her Pursuers and Is a Fugitive in Black Sea---To be Taken or Destroyed---The Torpedo Boat Destroyer Smetilvy and the Black Sea Fleet are Hot on Her Trail, According to St. Petersburg Despatch---Theodosia Protected Now--Gen. Linevitch Has Trouble.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—According to the latest reports the Knias Potemkine has escaped her pursuers, and is still at large in the Black Sea with the torpedo boat destroyer Smetilvy and the Black Sea fleet hot on her trail. There is little doubt that she is heading for Poti or Bateum, but no despatches from either place had been received up to 2 o'clock this morning.

Advices received by the Associated Press indicate that the tension is increasing in the Caucasus, where the tubulent elements are excited over reports regarding the condition of the fleet.

To Take or Destroy.

Odessa, July 8.—Vice-Admiral Chouknin has telegraphed the Governor-General of Odessa that the Black Sea fleet has been ordered to capture or destroy the Knias Potemkine.

Theodosia Protected Now.

Theodosia, July 8.—A Russian warship has arrived to protect the town. The inhabitants, who fled while the Knias Potemkine was in port, are returning.

Investigating Mutiny.

Sebastopol, July 8.—A naval magistrate is investigating a mutiny on the transport Prout.

One hundred and fifty sailors of the Prout has been imprisoned in the fortress here, and the others are still on board.

Linevitch Has Trouble.

London, July 8.—The Tokio correspondent of The Daily Telegraph declares that Gen. Linevitch has sentenced several Russian officers to death for circulating seditious circulars and, on the authority of the paper's Japanese correspondent at Moji, Japan, asserts that all Poles and Jews in Linevitch's army are mutinous and are constantly surrendering so as to enjoy a pleasant captivity as prisoners of Japan.

MISSING IN RUSSIA.

New York Friends of Lewis Nixon Are Now Getting Anxious.

New York, July 8.—Failure to receive answers to cablegrams sent to Lewis Nixon, head of the Perth Amboy Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., who went to Russia to reconstruct the navy for that country has caused apprehension among Mr. Nixon's friends in America, especially as it is pointed out that he has completed several warships that may be used against the mutineers.

In St. Petersburg it was announced Thursday that the shipbuilder's silence was probably due to the rigid censorship maintained there, and not to any danger to himself.

Four hundred fighting vessels of all classes, it is reported are to be built under the personal direction of the American shipbuilder in as short a time as possible. He went to Sebastopol June 1.

The Russell

Don't buy an Automobile because it has an attractive array of brass fittings.

The only satisfactory Automobiles are those on which particular attention has been devoted to the machinery.

The RUSSELL car received that particular attention. It was built to meet the requirements of the Canadian motorist—built to stand the hard knocks it will probably get on the average Canadian road.

It is speedy-has good power-12 to 15 horse power—is comfortable to travel in because of the long wheel base. Most attractive in design. Sells with regular equipement at $1500.

Five RUSSELL Automobiles left Toronto last week to make a tour of Ontario and Quebec. One will pass your way. Watch for it.

HEAVY FINE IMPOSED ON JAMES REVOY

Appears in Court for Assaulting Dennis Sullivan.

J. Primeau barber, and Mr. MacKnight photographer, appeared at this morning's police court, charged with having signs on the outside of the sidewalk but as they had removed these they were allowed to go.

The chief interest centered in the assault case of Sullivan vs. Revoy. Revoy pleaded guilty of assaulting Sullivan in the latter's home on the evening of July 6th. Sullivan said that Revoy had been paying court to his daughter and kept irregular hours and that he had warned him to cease coming to his house. Last Thursday evening Revoy came to his house on the invitation of his wife and daughter and he had met him in the hall with an ax and he was going to have his life or Revoy would have his. But Revoy went into the sitting room with the ladies while he went to sleep in the kitchen. Revoy came out in twenty minutes and struck him in the face inflicting a cut below the right eye.

Dr. Coughlin said the wound was about an inch and three-quarters long and required four stitches. It appeared to have been made with a sharp instrument.

Revoy said that Sullivan had told him to keep away from his house and that on Thursday evening he had met him in the hall with a hatchet. When he came out of the sitting room he saw Sullivan in a chair near the kitchen door with a hatchet and then he struck him with his hand.

The magistrate said there was no reason why a young man should court his girl and beat his father-in-law and if there was any attachment between the young people they would have to do their courting outside. A fine of $20 and costs was imposed amounting to $28.15.

EXPERIENCE OF A BIRCHTOWN LADY

Tried in Vain to Cure Her Dyspepsia till She Used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets—They Cured Her Completely and Permanently.

Miss Mary Brown, of Birchtown, Shelburne Co., Nova Scotia, relates an experience that is of immediate interest to thousands of people in all parts of Canada. These thousands are the people who face a square meal with mingled feelings of pleasure and dread, in other words the victims of indigestion and dyspepsia.

"I can say I had dyspepsia for some time," says Miss Brown. "I tried many medicines but never met with anything to help me till I used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets."

"After taking three boxes I think they have made a perfect cure. And as it is over a year now since I took them I think I can safely say the cure was a permanent one."

If you want to eat three square meals a day and enjoy them use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

—Two memorandum books were picked up in Victoria Park after the band concert last night, containing letters and papers addressed to Wm. Bell, 87 Bloyd street, Cleveland, Ohio, also two railway and boat tickets to Peterborough and return, and a letter dated April 30, 1905, to his mother, Mary Bell, Peterborough. Owner may have same by calling at police station.

"OZONE" IT'S BEST FORM

The prompt and permanent removal of any internal germs is most surely affected by the use of "Solution of Ozone" if it's 'the coupon kind.' It means the liquified oxygen is in the most concentrated form and that in addition is given free with either the fifty cent size or the one dollar size of the solution a coupon good for a twenty-five cent package of "Celery King." This splendid tonic laxative is needed to obtain the best results in the use of the stringent "Ozone without lessening its curative properties. The Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg, Ont. control exclusively the manufacture of both "Solution of Ozone" and "Celery King." Sold by W. B. WARNE. 10

LAWSON TALKS OF THE SYSTEM

His Address in Ottawa, Kansas, This Afternoon.

His Remedy for the Wrongs Depicted by Him—A Spirited Address.

Special to the Examiner

Ottawa, Kansas, July 8th.—To-day Mr. Thos. Lawson, of "Frenzied Finance" fame gave an address to an immense crowd of people. His visit to the State in which the fight of the people against the Standard Oil interests has been the most bitter, having aroused great interest. Speaking of his object in coming to Kansas, Mr. Lawson said:—

"I have come to Kansas on a simple mission—to point out to you that the American people are being robbed, by whom, how and what the consequences will be if the robbery is not staid and an example made of the robbers. I know whereof I speak, and I know my audience. Despite its present supineness I know that when the American people digest the brutal facts that I have to lay before them, and realize that they are absolutely in the power of a few men—and these few the foulest robbers this side of hell—they will stop for one brief minute to pull themselves together and—

Men and women of Kansas—No race since Father Time took down his scythe and went forth with bow lower to God's and man's laws than the American people, but let the American people once get it firmly into their heads that in their midst is a power working for the annihilation of their comforts, their happiness and their freedom—once let them really move sure, and they will rise and go forth, and before they return there will have been placed between the covers of history pages that will need no bookmark for coming generations to open to; there will have been added to the world's history pages so black and so red that those telling of the doings of St. Petersburg and Paris will appear as though printed with chalk and water.

You don't like this thought—neither do I, but shall I remain silent because the truth—I must tell are unpalatable and unflattering? It is my duty to describe to you the terrible conditions I am coming in upon you, so you may be warned before it is too late.

What right have I to speak more than another, you ask?

I speak of a subject that I have spent my life studying. I know the robbers and their methods. I have hunted with their pack and been barried by their hounds. I have felt the yoke of the "System" round my own neck and have thrown it off. Mine is a voice from the prison house, and my statements are not the assumptions of a closet financier or a book-worm student. I speak out of a full knowledge of the facts, and I demand your attention because you need the assistance I can render to you.

After a spirited recital of the wrongs which he claimed existed, Mr. Lawson went on to speak of the remedy proposed by him and said:—

About the course of procedure I am advising, there is nothing complex, confusing or dangerous. When I put forth this plan of ending the regime of the "System", a great cry of murder and anarchy went up from Wall Street. One might think from the outcry that I had suggested bursting New York. Let me assure you that all the injury will be to the thousand millionaires—all the rest to you seventy-nine odd millions of people. At present the American people can get high prices for their stocks and bonds, two to two and a half times as much as they are worth, 50 or 100 per cent. more than they could have got 18 months ago—they can get real money for them, and for this they can get as much interest on government, state, city or town bonds, or upon real estate mortgages as can be honestly promised for any legitimate business. If eventually it should turn out that there is nothing in my movement, all that it is necessary for the people to do is to repurchase from the "System" the stocks and bonds they have sold.

Make no mistake. My crusade against Frenzied Finance and its votaries and their plundering, robbing game will be carried to a finish. I shall keep dinning into the ears of the American people the brutal facts of their injuries until I rouse them to action. I shall keep urging them to sell all their stocks and bonds until they sell them. I am on the trail—and, if necessary, I shall tramp bare-footed summer and winter through every town and hamlet in the United States until I accomplish my purpose and complete this reform. If I like, the American people will sell their stocks and bonds.

When the proper time comes to announce my remedy, I shall set it forth, shall operate it, and prove its efficiency through its practicality will be apparent at a glance. In operation it will benefit all alike, the farmer, the labourer, the producer and consumer first, and the honest possessor of capital second. The conditions for its application are such that no man can misuse it or turn it into an instrument for his personal benefit. This cannot be done at the beginning or at the end or at any time. I, its inventor, shall be as powerless to interfere, change or tranmute as any one else.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

Interesting Extracts From The Examiner of 25 Years Ago.

The Examiner begins the publication to-day of a series of news items of events that happened just a quarter of a century ago—in the year 1880. If the idea is appreciated by readers, these items will appear once a week, and will be for the corresponding week of the year 1880, etc. Old files of the Examiner have been utilized, and the items will be chiefly of a local nature. From a corresponding date, 25 years ago, the following are taken:—

Mr. Bailey, chief engineer of the Nipissing Railway, and Mr. George A. Stewart, Wednesday made an examination of the town and Ashburnham sides of the river with a view of examining available sites for a bridge in connection with the proposed Toronto and Ottawa Railway.

The committee appointed at the meeting last week to take steps to represent Peterborough in the contribution to the memorial monument to Hon. George Brown, have opened subscriptions at the Review and Examiner offices, and at the places of business of Messrs. Bertram & Co., J. McClelland, McKee and Davidson, Davidson's Bookstore, T. Menzies, Ormond & Walsh, Adam Hall, Wilson & Davis, John Erskine, and P. Connal & Co.

A destructive fire occurred on Harvey street, on Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, the extensive cooperage of Mr. John Britton being completely destroyed, together with a number of residences close by.

"The collection taken up at the band concert on Thursday night was somewhat of an improvement on former occasions."

With his usual enterprise Mr. H. Calcutt has succeeded in making arrangements for excursion tickets by which for $1.50 you can go by steamer Golden Eye from here to Harwood, from that place by rail to Cobourg, and return by way of the G.T.R. and Midland to Peterborough.

At the meeting of the town council on Saturday there were present His Worship Mayor Lundy, and Councillors Taylor, Smith, McNaughton, Paterson, Dunsford, Toole, Deane and Robertson.

The fortnightly pay list for the labourers engaged in street cleaning and repairs, handed in by Inspector Johnston, amounted to $376.

The corporation invite tenders for the erection of a hose tower.

Dominion Day was celebrated by a lacrosse match in the morning, between teams captained by Robert Lee and Jas. Dolan; a fire brigade parade, baby show and games in the afternoon; and a torch-light procession and fireworks display at night on the Court House grounds. The Golden Eye ran a cheap excursion to Idyl-Wild.

THIS MUSICIAN IS DELIGHTED

His Kidney Disease and Gravel Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Tried Many Medicines but got no Relief Till He Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Rosedene, Ont., July 7th. (Special.)—Mr. Samuel J. Crow, the well-known musician of this place, relates an experience that adds to the already great popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this locality.

"I suffered for years with Kidney Trouble," says Mr. Crow, "which became aggravated with every attack of cold and caused me much agony. The disease developed into Gravel, and I was totally unfit for anything.

"I tried different remedies, without the desired result, and was in much misery when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, when to my astonishment and delight I immediately began to recover.

"After using five boxes the ailment had entirely ceased and I was again enjoying perfect vigour, all of which I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

The fact that Gravel yields so readily to Dodd's Kidney Pills is good news indeed as it does away with those terrible operations that were supposed to be the only relief from this trouble.

GOOD PRICES ON THE MARKET

Demand was Brisk but the Showing was not Large.

There was a good attendance at the inside market this morning, but on the square there was a poor showing. Prices were good as well also the demand. The prices for eggs and butter were uniform, 17 and 20 cents being asked. There was also a number of pairs of chickens on hand at 65, 75 and 80 cents per pair.

On the square there was an increase in the variety of garden produce offered. Potatoes were $1.25 per bag, beans 10 cents per quart, peas 25 cents per peck, strawberries and gooseberries 10 cents per box, and red and white currants were 5 and 8 cents per box.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Listen to What Dr. Hartman Proposes to Do for You Without Charge.

Doubtless hundreds of thousands of women all over the United States have seen Dr. Hartman's offer in the papers—how he has undertaken to treat every woman suffering with any form of female disease who will write to him, free of charge.

To those who have not heard of this it may be said that Dr. Hartman is a physician and surgeon of great renown in medical circles, especially in the treatment of those diseases which women alone have to bear.

He has arranged to answer all letters that are sent to him from women troubled with any form of female weakness, free of charge, giving the benefit of knowledge which has cost him forty years to accumulate.

The medicines he prescribes are within the reach of any woman, and she can get them at any drug store.

All she is required to do is to send her name and address, together with her symptoms, duration of sickness and age.

Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Senator Roach, of Larimore, N. Dak.; Mrs. Senator Warren, of Cheyenne, Wyo.; Belva Lockwood and Mrs. General Longstreet, of Washington, D. C., are among the prominent ladies who indorse Peruna.

Miss Helen Rolof, Kaukauna, Wis., writes:

"Several times during the past two years or more my system has been greatly in need of a tonic, and at those times Peruna has been of great help in building up the system, restoring my appetite and securing restful sleep."—Helen Rolof.

Miss Muriel Armitage, 36 Greenwood Ave., Detroit, Mich., District Organizer of the Royal Templars of Temperance, writes as follows:

"I suffered for five years with uterine irregularities, which brought on hysteria and made me a physical wreck. I tried doctors from the different schools of medicine, but without any perceptible change in my condition. In my despair I called on an old nurse, who advised me to try Peruna, and promised good results if I would persist and take it regularly. I kept this up for six months, and steadily gained strength and health, and when I had used fifteen bottles I considered myself entirely cured. I am a grateful, happy woman to-day."—Miss Muriel Armitage.

Miss Lucy M. Riley, 36 Davenport St., Cleveland, Ohio, writes:

"I wish to add my indorsement to thousands of other women who have been cured through the use of Peruna. I suffered for five years with severe backache, and when weary or worried in the least I had prolonged headache. I am now in perfect health, enjoy life and have neither an ache or pain, thanks to Peruna."—Lucy M. Riley.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

NON PARTIZAN LICENSE LAW

Of all the hollow pretensions to non-partisanship in the administration of the public affairs of Ontario, made by the Conservative Government, none is more hollow than that claimed for the enforcement of the license law. Mr. Whitney excused his opposition to prohibition on the ground of his preference for a rigid administration of the license law, "removed from political control." Mr Whitney was taken at his word and entrusted with the power of removing license law administration from political influences. We all know the result — that never before, in the history of the law, has conspicuous, overt, aggressive partizanship, been more persistently to the front, than since the present Government took office. We know that License Boards have been appointed from political considerations, and on the recommendation of local party committees. We know that license inspectors appointed by the late Government have been dismissed wholesale, sometimes, possibly, for justifiable reasons, but in numerous cases first class inpectors, who happened to be Liberal, have been discharged, contrary to the temperance sentiment and wish of the locality affected, and replaced by red hot partisans. No one disputes the rights of the victors to seise the spoils, but when such seizure is made upon the hypocritical ground of procuring more efficient administration, it is to say the least, worthy of remark. Though little is needed to show the absurdity of such pretensions, it may be well to furnish a little concrete evidence. Mr. Thomas Smith, former license inspector, Ottawa, is out with a scathing denunciation of the Ontario Government. He is one of the victims of the new "non-partisan license system." When the Whit- Government came in he was one of those marked for decapitation, but no action was taken to dismiss him. Mr. Smith's resignation was asked for "in the hope that the law might be more effectively administered." Mr. Smith refused to resign, but he wrote a stinging letter to the department, which contained the following:—

"Having held office for some months under commissioners appointed by the Hon. the Provincial Secretary, I know it to be the grossest hypocrisy to pretend that the proposed change is for the more effective administration of the law. What has come under my observation here since January last convinces me that what the Government really hope for and intend is the administration of the liquor license law on a purely partisan basis. I had the honour of holding office under the late administration for about four years under different boards of commissioners, and during those years political considerations never affected my actions or the actions of the board. A year ago, owing to the decision of the City Council, the number of licenses to be issued here was reduced by ten. Seven of the ten cut off were Liberal. Under the new administration ten licenses previously held by Liberals were cut off and the same ten licenses given to ten Conservatives. Notably in two instances renewals were refused because the holders were Liberals, and for no other reason. As such has already been the practice in Ottawa, it is quite natural that the department wishes to be rid of me, but I am not disposed to make easy the way of the Hon. the Provincial Secretary or the Government. If they want my position that their hands may be surer to make the administration of the liquor license law an instrument of political partisanship, they must take it from me. I most respectfully decline to accede to the hon. the Provincial Secretary's polite request to resign. If he wants my head he should lop it off in a manly way, and not ask me to decapitate myself. I will not resign, and until I am properly removed from office shall decline to hand over the property in my charge to the person said to be appointed in anticipation of the resignation the hon. the Provincial Secretary so considerately desires."

The Provincial Department argued that passage of an order in Council appointing Ald. J. C. Knright was tantamount to the dismissal of Mr Smith. This, however, the latter refused to concede. At the last meeting of the board he presented himself as usual, but the Chairman took possession of the books and installed Ald. Knright as inspector. Comment would be superfluous.

LITERARY CITIZEN'S PRONOUNCED SUCCESS

Mr. Hampden Burnham's "Marcelle"; a Splendid Contribution to Canadian Literature---A Historical Novel of Strong Literary and Dramatic Qualities.

To the many claims to the consideration and esteem of the public of Peterborough, which Mr. Hampden Burnham has established as a gentleman and a citizen, he has added a new and powerful claim, not only up-Peterboroughnians, but Canadians as a whole, in respect of a splendid work of authorship—"Marcelle." "Marcelle; an Historical Novel" is the simple title of a new book from the pen of Mr. Burnham, published by Wm. Briggs, Toronto, in a style and typography, highly creditable to Canadian bookmaking art. But these are distinctly subordinate to the high literary and it may be safely added, dramatic art, represented by the book. "Marcelle" is more than a picture of the period of Canadian history with which it deals—the latter part of the 17th century. In its fidelity to the historical record, in its careful reproduction of the spirit of that age, in its revelation of the springs that controlled and moved the civic, ecclesiastical and social elements of the period it has all the faithful minuteness of a photograph. It is a historical novel in which the reader learns Canadian history or revives his or her early knowledge of it. This history is not in the form of a naked bolus with the ungarnished wholesome bitterness of utility, but is delightfully sugar-coated, enmeshed in a tangle of charming romance skilfully woven, yet true to life and the human passions that prompt human actions. Louis de Baude, Count de Frontenac was at the time of the story, the Louis XIV of Canada. The colony was composed largely of representatives of the French nobility, who sought Canada, fired with the lust of conquest or of gain, and the spirit of adventure, excited by the discovery of Columbus or rather Cabot and Cartier, nearly two centuries previously. Some of these nobles remained attached to the mimic court set up at Quebec. Some—the more adventurous and reckless—drifted into the heart of the wilderness and into the ways of the coureurs de bois or bushrangers, and married sometimes the elite of the Indian women. One of these, Black John, an old coureur de bois, or illicit trader, had a daughter, Marcelle, who to the beauty of her Indian mother added the high spirit of the French noblesse inherited from her bushranging father, who had good blood in his degenerate body. One, Latour of Quebec, in charge of an expedition became separated from his party and took refuge one wintry night at the hut of Black John, brought in by a Huron brave, in love with Marcelle, as she was with him. But Marcelle, proves herself more of a woman than a sweetheart. With her imagination fired by Latour's tales of the splendours of the court and society at Quebec, during the absence of her father, she yields to the temptation of her curiosity as did Mother Eve and many another woman since, deserts her father and the Huron, but with the intention of returning after she had seen the city, and goes with Latour to Quebec, where she comes under the protection of King Frontenac. Her beauty and her innate grace of movement and deportment created a sensation at court and in society. She excited the jealousy of other belles and the hatred of mothers with daughters to wed. She caught the fancy of Philip Beauharnais, a French noble, and the heady Frontenac arranged a marriage. Marcelle was not much inclined to this—her vanity was pleased but her heart often went back to her Huron lover. But Frontenac had his way, as he did in nearly all things in the government of the colony. The wedding is duly solomnised and the occasion celebrated by elaborate festivities due to the importance of even the wild-wood ward of Frontenac, one feature being an improvised play in which Marcelle was to be captured by raiding Iroquois and rescued. The Montagnais who was to impersonate the rescuer, failed to appear, and St. Just, a French officer, had picked up a stalwart Indian who consented to act the part. As the rescuer comes in view of the captive Marcelle, she shrieks, "The Huron!"—her forest lover—who seizes her fainting and carries her off the stage. Her failure to reappear as the plot provides, confirms the fear that the heroine has been carried off in reality. Of course there is wild excitement and instant pursuit, and the description of this pursuit and its results forms perhaps one of the most thrilling and dramatic situations in a story where such situations frequently occur. The interest of some possible readers would be diminished by further development here of the plot of the story which is, in every way, worth reading. This book is rightly termed "Marcelle." She is the centre of interest and the exciting incidents cunningly woven about her. The story is full of life which never grows flimsy, for the writer fails to allow himself to become dull. From the opening chapter till the end, the pages are studded with moving incidents of flood and field. The story illustrates the omnipotence of love, triumphant over the allurements of state, pomp and worldly display, and in connection with its progress, vivid pictures are given of the life of intrigue, petty jealousies, heartburnings, plots and counter plots that characterized the Canadian capital of the time, with the rival interests of church and state each striving for mastery and success. The literary style of the narrative is of a high order. The descriptive passages sparing enough and good enough to excite the wish for more, are nicely conceived and expressed without turgidity of style or inflation of language, the didactic paragraphs are few, the historical features being largely incidental to the working out of the scheme of the story. As remarked, the book has a strongly dramatic character—a charming story is well told and Marcelle may be characterized as one of the strongest and most charming literary productions of its kind, and is a distinctly creditable addition to the historical literature relating to the early and romantic days of Canada. "Marcelle" opens a delightful view of the stage and the actions of the players in an international drama that decided the racial character of a continent. This stage is merely the background, however, of a finely written love story told without mawkish sentimentality—drawn by a strong hand, even though it may have never trembled under the emotions whose history and workings are a perennial source of human interest. Mr. Burnham is to be heartily congratulated upon the success of his latest literary venture. It is distinctly his best work, a credit to himself, to the city of his residence and to the nascent literature of what Sir Wilfrid Laurier calls the country of the Twentieth Century.

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

(Copyright, 1905, by McClure, Phillips & Co.)

WE have had some dramatic entrances and exits upon our small stage at Baker street, but I cannot recollect anything more sudden and startling than the first appearance of Dr. Thorneycroft Huxtable, M. A., Ph. D., etc. His card, which seemed too small to carry the weight of his academic distinctions, preceded him by a few seconds, and then he entered himself, so large, so pompous and so dignified that he was the very embodiment of self possession and solidity. And yet his first action when the door had closed behind him was to stagger against the table, whence he slipped down upon the floor, and there was that majestic figure prostrate and insensible upon our bearskin hearth rug.

We had sprung to our feet, and for a few moments we stared in silent amazement at this ponderous piece of wreckage, which told of some sudden and fatal storm far out on the ocean of life. Then Holmes hurried with a cushion for his head and I with brandy for his lips. The heavy, white face was seamed with lines of trouble; the hanging pouches under the closed eyes were leaden in color; the loose mouth drooped dolorously at the corners; the rolling chins were unshaven. Collar and shirt bore the grime of a long journey, and the hair bristled unkempt from the well shaped head. It was a sorely stricken man who lay before us.

"What is it, Watson?" asked Holmes.

"Absolute exhaustion, possibly mere hunger and fatigue," said I, with my finger on the thready pulse, where the stream of life trickled thin and small.

"Return ticket from Mackleton, in the north of England," said Holmes, drawing it from the watch pocket. "It is not 12 o'clock yet. He has certainly been an early starter."

The pushcord eyelids had begun to quiver, and now a pair of vacant gray eyes looked up at us. An instant later the man had scrambled on to his feet, his face crimson with shame.

"Forgive this weakness, Mr. Holmes. I have been a little overwrought. Thank you, if I might have a glass of milk and a biscuit I have no doubt that I should be better. I came personally, Mr. Holmes, in order to insure that you would return with me. I feared that no telegram would convince you of the absolute urgency of the case."

"When you are quite restored"—

"I am quite well, again. I cannot imagine how I came to be so weak. I wish you, Mr. Holmes, to come to Mackleton with me by the next train."

My friend shook his head.

"My colleague, Dr. Watson, could tell you, that we are very busy at present. I am retained in this case of the Ferrers documents, and the Abergavenny murder is coming up for trial. Only a very important issue could call me from London at present."

"Important!" Our visitor threw up his hands. "Have you heard nothing of the abduction of the only son of the Duke of Holdernesse?"

"What! The late cabinet minister?"

"Exactly. We had tried to keep it out of the papers, but there was some rumor in the Globe last night. I thought it might have reached your ears."

Holmes shot out his long, thin arm and picked out volume "H" in his encyclopaedia of reference.

"'Holdernesse, sixth duke, K. G., P. C.'—half the alphabet! 'Baron Beverley, earl of Carston'—dear me, what a list! 'Lord lieutenant of Hallamshire since 1900. Married Edith, daughter of Sir Charles Appledore, 1888. Heir and only child, Lord Saltire. Owns about 190,000 acres. Minerals in Lancashire and Wales. Address, Carlton House Terrace; Holdernesse Hall, Hallamshire; Carston castle, Bangor, Wales. Lord of the admiralty, 1872; chief secretary of state for—' Well, well, this man is certainly one of the greatest subjects of the crown!"

"The greatest and perhaps the wealthiest. I am aware, Mr. Holmes, that you take a very high line in professional matters and that you are prepared to work for the work's sake. I may tell you, however, that his grace has already intimated that a check for £5000 will be handed over to the person who can tell him where his son is and another thousand to him who can name the man or men who have taken him."

"It is a princely offer," said Holmes. "Watson, I think that we shall accompany Dr. Huxtable back to the north of England. And now, Dr. Huxtable, when you have consumed that milk you will kindly tell me what has happened, when it happened, how it happened, and finally, what Dr. Thorneycroft Huxtable of the Priory school, near Mackleton, has to do with the matter and why he comes three days after an event—the state of your chin gives the date—to ask for my humble services."

Our visitor had consumed his milk and biscuits, the light had come back to his eyes and the color to his cheeks as he set himself with great vigor and lucidity to explain the situation.

"I must inform you, gentlemen, that the Priory is a preparatory school of which I am the founder and principal. 'Huxtable's Side Lights on Horace' may possibly recall my name to your memories. The Priory is without exception the best and most select preparatory school in England. Lord Leverstoke, the Earl of Blackwater, Sir Cathcart Soames—they all have intrusted their sons to me. But I felt that my school had reached its zenith when, three weeks ago, the Duke of Holdernesse sent Mr. James Wilder, his secretary, with the intimation that young Lord Saltire, ten years old, his only son and heir, was about to be committed to my charge. Little did I think that this would be the prelude to the most crushing misfortune of my life.

"On May 1 the boy arrived, that being the beginning of the summer term. He was a charming youth, and he soon fell into our ways. I may tell you—I trust that I am not indiscreet, but half confidences are absurd in such a case—that he was not entirely happy at home. It is an open secret that the duke's married life had not been a peaceful one, and the matter had ended in a separation by mutual consent, the duchess taking up her residence in the south of France. This had occurred very shortly before, and the boy's sympathies are known to have been strongly with his mother. He moped after her departure from Holdernesse Hall, and it was for this reason that the duke desired to send him to my establishment. In a fortnight the boy was quite at home with us and was apparently absolutely happy.

"He was last seen on the night of May 13—that is, the night of last Monday. His room was on the second floor and was approached through another larger room, in which two boys were sleeping. These boys saw and heard nothing, so that it is certain that young Saltire did not pass out that way. His window was open, and there is a stout ivy plant leading to the ground. We could trace no footmarks below, but it is sure that this is the only possible exit.

"His absence was discovered at 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning. His bed had been slept in. He had dressed himself fully before going off in his usual school suit of black Eton jacket and dark gray trousers. There were no signs that any one had entered the room, and it is quite certain that anything in the nature of cried or a struggle would have been heard, since Cramer, the elder boy in the inner room, is a very light sleeper.

"When Lord Saltire's disappearance was discovered, I at once called a roll of the whole establishment—boys, masters and servants. It was then that we ascertained that Lord Saltire had not been alone in his flight. Heidegger, the German master, was missing. His room was on the second floor at the farther end of the building, facing the same way as Lord Saltire's. His bed had also been slept in, but he had apparently gone away partly dressed, since his shirt and socks were lying on the floor. He had undoubtedly let himself down by the ivy, for we could see the marks of his feet where he had landed on the lawn. His bicycle was kept in a small shed beside this lawn, and it was also gone.

"He had been with me for two years and came with the best references, but he was a silent, morose man, not very popular either with masters or boys. No trace could be found of the fugitives, and now, on Thursday morning, we are as ignorant as we were on Tuesday. Inquiry was, of course, made at once at Holdernesse Hall. It is only a few miles away, and we imagined that in some sudden attack of homesickness the boy had gone back to his father, but nothing had been heard of him. The duke is greatly agitated, and as to me—you have seen yourselves the state of nervous prostration to which the suspense and the responsibility have reduced me. Mr. Holmes, if ever you put forward your full powers I implore you to do so now, for never in your life could you have a case which is more worthy of them."

Sherlock Holmes had listened with the utmost intentness to the statement of the unhappy schoolmaster. His drawn brows and the deep furrow between them showed that he needed no exhortation to concentrate all his attention upon a problem which, apart from the tremendous interests involved, must appeal so directly to his love of the complex and the unusual. He now drew out his notebook and jotted down one or two memoranda.

"You have been very remiss in not coming to me sooner," said he severely. "You start me on my investigation with a very serious handicap. It is inconceivable, for example, that this ivy and this lawn would have yielded nothing to an expert observer."

"I am not to blame, Mr. Holmes. His grace was extremely desirous to avoid all public scandal. He was afraid of his family unhappiness being dragged before the world. He has a deep horror of anything of the kind."

"But there has been some official investigation?"

"Yes, sir, and it has proved most disappointing. An apparent clew was at once obtained, since a boy and a young man were reported to have been seen leaving a neighboring station by an early train. Only last night we had news that the couple had been hunted down in Liverpool, and they prove to have no connection whatever with the matter in hand. Then it was that in my despair and disappointment after a sleepless night I came straight to you by the early train."

"I suppose the local investigation was relaxed while this false clew was being followed up?"

"It was entirely dropped."

"So that three days have been wasted. The affair has been most deplorably handled."

"I feel it and admit it."

"And yet the problem should be capable of ultimate solution. I shall be very happy to look into it. Have you been able to trace any connection between the missing boy and this German master?'

"None at all."

"Was he in the master's class?"

"No; he never exchanged a word with him so far as I know."

"That is certainly very singular. Had the boy a bicycle?"

"No."

"Was any other bicycle missing?"

"No."

"Is that certain?"

"Quite."

"Well, now, you do not mean to seriously suggest that this German rode off upon a bicycle in the dead of the night, bearing the boy in his arms?"

"Certainly not."

"Then what is the theory in your mind?"

"The bicycle may have been a blind. It may have been hidden somewhere and the pair gone off on foot."

"Quite so, but it seems rather an absurd blind, does it not? Were there other bicycles in the shed?"

"Several."

"Would he not have hidden a couple had he desired to give the idea that they had gone off upon them?"

"I suppose he would."

"Of course he would. The blind theory won't do. But the incident is an admirable starting point for an investigation. After all, a bicycle is not an easy thing to conceal or to destroy. One other question. Did any one call to see the boy on the day before he disappeared?"

"No."

"Did he get any letters?"

"Yes, one letter."

"From whom?"

"From his father."

"Do you open the boy's letters?"

"No."

"How do you know it was from the father?"

"The coat of arms was on the envelope, and it was addressed in the duke's peculiar stiff hand. Besides, the duke remembers having written."

"When had he a letter before that?"

"Not for several days."

"Had he ever one from France?"

"No, never."

"You see the point of my questions, of course. Either the boy was carried off by force or he went of his own free will. In the latter case you would expect that some prompting from outside would be needed to make so young a lad do such a thing. If he has had no visitors, that prompting must have come in letters; hence I try to find out who were his correspondents."

"I fear I cannot help you much. His only correspondent, so far as I know, was his own father."

"Who wrote to him on the very day of his disappearance. Were the relations between father and son very friendly?"

"His grace is never very friendly with any one. He is completely immersed in large public questions and is rather inaccessible to all ordinary emotions. But he was always kind to the boy in his own way."

"But the sympathies of the latter were with the mother?"

"Yes."

"Did he say so?"

"No."

"The duke, then?"

"Good heavens, no!"

"Then how could you know?"

"I have had some confidential talks with Mr. James Wilder, his grace's secretary. It was he who gave me the information about Lord Saltire's feelings."

"I see. By the way, that last letter of the duke's—was it found in the boy's room after he was gone?"

"No; he had taken it with him. I think, Mr. Holmes, it is time that we were leaving for Euston."

"I will order a four wheeler. In a quarter of an hour we shall be at your service. If you are telegraphing home, Dr. Huxtable, it would be well to allow the people in your neighborhood to imagine that the inquiry is still going on in Liverpool or wherever else that red herring led your pack. In the meantime I will do a little quiet work at your own doors, and perhaps the scent is not so cold but that two old hounds like Watson and myself may get a sniff of it."

That evening found us in the cold, bracing atmosphere of the Peak country, in which Dr. Huxtable's famous school is situated. It was already dark when we reached it. A card was lying on the hall table, and the butler whispered something to his master, who turned to us with agitation in every heavy feature.

"The duke is here," said he. "The duke and Mr. Wilder are in the study. Come, gentlemen, and I will introduce you."

I was, of course, familiar with the pictures of the famous statesman, but the man himself was very different from his representation. He was a tall and stately person, scrupulously dressed, with a drawn, thin face and a nose which was grotesquely curved and long. His complexion was of a dead pallor, which was more startling by contrast with a long, dwindling beard of vivid red which flowed down over his white waistcoat, with his watch chain gleaming through its fringe. Such was the stately presence who looked stonily at us from the center of Dr. Huxtable's hearth rug. Beside him stood a very young man, whom I understood to be Wilder, the private secretary. He was small, servile, alert, with intelligent light blue eyes and mobile features. It was he who at once, in an incisive and positive tone, opened the conversation.

"I called this morning, Dr. Huxtable, too late to prevent you from starting for London. I learned that your object was to invite Mr. Sherlock Holmes to undertake the conduct of this case. His grace is surprised, Dr. Huxtable, that you should have taken such a step without consulting him."

"When I learned that the police had failed"—

"His grace is by no means convinced that the police have failed."

"But surely, Mr. Wilder"—

"You are well aware, Dr. Huxtable, that his grace is particularly anxious to avoid all public scandal. He prefers to take as few people as possible into his confidence."

"The matter can be easily remedied," said the browbeaten doctor. "Mr. Sherlock Holmes can return to London by the morning train."

"Hardly that, doctor; hardly that," said Holmes in his blandest voice. "This northern air is invigorating and pleasant, so I propose to spend a few days upon your moors and to occupy my mind as best I may. Whether I have the shelter of your roof or of the village inn is, of course, for you to decide."

I could see that the unfortunate doctor was in the last stage of indecision, from which he was rescued by the deep, sonorous voice of the red bearded duke, which boomed out like a dinner gong.

"I agree with Mr. Wilder, Dr. Huxtable, that you would have done wisely to consult me. But since Mr. Holmes has already been taken into your confidence it would indeed be absurd that we should not avail ourselves of his services. Far from going to the inn, Mr. Holmes, I should be pleased if you would come and stay with me at Holderpesse Hall."

"I thank your grace. For the purposes of my investigation I think that it would be wiser for me to remain at the scene of the mystery."

"Just as you like, Mr. Holmes. Any information which Mr. Wilder or I can give you is, of course, at your disposal."

"It will probably be necessary for me to see you at the hall," said Holmes. "I would only ask you now, sir, whether you have formed any explanation in your own mind as to the mysterious disappearance of your son?"

"No, sir, I have not."

"Excuse me if I allude to that which is painful to you, but I have no alternative. Do you think that the duchess had anything to do with the matter?"

The great minister showed perceptible hesitation.

"I do not think so," he said at last.

"The other most obvious explanation is that the child has been kidnaped for the purpose of levying ransom. You have not had any demand of the sort?"

"No, sir."

"One more question, your grace. I understand that you wrote to your son upon the day when this incident occurred."

"No; I wrote upon the day before."

"Exactly. But he received it on that day?"

"Yes."

"Was there anything in your letter which might have unbalanced him or induced him to take such a step?"

"No, sir; certainly not."

"Did you post that letter yourself?"

The nobleman's reply was interrupted by his secretary, who broke in with some heat.

"His grace is not in the habit of posting letters himself," said he. "This letter was laid with others upon the study table, and I myself put them in the post bag."

"You are sure this one was among them?"

"Yes; I observed it."

"How many letters did your grace write that day?"

"Twenty or thirty. I have a large correspondence. But surely this is somewhat irrelevant."

"Not entirely," said Holmes.

"For my own part," the duke continued, "I have advised the police to turn their attention to the south of France. I have already said that I do not believe that the duchess would encourage so monstrous an action, but the lad had the most wrong headed opinions, and it is possible that he may have fled to her, aided and abetted by this German. I think, Dr. Huxtable, that we will now return to the hall."

I could see that there were other questions which Holmes would have wished to put, but the nobleman's abrupt manner showed that the interview was at an end. It was evident that to his intensely aristocratic nature this discussion of his intimate family affairs with a stranger was most abhorrent and that he feared lest every fresh question would throw a fiercer light into the discreetly shadowed corners of his ducal history.

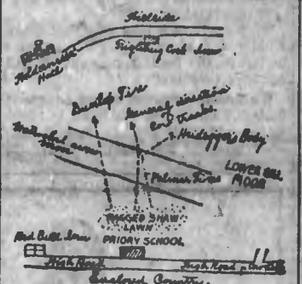
When the nobleman and his secretary had left, my friend flung himself at once with characteristic eagerness into the investigation.

The boy's chamber was carefully examined and yielded nothing save the absolute conviction that it was only through the window that he could have escaped. The German master's room and effects gave no further clew. In his case a trailer of ivy had given way under his weight, and we saw by the light of a lantern the mark on the lawn where his body had come down. That one dent in the short green grass was the only material witness left of this inexplicable nocturnal flight.

Sherlock Holmes left the house alone and only returned after 11. He had obtained a large ordnance map of the neighborhood, and this he brought into my room, where he laid it out on the bed, and, having fastened the lamp in the middle of it, he began to smoke over it and occasionally to point out objects of interest with the reeking amber of his pipe.

"This case grows upon me, Watson," said he. "There are decidedly some points of interest in connection with it. In this early stage I want you to realise these geographical features which may have a good deal to do with our investigation.

"Look at this map. This dark square is the priory school. I'll put a pin in it. Now, this line is the main road. You see that it runs east and west past the school, and you see also that there is no side road for a mile either way. If these two folk passed away by road, it was this road."



Holmes' map of the neighborhood of the school.

"Exactly."

"By a singular and happy chance we are able to some extent to check what passed along this road during the night in question. At this point, where my pipe is now resting, a county constable was on duty from 12 to 6. It is, as you perceive, the first crossroad on the east side. This man declares that he was not absent from his post for an instant, and he is positive that neither boy nor man could have gone that way unseen. I have spoken with this policeman myself, and he appears to me to be a perfectly reliable person. That blocks this end. We have now to deal with the other. There is an inn here, the Red Bull, the landlady of which was ill. She had sent to Mackleton for a doctor, but he did not arrive until morning, being absent at another case. The people at the inn were alert all night, awaiting his coming, and one or other of them seems to have continually had an eye upon the road. They declare that no one passed. If their evidence is good, then we are fortunate enough to be able to block the west and also to be able to say that the fugitives did not use the road at all."

"But the bicycle?" I objected.

"Quite so. We will come to the bicycle presently. To continue our reasoning, if these people did not go by the road they must have traversed the country to the north of the house or to the south of the house. That is certain. Let us weigh the one against the other. On the south of the house is, as you perceive, a large district of arable land, cut up into small fields, with stone walls between them. There I admit that a bicycle is impossible. We can dismiss the idea. We turn to the country on the north. Here there lies a grove of trees marked as the 'Ragged Shaw,' and on the farther side stretches a great rolling moor, Lower Gill moor, extending for ten miles and sloping gradually upward. Here, at one side of this wilderness, is Holdernesse Hall, ten miles by road, but only six across the moor. It is a peculiarly desolate plain. A few moor farmers have small holdings, where they rear sheep and cattle. Except these, the plover and the curlew are the only inhabitants until you come to the Chesterfield highroad. There is a church there, you see, as well as a few cottages [illegible]. Beyond that the hills become precipitous. Surely it is here to the north that our quest must lie."

"But the bicycle?" I persisted.

"Well, well!" said Holmes impatiently. "A good cyclist does not need a highroad. The moor is intersected with paths, and the moon was at the full. Hello! What is this?"

There was an agitated knock at the door, and an instant afterward Dr. Huxtable was in the room. In his hand he held a blue cricket cap with a white chevron on the peak.

"At last we have a clew!" he cried. "Thank heaven, at last we are on the dear boy's track! It is his cap!"

"Where was it found?"

"In the van of the gypsies who camped on the moor. They left on Tuesday. Today the police traced them down and examined their caravan. This was found."

"How do they account for it?"

"They shuffled and lied—said that they found it on the moor on Tuesday morning. They know where he is, the rascals! Thank goodness, they are all safe under lock and key. Either the fear of the law or the duke's purse will certainly get out of them all that they know."

"So far so good," said Holmes when the doctor had at last left the room. "It at least bears out the theory that it is on the side of the Lower Gill moor that we must hope for results. The police have really done nothing locally save the arrest of these gypsies. Look here, Watson! There is a water course across the moor. You see it marked here in the map. In some parts it widens into a morass. This is particularly so in the region between Holdernesse Hall and the school. It is ...im to look elsewhere for tracks in this dry weather, and at that point there is certainly a chance of some record being left. I will call you early tomorrow morning, and you and I will try if we can throw some little light upon the mystery."

The day was just breaking when I woke to find the long, thin form of Holmes by my bedside. He was fully dressed and had apparently already been out.

"I have done the lawn and the bicycle shed," said he. "I have also had a ramble through the Ragged Shaw. Now, Watson, there is cocoa ready in the next room. I must beg you to hurry, for we have a great day before us."

His eyes shone, and his cheek was flushed with the exhilaration of the master workman who sees his work lie ready before him. A very different Holmes this active, alert man from the introspective and pallid dreamer of Baker street. I felt as I looked upon that supple figure, alive with nervous energy, that it was indeed a strenuous day that awaited us.

And yet it opened in the blackest disappointment. With high hopes we struck across the peaty, russet moor, intersected with a thousand sheep paths, until we came to the broad, light green belt which marked the morass between us and Holdernesse. Certainly if the lad had gone homeward he must have passed this, and he could not pass it without leaving his traces. But no sign of him or the German could be seen. With a darkening face my friend strode along the margin, eagerly observant of every muddy stain upon the mossy surface. Sheep marks there were in profusion, and at one place, some miles down, cows had left their tracks. Nothing more.

"Check number one," said Holmes, looking gloomily over the rolling expanse of the moor. "There is another morass down yonder, and a narrow neck between. Hello! Hello! Hello! What have we here?"

We had come on a small black ribbon of pathway. In the middle of it, clearly marked on the sodden soil, was the track of a bicycle.

"Hurrah!" I cried. "We have it."

But Holmes was shaking his head, and his face was puzzled and expectant rather than joyous.

"A bicycle, certainly, but not the bicycle," said he. "I am familiar with forty-two different impressions left by tires. This, as you perceive, is a Dunlop, with a patch upon the outer cover. Heidegger's tires were Palmers, leaving longitudinal stripes. Aveling, the mathematical master, was sure upon the point. Therefore it is not Heidegger's track."

"The boy's, then?"

"Possibly, if we could prove a bicycle to have been in his possession. But this we have utterly failed to do. This track, as you perceive, was made by a rider who was going from the direction of the school."

"Or toward it?"

"No, no, my dear Watson. The more deeply sunk impression is, of course, the hind wheel, upon which the weight rests. You perceive several places where it has passed across and obliterated the more shallow mark of the front one. It was undoubtedly heading away from the school. It may or may not be connected with our inquiry, but we will follow it backward before we go any farther."

We did so, and at the end of a few hundred yards lost the tracks as we emerged from the boggy portion of the moor. Following the path backward, we picked out another spot where a spring trickled across it. Here, once again, was the mark of the bicycle, though nearly obliterated by the hoofs of cows. After that there was no sign, but the path ran right on into Ragged Shaw, the wood which backed on to the school. From this wood the cycle must have emerged. Holmes sat down on a bowlder and rested his chin in his hands. I had smoked two cigarettes before he moved.

"Well, well," said he at last. "It is of course possible that a cunning man might change the tire of his bicycle in order to leave unfamiliar tracks. A criminal who was capable of such a thought is a man whom I should be proud to do business with. We will leave this question undecided and hark back to our morass again, for we have left a good deal unexplored."

We continued our systematic survey of the edge of the sodden portion of the moor, and soon our perseverance was gloriously rewarded. Right across the lower part of the bog lay a miry path. Holmes gave a cry of delight as he approached it. An impression like a fine bundle of telegraph wires ran down the center of it. It was the Palmer tire.

"Here is Herr Heidegger, sure enough!" cried Holmes exultantly. "My reasoning seems to have been pretty sound, Watson."

"I congratulate you."

"But we have a long way still to go. Kindly walk clear of the path. Now let us follow the trail. I fear that it will not lead very far."

We found, however, as we advanced that this portion of the moor is intersected with soft patches, and, though we frequently lost sight of the track, we always succeeded in picking it up once more.

"Do you observe," said Holmes, "that the rider is now undoubtedly forcing the pace? There can be no doubt of it. Look at this impression, where you get both tires clear. The one is as deep as the other. That can only mean that the rider is throwing his weight on to the handle bar, as a man does when he is sprinting. By Jove, he has had a fall!"

There was a broad, irregular smudge covering some yards of the track. Then there were a few footmarks, and the tire reappeared once more.

"A side slip," I suggested.

Holmes held up a crumpled branch of flowering gorse. To my horror I perceived that the yellow blossoms were all dabbled with crimson. On the path, too, and among the heather were dark stains of clotted blood.

"Bad!" said Holmes. "Bad! Stand clear, Watson! Not an unnecessary footstep! What do I read here? He fell wounded—he stood up—he remounted—he proceeded. But there is no other track. Cattle on this side path. He was surely not gored by a bull? Impossible! But I see no traces of any one else. We must push on, Watson. Surely, with stains as well as the track to guide, he cannot escape us now."

Our search was not a very long one. The tracks of the tire began to curve fantastically upon the wet and shining path. Suddenly, as I looked ahead, the gleam of metal caught my eye from amid the thick gorse bushes. Out of them we dragged a bicycle. Palmer tired, one pedal bent and the whole front of it horribly smeared and slobbered with blood. On the other side of the bushes a shoe was projecting.

THE DUKE AND HIS SECRETARY.

Yet you saw for yourself. Can you suggest any fallacy?"

"He could not have fractured his skull in a fall?"

"In a morass, Watson?"

"I am at my wits' end."

"Tut, tut! We have solved some worse problems. At least we have plenty of material, if we can only use it. Come, then, and, having exhausted the Palmer, let us see what the Dunlop with the patched cover has to offer us."

We picked up the track and followed it onward for some distance, but soon the moor rose into a long, heather tufted curve, and we left the water course behind us. No further help from tracks could be hoped for. At the spot where we saw the last of the Dunlop tire it might equally have led to Holdernesse Hall, the stately towers of which rose some miles to our left, or to a low gray village which lay in front of us and marked the position of the Chesterfield highroad.

As we approached the forbidding and squalid inn with the sign of a gamecock above the door Holmes gave a sudden groan and clutched me by the shoulder to save himself from falling. He had had one of those violent strains of the ankle which leave a man helpless. With difficulty he limped up to the door, where a squat, dark elderly man was smoking a black clay pipe.

"How are you, Mr. Reuben Hayes?" said Holmes.

"Who are you, and how do you get my name so pat?" the countryman answered, with a suspicious flash of a pair of cunning eyes.

"Well, it's printed on the board above your head. It's easy to see a man who is master of his own house. I suppose you haven't such a thing as a carriage in your stables?"

"No, I have not."

"I can hardly put my foot to the ground."

"Don't put it to the ground."

"But I can't walk."

"Well, then, hop."

Mr. Reuben Hayes' manner was far from gracious, but Holmes took it with admirable good humor.

"Look here, my man," said he. "This is really rather an awkward fix for me. I don't mind how I get on."

"Neither do I," said the morose landlord.

"The matter is very important. I would offer you a sovereign for the use of a bicycle."

The landlord pricked up his ears.

"Where do you want to go?"

"To Holdernesse Hall."

"Pals of the dook, I suppose?" said the landlord, surveying our mud stained garments with ironical eyes.

Holmes laughed good naturedly.

"He'll be glad to see us anyhow."

"Why?"

"Because we bring him news of his lost son."

The landlord gave a very visible start."

"What, you're on his track?"

"He has been heard of in Liverpool. They expect to get him every hour."

Again a swift change passed over the heavy, unshaven face. His manner was suddenly genial.

"I've less reason to wish the dook well than most men," said he, "for I was his head coachman once, and cruel bad he treated me. It was him that sacked me without a character on the word of a lying corn chandler. But I'm glad to hear that the young lord was heard of in Liverpool, and I'll help you take the news to the hall."

"Thank you," said Holmes. "We'll have some food first. Then you can bring round the bicycle."

"I haven't got a bicycle."

Holmes held up a sovereign.

"I tell you, man, that I haven't got one. I'll let you have two horses as far as the hall."

"Well, well," said Holmes, "we'll talk about it when we've had something to eat."

When we were left alone in the stone flagged kitchen it was astonishing how rapidly that sprained ankle recovered. It was nearly nightfall, and we had eaten nothing since early morning, so that we spent some time over our meal. Holmes was lost in thought, and once or twice he walked over to the window and stared earnestly out. It opened on to a squalid courtyard. In the far corner was a smithy, where a grimy lad was at work. On the other side were the stables. Holmes had sat down again after one of these excursions, when he suddenly sprang out of his chair with a loud exclamation.

"By heaven, Watson, I believe that I've got it!" he cried. "Yes, yes, it must be so! Watson, do you remember seeing any cow tracks today?"

"Yes, several."

"Where?"

"Well, everywhere. They were at the morass and again near where poor Heidegger met his death."

"Exactly. Well, now, Watson, how many cows did you see on the moor?"

"I don't remember seeing any."

"Strange, Watson, that we should see tracks all along our line, but never a cow on the whole moor. Very strange, Watson, eh?"

"Yes, it is strange."

"Now, Watson, make an effort. Throw your mind back. Can you see those tracks upon the path?"

"Yes, I can."

"Can you recall that the tracks were something like that, Watson"—he arranged a number of breadcrumbs in this fashion—: : : : :—"and sometimes like this"—: . : . : . : .—"and occasionally like this"—. . . . . .

"Can you remember that?"

"No, I cannot."

"But I can. I could swear to it. However, we will go back at our leisure and verify it. What a blind beetle I have been not to draw my conclusion!"

"And what is your conclusion?"

"Only that it is a remarkable cow which walks, canters and gallops. By George, Watson, it was no brain of a country publican that thought out such a blind as that. The coast seems to be clear save for that lad in the smithy. Let us slip out and see what we can see."

There were two rough haired, unkempt horses in the tumbledown stable. Holmes raised the hind leg of one of them and laughed aloud.

"Old shoes, but newly shod; old shoes, but new nails. This case deserves to be a classic. Let us go across to the smithy."

The lad continued his work without regarding us. I saw Holmes' eye darting to right and left among the litter of iron and wood which was scattered about the floor. Suddenly, however, we heard a step behind us, and there was the landlord, his heavy eyebrows drawn down over his savage eyes, his swarthy features convulsed with passion. He held a short, metal headed stick in his hand, and he advanced in so menacing a fashion that I was right glad to feel the revolver in my pocket.

"You infernal spies!" the man cried. "What are you doing there?"

"Why, Mr. Reuben Hayes," said Holmes coolly, "one might think that you were afraid of our finding something out."

The man mastered himself with a violent effort, and his grim mouth loosened into a false laugh which was more menacing than his frown.

"You're welcome to all you can find out in my smithy," said he. "But look here, mister, I don't care for folk poking about my place without my leave, so the sooner you pay your score and get out of this the better I shall be pleased."

"All right, Mr. Hayes; no harm meant," said Holmes. "We have been having a look at your horses, but I think I'll walk, after all. It's not far, I believe."

"Not more than two miles to the hall gates. "That's the road to the left." He watched us with sullen eyes until we had left his premises.

We did not go very far along the road, for Holmes stopped the instant

A Run-Down Woman Made Well by Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Miss Jennie Thomas, of Dixville, Que., was in a run-down condition—tired, and all dragged out. Thousands of women know just how she felt.

She was given a box of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women by her family physician. She took them two weeks and then wrote us in these words:

"I have received such great benefit from taking your tablets, I desire to continue taking them two weeks longer. The benefit secured from the one box has been so great, and I feel so much better now, I am satisfied only one box more will be necessary to effect what you claim for your tablets, that is, make me again a healthy woman."

She was sent the second box. She took them and has since assured us of perfect restoration to health.

And they are doing this for women all the time. Every day we receive letters from grateful women, testifying to their gain in health since taking these tablets.

If you are in a run-down condition, or suffer from any weakness peculiar to your sex, they will restore you to perfect health. They make healthy women.

But you must do as Mrs. Thomas did—take the tablets. You will notice improvement the first week.

AUDITOR-GENERAL OUT.

Declares This to Be His Definite Intention — A Final Tilt in Public Accounts.

Ottawa, July 8.—Hon. W. S. Fielding at the public accounts committee yesterday, said that the Government would not consider any amendment to the Audit Act, and that the Auditor-General's conception of his duties was, in the estimation of the Government, erroneous.

Auditor-General Macdougall appeared before the committee and definitely declared his intention of resigning, probably to-day. He had not resigned last year because his case was before the people in the coming election, and he would await their verdict. He had then to await action by the new Parliament on his suggested amendments to the Audit Act. It appeared to him now that his suggestions would be carried out.

"In view of the fact," said Mr. Macdougall, "that I felt that there was one large expenditure that required the control of a man of experience, I felt if I got such things as appeared to me to be necessary to enable me to do the work I would be very glad to remain. But I would not remain under any circumstances unless these recommendations were considered."

Mr. Fielding: You thought you ought not to resign at that stage.

Mr. Macdougall: Yes.

Mr. Fielding: Yet you had resigned before.

Mr. Macdougall: No, I did not; I asked for superannuation before the dissolution of Parliament.

Mr. Fielding: Was that not resignation?

Mr. Macdougall: It was not in that sense. We were getting a new Parliament. It was out of the hands of the Government, as I thought. That may be wrong or right logic. It was in the hands of the people of Canada.

Mr. Fielding said he had taken the auditor's failure to resign after on several occasions, saying he intended to do so, as evidence that he did not intend to do so now.

Mr. Macdougall repeated his regret at not getting further powers asked for, and as it was now the end of the session, he did not expect to get them. He asked for superannuation on a certain basis, but whether he got it or not, he would go out. He fixed the date of his leaving at August 1, unless it suited the convenience of the Government for him to leave sooner. He desired to be free at the earliest possible moment.

SICKLY CHILDREN.

More children die during the hot weather months than at any other season of the year. Their vitality is then at its lowest ebb and an attack of diarrhoea, cholera infantum or stomach trouble may prove fatal in a few hours. For this reason no home in which there are young children should be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets, which promptly cure all stomach and bowel troubles. If the Tablets are given to a well child they will prevent these ailments and keep the little one well and strong. Mrs. Joseph T. Pigeon, Bryson, Que., says: "My little one was attacked with colic and diarrhoea and I found Baby's Tablets so satisfactory that I would not now be without them in the house." These Tablets not only cure summer complaint, but all the minor ailments that afflict infants and young children. They contain no opiate or harmful drug, and may be given with equal safety to the new born baby or well grown child. There are imitations of this medicine and mothers should see that the words "Baby's Own Tablets," and the four leaf clover with child's head on each leaf is found on the wrapper around each box. As you value your child's life do not be persuaded to take a substitute for Baby's Own Tablets—the one medicine that makes children well, and keeps them well. Sold by all druggists, or you can get them by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TORNADO AROUND BARRIE.

Big Wind Storm Destroys Property—Man's Narrow Escape.

Barrie, July 8.—A tornado, accompanied by hail, rain and terrific lightning, swept this district Thursday.

Charles Stewart's property on the 4th concession of Vespra suffered about $400 damage, the roof being blown off his barn and the kitchen torn away from the house. Uprooted trees were carried long distances and fences were scattered. Several barns were blown over in Midhurst.

Bert Princess went into a partly constructed barn. The building fell, burying him underneath. A beam struck the back of his head, jamming his face into a pile of sand, which nearly caused his life. His lower jaw was broken and he received other serious injuries.

Lightning struck several places near Thornton.

Carrie Light Bylaws.

Napanee, July 8.—Two By-laws were voted on yesterday. One, to authorize the issue of debentures for $35,000 for the purchase of machinery, etc., for a municipal electric light plant, was carried almost unanimously, the vote being 367 for and 27 against.

The second bylaw related to the matter of whether the plants, when installed, would be run by a board of commissioners or not. The vote was in favor of commissioners by about the same margin.

Pat Crowe Robs Cars.

Omaha, July 8.—Pat Crowe, the Cudahy kidnapper, held up and robbed two street cars on the Council Bluffs and Omaha Line on Tuesday night, taking every cent of the day's collections from the conductors, and making his escape. The police of Omaha and Council Bluffs yesterday acknowledged that the hold-up was perpetrated by the redoubtable Pat.

Judge Ouimet Won't Take Risk.

Montreal, July 8.—Judge Ouimet decided yesterday that he had jurisdiction in the matter of granting Messrs. Gaynor and Greene their liberty, but he had to use his discretion and he thought it better not to run the risk of allowing the prisoners out on bail, thus avoiding the risk of having to find the accused again. He consequently declined to accept bail.

Smashes Heaviest Armor Clad.

New York, July 8.—Test a 12-inch shell loaded with only a small charge of dunnite, the world's most effective explosive, will crumple in the side of the heaviest armor-clad vessel though the shell fall short of its mark by 50 feet has just been demonstrated at the beginning of a series of tests at the Government proving grounds at Sandy Hook.

Shot in Sham Battle.

Kingston, July 8.—During the sham battle on Barriefield Heights yesterday Trooper Anderson, D. Squadron, 4th Hussars, Prescott, was shot in the fleshy part of the thigh. Quite a serious wound resulted. The rifle was in the hands of a companion, and he accidentally discharged it, the wad of the blank cartridge causing the wound.

All Satisfactory.

Paris, July 7.—Premier Rouvier yesterday informed the Council of Ministers that the Franco German negotiations on the subject of Morocco were making satisfactory progress, adding that a definite agreement was expected after a brief delay.

14 Miners Killed.

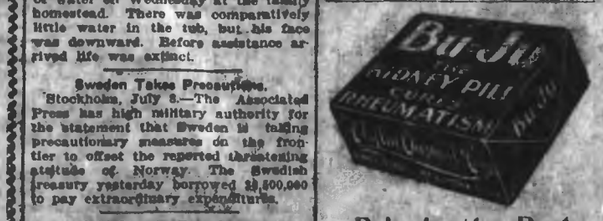
Anderlues, Belgium, July 8.—Fourteen miners were killed and a number injured by an explosion in a colliery here yesterday. The explosion was caused by fire damp.

Village Burns.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 6.—Fire broke out in Panama early yesterday, literally destroying the business section of the village. The loss is roughly estimated at $100,000, with not more than 25 per cent. insurance.

Second Tunnel Through Alps.

Brigue, Switzerland, July 8.—The piercing of the second tunnel through the Simplon was completed during the night. The first tunnel through the Simplon was completed February 24.



Pain in the Back

Significant Testimony to the Beneficial Effects of Bu-Ju.

A Young's Point couple find Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, a great blessing. In common with many others who have tried this remedy, they find it highly beneficial for pain in the back and rheumatism. These complaints are due to disordered kidneys. Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, heals diseased kidneys and strengthens weak kidneys. Mrs. A. C. Kidd, of Young's Point, Quebec, writes:

Chabin Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—Have tried your "Bu-Ju" Kidney Pills and found them very beneficial for rheumatism and pain in the back. They are certainly a blessing. My husband is also receiving great benefit from Bu-Ju. He has had great pain in the small of his back, but is so much better now.

MRS. A. C. KIDD,
Young's Point, P.Q.

The beneficial effects of this scientifically prepared specific for any and all disorders of the kidneys, which lead to rheumatism, neuralgia, diabetes, Bright's disease, and other dangerous ailments, have only to become known to be appreciated. Physicians would suggest a trial of this highly successful preparation whenever there are any signs that the kidneys are not doing their appointed work properly. Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, is sold by druggists generally. If unable to procure them in your locality, write The Chabin Chemical Co., Limited, Windsor, Ont., and they will tell you where to get them.

Just about the meanest thing a furnace can have is a dinky little door.

Ever have one? Hit the edge as often as the hole? One has to be an expert stoker to shovel coal into some furnaces. If you're not an expert you'll get as much on the floor as in the furnace.

The Sunshine Furnace is equipped with a good, big door. You can put your shovel in and drop the coal just where it is wanted—no trouble, no taking aim, no missing, no scattering or annoyance.

Everything about the Sunshine Furnace is on the same scale of thoughtfulness.

Sold by all enterprising dealers. Write for booklet.

that the curve hid us from the landlord's view.

"We will warm, as the children say, at that fire," said he. "I seem to grow colder every step that I take away from it. No, no; I can't possibly leave it."

"I am convinced," said I, "that this Reuben Hayes knows all about it. A more self evident villain I never saw."

"Oh, he impressed you in that way, did he? There are the horses, there is the smithy. Yes, it is an interesting place, this Fighting Cock. I think we shall have another look at it in an unobtrusive way."

A long, sloping hillside dotted with gray limestone bowlders stretched behind us. We had turned off the road and were making our way up the hill when, looking in the direction of Holdernesse Hall, I saw a cyclist coming swiftly along.

"Get down, Watson," cried Holmes, with a heavy hand upon my shoulder. We had hardly sunk from view when the man flew past us on the road. Amid a rolling cloud of dust I caught a glimpse of a pale, agitated face—a face with horror in every lineament, the mouth open, the eyes staring wildly in front. It was like some strange caricature of the dapper James Wilder whom we had seen the night before.

"The duke's secretary!" cried Holmes. "Come, Watson; let us see what he does."

We scrambled from rock to rock until in a few moments we had made our way to a point from which we could see the front door of the inn. Wilder's bicycle was leaning against the wall beside it. No one was moving about the house, nor could we catch a glimpse of any faces at the windows. Slowly the twilight crept down as the sun sank behind the high towers of Holdernesse Hall. Then in the gloom we saw the two side lamps of a trap light up in the stable yard of the inn and shortly afterward heard the rattle of hoofs as it wheeled out into the road and tore off at a furious pace in the direction of Chesterfield.

"What do you make of that, Watson?" Holmes whispered.

"It looks like a flight."

"A single man in a dogcart, so far as I could see. Well, it certainly was not Mr. James Wilder, for there he is at the door."

A red square of light had sprung out of the darkness. In the middle of it was the black figure of the secretary, his head advanced, peering out into the night. It was evident that he was expecting some one. Then at last there were steps in the road, a second figure was visible for an instant against the light, the door shut and all was black once more. Five minutes later a lamp was lit in a room upon the first floor.

"It seems to be a curious class of custom that is done by the Fighting Cock," said Holmes.

"The bar is on the other side."

"Quite so. These are what one may call the private guests. Now, what in the world is Mr. James Wilder doing in that den at this hour of night, and who is the companion who comes to meet him there? Come, Watson, we must really take a risk and try to investigate this a little more closely."

Together we stole down to the road and crept across to the door of the inn. The bicycle still leaned against the wall. Holmes struck a match and held it to the back wheel, and I heard him chuckle as the light fell upon a patched Dunlop tire. Up above us was the lighted window.

"I must have a peep through that, Watson. If you bend your back and support yourself upon the wall I think that I can manage."

An instant later his feet were on my shoulders, but he was hardly up before he was down again.

"Come, my friend," said he, "our day's work has been quite long enough. I think that we have gathered all that we can. It's a long walk to the school, and the sooner we get started the better."

He hardly opened his lips during that weary trudge across the moor, nor would he enter the school when he reached it, but went on to Mackleton station, whence he could send some telegrams. Late at night I heard him consoling Dr. Huxtable, prostrated by the tragedy of his master's death, and later still he entered my room as alert and vigorous as he had been when he started in the morning. "All goes well, my friend," said he. "I promise that before tomorrow evening we shall have reached the solution of the mystery."

At 11 o'clock next morning my friend and I were walking up the famous yew avenue of Holdernesse Hall. We were ushered through the magnificent Elizabethan doorway and into his grace's study. There we found Mr. James Wilder, demure and courtly, but with some trace of that wild terror of the night before still lurking in his furtive eyes and in his twitching features.

"You have come to see his grace? I am sorry, but the fact is that the duke is far from well. He has been very much upset by the tragic news. We received a telegram from Dr. Huxtable yesterday afternoon, which told us of your discovery."

"I must see the duke, Mr. Wilder."

"But he is in his room."

"Then I must go to his room."

"I believe he is in his bed."

"I will see him there."

Holmes' cold and inexorable manner showed the secretary that it was useless to argue with him.

"Very good, Mr. Holmes. I will tell him that you are here."

After an hour's delay the great nobleman appeared. His face was more cadaverous than ever, his shoulders had rounded, and he seemed to me to be an altogether older man than he had been Copyright by Collier's Weekly.

"You infernal spies!" the man cried.

the morning before. He greeted us with a stately courtesy and seated himself at his desk, his red beard streaming down on the table.

"Well, Mr. Holmes?" said he.

But my friend's eyes were fixed upon the secretary, who stood by his master's chair.

"I think, your grace, that I could speak more freely in Mr. Wilder's absence."

The man turned a shade paler and cast a malignant glance at Holmes.

"If your grace wishes"—

"Yes, yes; you had better go. Now, Mr. Holmes, what have you to say?"

My friend waited until the door had closed behind the retreating secretary.

"The fact is, your grace," said he, "that my colleague, Dr. Watson, and myself had an assurance from Dr. Huxtable that a reward had been offered in this case. I should like to have this confirmed from your own lips."

"Certainly, Mr. Holmes."

"It amounted, if I am correctly informed, to £5,000 to any one who will tell you where your son is?"

"Exactly."

"And another thousand to the man who will name the person or persons who keep him in custody?"

"Exactly."

"Under the latter heading is included no doubt not only those who may have taken him away, but also those who conspire to keep him in his present position?"

"Yes, yes," cried the duke impatiently. "If you do your work well, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, you will have no reason to complain of niggardly treatment."

My friend rubbed his thin hands together with an appearance of avidity, which was a surprise to me, who knew his frugal tastes.

"I fancy that I see your grace's check book upon the table," said he. "I should be glad if you would make me out a check for £5,000. It would be as well perhaps for you to cross it. The Capital and Counties bank, Oxford street branch, are my agents."

His grace sat very stern and upright in his chair and looked steadily at my friend.

"Is this a joke, Mr. Holmes? It is hardly a subject for pleasantry."

"Not at all, your grace. I was never more earnest in my life."

"What do you mean, then?"

"I mean that I have earned the reward. I know where your son is, and I know some at least of those who are holding him."

The duke's beard had turned more aggressively red than ever against his ghastly white face.

"Where is he?" he gasped.

"He is, or was last night, at the Fighting Cock inn, about two miles from your park gate."

The duke fell back in his chair.

"And whom do you accuse?"

Sherlock Holmes' answer was an astounding one. He stepped swiftly forward and touched the duke upon the shoulder.

"I accuse you," said he. "And now, your grace, I'll trouble you for that check."

Never shall I forget the duke's appearance as he sprang up and clawed with his hands, like one who is sinking into an abyss. Then, with an extraordinary effort of aristocratic self command, he sat down and sank his face in his hands. It was some minutes before he spoke.

"How much do you know?" he asked at last without raising his head.

"I saw you together last night."

"Does any one else beside your friend know?"

"I have spoken to no one."

The duke took a pen in his quivering fingers and opened his check book.

"I shall be as good as my word, Mr. Holmes. I am about to write your check, however unwelcome the information which you have gained may be to me. When the offer was first made I little thought the turn which events might take. But you and your friend are men of discretion, Mr. Holmes?"

"I hardly understand your grace."

"I must put it plainly, Mr. Holmes. If only you two know of this incident there is no reason why it should go any further. I think £12,000 is the sum that I owe you, is it not?"

But Holmes smiled and shook his head.

"I fear, your grace, that matters can hardly be arranged so easily. There is the death of this schoolmaster to be accounted for."

"But James knew nothing of that. You cannot hold him responsible for that. It was the work of this brutal ruffian whom he had the misfortune to employ."

"I must take the view, your grace, that when a man embarks upon a crime he is morally guilty of any other crime which may spring from it."

"Morally, Mr. Holmes; no doubt you are right; but surely not in the eyes of the law. A man cannot be condemned for a murder at which he was not present and which he loathes and abhors as much as you do. The instant that he heard of it he made a complete confession to me, so filled was he with horror and remorse. He lost not an hour in breaking entirely with the murderer. Oh, Mr. Holmes, you must save him—you must save him! I tell you that you must save him!" The duke had dropped the last attempt at self command and was pacing the room with a convulsed face and with his clinched hands waving in the air. At last he mastered himself and sat down once more at his desk. "I appreciate your conduct in coming here before you spoke to any one else," said he. "At least we may take counsel how far we can minimise this hideous scandal."

"Exactly," said Holmes. "I think, your grace, that this can only be done by absolute frankness between us. I am disposed to help your grace to the best of my ability, but in order to do so I must understand to the last detail how the matter stands. I realise that your words applied to Mr. James Wilder and that he is not the murderer."

"No, the murderer has escaped."

Sherlock Holmes smiled demurely.

"Your grace can hardly have heard of any small reputation which I possess or you would not imagine that it is so easy to escape me. Mr. Reuben Hayes was arrested at Chesterfield on my information at 11 o'clock last night. I had a telegram from the head of the local police before I left the school this morning."

The duke leaned back in his chair and stared with amazement at my friend.

"You seem to have powers that are hardly human," said he. "So Reuben Hayes is taken? I am right glad to hear it if it will not react upon the fate of James."

"Your secretary?"

"No, sir; my son."

It was Holmes' turn to look astonished.

"I confess that this is entirely new to me, your grace. I must beg you to be more explicit."

"I will conceal nothing from you. I agree with you that complete frankness, however painful it may be to me, is the best policy in this desperate situation to which James' folly and jealousy have reduced us. When I was a very young man, Mr. Holmes, I loved with such a love as comes only once in a lifetime. I offered the lady marriage, but she refused it on the grounds that such a match might mar my career. Had she lived I would certainly never have married any one else. She died and left this one child, whom for her sake I have cherished and cared for. I could not acknowledge the paternity to the world, but I gave him the best of educations, and since he came to manhood I have kept him near my person. He surmised my secret and has presumed ever since upon the claim which he has upon me and upon his power of provoking a scandal which would be abhorrent to me. His presence had something to do with the unhappy issue of my marriage. Above all he hated my young legitimate heir from the first with a persistent hatred.

"You may well ask me why, under these circumstances, I still kept James under my roof. I answer that it was because I could see his mother's face in his and that for her dear sake there was no end to my long suffering. All her pretty ways, too—there was not one of them which he could not suggest and bring back to my memory. I could not send him away. But I feared so much lest he should do Arthur—that is, Lord Saltire—a mischief that I dispatched him for safety to Dr. Huxtable's school.

"James came into contact with this fellow Hayes because the man was a tenant of mine and James acted as agent. The fellow was a rascal from the beginning, but in some extraordinary way James became intimate with him. He had always a taste for low company. When James determined to kidnap Lord Saltire it was of this man's service that he availed himself. You remember that I wrote to Arthur upon that last day. Well, James opened the letter and inserted a note asking Arthur to meet him in a little wood called the Ragged Shaw, which is near to the school. He used the duchess' name and in that way got the boy to come. That evening James bicycled over—I am telling you what he has himself confessed to me—and he told Arthur, whom he met in the wood, that his mother longed to see him, that she was awaiting him on the moor and that if he would come back into the wood at midnight he would find a man with a horse, who would take him to her. Poor Arthur fell into the trap. He came to the appointment and found this fellow Hayes with a led pony. Arthur mounted, and they set off together. It appears—though this James only heard yesterday—that they were pursued, that Hayes struck the pursuer with his stick and that the man died of his injuries. Hayes brought Arthur to his public house, the Fighting Cock, where he was confined in an upper room, under the care of Mrs. Hayes, who is a kindly woman, but entirely under the control of her brutal husband.

"Well, Mr. Holmes, that was the state of affairs when I first saw you two days ago. I had no more idea of the truth than you. You will ask me what was James' motive in doing such a deed. I answer that there was a great deal which was unreasoning and fanatical in the hatred which he bore my heir. In his view he should himself have been heir of all my estates, and he deeply resented these social bars which made it impossible. At the same time he had a definite motive also. He was eager that I should break the entail, and he was of opinion that it lay in my power to do so. He intended to make a bargain with me—to restore Arthur if I would break the entail and so make it possible for the estate to be left to him by will. He knew well that I should never willingly invoke the aid of the police against him. I say that he would have proposed such a bargain to me, but did not actually do so, for events moved too quickly for him, and he had not time to put his plans into practice.

"What brought all his wicked scheme to wreck was your discovery of this man Heidegger's dead body. James was seized with horror at the news. It came to us yesterday as we sat together in this study. Dr. Huxtable had sent a telegram. James was so overwhelmed with grief and agitation that my suspicions, which had never been entirely absent, rose instantly to a certainty, and I taxed him with the deed. He made a complete voluntary confession. Then he implored me to keep his secret for three days longer so as to give his wretched accomplice a chance of saving his guilty life. I yielded—as I have always yielded—to his prayers, and instantly James hurried off to the Fighting Cock to warn Hayes and give him the means of flight. I could not go there by daylight without provoking comment, but as soon as night fell I

Drooping—Tired—Weary

You Feel Depressed, Dragged Out, and Sort of "All Gone" —Shake Off That Tired Feeling, Get Well and Strong, Fortify Your Nerves, Nourish Your Blood.

FERROZONE

You are getting pale and thin. You're dragged down with a "don't care" feeling that makes life most unhappy. Your strength is fleeting away, and weakness is creeping in. Every day your chances for cure becomes smaller.

Trouble is you don't assimilate your food, consequently the body is poorly nourished. The blood is thin, lacks those red corpuscles that denote health.

You can only prevent a total collapse by building up all the powers of the body with Ferrozone, which will surely make you well. Ferrozone creates tremendous appetite, increases the power of digestion, and insures perfect assimilation. Everything you eat is at once converted into nourishment.

FERROZONE makes rich, pure blood, a surplus of energy, new life for the nerves and all over-strained organs. Robust health will glow on the cheeks, jovial spirits, increased weight, and a clear, active brain will evidence a few of the benefits that follow Ferrozone.

GAINED 15 POUNDS.

Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 226 Vermont St. E., Indianapolis, Restored by Ferrozone.

"A year ago I took the grippe. I was as weak as a child. I was no longer able to eat. My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow. Doctors gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought me strength. My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bade them good-bye. Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone. After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well to-day. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.

(Signed) "H. A. THURSTON."

The effect of Ferrozone is instant, yet permanent. For upbuilding and invigorating the listless and depressed it has no equal. It's the concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone that makes it so beneficial. We guarantee it contains no opiates, no alcohol, nothing but the most strengthening qualities known in medicine. Won't you use Ferrozone; it will surely make you well.

EMABRGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

Vigorous Protest By the House of Commons.

ARE WE "GOLD-BRICKED"?

Mr. Bickerdike's Free-Handed Criticism—Hon. Sydney Fisher Repeats His Statement That the Maintenance of the Embargo Is An Unfriendly Act—V. V. & E. Bill Passed—Voting Supply.

Ottawa, July 8.—The more routine and less spectacular business of the session was resumed in the House yesterday. First of all, the resolution of the Agriculture Committee asking Great Britain for the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle was debated and adopted. Hon. Mr. Fisher repeated his vigorous objection to the treatment of Canada in this respect, and again characterised the embargo as an unfriendly act. Mr. Bickerdike of Montreal was even more outspoken. A number of minor bills were disposed of, and considerabl progress made in Committee of Supply.

The Cattle Embargo.

Mr. MacKenzie of Bruce, in presenting the report of the Agriculture committee, reviewed the history of the embargo upon Canadiin live cattle in England, pointing out that the imposition of this restriction was not warranted so far as Canada is concerned, for not a single case of contagious pleuro pneumonia existed in Canada or ever had existed. Therefore, as the report set forth, it was demanded that the British authorities either remove the embargo or publish to the world the fact that Canadian cattle are free from contagious diseases.

Recently, Mr. MacKenzie said, he had had a conversation with Earl Grey, one of the best authorities in Great Britain upon the subject, and his excellency declared there was no beef animal in the world to beat the Canadian steer, and speaking for himself he would strongly approve of the removal of the embargo.

Are We Gold-Bricked.

Mr. Bickerdike of Montreal declared that there was no disease in Canadian cattle, and the British Government know it in this matter. Canada was being gold bricked. They were playing the game with loaded dice and were caught in the act, said Mr. Bickerdike.

"That is a very strong statement," Mr. Foster observed.

"It is true," was the reply.

Mr. Bickerdike went on to say that the real reason for the embargo was a desire to protect the British farmer. He read letters from the president of the British Board of Agriculture, in which that gentleman said he was satisfied that there was no cattle disease in Canada, but he could not very well remove the embargo against this country without also removing it against the United States.

No Soul Above Money.

"Just another of those little flirtations which the mother country has with Uncle Sam, for which Canada pays the piper and the music comes high," said Mr. Bickerdike. "I know John Bull pretty well," he added. "I have done business with him for 20 years, and I tell you there is not a particle of sentiment in him. He is business all the time. John Bull would as soon buy his cattle from a Hottentot or a Zulu as from one of his own kin."

Mr. Fisher reviewed the whole of the embargo question, and said the motion of the British Ministry constituted an unfriendly act, which showed a lack of consideration towards those bonds of Imperial unity which should be just as dear to the mother country as to Canada. The report was then adopted.

An act to provide for the regulation of wireless telegraphy in Canada was read a third time.

Said Bill Was Illegal.

During the hour for private bills, the following were read a third time, and passed:

Respecting the Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Railway Co. Respecting certain patents of David Thompson. Respecting a certain patent of the Metal Volatilization Co. The Isaac Pitblado divorce bill. Respecting the Canada Central Railway Co. Respecting the Brandon, Saskatchewan and Hudson Bay Railway Co.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 699 Catharine St., Scranton, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

For a one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, you can get a free copy of that celebrated doctor book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, illustrated. Cloth-bound, 21 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Superfluous Hair

Removed by the New Principle,

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, nor does it break off the hair, thereby hastening its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. De MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

De MIRACLE is mailed sealed in plain wrapper on receipt of $1.00. Your money back without question (no red tape) if it fails to do all that is claimed for it. Booklet sent free in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. Write for it to-day to De MIRACLE CHEMICAL CO., 10 Queen St. West, Toronto. For sale by

THE ROBERT SIMPSON COMPANY, LIMITED.
TORONTO, ONT.

Mr. Henderson, for Mr. Bickerdike, moved the third reading of the bill respecting the Canadian Agency, explaining that it was intended merely to correct a verbal error in the French translation.

The Minister of Inland Revenue said that the bill was illegal, as it purported to amend a charter which had expired two years ago. The bill was therefore allowed to stand.

$6,000 For a Monument.

Mr. Prefontaine introduced a bill empowering the harbor commissioners of Montreal to vote the sum of $6,000 to help erect a monument in the memory of Sir John Young, the founder of the port of Montreal, the remainder of the amount to be contributed by the citizens of Montreal. The bill was given its first and second readings.

For Imperial Defence.

Sir Frederick Borden laid on the table of the House a return of the correspondence between Canada and the Imperial Government re. the former assuming the burden of maintaining Halifax and Esquimalt garrisons.

In Supply.

The House in committee on the supplementary estimates put through those for the salary increases in the Marine and Fisheries.

The civil Government estimates were put through, and the House rose at 10.40.

Time For a Divorce Court.

Ottawa, July 8.—The report of the divorce committee, recommending the granting of the Trelawney divorce, was up in the Senate yesterday.

Mr. Macdonald (British Columbia) thought it better to have a divorce court. Senators were often carried away by their feelings.

After some discussion, Sir Mackenzie Bowell said it was not the establishment of the court, but the report that was before the Senate.

The report was finally adopted on the understanding that the bill stands until Monday.

The bids on the board to-day started at 9⅛c and ran up to 9 11-16c. Salesmen priced their offerings at 9⅝c, but there were no takers on the board.

Perth, July 7.—There were 2600 boxes of white cheese of June make boarded here to-day. All were sold for 9⅝c. The buyers present were Bissell, Webster, Patton and McVeigh.

PIGS ATTACK A BABY.

Had Eaten Away One Toe and Otherwise Illused It.

Galt, July 8.—It was not until some young pigs had eaten the toe off a three-months' old infant of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wagstaff of Glen Morris that the baby was rescued by the mother from the awful death it would have suffered. The parents of the child are employed on the farm of George McCormick.

Mr. Wagstaff was cutting hay, and his wife was assisting him. She carried the baby about with her for some time, but growing tired, she placed the child on a pile of hay on the ground and then continued her work. Some little time later she heard the baby crying.

Eight pigs, none of which were over a month old, had attacked the child and gnawed at one foot, eating off one of the toes. The clothing was torn away on the baby's side, and the pigs had bitten into the flesh.

Little hope is held out for its recovery.

BRAKE CHAIN BROKE.

Cars Smash and a Man Is Killed at London.

London, July 8.—A broken brake chain allowed a crowded Springbank car to crash into another Friday night at the York street bridge. Roy Calhoun of Talbot street was thrown over the front of the trailer and received injuries that necessitated a serious operation at the hospital. He died at 1 o'clock this morning. His skull was fractured at the base.

The injured are: John Stevely, 567 Queen's avenue, nose said to be broken. Fred C. Robins, Hamilton, shoulder and arm badly bruised; H. J. Judd, 1 Carfrae street, badly bruised and head torn; James Smith, Carfrae street, arm scratched and leg bruised; Claude Jarvis, 18 Stanley street, back and shoulder bruised; Mrs. (Dr.) Cowen, suffering from nervousness; Mrs. N. Shearer, 450 Talbot street, bruised about body; S. Shearer, bruised; Mrs. William Durkin, Hill street, painfully bruised.

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Funeral of John Bell, K.C., Was Largely Attended at Belleville.

Belleville, July 8.—The remains of the late John Bell, K. C., senior counsel of the Grand Trunk Railway, were interred yesterday afternoon. Many were present. Justices Moss and Osler of Toronto represented the bench, and Messrs. Drayton, McCarthy, Rose and Barwick the bar of that city. The following Grand Trunk officials of Montreal were in attendance. C. M. Hays, general manager; F. W. Morse, first vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific; E. H. Fitzhugh, W. B. Robb, W. H. Biggar, K. C.; J. Hobson, W. R. Davis, J. W. Loud, W. H. Rosevear, H. W. Walker, J. M. Riddell, W. McWood, F. E. Scott, A. E. Brekett, W. G. Brownlee, J. Irwin, T. C. Coleman, B. J. Lynch, D. A. McNicoll, D. J. Galloway, J. P. Pratt, J. Bryce, and A. P. Atwater.

The pall-bearers were former associates of the deceased when the legal offices of the railway were in this city, and were: W. H. Biggar, K. C.; W. W. Pope, E. Donald, W. M. Foster, J. P. Pratt and T. Waterson.

Boy Drowned at Elora.

Elora, July 8.—While swimming in the Grand River at Elora last evening Brody Card, about 14 years of age, was drowned. Another small boy who was with him gave the alarm, but by the time the body was recovered though a very short time after, all efforts to resuscitate him were of no avail.

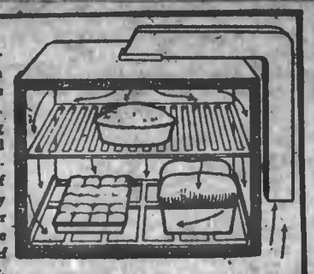
THERE has only been one real improvement in cooking ranges in many years. That improvement is the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue.

While other makers were adding dampers, racks, door openers and shakers in a vain attempt to make improvements, we studied the heart of the range. We knew that the only improvement you wanted was a better oven, an oven that would help you bake better bread, pies and cakes, roast beef to a turn, retaining its juice and flavor.



Our investigations and experiments produced the oven-heating system of the

The important feature of this system is the diffusive flue which draws in fresh air, superheats it and distributes it evenly throughout the oven. The article on the bottom shelf farthest from the fire is getting as much heat on all sides as the article on the top shelf next the fire.

We would like to explain this more fully. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford Range, write us for particulars. We will send catalogue and tell you where you can see the range.

The meeting of the township council was held here to-day.

The village council and authorities are requested by the citizens to have the streets well cleaned and watered for 12th of July celebration, besides lots of refreshment booths.

There was never a more favourable chance for canoeists or tourists on the Trent Valley, to come up to Omemee, our waters being two feet higher than usual. Supposed to be caused at Buckhorn.

There is good fishing.

Rosedale is one of the most popular and attractive summer resorts in the county of Victoria. There are many campers and pleasure seekers there now.

WASTING ANAEMIA.

A Trouble that Afflicts Thousands of Young Girls—Cured by Dr. William's Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do only one thing, but they do it well. They fill the veins with new, rich red health-giving blood, which drives away all traces of anaemia, headache, backache, palpitation, nervousness, dizziness and despondency. The new blood they make brightens dull lustreless eyes, and brings the rosy glow of health to pale cheeks. In curing anaemia Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure the foundation of consumption as well. The new blood they actually make gives new strength and vigor to every organ in the body, and enables it to fight whatever disease attacks it. That is why they are the best medicine in the world for girls in their teens—or women in middle life—and to all those whose blood is weak, watery or impure.

Miss Mary E. Pratt, Blyth, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of these pills. She says:—"I was a sufferer for over a year with anaemia. I was completely run down, had frequent headaches, spells of dizziness and palpitation of the heart. I doctored all summer and was no better than when I began. I had practically given up all hope of finding a cure when my brother advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got four boxes and when I had taken them I felt so much better that I got six boxes more, and before I had taken all these I was completely cured. I am more thankful than I can say for what the pills have done for me, as but for them I would not be enjoying good health to-day. I strongly urge all weak girls to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Miss Pratt's experience proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to every weak and ailing person. These pills can be had from any medicine dealer or by mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50.

Deadly Dunnite.

That a 12-inch shell loaded with only a small charge of Dunnite, the world's most effective explosive, will crumple in the side of the heaviest armour clad vessel, though the shell fall short of the mark by twenty feet, has just been demonstrated at the beginning of a series of tests at the United States Government proving grounds at Sandy Hook.

CAPT. GRAHAM'S GRATITUDE

Suffered from Sores on Face and Back—Doctors Took His Money But Did No Good—Skin Now Looks Clear as a Baby's.

ANOTHER CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Captain W. S. Graham, 1321 Hoff St., Wheeling, W. Va., says: "I am so grateful I thank God that a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I suffered for a long time with sores on my face and back. Some doctors said I had blood poison, and others that I had barbers' itch. None of them did me any good, but they all took my money. My friends tell me my skin now looks as clear as a baby's, and I tell them all that Cuticura Soap and Ointment did it."

STILL ANOTHER CURE

Neck Covered With Sores, Hair Fell Out, Wild With Itching

Mr. H. J. Spalding of 104 W. 104th St., New York City, says: "For two years my neck was covered with sores, the disease spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation, and merciless itching made me wild. After a few applications of Cuticura the torment subsided, the sores disappeared, and my hair grew thick and healthy as ever."

AND STILL ANOTHER

"For over thirty years I suffered from painful ulcers and an eruption from my knees to my feet, and could find neither doctors nor medicines to help me, until I took Cuticura which cured me in six months. (signed) M. C. Moss, Gainesville, Tex."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 1 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston. Sole Props. Mail-post-free for "How to Cure Every Humour." Mailed Free.

hurried off to see my dear Arthur. I found him safe and well, but horrified beyond expression by the dreadful deed he had witnessed. In deference to my promise and much against my will I consented to leave him there for three days under the charge of Mrs. Hayes, since it was evident that it was impossible to inform the police where he was without telling them also who was the murderer, and I could not see how that murderer could be punished without ruin to my unfortunate James. You asked for frankness, Mr. Holmes, and I have taken you at your word, for I have now told you everything without an attempt at circumlocution or concealment. Do you in your turn be as frank with me."

"I will," said Holmes. "In the first place, your grace, I am bound to tell you that you have placed yourself in a most serious position in the eyes of the law. You have condoned a felony, and you have aided the escape of a murderer, for I cannot doubt that any money which was taken by James Wilder to aid his accomplice in his flight came from your grace's purse."

The duke bowed his assent.

"This is indeed a most serious matter. Even more culpable in my opinion, your grace, is your attitude toward your younger son. You leave him in this den for three days."

"Under solemn promises"—

"What are promises to such people as these? You have no guarantee that he will not be spirited away again. To humor your guilty elder son you have exposed your innocent younger son to imminent and unnecessary danger. It was a most unjustifiable action."

The proud lord of Holdernesse was not accustomed to be so rated in his own ducal hall. The blood flushed into his high forehead, but his conscience held him dumb.

"I will help you, but on one condition only. It is that you ring for the footman and let me give such orders as I like."

Without a word the duke pressed the electric bell. A servant entered.

"You will be glad to hear," said Holmes, "that your young master is found. It is the duke's desire that the carriage shall go at once to the Fighting Cock inn to bring Lord Saltire home.

"Now," said Holmes when the rejoicing lackey had disappeared, "having secured the future, we can afford to be more lenient with the past. I am not in an official position, and there is no reason so long as the ends of justice are served why I should disclose all that I know. As to Hayes, I say nothing. The gallows awaits him, and I would do nothing to save him from it. What he will divulge I cannot tell, but I have no doubt that your grace could make him understand that it is to his interest to be silent. From the police point of view he will have kidnaped the boy for the purpose of ransom. If they do not themselves find it out, I see no reason why I should prompt them to take a broader point of view. I would warn your grace, however, that the continued presence of Mr. James Wilder in your household can only lead to misfortune."

"I understand that, Mr. Holmes, and it is already settled that he shall leave me forever and go to seek his fortune in Australia."

"In that case, your grace, since you have yourself stated that any unhappiness in your married life was caused by his presence, I would suggest that you make such amends as you can to the duchess and that you try to resume those relations which have been so unhappily interrupted."

"That also I have arranged, Mr. Holmes. I wrote to the duchess this morning."

"In that case," said Holmes, "I think that my friend and I can congratulate ourselves upon several most happy results from our little visit to the north. There is one other small point upon which I desire some light. This fellow Hayes had shod his horses with shoes which counterfeited the tracks of cows. Was it from Mr. Wilder that he learned so extraordinary a device?"

The duke stood in thought for a moment, with a look of intense surprise on his face. Then he opened a door and showed us into a large room furnished as a museum. He led the way to a glass case in a corner and pointed to the inscription.

"These shoes," it ran, "were dug up in the moat of Holdernesse Hall. They are for the use of horses, but they are shaped below with a cloven foot of iron so as to throw pursuers off the track. They are supposed to have belonged to some of the marauding barons of Holdernesse in the middle ages."

Holmes opened the case, and, moistening his finger, he passed it along the shoe. A thin film of recent mud was left upon his skin.

"Thank you," said he as he replaced the glass. "It is the second most interesting object that I have seen in the north."

"And the first?"

Holmes folded up his check and placed it carefully in his notebook. "I am a poor man," said he as he patted it affectionately and thrust it into the depths of his inner pocket.

When Indigestion Grips You

it is not merely "something you ate" at the last meal—it is weakness in the stomach. A pain is Nature's danger signal that something is wrong. Indigestion is the stomach's way of telling you that it can't or won't work.

NOW is the time to take FRUIT-A-TIVES.

These fruit tablets rest the stomach—bring out a copious flow of gastric juice at meal time—and make the stomach and intestines digest everything you eat.

You know that Fruit-a-tives are doing you good—because there is no more pain—no more sour stomach—no belching gas. Fruit-a-tives keep the stomach clean and healthy—and ready to digest any sensible meal you eat while the constipation is entirely cured by their use.

"Fruit-a-tives are most valuable in the home. We have used two boxes and are to-day sending a third, which tells our opinion of their merits. I find them especially good for the children, pleasant to take and very stimulating in their action."

Ives' Brass Beds give brightness and dignity to a room.

Many artistic home furnishers have adopted the metal bed instead of the cumbrous and sometimes unsanitary wooden beds. A metal bed adds grace and beauty to a room, imparts an atmosphere of dignity oftentimes hard to secure with a wooden bed. Its lines are light and graceful and if it is an Ives bed it will be handsome and artistic in design.

Ives beds are always beautifully designed because Ives artists are the most proficient metal designers in America. They have made Ives famous for high class metal bank and hotel fittings.

Ask to see an Ives bed and you will like it.

JULY WEDDING IN ENNISMORE

Mr. Michael Ross, of Peterborough, Marries Miss Flood.

An Interesting Society Event in Ennismore—Reception at Bride's Parents.

Special to the Examiner

Ennismore, July 8.—A very pretty wedding took place in St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, last Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock when Mr. Michael Ross of Peterborough and Mary Ann Flood of Ennismore, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. Both the bride and groom are great favourites in the parish, and this accounts for the unusually large number who assembled to witness the marriage ceremony.

The bride was assisted by her cousin Miss Mary Ellen Cadigan, while Mr. Michael Corkery, of Otonabee, a cousin of the groom performed most creditably the duties of best man. The bride looked handsome in her Persian lawn dress richly trimmed with lace and with picture hat to match. Miss Ida Galvin presided at the organ and during the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass solos were sung by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flood, Mr. Wm. Bell, Miss Gertie Moloney and Miss Ida Galvin. The singing was in keeping with the high reputation of St. Martin's choir. The marriage ceremony was performed by the pastor Rev. M. F. Fitzpatrick.

After the marriage ceremony the happy couple accompanied by their immediate relatives drove to the picturesque home of the bride's father where a sumptuous repast was awaiting. Over a hundred guests partook of the wedding breakfast. Besides those living in the parish there were present, Mr. and Mrs. Ross, and Miss Ross of Dummer; Mr. and Mrs. John F. Galvin of Peterborough; Miss Grace Donoghue of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Otonabee, and Mr. Crowley formerly of Ennismore, but at present a mine owner in New Ontario.

The popularity of the young couple was clearly shown by the numerous valuable and useful presents of which they were the recipients. Besides $150 in gold, expensive presents in cut glass, silverware, etc., covered an entire table in one corner of the parlour. The groom's present to the bride was a pretty gold watch, and to the bridesmaid a solid gold bracelet.

The afternoon was spent most enjoyably by all as some of the best musical talent in the parish was present, and left nothing undone to make those present as happy as possible. It was a return of the "Ross" Government to power and the staunch old Grits most heartily enjoyed it.

A most agreeable feature of the afternoon's entertainment was a shooting contest by fifteen crack shots of the parish. The result at the close showed Mr. Philip Grough 1st with Peter F. Flood last.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross will reside at 486 Gilchrist street, Peterborough.

DEATH OF A DUMMER PIONEER

Charles Payne Passes Away at Advanced age, at Bancroft.

The death occurred at Bancroft on Wednesday, July 5th, of an old and highly esteemed resident of Peterborough county, in the person of Charles Payne.

The late Mr. Payne was a brother of Mr. Stephen Payne, the well-known local market gardener, and has for some years resided in Bancroft. He came to Canada from England in 1854, and was the oldest son in a family of twelve, seven brothers and five sisters, of whom four brothers and three sisters are still living. He was 82 years of age at the time of his demise.

For many years Mr. Payne drove the stage between Peterborough and Warsaw, when he resided in the latter village. Mr. Payne was for years a successful farmer, highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him. His uncle, the late Mr. Levi Payne, Dummer, came here in 1831, when the present city of Peterborough consisted of but two log houses.

The late Mr. Charles Payne was only ill for five days previous to his death, and was buried at Faraday.

KNOX CHURCH SCORED SUCCESS

In Strawberry Festival and Sale Held Recently.

The strawberry festival and sale recently held in Knox church was quite a success. After paying the expenses which were small, the proceeds amounted to $40. The ladies desire to thank those belonging to other churches who so kindly assisted in the programme and also to thank Mr. G. J. Riley the King street druggist for a donation of first class ice cream which was much appreciated.

FIELD DAY AT BARRIEFIELD

Very Interesting Military Spectacle Yesterday.

Attacking Forces Won—Peterborough Officers in Camp.

The field day in camp at Barriefield passed off gloriously yesterday, all conditions uniting to make it the most successful affair of its kind in the history of the camp. The weather, while a trifle hot, was about all that could be desired, and the military spectacle presented was both interesting and exciting.

The day's movements consisted of an attack upon the locomotive works, the Kingston dry dock and the bridge to Barriefield, an attempt to destroy which was made.

The forces were divided into two divisions—the Reds and the Blues. The attacking party was commanded by Col. Ward, of the 46th (Port Hope) and the defence by Col. Sylvester, of the 45th, (Lindsay.)

The attack was a spirited one, and the movements of the opposing forces intensely interesting.

The umpires were:—Lt.-Col. Miller, of the 57th Regiment, Peterborough; Lt.-Col. Edwards, Peterborough; Col. McNachtan, Col. Williams, Col. John Hughes.

The consensus of the opinion of the judges was that the attacking party had won, having succeeded in blowing up the dry dock, destroying the bridge and capturing the locomotive works.

In the afternoon, the officers were entertained to an excursion to Alexandria Bay by the Kingston city council, and enjoyed a pleasant outing.

A buoy scene was presented in camp last night when the preparations for departure were being made. The men were receiving their pay and return transport.

Camp broke up this morning at an early hour and the Peterborough officers and men will arrive in town to-night.

Lt.-Col. Miller, who went down on Thursday evening and officiated yesterday in the capacity of umpire of the sham battle, speaks most enthusiastically of the fine soldierly appearance of the squadrons commanded by Major George Hall and Major W. T. Hall, of town, which are among the finest in the ranks.

PLEASANT OUTING AT STONY LAKE

George Street Sunday School Excursion Much Enjoyed.

Over 200 in Attendance—Pleasant Sail up the Lakes.

Among the many recent excursions to Stony Lake none have been more enjoyable than that yesterday of the George street Methodist Sunday School. All conditions united to enhance the pleasure of the party, which numbered about 200 people. Upon the lake a delightful breeze sprang up during the day, and its freshening influence had a most invigourating effect.

The pleasure-seekers left town by special train at 8.15 a.m. and embarked at Lakefield upon the steamer Stony Lake for the sail up the lakes. Calls were made at various points including McCracken's Landing and Juniper Island, and thence to Julian's Landing where dinner was served.

At the conclusion of this important part of the day's proceedings the sail was continued to the head of the lake returning to Lakefield via Juniper. The return journey to town was made upon the regular evening train.

The excursion was in every respect a gratifying success and the arrangements of the committee in charge were in every particular, carried through to a successful conclusion. The committee was composed of the following gentlemen: Messrs. George Robertson, S. B. Armstrong, J. S. Knapman and J. Jeffries. A refreshment booth was conducted by Misses Lumsden and Miller.

BUSINESS MAN DISLIKES WATER

Its Promiscuous Use Caused Trouble in Campbellford.

An Interesting Episode Reported From That Village.

About nine o'clock on Friday morning, one of the young merchants of Campbellford, was watering the cement walk outside of his store and another business man walking past at the time got some of the water on his pants and boots, which raised his ire and ruffled his temper that he called the man with the hose names that were not choice, and seemed anxious to settle the difficulty with blows. The two men were together at Oulton's barber shop and tried their skill at the so-called manly art, resulting that the man who was so-anxious that blows should come, getting a bloody nose, and receiving the worst of what was going.

There are two horses of which the entry has been received by telegram, but were not classified in the entry.

There were a number of excellent tryouts yesterday at the track. The runners were taken out in the morning and displayed some fast action. The afternoon events brought out Joe Alton, Billy P and Helen R, which stepped in 2.22. Among others, three western horses will arrive on Monday. These are, Jap, Buckskin, and Doctor H — all good ones. The jockeys are numerous at the track and include in their number the famous "Happy", who is a well-known veteran of the Transmaal.

Miss Paisley is being worked by Dick Monahan, and Donna Belle, by Benny Dumsford.

Walker vs. Ritchie.

Special Warning—The Manufacturers of the popular Diamond Dyes would direct the attention of our Canadian women to the fact, that crude, adulterated and worthless package dyes are now offered for sale by some merchants who care little about the ruin and trouble they cause.

The imitation package dyes are so poor in quality, that many ladies have reported that their materials and goods have been destroyed by their use.

Diamond Dyes never fail to give satisfaction. They produce the most lovely colours, on the heaviest and finest fabrics. See that each package of dyes you buy has the name "DIAMOND DYES," and you will be safe. The millions say, "It's easy to dye with Diamond Dyes."

Monkey Brand Soap removes all stains, rust, dirt or tarnish—but won't wash clothes.

RETURN OF "TOMMY ATKINS"

Local Squadron and Officers Returned from Barriefield.

Field Day was Highly Interesting—3rd Dragoons Played Important Part.

The local squadron and the local staff officers of the 3rd Dragoons arrived home from Kingston on Saturday evening after 12 days' most successful drill. The Dragoons won the praises of the divisional staff and people generally, while at Kingston, by reason of their smart appearance their high state of efficiency in drill and their general good conduct.

The 3rd Dragoons under Lieut.-Col. Brown, played a very important part in the sham battle of Friday. The Dragoons formed the advance party of the attacking forces, and supported by the 14th Field Battery, made a dashing attack upon the 4th Hussars and the 5th Field Battery, who were defending Cataraqui Bridge The Hussars and the 5th Field Battery were captured, and retired to the rear as prisoners. Lieut.-Col. Williams, chief staff officer, who was one of the umpires, highly complimented the Dragoons upon their charge. He stated that it was the best piece of cavalry work he had ever seen performed. It may be stated that the attack was performed by A squadron under Capt. McLaughlin acting as skirmishers, and B squadron, under the command of Major W. T. Hall, was first in the attacking line and deserve great credit for their spirited onslaught on the defending forces.

The 4th Hussars and the 5th Field Battery under command of Major Rathbun, being put out of action, completely ruined the defending forces chances of victory, and the engagement was brought to a sudden termination.

General Notes.

Lieut.-Col. Miller, of the 57th Regiment, who acted as one of the judges at the sham battle, was a welcome visitor in camp and was entertained at the officers' mess of the 3rd Dragoons on Friday evening. Lieut.-Col. Miller was warmly greeted by the officers of the 3rd Dragoons, but perhaps more particularly by the local officers of that corps, who have from time to time accepted the hospitality of the mess of the 57th Regiment, but who are unfortunately not in a position to reciprocate such hospitality as they would like to do.

The 3rd Dragoons cleaned up the whole camp in the matter of football, winning five straight games in the schedule, defeating all the regiments and carrying off a handsome set of flags donated by the Y. M. C. A.

All together, the camp at Kingston, so far as the Dragoons were concerned at least, was one of the most successful and enjoyable that has been held in years.

AN EXCURSION AND A PIC-NIC

St. Peter's Choir and Altar Boys and Separate School Pupils to Enjoy Outings.

To-morrow the members of the choir of St. Peter's, the altar boys and the pupils of the separate schools who tried the entrance examinations will be treated to their annual excursion through the generosity of Rev. Father McCoil, whose guests they will be on this trip, the objective point of which will be Burleigh Falls, and if past excursions of this kind may be taken as a criterion, the event will be a most enjoyable one.

On Thursday the annual picnic of the Separate School pupils will be held in Nicholls park.

LAMENTED DEATH OF JOSEPH CONDON

Died in St. Joseph's Hospital After a Short Illness.

Last night the death occurred of Joseph Condon, aged 24, son of Wm. Condon, of Douro. Deceased was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital on Thursday and on Saturday night he underwent an operation for appendicitis, from which he did not recover.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at nine o'clock from his home in Douro.

CATTLE KILLED ON RAILWAY CROSSING

A Dangerous Spot on G. T. R. Near Lily Lake.

On Saturday three young cattle, owned by Mr. Archer, of Smith township, strayed on to the Grand Trunk Railway crossing above Lily Lake, and were struck by a double header freight train going to Lindsay, with the result that one was killed and the two others were that badly injured that they would likely have to be put out of misery.

Yesterday, a young heifer, owned by Mr. Hancock, also of Smith, was struck by a freight train at the same crossing and was instantly killed.

Last week a valuable driver owned by a neighbouring farmer was also killed.

PLEASING TRIP OVER LIFT LOCK

Mr. R. M. Roy the Commodore of a Happy Party.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. R. M. Roy took a party of visiting and local conservatives over the lift lock in his steam yacht "Rob Rot." Mr. R. E. Layfield headed the party, which included Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mr. R. J. Winch, H. Phelan and others, and the visitors included Hon. Nelson Monteith and others. The ascent over the lock was enjoyed and photographs of the party were taken in the lock.

WERE WEDDED AT CLYDESDALE

Miss Georgina Campbell Becomes Wife of Mr. B. J. Caldwell.

The Clydesdale Presbyterian church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, June 14th, when Georgina Letitia, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Campbell, was united in marriage to Mr. Benjamin Joseph Caldwell.

The bride was attended by Miss McCaskie of Bellaville, the groom by Mr. Purdy of Castleton. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride's dress was pale blue crepe de chene, trimmed with silk lace and applique; she carried a bouquet of white snow-balls.

The bridesmaid's dress was pale blue crepe de chene, trimmed with lace and chiffon. The bride was given away by her father.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. R. MacKnight, B. A., assisted by Mr. Taylor, the missionary of that field.

After the wedding ceremony a sumptuous supper was served at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome and valuable presents. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will make their home in the Clydesdale district.

The Bowmanville News reports an old man, giving his age at 76, and his name as Joseph Freeman, as arriving there in a dilapidated buggy, drawn by a skeleton like mustang, on his way from the Rocky Mountains, where he says he owns land, to his old home, 17 miles north of Kingston. Bowmanville people subscribed enough to have him put up for the night and to start him with a few dollars in his pocket in the morning. He said that after he had visited his old home he will return to the Rockies.

The Philadelphia Raid.

A number of women belonging to "foremost families" who were caught in the recent sensational raid at Philadelphia are still in Moyamensing prison, owing to the difficulty of securing bail and getting them released secretly. A prize fighter, says the Boston Traveller, went bail yesterday for a woman he described as his sister. She bore every mark of birth and breeding and the prize fighter was simply a go-between. The escorts of these women were men of wealth and position, who are bringing weight to bear on the district attorney to quash the indictments.

Trial of the Packers.

Fifteen of the twenty-one indicted packers and all the packing corporations appeared in the federal court at Chicago and gave bonds yesterday. Mrs. Irving A. Vant, wife of the treasurer of Swift & Co., and Mrs. Richard W. Howes, wife of a department manager of the same firm, returned to Chicago yesterday from a visit to Canada and Europe with their husbands, who have eluded the efforts of secret service men. Each of the women is under bonds of $10,000 to appear at the trial of the packers.

THE ACCIDENT PROVED FATAL

Mr. Jesse Lowther Succumbs to His Injuries.

Peterborough Man Hurt in Cheese Factory Died To-day.

This afternoon at two o'clock, at the Nicholls Hospital, the death occurred of Mr. Jesse Lowther, the accident to whom was reported in Saturday's Examiner.

It appears that Mr. Lowther was engaged in driving a milk waggon, on which were a number of cans of milk, to the fourth line of Smith Cheese factory, when the team took fright and bolted, throwing him violently to the ground. It was found upon examination that several ribs were broken, one of which had been driven into the lung.

Mr. Lowther leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and one son. At the hour of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been made.

PRIZE LIST OF THE TORONTO EXHIBITION

The Prize List for the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ont., which this year will be held from Aug. 26th to Sept. 9th, both days inclusive, has come to hand. Every class has been thoroughly revised and in many cases added to. The premiums to be distributed amount, including medals, prizes and specials, to upwards of $40,000 in value, of which $25,000 is in actual cash. Field Marshal Lord Roberts, V. C., is expected to officiate at the opening ceremonies on Tuesday, August 29th, and to be a constant visitor during the first week. The famous band of the Irish Guards, considered the finest military musical organization in the United Kingdom, and the famous household band of His Majesty the King, will give two concerts on the grounds daily. Pictures and art treasures loaned by the King (Abbey's great Coronation picture being included) the Corporation of the City of London, the Republic of France, South Kensington Museum, Right Hon. Lord Strathcona, and Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, Hon. Mortimer Clarke, will contribute to the most magnificent and most historical display of art ever made on this continent. Entries close on August 10th. Copies of the prize list and entry blanks may be had on application to J. O. Orr, Secretary and manager, Canadian National Exhibition, City Hall, Toronto.

CONSENTS TO CONFERENCE.

Franco-German Dispute is Settled Amicably at Last.

Paris, July 10.—Premier Rouvier and Prince Von Radolin, the German Ambassador, reached an agreement Saturday evening relative to the communications to be exchanged between France and Germany regarding Morocco.

France consents to participate in a conference, having been assured in the course of the negotiations that her interests will be safeguarded.

The official notes on the subject will be communicated to the Chamber of Deputies, probably on Monday.

Information obtained in diplomatic quarters shows that it has practically been settled that the conference will be held at Tangier.

Skiff Smashed and Lad Drowned.

Utica, N. Y., July 10.—A despatch from Clayton says the first fatality of the season at the Thousand Islands occurred yesterday afternoon at Prospect Park, a mile west of Clayton, where Horace Cook, the 17-year-old son of Emil M. Cook, was drowned. Cook was sailing a skiff, which collided with the large yacht, Tranquilo, captained by W. D. Garmen of St. Catharines, Ont. Cook attempted to cross the bow of the yacht near Maasatuck, and perceiving that a collision was inevitable, leaped from his skiff, which was shattered by the prow of the big boat. He struggled for a moment, then sank in ninety feet of water.

Germans Do Some Killing.

Berlin, July 10.—Small engagements continue to take place in German Southwest Africa. The most considerable engagement since that at Narus, June 17, occurred June 27. Major Grassaar with three companies attacked 200 Hottentots near Kochas, on the Fish River, stormed a temporary entrenchment and killed many of the natives. The German loss was two officers and three men killed and an officer and 11 men wounded.

Grabbed Live Wire; Is Dead.

Montreal, July 10.—On the Upper Lachine road Saturday morning a man was instantly killed through taking hold of a live electric wire. One of the electric wires belonging to the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. broke and hung over the sidewalk. The deceased and another man came along, and in spite of the warnings of nearby residents took hold of the wire. He was instantly killed.

Stabbing at Port Arthur.

Port Arthur, July 10.—A stabbing affray took place here Saturday afternoon when John McDermid was stabbed by John Bentley. The men arrived here Friday from the Sault and got into a row. Bentley pulled out a razor and cut a deep gash in the other fellow's head.

Lightning Kills Live Stock.

Madoc, July 10.—Farmer James Devolan, living on the 4th concession of Madoc Township, had 13 head of cattle killed by lightning Saturday night. He had $200 insurance. Farmer Sine, 7th concession of Rawdon, had eight horses killed in the same storm.

Two Women Instantly Killed.

Medina, N. Y., July 10.—A westbound New York Central engine struck an automobile at the driving park crossing Saturday evening, killing Mrs. C. L. Eddy and Miss Margaret Downey.

Sunk in a Fog.

Portland, Maine, July 10.—The three-master schooner Sarah C. Smith of Boston, stone laden, was sunk in a fog off Portland harbor early Saturday by the steamer Governor Dingley.

German Lieutenant Suicides.

Kiel, Germany, July 10.—First Lieutenant Nirrnheim, commander of the torpedo boat S 124, which collided with the battleship Woerth, July 5, killed himself with a revolver at his residence Saturday night, doubtless from the humiliation which he suffered over the accident and the probability of his professional career being ruined. He was the son of Lieut.-Gen. Nirrnheim.

Long Terms at Kingston.

Stratford, July 10.—Davis Smith and Joseph Bowen pleaded guilty Saturday morning in the police court to robberies committed in the Township of North Easthope on June 4 last. At one place they got about $2 and at another $20 and a revolver. Smith was sentenced to five years and Bowen to four years in Kingston Penitentiary.

THE JAPANESE ON RUSSIAN SOIL

Raise the Mikado's Flag Over Sakhalin Island---Victors Invade Russia---Japan, With the Island of Sakhalin, is in the Best Position for Peace Negotiations--Extends Her Island Kingdom, and Can Now Control the Mouth of the Amur.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—A landing of Japanese troops on the Island of Sakhalin was officially reported Saturday night, and startled military circles in St. Petersburg, though it had been realized, since the defeat of Admiral Rojestvensky, that the Japanese were able to take possession of the island as soon as they thought fit. The strength of the landing force cannot be ascertained, but the garrison of the island is too weak to offer an effective resistance.

Gen. Liapunoff Reports.

A despatch, dated July 7, from Gen. Liapunoff, commanding the Russian troops on the Island of Sakhalin, says "At 9 o'clock in the morning of July 7 a Japanese squadron approached the Village of Chipivan, about seven miles southwest of Karsakorsk, and opened fire on the shore."

Another despatch of the same date says: "At 3 p. m. Japanese torpedo boats approached Karsakorsk, and the Russian batteries opened fire on them and compelled the boats to retire. During the bombardment four of the inhabitants of Karsakorsk were killed. The bombardment had been anticipated, and the commander had ordered the withdrawal of the defenders northward."

Stroke of Diplomacy.

Though the Japanese seem unwilling to risk a grand battle with Gen. Linevitch pending the peace meeting at Washington and the landing of troops on Sakhalin is considered to express Japan's decision regarding the formal conclusion of a general armistice, viz., that in the interval before the meeting it is necessary to occupy the island whose possession is an important card in Japan's diplomatic contest at Washington.

Russians Blew Up Guns.

The Japanese fleet covering the landing of troops on the Island of Sakhalin consisted of two battleships, seven cruisers, three gunboats, 36 torpedo boats and 10 transports loaded with troops.

The Japanese landed at the Village of Meres, between Shepevan and Korsakovsk.

The commander of the Russian detachment of troops at Korsakovsk ordered the coast defence guns to be blown up and all the Government buildings burned before retiring.

For the First Time.

With the Japanese flag hoisted for the first time on Russian soil after eighteen months of war, the importance of the landing on the Island of Sakhalin is generally admitted both in newspapers comment and in Government circles. Complete occupation of the island is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

There is a divergency of opinion with regard to the effect it will have upon the negotiations at Washington, some of the irreconcilables declaring that it makes peace at the present juncture more impossible than before.

China's Position.

Washington, July 10.—China's request to be represented in the Washington conference, on the ground that she is vitally interested in its proceedings, has been received by President Roosevelt and informally transmitted to the belligerents. While Russia is inclined to favor the suggestion, Japan will not consent to it. Japan has already made public her assurances that Manchuria is to be returned to China. That is one of the principles for which she says she has been fighting.

Gradually Driving North.

Tokio, July 10.—The following official despatch has been received from the Japanese army headquarters in Manchuria:

Occasional collisions take place between scouts on both sides of the railroad along the Fanghwa, Kai Yuen and Kwangping roads.

The enemy is being gradually driven northward.

Peace Plenipotentiaries Sail.

Yokohama, July 10.—The steamer Minnesota, having on board the Japanese peace plenipotentiaries, sailed from this port for Seattle at 4.30 Saturday afternoon. The Governor of Yokohama and the civic bodies escorted the plenipotentiaries to the pier, where they were received by a military guard. At the pier the plenipotentiaries and their suites entered launches and were conveyed to the Minnesota, which was dressed with flags, as were all the ships in the harbor. The Marquis Ito, Premierf Katsura, the others members of the Cabinet, and the American Minister were among those who accompanied Baron Komura and his party to the Minnesota. An enormous crowd of Japanese and foreigners, with bands of music, assembled at the waterfront, and general enthusiasm was manifested, the bands playing patriotic airs and the crowds discharging fireworks. The Japanese guardship Takao fired a salute of 19 guns as the Minnesota put to sea, escorted by a torpedo boat and a naval steamer specially detailed to convoy her out of Tokio Bay.

HURRY UP THE MAILS.

Cruiser Canada Sails to Meet the Virginian—Sensational Stories of the Mutiny Largely Untrue.

Halifax, July 10.—The cruiser Canada sailed yesterday morning for a rendezvous in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where she will intercept the Allan turbiner Virginian, and take off the mails in order to test the speed of the Canadian route via Sydney. It is expected that the transfer will take place on Wednesday morning, and that the mail train will leave shortly after noon of the same day. Barring accidents the British mails should be delivered in Montreal on Thursday evening, seven days from Liverpool.

The sensational stories sent out about a mutiny on the Canada has proved largely untrue. Fifteen of the Canada's crew who complained of ill treatment of two of their number by Capt. Charles Tupper Knowlton, left the ship. They were allowed their discharge and their places were filled before the Canada sailed.

GREAT LIBERAL PICNIC.

Queen's Park, London, Thronged—12,000 Feasted in the Hall.

London, July 10.—A tremendous concourse of people—rivalling in number one of the Western Fair's biggest crowds—gathered in Queen's Park Saturday at the Hyman picnic. The skies had a threatening look and a little rain fell, but black clouds had no terrors for the thousands who wanted to take part in rejoicing over the re-election of London's favorite son and honored representative, Charles S. Hyman, the new Minister of Public Works. From one in the afternoon until late in the evening a steady stream of visitors poured into the fine old park where the Western Fair is held, the carrying capacity of the street cars being tested to the utmost. The affair was a picnic in the ordinary sense of the term. Besides the Minister of Public Works, Hon. A. Johnston, M. P., of Cape Breton, and Mr. Walter Scott, M. P., Assiniboia, were present, but there were no speeches. Some 22,000 tickets for refreshments had been given out, and 12,000 persons were fed in detachments in Horticultural Hall, about 2,000 being waited on at once. The feeding of the crowd was kept up until nearly 8 o'clock, and then the committee started to hand out lunches to those outside. An orchestra played popular airs while luncheon was going on, the bands of the Seventh and Twenty-Sixth Regiments and a corps of Highland pipers furnishing music on the grounds and in front of the grand stands.

Engineer and Fireman Die.

Regina, July 10.—Engineer Lang of Saskatoon and Fireman W. Parrott, the men injured in the accident to the freight train at Pilot Butte, died at Victoria Hospital Saturday. Lang died from the effects of internal injury, and Parrott could not survive the shock of amputation a little below the thigh. An inquest will be held on the bodies on Monday.

Drowning at Hamilton.

Hamilton, July 10.—Lazzaro Tinperators, an Italian, 18 years old, employed as a G. T. R. navvy, was drowned yesterday afternoon. He was bathing at the west end of the bay.

135 Degrees in Spain.

Madrid, July 10.—The temperature in the sun at Seville Saturday was 135. A terrible draught prevails in the Province of Malaga.

THE MURDER OF A SQUAW

Brutally Slain on the Indian Reserve Near Brantford--The Suspect is Pursued--Joe Bennett, "Bad" Indian, is Now in Hiding in Reserve Woods, But a Posse is Certain They Will Capture Him---Evidence Connecting Him With the Crime Unearthed.

Brantford, July 10.—Early yesterday morning the little Village of Oshweken, 12 miles from Brantford, was the scene of a revolting murder. A squaw, Betsey Jacobs, was choked and outraged by one whom suspicion claims to be Joe Bennett, a noted horse thief and bad Indian.

The discovery was made by David Davis, an Indian, for whom the murdered woman did washing. In the little log cabin where she lived her body was found, her throat bearing the marks of the fingers which choked her life out. One eye was also bruised considerable, as if pummeled. The murdered woman was living alone at the time, the rest of the family being absent berry-picking at Norwich. They occupied a little one-roomed log cabin almost in the Village of Oshweken. In this cabin are three beds and upon one of these Betsey retired on Saturday night. Towards morning the little house was broken into through the window. The murderer evidently sprang upon the helpless woman, seized her by the throat and choked the life out of her in his frenzy. The woman was left on the floor beside the bed and was in this position when found.

Police Chase Suspect.

Suspicion points directly to Joe Bennett, one of the worst characters on the reserve. On Saturday he was in this city and while here liquored up to such an extent that by night he was badly intoxicated. The theory is that when he arrived at the village he went to the Jacobs house and breaking in discovered that the occupant was alone.

When the body was discovered the constables set out at once for Bennett. The Indian had a fair start, but before long he was discovered driving towards Caledonia. When Bennett saw that he was recognized he abandoned the horse and rig and plunged on foot into the Indian Bush. The pursuit was kept up hotly the local men being reinforced by constables from Brantford.

Will Get Him.

At a late hour he was still at large, but his capture is only a matter of time. It may be some days, but he will hardly dare to leave the confines of the reserve. He is much feared by the Indians and for this reason may receive considerable aid. For several years he had been absent because of complicity in a horse stealing case.

The proof that Bennett is the man is almost conclusive. A letter which he had taken out the Oshkeken post office late on Saturday night was found on the floor near the murdered woman.

The murdered woman was about 40 years of age and has been a partial cripple for a considerable time. Bennett is a large and muscular man. The Brantford police have several records of a minor nature chalked up against him, but of late he had been on the Seniston reserve.

ADAM LLOYD COMMITTED.

Police Magistrate Finds There is Sufficient Evidence of Murder.

Belleville, July 10.—Police Magistrate Flint Saturday morning gave judgment in the case of Adam Lloyd, who had a preliminary trial on the charge of causing the death of his wife, Mrs. Hannah Lloyd. Acting on the advice of the Attorney-General, the magistrate refrained from discussing the evidence. In the opinion of the magistrate, there was sufficient evidence to commit the accused for trial, and he was committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, which will be at the Assizes held here in October.

Temagami Not Fireswept.

Montreal, July 10.—The rather sensational despatch regarding forest fires in the Temagami region, sent out from Ottawa last week, was misleading. There was only a very small bush fire one mile south of the Temagami station and not on Temagami Lake proper. The islands of the lake have not been touched by fire, as was stated, and there is no truth in the report.

Capt. Wilson's Leg Cut Off.

Cornwall, July 10.—Capt H. F. Wilson of the schooner Boyce lost his leg here Saturday night.

He was having his boat tied up above lock 18, Cornwall Canals, when his leg was caught in a loop of rope and crushed so badly that amputation was necessary.

The limb was taken off below the knee.

AUDITOR-GENERAL OUT.

J. Lorne Macdougall Carries Out His Threat of the Other Day.

Ottawa, July 10.—Auditor-General Lorne Macdougall resigned Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Macdougall was returned for the House of Commons for South Renfrew, September, 1900, again in 1874, and sat at intervals till August, 1878, when he was appointed Auditor General of Canada by the Mackenzie Government, and has held the office ever since.

PRETTY HAND WORK

EYELET EMBROIDERY IN HIGH FAVOR THIS SEASON.

It Makes the Daintiest of Decoration For Summer Frocks and Is Also Very Durable—Will Be Much Used For Baby Clothes.

Eyelet embroidery, the old fashioned broderie anglaise, or madeira work, as it is sometimes called, promises to be the most popular mode of decoration for summer frocks. It is one of the daintiest as well as the simplest of embellishments, and, best of all, with a little practice the work can be done at home.

A CHILD'S CAP.

And not only for its beauty is the eyelet embroidery desirable, but especially for its durability. Years ago, before machine embroidery could be bought, this style of work was used on underclothes, for petticoat ruffles, etc., and baby clothes in particular were beautified in this way, whole yokes and front panels in dainty christening robes being simply a mass of the embroidery.

For the baby of 1905 these little robes are again being made, together with caps, jackets and dainty bootees and hats for older children. The work is done with fine marking cotton, and the round openings, or eyelets proper, are made with a stiletto, the oval openings being cut. Before doing that, however, the outline is covered with a fine even darning or running stitch, begun at the pointed end of the figure and ending at the same place. Do not cut the thread. The slit is made through the center of the oval, first lengthwise, then crosswise, and at the round or wide end it will probably be necessary to make two more slashes in order that the linen may be turned back smoothly to the wrong side along the line of darning. Then begin at the narrow end, working with the same thread that was used to darn the outline and cover the edge of the opening with a series of fine over and over stitches, each one lying close to but not on top of the stitch last made.

The cap shown in the first illustration is made of fine white linen, which is almost entirely covered by the eyelet work. The design consists of a daisy-like figure surrounded by a trailing vine, the leaves of which are connected by an outlined stem. The edge of the cap is buttonholed, as are also the ends of the ties, and the finished cap is very pretty and just the thing for baby's summer wear. For cool days a little silk lining of white or color may be inserted, and if this lining is made double and quilted, an interlining of soft flannel being first put in, the cap may be used at all seasons of the year.

The dainty bootees given in the next illustration show the same design as the two previous articles, but in themselves are something of a novelty. In shape they resemble the kid bootees, but these eyelet worked ones have no lining or foundation of any kind. They are buttonhoed around the edge and held together at the toe by three buttonholed rings and at the ankle by two short straps, which are fastened and held in place by a ribbon bow.

Until recently lingerie hats made of all over embroidery or flouncing have been more generally worn by children than adults, but for the coming summer they promise to be equally popular for all ages. One of the hats can be made with the eyelet design and the scalloped edge corresponding with the jacket and other articles.—Delineator.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the father has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until Tuesday, August 8, 1905, inclusively, for the supply of Coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application at this office.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

CANADIAN MAIL ROUTE.

Shipping men on both sides of the Atlantic are waiting with considerable interest the test which the Canadian government proposes to make of the time in which the mails from the Old Country can be delivered in Montreal via Sidney, instead of, as at present, via Rimouski. The plan to be adopted, the Ottawa Journal explains, is to despatch the government cruiser Canada from Halifax to intercept the Allan liner Virginian with the mails in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The Canada, if calculations prove true, will meet the Virginian about forty miles off Sydney on July 11 and will steam full speed to that port. There, a special I. C. R. train will be waiting to convey the mails to Montreal. Both steamers are equipped with wireless telegraphic apparatus and with good weather the transfer of the mails ought to be carried out expeditiously. However, much of the success of the trial depends, of course, on good weather.

From Liverpool to Sydney, via Cape Race, is 2,150 miles to Rimouski via Belle Isle, 2,460 miles; from Sydney to Montreal by rail is 989 miles, from Rimouski 343 miles. The very conservative estimate of the Montreal Gazette, which exhibits some concern lest the St. Lawrence should be given up as a mail route in favour of the overland connection, is that by way of Sydney means a saving of eight hours. Most probably it will be more and very possibly mails will be delivered in Montreal quicker than in New York. If so, most of the mail for many states of the Union will be delivered via Canada instead of through U. S. ports. The success of the experiment will seemingly justify Sir William Mulock's prophecy that it is only a matter of years until the Canadian route commands the mail service.

A POOR DEFENCE.

The defence has been put forward on behalf of the Provincial Government—a defence that is more creditable to the ingenuity of those who present it than to their regard for accuracy of presentation — that the wholesale dismissal of license inspectors is due to the fact that these officials were political instruments, and that the Government had found it impracticable to entrust the enforcement of the license law to active Liberal partisans.

It may be that in some few instances the inspectors were of the partizan character described, and that there may have been some justification for their dismissal on that ground, but in the vast majority of cases the inspectors were faithful and conscientious men who discharged their duties fearlessly.

In this city, for example, says the Ottawa Free Press, who can accuse Inspector Smith of having been an active partisan or political instrument? Yet his doom has been sealed: his services have been dispensed with, without even waiting for the authority of a dismissal in conformity with the rules of practice governing the civil service.

In the majority of cases the form of decency has been observed: but, like Mr. Smith, the majority of the inspectors were men who took little interest in political work further than to record their votes, and who devoted their attention to the discharge of their duties.

But, apart from any other consideration, if the Government had really desired to convince the public of the hollowness and insincerity of their professions as to improving the regulation of the traffic they could hardly have adopted a more efficient course than by dismissing the inspectors appointed by a Liberal Government.

With the licenses held, as they shortly will be, by good Conservatives, the Boards of Commissioners, also staunch Conservatives, and the inspectors, subservient Conservatives—there is a political combination of the happiest possible character, which the public will probably assume may be trusted to see that prosecutions for violations of the license law will be few and far between.

With the license inspectors of another political persuasion than the two other factors in the combination, the public would have had a reasonable assurance that the law would be effectively administered; but what assurance is there under the new conditions when the License Boards get the Liberal license holders out?

EDITORIAL NOTES

Whether or not it is a case of post hoc propter hoc, it is a fact that the reports of the increase of drunkenness have become acute since the Whitney Government came into power with its political non-political application of license law administration.

There's life in the old Lion yet. The croakers who gloat over Great Britain's alleged trade decadence, are sharply aroused from their pipe dreams by the latest trade returns, which show that Great Britain's trade returns for June show an increase of exports of nearly ten million dollars — $9,578,000.

AUSTRALIA'S MANUFACTURES

The manufacturers of Australia seem to have taken up quite as strong a position as have those of Canada with reference to the need of protective tariffs even against Great Britain if we may judge from an address recently given in London by the Hon. W. James resident agent general for Western Australia. Now that the various states are federated, Mr. James believes that in the first 10 years of the existence of the Commonwealth Australian manufacturers will make a more striking record than did Canadians during the first 20 years with a protected market. In Australia, it has to be remembered, the local manufacturer has a market all to himself and far distant from great exporting centre such as Britain or the United States. Already since federation imports have fallen from £37,000,000 to £31,800,000, although in 1901 the exports increased by £9,600,000.

A capital of over $350,000,000 is employed in the 15,000 industrial establishments already at work and an agitation is in progress for a reorganization of the existing tariff which is the result of a compromise due to the need for revenue and the demand for protection, which has satisfied neither the free trader nor the protectionist.

PURE FOODS.

There has been for some years a very widespread complaint in the United States that a vast amount of adulteration of Food Stuffs was going on. The practising of adulterations finally resulted in the establishment of the National Anti-Adulteration League and also of the appointment of the Pure Food Commission by the Government. Most people have had an idea that all food stuffs made in the United States are adulterated but the public must learn with real alarm that the pure food inspectors of New York city detected and confiscated one million two hundred and ninety-one thousand pounds of adulterated food during the week beginning June 18. In 1904, that is the whole year, the New York inspectors only detected about a million pounds. Commissioner Darlington attributes the large amount captured last week to the increased activity of the inspectors. The National Anti-Adulteration League charged that the inspectors were not doing their duty hence the increased activity that has detected such a large amount of adulterated food.

New York is a very large city and a few inspectors could only be expected to cover a certain amount of ground. Consequently it may be fairly assumed that while over a million pounds of adulterated food was captured a much larger amount is lying on the shelves of New York stores. The point for Canada to ponder over is that a very large amount of canned goods made in the United States is consumed in Canada. Canadians have therefore a very lively interest in the condition of American food. The analysis of the United States Pure Food Commissioners show that practically all goods that are susceptible of being adulterated are adulterated. Opper the cartoonist of the New York American has drawn a cartoon showing the future state of the adulterator of food, which he thinks will be the eternal consumption of his own adulterations. We fancy, however, it would be more timely if some of these adulterators were made to swallow their own adulterations as this Mr. It must be remembered that the adulteration of food except in a few cases means a great deal more than mere inferiority of quality. In many cases adulteration means slow poison to the consumer.

HERPICIDE'S MISSION.

It Takes Away the Dread of Birthdays.

Nothing is more annoying to men and women of middle age than to see those unmistakable signs of age—thin hair and grayness — approaching. But science has discovered that these conditions are no longer "unmistakable" evidences of old age, for the dandruff germ theory proves that even the young people may suffer hair loss, while those fortunate enough to escape the ravages of the scalp germ, retain their abundant locks to a ripe old age. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and removes the risk of appearing old before your time. Save your hair and your feelings by using the genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

THE INCREASE OF DRUNKENNESS

Interesting Figures From the License Report.

A Decrease in the Number of Licenses —Fifty Municipalities in Ontario in Which Prohibition is in Force.

The report of the Inspector of Licenses for the year ending May, 1904, issued under the direction of Chief License Officer, Eudo Saunders, shows an increase in the commitments of drunkenness of 603 over the preceding year, the respective figures being 3,580 for 1903-1904, and 2,977 for 1902-1903. This increase is the more noticeable because there was a reduction of 49 in the number of licenses, including shops. The licenses numbered 3,023 in 1903 and 2,974 last year. This decrease does not include the licenses cut off by the new boards of Commissioners in May of this year, numbering about 100.

The receipts for the year aggregated $649,412.99 (as against $644,895.94 on the preceding year) of which $257,866.64 was paid to municipalities, an increase of boards of commissioners in May of this $7636.82. The total amount of fines was $20,465, compared with $16,559. The amount of license fees imposed by municipalities in excess of the statutory dues was $148,902.76, an increase of $967. 23. Of the total receipts, the sum of $304,677.70 went to the Provincial Treasury; $257,866.64, as stated, to the municipalities; $68,412.73 was expended for inspectors' salaries and the expenses of commissioners; $14,959.89 for sundry expenses, and $3,495.95, the unexpended balance, was transferred to the accounts of 1904-05.

There are now 50 municipalities, 20 having passed the necessary by-law this year, in which prohibition is in force for the license year 1905-06, and one, Sault Ste. Marie, in which the prohibition affects only shops.

APPLE PRICES WILL BE HIGH

Advance Reports State That Crop in Europe is Poor.

Good Prospect for Shippers of Canadian Fruit to England.

The latest reports of the apple crop in Europe are depressing to N. White & Co., New York, show that the crop in all probability be a poor one this year, and as a consequence the prices in Canada will be high.

The advance report on the crop says:

England.—Early apples very bad crop. Late apples only one-third crop. The weather through May, first three weeks cold east winds followed on the 23rd and 24th with two nights of sharp frost, 8 to 10 degrees with ice and snow in some counties. Pears, very bad crop. Plums, in some places a total failure; in others fair crop; on the whole poor crop. Heavy crops of plums alway affects the sale of apples.

France.—Not half the crop of last year, particularly the South, cold winds in May did a great deal of damage.

Holland and Belgium.—Have about half a crop; the bulk of these go to the north of England and Ireland, and some this season may go to Germany.

Germany.—Has a very poor crop owing to drought prevailing in April and May, early fruit in particular being very light.

London, Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow and Hamburg can take all the early fruit (apples) this country can ship in July and August, providing they are of sufficient size of such sorts as Duchess of Oldenburg, Fall Pippin, Gravensteins, Wealthy, Orange Pippin, Holland, Ramsbornes, Early York Imperials, Early Ohio Davis, Kings, in fact, any kinds that are sufficiently matured to ship.

MANY SPEECHES AND GOOD SPORTS

At the First Pic-nic of Young Conservative Club.

Baseball Game Furnished Amusement —Hon. Nelson Monteith Speaks on Agriculture.

The first picnic under the management of the Young Conservative Club took place at the Driving Park on Saturday afternoon. There was a considerable attendance. R. E. Layfield, President of the Club, presided and the speakers were T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., A. Broder, M.P.; D. Roche, M.P. Marquette, Senator Perley and Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture.

The first speaker was Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who was received with applause. He said it was most gratifying to him to see the large attendance at the Young Conservative Club's picnic and he thought that organization deserving of every congratulation for the work they had done. Mr. Bradburn said he was pleased to welcome representatives from the House at Ottawa and from the Provincial Legislature and he bespoke an afternoon's interesting entertainment.

All the speeches were of a complimentary character. Hon. Mr. Monteith alone dealing with agriculture, but only in general terms. He spoke of agriculture as the greatest source of wealth and contentment. His department was aiming at the best results in the interests of the farmer, who was more deserving of assistance than even the industrial and commercial interests of the country. There was one great problem that should not be overlooked, to see that Canadian products hold their place in competition with those of Australia and New Zealand in the markets of the world. Cold storage in connection with transportation had been inaugurated in 1890, but very little advancement had been made along these lines, and it was necessary to impress upon the custodians of the country's interests at Ottawa the importance of perfecting cold storage. The annual value of the farm products of Ontario was $350,000,000, and it was important that that figure should not only be maintained, but increased, and it was the duty of those in authority to see that the farmers of the country got the best service. It was the desire of the Government of Ontario to be put in touch with the wants and needs of the people, and, this done, the Government would not be slow to respond to the requests of the people in the interest of the farmer. Farmers must not forget the dignity of their calling, which was represented by its utility. Those elected to responsibility, the speaker claimed, should be required to bear the burden; it was the duty of the citizens, and among them the farmers, to do their share in aiding the Government's efforts for their advancement.

During the speech-making a baseball match was in progress between two scratch nines of local baseball enthusiasts, which afforded considerable amusement for the spectators. The score of the baseball game was:

ORANGEMEN AT ANNUAL WORSHIP

Sermon and Services at St. John's and in the Vicinity.

Propogation of Protestants as Well as Protestantism Enjoined.

Yesterday, the Sunday preceding July 12th, as has been the custom in the past, the members of the local Orange Lodges of Peterborough District, attended divine service, that of yesterday being held in St. John's church, which was crowded to the doors, the sermon being preached by Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's.

The members of the Local and District Lodges gathered to the number of about 200, at the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, and marched to St.

MR. W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
Peterborough, Deputy District Master L. O. L.

John's church. The marshalls were Mr. Geo. Barclay, County Director of Ceremonies, and Mr. Uriah Hanley, District Director of Ceremonies.

The order of the procession was:
County Master Stewart, of Lakefield.
Deputy District Master, W. H. G. Armstrong, of Peterborough, No. 80.
Deputy County Master, J. C. Waldie.
Band.
L.O.L., No. 80,
Deputy Master, H. L. Everett.
L.O.L., No. 311,
Master John Leeson.
L.O.L., No. 178,
Master T. A. Young.

In addition to the Lodges mentioned, a number of visiting members of the order were present from Lindsay, Coldwater and other towns, and were in the procession, which over over two blocks in length.

The Sermon.

The preacher took for the text of his sermon, the first verse of St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians:

"I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called."

The members of the Orange Society present were informed that they had come to the house of God for two purposes, to join in the worship of God, and to receive instruction and, he hoped, inspiration. Though he was not a member of the Order, yet they met on the common ground of Christianity. As a citizen, he was glad, and proud, if he could help in building up the young country, of which we were so proud. He would not address them in words of commendation or flattery. We were all interested in one great question. His message to the Orangemen of Peterborough was to urge them to realize their God-given position of high privilege, splendid opportunity, and great responsibility, and to live up to this position—in the words of St. Paul, "to walk worthy of their high vocation. Christ had organized a society, and through the members of it all other men were to be gathered into this society. All members were called upon to walk worthy of their vocation. They were not to look at this society — the church — from their own standpoint of narrow conception, but from the point of view of God, to live up to their belief in Jesus Christ. To reply to the question, of what should be our attitude towards the Roman Catholic branch of the Church, they were not to be allowed, what they claim, the use of the word "Catholic"—remember they were the Roman branch of the Church Catholic. Without reference to our passions or prejudices, our attitude towards Roman Catholics should not be one of hostility. Nowhere in the New Testament were we urged to fight against our fellow men, we were to treat them in such a way as to be worthy of our high vocation — in a spirit of Christian lowliness and meekness. We were to stand up for the unity of the Christian church. While God called upon us to treat our fellow men with gentleness and kindness, He also called upon us to stand up manfully for the faith once delivered to the saints. It was to be noticed that Roman Catholics were increasing in Canada at a more rapid rate than Protestants. In Glengarry county, once a Scotch stronghold, Roman Catholics now predominate. It was similar in Essex county, and the Northwest, through their members the action that had been taken in regard to the schools was possible. In regard to the peculiar doctrines of the Roman Catholic church, it was pointed out that Roman Catholics had a right to their opinions — he never saw a man converted by the abuse of his religious opinions. There was a danger to Protestantism in the fact that the Roman Catholic Church held allegiance to a foreign potentate. They wielded a political influence out of proportion to their numbers and they exercised what seems to us an ecclesiastical tyranny. Where they have the power as in some parts of the world, they seemed to fail to enlighten the people. Did the people of this county wish it brought down to the level of South America and Italy and Spain? Did we want to ignore the conditions? We must stand for truth and, if we must not fight, those opposed to our religion, then we must find out our position and stand for the truth. Should we be satisfied with our position? The population of Protestants and the size of Protestant families were decreasing, while those of Roman Catholics were increasing rapidly, as witness Glengarry, Essex and the Northwest. Were Protestants satisfied to have their family numbers decreasing as they were doing? The average of Protestant families of seven children had dwindled to one or two, and the duty of Protestants in this regard was insisted upon. The men and women to be honoured were those with large families. After referring to the unfortunate circumstances of divisions in the church and the lack of sympathy among Christians, the preacher referred to the necessity of instructing our children in relation to religion and morals. We had been greatly exercised over the school question in the Northwest, but what were we doing? — Sending our children to the schools and compressing our religious instruction into one hour of one day in the week. It might be said that we could not have religious instruction in schools on account of divisions among Christians. The speaker said he would be willing to gain this good, to have his children taught the great truths of our common religion by a Baptist or Presbyterian or Methodist teacher, rather than have them go without religious instruction. If the soul of a Roman Catholic child was tended like a beautiful garden from its infancy, why were the souls of Protestant children neglected? Protestants did not obey the spirit of the command regarding Holy Communion, and the men of Protestant churches did not stand by their Protestant ministers as they should do. Protestantism from lack of co-operation and unity seemed to be losing ground, while Roman Catholics were gaining ground because they stood, shoulder to shoulder every day in the year. It seemed that Protestants had not walked "worthy of their vocation." We had been boasting of our religious principles instead of putting them into practice. The preacher concluded by earnestly exhorting his hearers to "walk worthy of their vocation."

The service concluded with the recessional hymn "Fight the Good Fight" and "God Save the King."

In the morning 'bus loads from Nassau, No. 457, Peterborough, No. 80, and 'bus load of Prentice Boys, with the brethren from Smith, attended service at Fowler's Corners, where an able sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. W. Winstelow, Past Grand Chaplain of Eastern Ontario.

TAINTED MONEY.

Have you heard of tainted money
That must handled be with care,
Cash that will corrupt your morals
When you try to get your shares?
Has the bad and naughty dollar
Ever loomed before your view?
Have you seen a bill that didn't
Somehow look real good to you?

Floating round in circulation
There are dollars, we are told,
That are vile beyond believing,
Awful chunks of tainted gold,
But the grocer and the butcher
Turn handsprings to get the stuff,
And the lawyer and the doctor
Never can get quite enough.

Shady, underhanded ventures,
Schemes kept just inside the law,
Make the dollar of the children
Come to hand with quite a thaw,
But it's always consumption,
Though the flavor is quite rank,
They will take it for the direct tax
And receive it at the bank.

Mostly, you should be quite careful;
Ask the man how it was made
Which he offers you a dollar
In the daily course of trade,
But if some one hands you money
That is reeking with disgrace
You perhaps may find a sucker
Who will take it at its face.

CAPTIVES OF URUGUAY

TREATMENT ACCORDED IMPRISONED CANADIAN SEALERS.

Called Them Pirates—Captain May Be Imprisoned for Five Years — The Charge is That the Vessel Went into the Waters of Uruguay to Pillage That Country's Seal Rookeries.

Mr. D. Steel has arrived in Victoria, B. C., having returned from Uruguay. He is one of the ill-fated hunters from the schooner Agnes C. Donoghue. When he left the other members of the crew were held in Montevideo awaiting sentence on what Steele says is only a trumped-up charge. Steele, seeing how matters were shaping, thought it best to quit the Uruguayan capital on the first opportunity, and is well satisfied to get back to his home in Victoria after months of a most trying experience in Montevideo. When he left on April 3rd the prosecuting attorney in the case had recommended to the courts that Capt. Ryan, commanding the schooner, should receive five years' imprisonment; that Wm. Ryan, chief mate, should get two years; Wm. Porter, second officer, one year; and the members of the crew should be imprisoned for six months.

Put In For Water.

It was about November 11th that Donoghue put in to within about four and one-half miles of the shore of Uruguay for water. The weather was so rough that it was impossible to land a boat, and after waiting all the next day the captain decided to leave. A cutter, described by the Uruguayans as a man-of-war, approached, and after firing three shots across the bow of the schooner the vessel was boarded. No attempt was made to investigate affairs aboard the schooner, but after taking ten of the crew of nineteen men of a crew was put on the Agnes Donoghue to bring the vessel to Montevideo. This was accordingly done, and upon their arrival the officers and men were imprisoned for sixty-seven days.

Couldn't Get Redress.

Repeated attempts were made by the officers and men to get redress. The British Minister was appealed to, but the authorities replied that $5,000 of a bond would have to be put up. Finally at the end of sixty-seven days the captain was taken back on board the schooner with a guard of five men in charge. Other members of the crew were allowed to come and go on taking an oath that they would appear when called upon to do so. Steele describes the treatment accorded the men in the jail as none too good. The floor was bare rock, and the rations meagre. The imprisonment and worry incident upon it has told upon Capt. Ryan. He is a young man of about thirty-five years, but is now only the wreck of what he was before the trouble began. If imprisonment is to be enforced Mr. Steele has little hope that Capt. Ryan will live through it.

A Flimsy Case.

The case against Donoghue is of the flimsiest character, Steele says. He denies that there could be anything in the charge recently made that the schooner hunted off an island near the coast of Uruguay. This island, he says, is known as Castello Grando. It is near here that the pilot boats await the arrival of vessels. Lying there they are paid a premium for every schooned they report, and it is supposed that this is the way in which the cutter was made aware of the presence of the Donoghue. There was nothing done in the way of attempting to prove that the schooner sealed on this island. The skins were not even counted on board the vessel. So far as fresh blood marks were concerned, it was quite likely that some marks might have remained on some of the boats of the schooner from the day previous to her arrival off the coast. The courts before which the unfortunate sealers were brought were conducted in a way which did not inspire Mr. Steele with any great respect for the judiciary or the laws of Uruguay.

Called Them Pirates.

The solicitor who represented the captain and crew of the schooner informed them that there was no case against them. Yet when the first judge gave his decision he said the sealing company was formed for the sole purpose of robbery and that the crew of the Agnes Donoghue were pirates. Slowly the case was carried from one court to another and when Steele left was to come up for what was regarded as the final decision. The prosecuting attorney was given six days to prepare his report for the court. He took forty-seven days to do it. As before mentioned, he recommended five years, imprisonment for the captain, two years for the mate, one year for the second mate and six months for the crew, with the confiscation of the schooner and cargo. All the members of the crew were from Nova Scotia, with the exception of Steele and Wm. Porter, the second officer, who belongs to Sooke, near Victoria, B. C.

Dan's Hope.

Oh, ripe this the days of June
And sweeter than its roses,
More radiant than its mellow moon
And brighter than its posies—
Yes, softer than its morning air
That's o'er us kindly flashing—
Are brides of June, buds young and fair,
And, like the roses, blushing!

They come in throngs of lustrous white
And set our pulses dancing,
Their smiles are soft, their lashes bright,
And they are most entrancing;
Their thoughts are fixed on coming days
With romance laden all'ring;
They see things in a golden haze,
Their happiness assuring.

A sound of music in the air,
The rippling notes of laughter
From lips of maids who have no care—
A gentle sigh thereafter!
All speak of June and marriage time
And early planning bowers,
Of bridesmaids and of wedding chime,
Of antenuptial showers.

Back of the happy picture lurks
Old daddy with the dollars,
Which for the same he works and works
And very seldom hollers;
He hopes that when the other chap
Who helps to make the wedding
Shall pay his daughter's bills maybap
Dad won't find such hard sledding.

Rapid Promotion.

"What is he doing now?"
"Promoting mines."
"Is he successful?"

CANADA AND JAMAICA.

The Island Perhaps Not Yet Ready for Annexation to Canada But Is Kindly Disposed.

The Rev. C. H. Coles, M. A., Oxon is staying in Canada, on leave of absence from Jamaica, where he has been working in the Church of England ministry for over ten years. He was in Toronto to attend the Intercity Conference of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, with which organization he has been closely connected in Jamaica. While in Canada he represents The Jamaica Times, the leading island weekly, and also is inquiring into the possibilities of closer connection between Canada and the West Indies.

"Well, what do you think are the possibilities?"

"One is highly desirable, though not at present practicable, viz., political connection; the other, both desirable and practicable, is greater commercial intercourse. As to the former, while many would like to see annexation to the Dominion, and believe it would be the best solution of administrative difficulties, the people are not ready for autonomy as a Province of the Dominion. At present, as Mr. Whitney remarked to me on the subject, Crown government is probably the best form, and Canada would hardly exercise that."

"What are the possibilities as to commercial intercourse?"

"Very considerable, if only there was a direct steamship service to Montreal. The present West Indian service with Halifax is quite inadequate, and almost all the present trade is done through New York or Boston, with obvious extra expense for freight and duty. Flour is already being sent in large quantities to Jamaica, though the fact is not generally known on either side, because the business is done through New York agents. At Montreal I was agreeably surprised to find that Ogilvies' Flour Mills now supply all the chief bakeries of Kingston and the other towns with Gleners flour, and hope still further to extend their trade. Nova Scotia sends large quantities of salt fish, which is a staple dish for all classes in the island, and also a growing amount of butter. As to further extension, cheese and salt provisions could follow, and boots and perhaps some other manufactured goods."

Fruit and Sugar.

"In return the West Indies could supply fruit and sugar, especially with the preference granted by Canada to British-grown sugar."

"Quantities of both commodities already come north, and especially of the latter since preference was granted: but again, what comes through American ports is overweighted by ordinary observers, and what comes to Halifax usually stays there or is transported at impracticable prices. Besides these, hundreds of cocoanuts are being shipped, and hundreds or thousands could follow; and coffee (of which the Blue Mountain blend ranks among the finest three of the world), oranges, ginger and pimento or allspice could also follow suit."

"Has not the Government dropped the idea of a direct service?"

"No, I think not. Mr. O'Hara, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, wrote me that it is considering this year a line to Cuba, with an extension to Jamaica, and perhaps next year a line connecting with all the West Indian islands. The Royal Mail Co. and Elder-Dempster Line both made attractive and like proposals for the service. The West Indies have great possibilities for tropical produce if properly worked. If Canadians would take them up as the States have taken up Cuba or as the United Fruit Co. has Jamaica, the results might be as profitable to us in the other two cases. As it is, Jamaica at any rate seems sinking down for want of capital and enterprise, and will either have to continue down grade or else, like Cuba and Porto Rico, fall under the Stars and Stripes. This consummation is feared by almost all classes of inhabitants, and may be inevitable unless England can assist Jamaica more effectively; or, better still, as it seems to many of us, Canada can stretch out its strong young hand and push it along, commercially, agriculturally, and perhaps ultimately politically also."

CLAIM OWNERSHIP OF PARK.

Descendants of French-Canadians Sue Montreal for $1,500,000.

A series of remarkable actions are facing the City of Montreal, involving the title to a park valued at $1,800,000 and present claim of $300,000 by the descendant of a French settler named Jean Baptiste Poirier, who owned a farm which to-day is a city park known as Fletcher's field.

He died in 1773, leaving his estate to be divided between his six children. The actual ownership seems to have been lost during a century, and in 1875 Stanley Clarke Bagg appeared to own the place, which it was appropriated by the city for park purposes at a price of $11,000. To-day, 30 years later, it is valued at $1,800,000.

The descendants of the original Poirier have long claimed that the title was still legally vested in their family, and as a group of 40 have each taken action against the city claiming ownership of their portion of the park, and each claiming $7,500, of the greater part to which they claim a total of $300,000.

A curious feature of these actions is that had they been delayed until the 17th of this month they would have been legally prescribed, and the city's title become unassailable. The expropriation was made on June 17, 1875, and the law only allows thirty years in which to effect a title in such cases.

British Trade Increase.

London, July 10.—The Board of Trade returns for June show an increase of $1,803,115 in the imports, the total being $217,787,023, and of $2,577,128 in the exports, with a total of $129,970,735.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

THE Oxford Hot Water Boiler is built to use absolutely all the heat generated in the fire-pot.

The inclining walls of the fire-pot expose great surface to the direct heat of the fire. The first section is greater in depth than the other sections, and the flues of this section are bell-shaped, against which the heat rays sharply impinge, so that a greater body of water gets the direct effect of the fire.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The entire boiler is steel and iron. The joints are made with steel push nipples, which are absolutely indestructible—no rubber washers.

THE REBEL SHIP HAS RETURNED

Everything Is In Disorder On Board the Kniaz Potemkine.

WAS GIVEN UP TO ROUMANIA

Crew Will Be Treated as Foreign Deserters and Taken to Any Frontier They Choose to Name—The Russian Treasure Retained by Roumania for Russia Against Wish of the Mutineers.

Kustenji, Roumania, July 10.—The flag of St. Andrew's once again floats over the battleship Kniaz Potemkine and the torpedo boat, which have proven such terrors to the Black Sea communities for a couple of weeks past. The formal surrender of the mutinous crews actually occurred at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, after a series of discussions and negotiations between the Roumanian authorities and the leaders of the mutineers.

Roumanian officers who boarded the battleship on her arrival here called upon her crew to surrender, in which case they will be treated as foreign deserters, or else leave the port forthwith. It speedily became apparent that the Russian vessels returned to this port with the intention of giving themselves up to a foreign Government, and the crews soon announced their acceptance of the Roumanian terms. The mutineers wanted to be permitted to take off the treasure which was on board the Kniaz Potemkine, but the Roumanian authorities declined to acquiesce.

The Russians will gradually be conveyed to any frontier they may select, and then will be liberated, the local officers haveing given an understanding to this effect. The Roumanian flag has been hoisted over the Russian war vessels, as well as the flag of St. Andrew's, so as to prevent any attack on them in Roumanian waters by the vessels of the Russian squadron, which are reported to be in pursuit of the mutineers.

Potemkine Returned to Russia.

Kustenji, Roumania, July 10.—Admiral Kruger yesterday afternoon boarded and took possession of the Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkine, King Charles of Roumania having sent instructions to the commander of Roumanian squadron that the vessel be delivered to the Russian authorities without raising difficulties.

The torpedo boat which accompanied the Kniaz Potemkine, however, left for Odessa without surrendering, declaring that she had not mutinied, but that the Kniaz Potemkine had compelled her to follow.

Ship In Disorder.

Despite the efforts of the Roumanians to get things in shipshape everything aboard the battleship was still in a state of wild disorder. The officers' cabins were stripped of everything of any value, and bloodstains were everywhere. There was sufficient ammunition aboard the Kniaz Potemkine to have enabled the mutineers to make a desperate resistance.

All the papers and books belonging to the vessel were destroyed. It appears that the decision to surrender the Kniaz Potemkine was made when it became evident that no other vessels would join in the mutiny.

A Russian priest, after the transfer, held a service of purification on board the Kniaz Potemkine, sprinkling the crew and the flag with holy water. Admiral Kruger's squadron, which brought a crew for the Kniaz Potemkine, sailed with her for Russia last evening.

Naval Battalions Revolt.

London, July 10.—A despatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg, says that a serious outbreak on the part of the men of the 14th and 15th Naval Battalions occurred Saturday at Krinkovski Barracks, in St. Petersburg. The rioters, it is asserted, broke all the windows and their officers were compelled to summon armed men from the various military posts.

Lodz Disturbances Unjustified.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—The official Messenger Saturday morning prints a detailed account of the disturbances at Lodz, and editorially declares that they were unjustified by local economic conditions, and were fermented by revolutionary, Socialist and Jewish agitators. The account says that the disturbances culminated June 24 in an open conflict between the troops and the rioters. On that day 100 of the rioters were killed and 162 wounded, one officer and three soldiers were wounded, and two police agents were killed and many wounded, while $50,000 worth of property was destroyed. According to the account, 20,000 Jews left town within two days.

Persian Bandits Invade Russia.

St. Petersburg, July 10.—The Russian Government is faced with a hard problem in the Caucasus. The Associated Press correspondent, who visited Lenkoran, in the extreme south eastern corner of the Caucasus, reports that Persian bandits are streaming across the border and into the Province of Baku, as well as into Erivan.

At Tiflis four bombs were thrown Saturday. All business life there has ceased, and the peaceful population is terror stricken. News of bloody collisions between Cossacks and mobs are expected.

At Kieff a non-commissioned officer has been tried by court-martial and sentenced to prison for disseminating revolutionary literature among the soldiers.

Encouraging.

The publication of the Emperor's reply to the reactionary deputation, headed by Count Sheremitiof, in which His Majesty addressed the delegation as "Gentlemen and brothers," has created a favorable impression among the Liberals, as it is noticed that the Emperor reiterated his promise to summon an assembly without discussing the deputations suggestions, looking to a more restricted body than outlined in the Bouligan project, and also that His Majesty failed to comment on their advocacy of a continuance of the war.

OMINOUS SIGNS IN INDIA.

Europeans Fear a Mutiny For Native Unrest is Not Hid.

Simla, India, July 10.—Dread of another mutiny is being felt by all Europeans here. India is in a very serious state, and the authorities are making heroic endeavors to prevent the unrest and the mutinous spirit which, in spite of all their efforts, is spreading like an infection from Province to Province.

The cause of this condition is the war bewteen Russia and Japan for the supremacy of the yellow race has come as a revelation to the natives. That an Asiastic race has defied and even conquered a European race has made them think. The spirit of dissatisfaction and trouble in the air now is far more acute than it was two years before the mutiny.

Lord Kitchener's statement that the Indian army is practically worthless has been widely circulated among the ignorant natives. Lord Curson's tyrannical methods have set every class against his personally and the personality of the ruler has an effect in India which is incalculable.

It is a fact that in Central India hundreds of Afghans are loafing and skulking alone or in couples. This is considered to be an ominous sign, for the Afghans do not wander so far south with any peaceful purpose in mind. If a holy war were to be preached, the Mohammedans would be as much the object of native fury nowadays as the Christians.

The situation has an ugly look and there is a prayer-on everyone's lips that the cloud will not entail a storm.

EIGHT MEN BLOWN UP.

Premature Explosion of a Big Blast of Rock Powder.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 10.—Eight men were blown to pieces and two others were injured by the premature explosion of a big blast of rock powder on the Pennsylvania Railroad, improvements near New Cumberland, at 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning. All the victims were employes of H. S. Kerbaugh & Co., contractors.

The bodies of the men were terribly mangled and particles of flesh and bone were scattered a distance of 200 yards from the scene of the explosion. Not a trace of two colored men who were killed can be found, and it is supposed their bodies were blown into the river.

An inquest was held yesterday. The jury rendered a verdict of premature explosion from an unknown cause, and no blame attached to the contractors. All the killed and injured were laborers, saidg, from James Wiseman, the dynamite boss, whose body was terribly mangled.

HARRY BROCKBANK MAY DIE.

Serious Accident on Hamilton's Canada Cup Challenger.

Hamilton, July 10.—The doctors fear that Harry Brockbank, 227 1-2 North Macnab street, one of the crew of J. H. Fearnside's Canadian Cup challenger, Naniwa, was fatally injured Saturday afternoon.

The boat was taken out for a spin, and the wind carried away about half the mast. Brockbank, who is deaf and dumb, was struck by the falling mast and injured internally so badly that the doctors at the City Hospital has not much hopes of his recovery.

QUAKERS' ANNUAL PIC-NIC A SUCCESS

Over 700 Persons Took a Delightful Trip to Cobourg on Saturday—Spent a Pleasant Day in the Pretty Town on Lake Ontario's Shores—The Citizens Extended a Hearty Welcome—Some Features of the Day's Programme—Quaker Football Team Won From Cobourg—American Cereal Company's Pic-nic a Popular Event.

Cobourg the pretty little summer town on Lake Ontario, was on Saturday honoured by a visit from the producers of the "Smile that won't come off" and during the time that they spent in that town they imparted some of the smile producing characteristics to its inhabitants.

Saturday's trip was the third annual excursion of the employees of the American Cereal Company, and it was in every respect the most successful in the history of the series of pleasing trips taken by the employees of this firm. On previous occasions the excursions have been taken to Rice lake points and this year an innovation was made and that it was justified was amply proven by its unqualified success. Unlike the excursions of other years the attendance was not confined to the employees of the Company and their families for, while these were taken free and were the guests of the Company an opportunity was afforded to others to enjoy the outing with the Quakers and that this privilege was appreciated was evidenced by the fact that several hundreds of persons in addition to the Quakers themselves took advantage of the opportunity offered to take a trip to this pretty little town.

The fame of the Quaker picnics in the past has spread and it was felt that to attend one under their auspices was a guarantee in itself of an enjoyable day and the events of Saturday proved that this was substantiated by facts.

The whole day was a thoroughly enjoyable one, not an incident occurring to mar in any way the pleasure of the outing.

The same attention to detail which characterizes the management of the Company and which doubtless to a large extent is responsible for its success was in evidence in the arrangements for the picnic. No detail which could contribute in any way to the pleasure of the guests was omitted and the result was that from the youngest child to those old in life everyone passed a thoroughly enjoyable day.

Shortly after 7.00 a.m. the special train of nine coaches provided by the G.T.R. hauled by two engines pulled out of the Bethune street station and the journey was started, Cobourg being reached about 9 o'clock. The train was run on a siding to a point near Victoria Park the scene of the picnic and as the excursionists left the cars they were greeted by the newly organized but highly creditable Citizens Band which headed for the park and, followed by the visitors who numbered about 700, marched through the main street to the delightful spot on Lake Ontario which was very quickly converted into a busy scene.

The citizens of Cobourg like excursions to come to their town and, unlike some other places which might be mentioned they take some pains to show their visitors that their presence is appreciated. The Mayor of the town Mr. Maher, was on the grounds early in the day to extend a civic welcome to the excursionists and to assure them that the town was glad to see them, and to further show that the town appreciated the fact that they were welcome visitors the beautiful chimes in the tower of the Anglican church rendered a programme during the afternoon the first number of which was "Home Sweet Home." The Citizens Band which by the way can show some older organizations some things about music, stayed right with the visitors all day, and during both the morning and afternoon rendered programmes from the band stand on the park.

The sandy beach and the waters of Lake Ontario had a great attraction for the younger portion of the crowd especially and bathing and boating were enjoyed to the full while a more exciting form of amusement was afforded by the water chute which was very largely patronized.

The morning was spent quietly and the visitors explored the town admiring the many beautiful residents which the town boasts of; while a visit to the asylum for the insane was also one of the objective points for the visitors. One of the features of the forenoon was a baseball game between two fines of the heavy hitters among the staff of the company. This game provided some satisfaction for the players and the spectators, and when the score had reached figures which resembled a cricket match or agricultural baseball, by mutual consent the conflict was stopped at the instigation of the umpire, who evidently had some respect for the reputation of the game, and to whom the slaughter was painful.

About noon the stragglers wandered back to the park and tables were quickly spread and almost as quickly depleted of their loads of appetising viands. Those who did not wish to go to the trouble of preparing their meals patronized the hotels of the town, in all of which special preparations were made in honour of the Quakers.

During the afternoon an interesting programme of sports were run off, all the events being warmly contested and the finishes close.

The prize winners were:—

Men's tug-of-war—Won by Mr. T. J. Grant's team.

Ladies' tug-of-war—Won by Miss Doannard's team.

Girls' race 50 yards, under 15 years—M. Wolff, L. Grady and T. Conroy.

Young ladies' race, 75 yards—Miss V. Legros, Miss E. Miller and Miss L. Dunford.

Boys' race, under 15 years, 100 yds.—J. O'Brien, J. McDonald and B. Miller.

Boys' race, under 12 years, 50 yds.—A. McDonald, C. Wolff and Hunter Godfrey.

Girls' race, under 12 years, 25 yds.—Myrtle Wolff, Greta Frost and Lizzie Grady.

Girls' race, under 7 years, 50 yds.—Gertrude Knox, Mary White and Maggie Emmerson.

Boys' race, under 7 years, 25 yds.—Hunter Godfrey, Alex Darling and Grove Peachley.

Cobourg boys' race, under 12 years—Charles Hutton, Gerald Hornbook and G. Thompson.

Cobourg's Boys' race, under 7 years—Chas. Hutton, Henry Gordon and Tod Doherty.

Men's race, 100 yards—Ira Moore, B. L. Simpson, W. Cavanah.

Ladies' sack race—Miss V. LeGros and Miss E. Miller.

Men's sack race—Ira Moore.

For all of these events good prizes were offered and at the conclusion a promiscuous distribution of candy and nuts took place, all the youngsters on the grounds partaking of the hospitality of the company, and the aim of each seemed to be to get as many packages as possible before those distributing them discovered that they were duplicating their gifts.

A football game between the Quakers and the Cobourg team was played, resulting in a win for the former by 2-1, in a closely contested game, in which the visitors showed superior ability and earned the game.

The teams were:—

Quakers		Cobourg
	Goal
McFadden		Meakins
	Backs
Doris		Townsend
Simpson		Duncan
	Halves
McEwan		French
Graham		Wilfrick
Moore		Thompson
	Forwards
Snyder		Beatty
Mellmoyle		Benson
Guerin		Anderson
Sullivan		Ipsh
Brooks		Butters

T. Guerin, of Peterborough, referred to the satisfaction of both teams.

Shortly after seven o'clock, the return journey was commenced and after an uneventful run, Peterborough was reached about ninety minutes later.

The committees to whom were entrusted the arrangements for the days' programme, and to whom credit must be given for the splendid success of the day were:—

Chairman—W. H. Benham.

Judges of games and sports—Messrs T. H. G. Deane, A. C. Stevens, A. Miller, A. Pee, P. White, E. Cakenham.

Committee on arrangements—Messrs M. J. Kirn, R. Stuart, F. Walker, A. Miller, G. P. Edwards, T. J. Grant, W. Cavanah, J. E. Sullivan, E. Pakenham, J. Taylor, F. White, P. Gardner.

Games and sports—Messrs. T. J. Grant, G. W. Mulligan, W. Cavanah, G. P. Edwards.

Basket committee—Messrs. O. Callender, M. Sarra, John Nowell, Patrick Kennedy and Tim Dineen.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

To Post Card Column of the Examiner:—

Could some one kindly inform me why the pavements on your streets are outside the trees. Are the streets too wide, or are the aldermen buying real estate? Also are the the bricklayers on strike?

Yours.
STRANGER.

Editor Post Card Column:—

Sir,—I want to ask Ald. Adams, who I understand has charge of the streets, if he has ever taken a walk to Victoria avenue and seen the state of that thoroughfare. It is almost as much as one's life is worth to attempt to navigate that street after dark. Could not some of the $12,000 appropriated for streets this year be expended to advantage there?

ONE WHO WALKS.

Dear Editor,—Could any of your correspondents inform me of the location of the following lines from Shakespeare:—

"His nature is too noble for the world.
He would not flatter Neptune for his trident,
Or Jove for's power to thunder.'

W. M.

Mr. Editor,—Can you or anyone tell me if Town Trust Commissioner Moore is responsible for placing the Tax Collector's office in a long and painful flight of stairs. It seems that the Aldermen make our taxes climb, and the Commissioners make the taxpayers climb a long steep flight of stairs to pay them—a hard thing, especially for ladies.

A SOAKED ONE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — Up to a short time ago the pavements on McDonel street were monopolized by bicycle riders, the street was used as a race course for alleged 2.40 horses, and bad boys congregated at the street corners. This has all been changed since the Chief took up his residence on that street. I make a suggestion: Would it not be a good idea for the council to stipulate that each member of the police force be required to change his place of residence at stated times, and reside on different streets in rotation?

Innovation.

Fast Horses Arrive at the Race Track.

Work-Outs Have Been Called Off To-day—Blucher May Enter 2.19 Class.

There was some good display of fast action among the runners at the Turf Club track on Saturday morning, though the usual work-outs among the trotters had to be called off on account of the picnic. The rain this morning left the track in an unserviceable condition to-day.

Secretary Rountree this morning received notification regarding the two horses entered by telegram, in which was not stated the class in which the owners intended them to be entered. The horses were "Headlight," owned by W. R. Acton, of Ganabogue, which has been entered in the 2.30 class, and Nettie Wright by the same owner, which will go in the 2.19 class.

Mr. Martin Connor's two horses, Blucher and Lady Gothard, have returned from Montreal, this being rendered necessary by the sickness of the latter. Blucher may start in the 2.19 class, the secretary having applied for permission to do so. Blucher's mark is 2.23 1-4, and it is hoped by local turf enthusiasts that he will be seen in action.

The prospects for the meet are all that can be desired. The horses are coming in daily and the paddock at the track presents a scene of activity.

The following fast ones arrived yesterday:—Doctor H, owned by Edwards of Blenheim; Hal Patron and Happy Harry, owned by Perrigo and Tracy, Ogdensburg, N. Y.

There will undoubtedly be the greatest 2.19 and free-for-all ever seen in town.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA.

Some Features of This Favorite Mode of Hospitality.

For the 5 o'clock tea, as an everyday occurrence or as given on some stipulated day each week, no display is made. It is a favorite method of extending hospitality, and the endless variety of sandwiches which distinguish the period, together with delicate, crisp wafers and salted nuts or some dry sweet, such as candied ginger or small fancy cakes, constitute a menu ample, acceptable and convenient, says the Designer.

In preparing the sandwiches cut the shapes of bread before spreading, exercising care that the filling is not brought quite to the edge of the bread to insure against soiling the gloves of those who partake of the hospitality. Bread at least a day old cuts much smoother and thinner than does fresh bread, by the way. Tiny baking powder biscuits no larger than a silver dollar are a pleasing change from the sandwich so often dispensed.

Candied Fruits.

The 5 o'clock teacup is decidedly diminutive, and candied fruits make a pleasing and novel change for sweetening in place of sugar. Candied cherries are especially nice for this purpose and are easily prepared at home from white canned cherries. Drain the cherries thoroughly from their syrup. Weigh the fruit and allow an equal quantity of granulated sugar. Make a strong syrup of a cup of the cherry juice to every pound of sugar. Boil the mixture five minutes, then add the cherries and simmer gently until they are nearly transparent. Remove the fruit on to a wire strainer, let stand until perfectly dry. Sprinkle liberally with powdered sugar and place the strainer on a dish in a moderately warm oven for two hours, repeating the process until the juice has ceased to drip and the fruit is dry and crystallized.

Sour Tea and Sweet Tea.

Tiny cubes of pineapple prepared in the same manner is another pleasing addition to "the cup that cheers." If one does not care to go to the trouble of candying the fruit herself she can purchase the delicious Japanese varieties, which answer the purpose equally well. Many up to date hostesses prefer to sour the tea, Russian style, with a thin slice of lemon; a slice of orange is frequently substituted. When lemon or orange slices are used no cream is added. One hostess sweetens her tea with rock candy, and another adds a very tiny bit of vanilla bean to the tea while it is brewing.

Our First Berries.

For individual or "baby" shortcakes, as they are often called, use a rich baking powder biscuit mixture, cutting it out in rather large biscuits. Bake as usual, then split, butter and fill with the crushed berries, topping each with a number of large berries halved. A garnish of whipped cream adds to this dessert.

Strawberry dumplings call for a rich biscuit crust—three large tablespoonfuls of butter to the quart of flour—rolled out half an inch thick. Cut in circles the size of a coffee saucer. On each place three or four berries and draw the dough up round them into a dumpling, pinching the edges well together. Place close together on a buttered dish and steam for twenty-five minutes, then stand for five minutes in the oven to dry off. Make the usual hard sauce. Crush about a dozen berries to a pulp and work them, a spoonful at a time, into the well beaten mixture.—Table Talk.

"BABY" BERRY SHORTCAKES.

Use "MAPLE LEAF" Canned Salmon. The Best Packed.

"BENT'S PLUMBING

PETERBORO' MAN ON KOLAPORE TEAM

Col.-Serg. W. H. Moore One of Eight Men on the Team.

A Member of the Team in Great Imperial Competition.

(Canadian Associated Cable.)

Bisley Camp, July 10.—The annual meeting of the National Rifle Association open to-day with a big attendance of riflemen from all parts of the Empire.

It is regretted that no Australian team will compete for the Kolapore Cup.

The Canadian team for this great Imperial competition has been selected as follows:

Staff-Sergeant C. R. Crowe, 30th Regiment, Guelph.

Capt. A. Elliott, 12th Regiment, Toronto.

Capt. W. H. Forest, 6th Regiment, Victoria.

Capt. J. M. Jones, 82nd Regiment, Pownal, P.E.I.

Sergt. W. Kerr, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto.

Colour-Sergt. W. H. Moore, 57th Regiment, Peterborough.

Sergt. J. H. Simpson, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto.

Pte. A. Wilson 43rd Regiment, Ottawa.

The fact that King Edward has promised to distribute the prizes at the close of the meeting has stirred the Canadians to make greater efforts to capture some of the big events.

The Canadian pavilion has received a new coat of paint and presents a most attractive appearance.

EXCURSION WAS WELL PATRONIZED

Annual Pic-nic of St. Luke's Sunday School.

This morning the annual excursion of the Sunday School of St. Luke's to Jubilee Point left for that port on by the steamer City of Peterborough, which carried a goodly crowd.

The promise of a fine day induced many to go, who would otherwise have remained at home, and when the steamer left her wharf she was well filled with a merry crowd of pic-nicers. A number boarded the boat at the Peterborough side but the greater part of the crowd got on at the Ashburnham wharf.

At the Point a good programme of sports will be run off and altogether a delightful day is promised.

CAR-SERVICE FOR THE FIFTH WARD

Largely Signed Petition Will be Presented.

Mr. Larmonth Speaks Encouragingly—Says Service Will Probably be Given.

That the people of the annexed fifth ward are in earnest about securing a connection with the street railway is evidenced by the large number of signatures which have been secured to the petition being sent to the manager of the street railway company, asking that a service be inaugurated to include that part of the town. The petition has been signed by over three hundred of the residents of that ward, and will be sent to Mr. Larmonth along with the following letter:—

Peterborough, July 11th, 1905

J. H. Larmonth, Esq., Managing Director, Radial Railway Co., Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—We have pleasure in enclosing herewith a petition from the residents of the fifth ward, asking that your company may be in a position to give them, in the near future, a connection with the street railway and inaugurate a service which will accomodate the residents of this ward.

The fact that the petition has been signed by almost every ratepayer in the ward referred to, should be evidence of the fact that such service, as is asked for, would be very popular with those residents, and it is their wish that some plan may be devised by which the service asked for may be secured.

Thanking you in anticipation of your favourable consideration of this request, we are

Yours truly,
E. COURTNEY.

Mr. Larmonth was interviewed by the Examiner this morning on the matter, and said that the company had considered the question of giving a service to the Fifth Ward, and that the only trouble seemed to be that there was no very direct means of crossing the river. The Hunter street bridge was not considered strong enough to carry the cars, and he was of the opinion that to run the cars over the bridge at the dam would be rather a round-about way, still if the people of that ward were very anxious for a service, and were willing to put up with the little inconvenience which passage over that bridge would entail, the company would probably be willing to provide the service.

The impression left by Mr. Larmonth was that if a good strong petition were presented, and it were possible at all, the service would be inaugurated, and he believed that it would be a good paying line.

CARRIAGE WORKS ARE POPULAR

Other Towns Want Them to Locate There.

Peterborough May Grant Exemption or Fixed Assessment and Free Site.

It is probable that in the near future the Council will be asked to grant some concessions either by bonus or free site and exemption to a manufacturing concern to open a factory here.

The Peterborough Carriage Company is the concern referred to and from inquiries it is learned that the stock is being rapidly taken up, and in the course of a short time the Company will be ready to start the erection of the factory. It is stated that the Company has already received an offer of a bonus of $25,000 to locate in some other town, but no definite decision has been reached.

Since the majority of the shareholders are Peterborough capitalists they would naturally prefer to locate their factory here, but doubtless this will be determined by the inducements offered to them.

From present prospects the industry promises to be a flourishing one, an evidence of which is found in the fact that the stock is being subscribed so readily.

The opinion prevails among the Aldermen that if a free site and exemption or fixed assessment were given, that is all that could be expected.

DECEASE OF PERCY ARMSTRONG

After a Severe Illness Lasting Six Weeks.

The death occurred this morning of Percy Irwin, son of Mr. John James Armstrong, 391 Aylmer street. The child was ten months old, and had been ill for six weeks, first with measles, but later with bronchitis, from which he died.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, and will proceed to the Little Lake cemetery.

ASSASSINATED MOSCOW PREFECT OF POLICE

Major General Counsimaloff Was Shot This Morning—Was Receiving Petition—Formerly Attached to the Ministry of the Interior.

Special to the Examiner.

Moscow, July 11th. — Major General Counsimaloff, Prefect of Police, who formerly attached to the Minister of the Interior, was assassinated this morning while receiving deputations. One of the petitioners drew a revolver and fired three times at the prefect, who fell dead. The assassin was arrested.

SERIOUS FIRE AT YOUNG'S POINT

Saw Mill Totally Destroyed Last Night

Loss is Nearly $4,000—No Insurance—Mr. Austin Dunn One of the Proprietors.

Special to the Examiner.

Young's Point, July 11th. — Last night about 8 o'clock, a fire occurred here, the large sawmill owned by Messrs. E. A. Young of this village and Austin Dunn of Peterborough, being totally destroyed.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is supposed to have started from a spark from the boiler. The fire after it started rapidly spread, and although every effort was made by a volunteer brigade to extinguish the flames the structure was soon doomed to destruction.

In addition to the mill a considerable quantity of cut lumber, 18,000 to 20,000 feet, piled near the mill was burned.

The total loss will be in the neighbourhood of $3,000 or $4,000, and unfortunately no insurance was carried on the property.

The mill employed in the summer about eight or ten men, who will be thrown out of employment by the fire.

Mr. Dunn, when seen to-day, had not decided whether the mill would be rebuilt or not.

OMEMEE IS FULLY PREPARED

For Monster Demonstration To-morrow.

Six Thousand People Expected in Western Village—Ample Preparations Concluded.

Special to the Examiner.

Omemee, July 11th. — To-morrow for the first time in a decade, Omemee will celebrate the "Glorious, Pious and Immortal Memory" of King William, and a demonstration is expected in the village, which will create in itself a memory which will not fade in many years. All preparations are now practically concluded, and the village to-day presents a gala appearance in the handsome decorations which have been arranged under the artistic hand of Mr. Alf. Kingscote, of Peterborough, and consist of flags, mottoes and streamers.

Preparations have been made upon a gigantic scale to accommodate the immense throng which will undoubtedly be in attendance. Refreshment booths have been erected in large numbers, while numbers of private residences have been transformed into improvised cafes. The different churches and the Salvation Army will also perform their share of the difficult task of catering to the physical necessities of the visitors.

It is expected from the reports which have been received from all parts of the county that a crowd of at least 6,000 people will be in attendance, this number including about 4,000 Orangemen. The lodges from the entire northern section of the district as far as Burnt River and Coboconk have signified their intention of attending and it is expected that that portion of the country will will furnish a quota of over 2,000 people, as other demonstrations have been cancelled in that territory. The Durham County lodges will also attend in large numbers and altogether it is expected that fully thirty will be in attendance with six brass, and innumerable fife and drum bands.

Special arrangements have been made with regard to train service. All trains will stop upon the main street of the village.

The procession will be formed at 12 o'clock, and will parade to Laidley's Grove, about a quarter of a mile from the village, where addresses will be delivered by a number of prominent speakers including Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, County Master; Col. Sam Hughes, M.P.; J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., and S. Fox, M.P.

Bear in Don Valley.

It seems hardly credible that a bear—a real, live untamed bear—should be roaming at large at the gates of a big city like Toronto, and yet this is the strange tale related by a C.P.R. brakeman, H. Davidson, who lives at Toronto Junction.

London's Ice Famine.

London, Ont., is seriously threatened with an ice famine. The dealers have doubled the price for all ice after July 15, and have notified customers east of Adelaide and north of Dundas street that hereafter they will refuse to deliver ice to that part of the city owing to distance from ice houses.

Jumped to His Death.

Arthur Neely, of Chicago, a brother of F. Tennyson Neely, a publisher, was killed in a fire which destroyed a boarding house in East 44th street to-day. Neely, to escape what he thought would be death by the flames, jumped from a fourth storey window and landed on his head on the sidewalk. He died on the way to the hospital.

Treasure Ship Located.

James Gush, a famous West of Scotland diver, has begun work at the scene of the wreck of the Florencia, the treasure ship of the Spanish Armada, which was cast away on the coast of Scotland while trying to make its way back to Spain after the Armada's defeat. Within a few hours he had sufficient proof, in the form of sword blades, to show that the divers were in close proximity to the treasure ship.

Forceps in Her Body.

About three years ago, Mrs. Adam Moir, of German Mills, a hamlet 3 miles southeast of Markham, underwent an operation that required the use of forceps in the abdomen. One of these instruments slipped its hold and escaped the notice of the operator. It remained in the woman's body until Tuesday when the steel instrument, about five inches in length, was removed, after its presence and location had been positively settled by the use of the "X" rays.

A Novel Wedding Trip.

F. C. Zimmerman, of Haverstock, N. J., and Miss Louise Timmins, of Pittsburg, Pa., were married on Saturday at Pittsburg and as the bridal party was leaving the church, the brother of the bride and a number of friends surrounded the newly married couple and despite their efforts to escape, got them inside a menagerie cage, which the brother had secured, and were hauled through the streets, headed by a brass band and followed by the wedding guests, blowing horns and burning red fire.

MIRACLES AT SAINTE ANNE'S

Famous Shrine of Beaupre Claims Many Cures.

Cure Witnessed by a Thousand Persons—Crutches Thrown Away.

Quebec, July 10.—Several "miracles" are reported to have taken place at Ste. Anne De Beaupre, within the past month. Many pilgrims, evidently cured, left their crutches and other bodily supports at the schrine and returned home without reporting their cures to the Church authorities. Fully eight thousand pilgrims from all parts of the continent visited Ste. Anne during the past week.

On Thursday last a miracle was witnessed by at least a thousand persons. A young girl, aged 8 years, named Ste Pierre, from Chateau Richer, was the subject. She had one of her legs irreparably injured when she was five years of age, and she has walked upon crutches ever since. She went on a pilgrimage to Ste. Anne, and after receiving the Blessed Sacrament, found herself perfectly cured of her ailment and walked out of the church leaving her crutches behind.

RUSSIAN TROOPS BURN KORSAKOVSK

But Japs Pursue Russians Caught Upon Sakhalin---Kniaz Potemkine Sunk---Before Leaving the Vessel the Mutineers Opened the Seacocks and Flooded the Hold—She Now Lies on the Bottom, But Russia Expects to Refloat Her by the Thirteenth.

Tokio, July 11.—The following report has been received from the Japanese army headquarters on Sakhalin Island.

"Our army without much resistance occupied Korsakovsk early on July 8. The enemy burned the town and retired to positions eight miles north, where they resumed resistance.

"We dislodged them and are now in pursuit.

"At 11 a. m. on July 8 the enemy had retreated to a point 22 miles north of Korsakovsk.

"We captured two 12-centimetre guns, two 12-pounders and also an amount of ammunition.

"We suffered no loss."

Potemkine Has Been Sunk.

Kustenji, Roumania, July 11.—The announcement that the battleship Kniaz Potemkine sailed with Rear-Admiral Kruger's squadron Sunday evening turns out to be incorrect.

Before leaving the Kniaz Potemkine, the mutineers opened the seacocks and flooded her hold. She is now lying at the bottom, but it is expected she will be refloated in time to leave for Sebastopol July 13.

Will Meet at Portsmouth.

Washington, July 11.—Assistant Secretary Pierce yesterday announced that the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan had agreed upon Portsmouth, N. H., as the meeting place for the sessions of the peace conference to be held at Washington.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Premier Rouvier Submits the Morocco Notes to the Deputies.

Paris, July 11.—Premier Rouvier submitted to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday the notes exchanged between him and Prince von Radolin, constituting the Franco-German agreement relative to Morocco.

M. Rouvier followed the reading of the note with a detailed explanation of the negotiations. He declared that the understanding now reached between Germany and France was formal upon the essential principles fully recognising the special interests of France.

M. Rouvier's statement was rapturously applauded on both sides of the chamber. The agreement brings a deep sense of relief to the entire country after many weeks of tension.

Both agree as to the sovereignty of the Sultan, the independence of Morocco and the open door, without inequality. This appears to put at an end the prospective subdivision of the Sultan's monarchy among European powers. On the other hand, the agreement recognises France's special interest in the country, due to the geographical proximity of Algiers, and its right thereby to police the frontier and maintain peace and order. It still remains for the Sultan to arrange the program of the conference.

The Sultan of Morocco's position is weakened by the negotiations.

THROUGH THE BRAIN.

Freddie Brothers May Die From Shot Wound at Strathroy.

Strathroy, July 11.—Freddie Brothers, 10 years of age, son of George Brothers of this town, was accidentally shot here yesterday.

It seems that four boys went out to pick berries in the woods and took a 22 rifle along. One of the older boys lay down the rifle for a minutes and turned away to do something, when one of the small boys took it up and discharged it, the ball entering little Brothers' head just below the eye, penetrating the brain.

The lad was brought home, and no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A CLOSE WATCH IS BEING KEPT

Though Bush is Large Bennett Can Scarcely Escape---Indian May Get Hungry---When Police Expect to Catch Him if He Makes a Dash for Liberty---Only Contingency is That He May Escape to the Lewiston Reserve in New York State---Authorities Sanguine.

Brantford, July 11.—No new developments have taken place in the Betsy Jacobs murder on the Indian reserve. All day long a large posse has guarded the Indian bush into which Bennett betook himself when hard pressed by the constables. The bush is an extensive one, and the murderer will have a slight advantage, but there is scarcely any opportunity for Bennett to escape.

The posse are making little effort to penetrate the bush because of its density, and are awaiting the time when Bennett will be driven into the open by the pangs of hunger. The constables are being constantly reinforced, until now the guard has assumed large proportions. The excitement on the reserve is intense and the Indians are awaiting developments with the keenest interest.

A close watch has been kept on all trains in the event that Bennett is able to break the cordon. Should he be able to do so he would undoubtedly make tracks at once for the Lewiston reservation in the States, where he would be comparatively safe.

Advices from Onondaga, Caledonia and other points bordering on the reservation indicate that a most stringent watch is being kept.

Coroner Fissette went down yesterday afternoon, but further than empanelling the jury nothing was done.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Jerry Dunn of Brantford Found Unconscious and Robbed.

Brantford, July 11.—Jerry Dunn, proprietor of the Imperial Hotel, was out driving Sunday evening with his family. He returned, left his family at home and went to take the rig back to the livery. About 11 o'clock he was brought home in an unconscious condition, having been found at the north end of Sydenham street, on Terrace Hill, and it is supposed he was thrown out of a rig by a runaway. The rig arrived at the livery in a damaged condition.

Since he was brought home the unfortunate man has not regained consciousness, and no opportunity of getting his story has presented itself. When he started for the stable he was understood to have had a large supply of money, but on his body being found this was missing, together with a bunch of keys.

Dunn has been under the doctor's care all day. Until he regains consciousness and is able to give his version nothing can be done. In his delirium he murmurs incoherently about "people," but just what he means by it is hard to tell.

Stole Horse and Rig.

Newmarket, July 11.—On Thursday evening, about 9 o'clock, a horse and rig belonging to Walter Morton was stolen from the sheds of the Royal Hotel. The following evening a boy named George Holley was seen driving through the town toward Aurora. Mr. Morton was informed that the conveyance resembled his and started in pursuit, arriving at Lemon's Hotel, in Aurora, while Holley was trying to dispose of the horse and rig. On being accosted by the owner, Holley tried to escape, but was caught and brought to Newmarket, where he was at once taken before Magistrates Lloyd and Woodcock, where he pleaded guilty. The magistrates were unable to agree as to the punishment, and the matter was finally referred to Judge Morgan, who will impose sentence. Bail was furnished in the sum of $200 by the father of the boy.

FATHER KIDNAPS BABY.

New He's Charged With Bigamy and Abduction.

Port Huron, Mich., July 11.—Mrs. William Crowder went to Sarnia yesterday, where her husband is under arrest, and entered a complaint against him for bigamy and kidnapping. Two years ago Crowder married a Sarnia woman, who soon after separated from him. He then married a Port Huron woman without, it is alleged, getting a divorce. The second wife lately discovered that Crowden was already married. She left him then coming with their child to Port Huron.

Sunday night Crowder came to his wife's home here, snatched the baby from its crib and carried it to Sarnia in the rain. Officers were notified, and the father was arrested as soon as he stepped off the ferry on the Canadian side.

The child was returned to the mother yesterday morning.

New Charge Against Hall.

Toronto, July 11.—Barrister Alfred Hall, 43 Victoria street, appeared in the Police Court yesterday to answer to the charge of stealing the proceeds of a draft for £150 from a newcomer from England. Alfred C. Briggs. Through his counsel, H. H. Dewart, he pleaded not guilty. The case was adjourned until Friday. Hall is also wanted in Vancouver, B. C., on the charge of passing a worthless cheque on S. G. Faulkner, of that city.

Lure Victim to Cabin.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 11.—Bob McCoy, a well known ranchman residing on the Big Horn River above Thermopolis, has been killed by assassins who decoyed him to a deserted cabin and shot him in the back as he was about to enter. His body was then weighted with stones and sunk in the river. Several times during the past few months McCoy has received anonymous letters warning him to leave the country and threatening his life.

Dyspepsia of Women

ABSOLUTELY NEEDLESS AGONY

Caused by Uterine Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. Henry Beaubien

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has peculiar uterine-tonic effects also.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Henry Beaubien, 58 Sparks St., Ottawa, Ont., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I had been troubled with indigestion and general stomach disorders for nearly a year. I had a soreness in my stomach and was unable to digest my food. I dieted and doctored without success; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me permanent relief. I used three bottles and it cured me of my stomach trouble and built up my general health. I now enjoy a splendid appetite, can eat all kinds of food, have no trouble with indigestion, and know that I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement, or has such a record of cures of female troubles, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

COMPLETE SILENCE NOW.

Last Message From Submarine Was "Water Gaining."

Paris, July 11.—Despatches reaching the Ministry of Marine show that the authorities at Bizerta, Tunis, continue their tedious efforts to raise the submarine boat Farfadet with the expectation of taking out the corpses of the imprisoned crew.

Cables were again passed under the boat yesterday, but the rescuers were unable to bring her to the surface.

The futile efforts to rescue the imprisoned men shook up the boat, loosening the cap and permitted water to enter the interior orifice for the admission of air.

One of the last messages from the interior of the Farfadet was: "Hurry. Water gaining." Since then complete silence has prevailed within, the divers' raps bringing no response. Therefore it is believed that those who escaped being smothered were drowned.

HILLSON'S LAST GOOD-BYE.

Fell Beneath Car Wheels at Guelph and Was Badly Mangled.

Guelph, July 11.—Coming to this city to say good-bye to friends, Fred Hillson, a youth of 18, of Milton was fatally injured at Guelph Junction last night.

The unfortunate young man was alighting from a C. P. R. train at the junction before it had stopped, and slipped and fell beneath the wheels.

His right leg was nearly severed at the thigh, his left leg badly mangled, his right hand cut off and he sustained other injuries.

The accident occurred about 7 o'clock, and he died in the hospital two hours later.

DIAMOND DYES.

Each year thousands of letters come in from all parts of this vast Dominion telling of victories and successes with Diamond Dyes in the home.

The marvellous and immense sales of Diamond Dyes in Canada have induced venturers and speculators (who know nothing about the chemistry of colours) to go into the putting up of package dyes. Such dyes are adulterated and crude: the colours are muddy and blotchy, bringing ruin to the materials you try to dye.

Diamond Dyes, the choice of wise women, are the kind used when bright, full, fast and brilliant colours are wanted. No disappointment possible when you use Diamond Dyes.

Diamond Dyes are sold by all leading druggists and dealers. Refuse to accept substitutes when you ask for Diamond Dyes.

SCHOOL TEACHERS WERE APPOINTED

Special Meeting of the Board of Education—Considerable Discussion Upon Future Action Regarding the Schools—Motion to Secure Lease of Separate School Carried Will be Arranged by Mr. R. R. Hall M.P.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last night. After routine business and the appointment of teachers for the ensuing year, considerable discussion arose with refefence to what action would be most advisable in order to provide the necessary increased school accommodation, in view of the defeat of the Collegiate Institute Bylaw.

The members of the Board were practically unanimous regarding the immediate necessity of relieving the congestion of the public schools, and this phase of the question, difficult enough in solution as it is in itself, must necessarily be considered in its relation to the matter of the Collegiate Institute. The two features of the situation, each bristling with its own array of difficulty, present a problem of considerable magnitude.

The only decisive action taken at last night's meeting was of a somewhat temporary character, this being the preliminary steps toward the securing of the Separate School Building. In this it is hoped to provide accommodation for about three hundred pupils.

The matter of centralization of the fourth book classes was also discussed at some length, the Board being somewhat divided in its opinions with regard to the advisability of centralization.

No action was taken with reference to the Collegiate Institute, though some of the members favoured the erection of a moderate priced building.

The following were in attendance: W. G. Ferguson, chairman; F. Jamieson, Dr. Morrison, John Crane, R. B. Rogers, W. H. Hill, William Pringle, J. J. Hartley, H. P. Kennedy, Dr. Burnham, V. Eastwood, Jas. Stevenson.

2. That Miss Lexa Howson of Peterborough, and Miss Maud E. Burns of Caledonia, be appointed on the permanent staff at salaries of $350 per annum, and that Miss Jessie Lightfoot be appointed a substitute teacher for the ensuing year at a salary of $600 per year.

3. That Misses Cameron, Rush and Deane be appointed first Kindergarten assistants at a salary of $35 per month each, for the ensuing year.

4. That all children admitted to the Kindergarten be approved by the Public School Inspector.

5. That Sgt.-Major Britain be re-appointed drill instructor for the ensuing year at the same salary.

6. That Duncan Walker be re-appointed Public School Inspector for the ensuing year at a salary of $1150.

W. H. Hill,
Chairman.

Moved by Mr. Eastwood, that the Property Committee be instructed to purchase single seats for Miss Perry's room.—Carried.

Discussion.

Dr. Morrison remarked upon the Inspector's report dealing with the subject of writing. He thought it was a great mistake to give the children impositions in writing. The matter should be dealt with by the Inspector.

Mr. J. J. Hartley agreed with the previous speaker upon this subject. He thought that impositions in writing was not a proper method of punishment.

Mr. W. H. Hill pointed out that the matter had been taken up the Inspector, and had found it necessary to discipline some of the teachers.

Mr. Wm. Pringle thought that in our schools there is something seriously wrong with the writing tuition, and that many children were giving too much writing.

Dr. Morrison thought that another scheme of punishment could be devised.

Mr. Eastwood thought it would be wise to appoint a select committee to look into the matter of public school accommodation and outline what could be done to overcome their crowded condition.

Mr. R. B. Rogers wished to know what action would be taken with regard to the teaching of domestic science. This was considered to be a pressing question, some time ago and action should be taken at once if any were to be taken.

Mr. W. H. Hill spoke of the vote taken on August 9th, 1893, when a bylaw providing for a sum of $13,000 for public school purposes. This had been defeated, showing that the public was opposed to expenditures for public school purposes as well as for the Collegiate Institute. The inspector had recommended that the Separate School building be secured for the accomodation of the fourth class pupils. A number of members of the board had visited the building and found it in good condition. It could be secured on its vacation by its present occupants by Jan. 1st, at latest. Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., had told him that the building could be secured. Six rooms were available and every fourth book pupil in the city could be accomodated.

Moved by W. H. Hill, seconded by J. J. Hartley,—That whereas this board having received the Murray Street Separate School buildings from the Dominion Government, steps be at once taken to receive a yearly lease of the grounds now occupied by these buildings, so that the board may utilize the premises for public school purposes as soon as vacated by the Separate School authorities.

That the chairman and the secretary be authorized to take up the question without delay through their representative, Mr. R. R. Hall.—Carried.

Mr. Hartley, who had been one of the deputation to Ottawa, said that there would be no trouble in securing the use of the Separate School.

Mr. Eastwood said that he had been one of the representatives of the 57th Regiment in Ottawa. Hon. Mr. Hyman had given the school to the board, expecting that it would be removed. The regiment had to find a home when the drill shed was torn down.

Mr. Hartley said that the old school would be of no use to the Government as an armoury.

Mr. Wm. Pringle thought that if the Separate School could be obtained it would provide accomodation for at least 300 pupils. Two other teachers could be engaged to advantage. It would relieve the congestion in the South Central, and would also raise the standard of the schools of Peterborough by centralizing the fourth book classes.

Mr. Morrison thought it would be wise for the board in asking for the building to request the Government to change the site of the drill hall to the north side and leave the school on the south. This would leave the building upon the school grounds. The north side would, he thought, suit the purposes of the Government fully as well.

Mr. W. H. Hill stated his opinion that there would be no difficulty in securing a lease of the grounds.

Mr. R. B. Rogers again referred to the matter of domestic science tuition but the consensus of opinion of the members of the board appeared to be that the board was not in a position to take the matter up at present.

Mr. J. J. Hartley felt that the Board should not drop the matter of the Collegiate Institute. He still felt that many of the ratepayers were in favour of the building of the Collegiate. He thought the Board would be sustained by the people if they spent an additional sum of $13,000 in the building of the Collegiate Institute, which would, with the sum already voted, be sufficient for a good building. The matter should not be dropped.

Mr. V. Eastwood thought it best to demand the money voted from the Council and to devote it to the overhauling of the Public Schools. The West Ward School could be overhauled for about $2,000. If this, and the other schools were attended to in the course of a year the people would lend their support to the building of a Collegiate Institute. He thought that about $30,000 or $35,000 would be sufficient for public school improvements.

Mr. Hartley felt that the electors would not vote this amount.

Mr. Eastwood expressed the opinion that the money could be obtained from the Council without a vote.

Mr. W. H. Hill did not think Mr. Eastwood's suggestion a practical one. After the vote in 1893, the Baptist church had been rented and after this the Menzies property. The speaker pointed to the increased cost to the ratepayers of a large number of Ward schools. He was strongly opposed to any move in the direction suggested by Mr. Eastwood. It would be false economy to commence the building of Ward schools throughout the town.

Mr. R. B. Rogers agreed with Mr. Eastwood with regard to the improving of the Public School accommodation. The speaker thought the principle laid down was correct.

Mr. Crane remarked upon the small sum which the Property Committee had at its disposal, rendering radical measures impossible. Speaking with reference to the matter of the Institute he thought the public felt a want of confidence in the Board, which had been misled in the matter of the cost of the proposed building. The people had nothing to which they could point with pride in the way of educational institutions. He thought that next year's Board could deal with it probably to better advantage.

Mr. Morrison agreed with the proposal to enlarge and improve the condition of the public schools. The next Board might settle the matter of the building of the Collegiate Institute. He felt that the ratepayers were opposed to the erection of a collegiate Institute while the public school pupils were suffering. He thought that the ward schools could not be centralized to any great extent. A small new school might be erected in the south end.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson asked how many the new Collegiate building was intended to accommodate.

Mr. Hartley—Six hundred.

Mr. Stevenson thought accommodation for so large a number was unnecessary. He favoured Mr. Hill's suggestion of requesting the Government to change the site of their building, and the erection of a smaller building. He thought a good school could be built for $50,000.

The Board then adjourned.

A TWO-FOR-ONE SHOT.

When you use Ozone use "Celery King" with it. Whatever kind of Ozone you buy you will need to use "Celery King" which is a companion remedy to Ozone.

The purest form of Ozone is "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind.)" Each bottle contains about twice as much for your money as other brands, besides which each bottle contains a coupon entitling you to a package of 'Celery King' free. This is a great advantage as you save money on the Ozone and also get the "Celery King" which you would otherwise have to buy.

No other brand of Ozone contains these coupons. 'Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)' is fifty cents and one dollar at your drug store including the coupon for the package of "Celery King." TROUBLE ON THE LINDSAY BOARD Took Two Sessions to Sell Yesterday's Cheese.

Price Paid Was Same as That at Peterborough—Mr. Fitzgerald Gets His Share.

(Lindsay Post)

The Victoria County Cheese Board met this morning at 10 o'clock, but sprung another surprise on the reporters, by way of adjourning till 1 o'clock this afternoon, after the buyers had started on what looked like a good lively course of bidding, which probably would have resulted in a good meeting. As usual the salesmen commenced comparing the prices with the Peterborough quotations, and stuck to the motto, "What we have we'll hold" till we get the same price as others.

The highest bid was 9 1-8 cents, but Peterborough subscribed 9 9-16 cents and 9 5-8 cents at the last sale, and that made all the difference in the world.

At this morning's meeting the following factories boarded cheese:

Star	116
Cameron	83
Dunsford	159
Mariposa	100
Janbray	80
Oakwood	167
North Verulam	95
North Ops	75
Pine Grove	55
Reaboro	150
Bobcageon	213
Maple Leaf	155
Palestine	112
Red Rock	180
North Harvey	75

Mr. Fitzgerald bid up to 9 1-8 cents, which was the highest, and an adjournment was made until 1 o'clock.

A good hearty dinner seemed to agree with both buyers and salesmen and when they met this afternoon they were feeling good. As a result of the postponement the salesmen secured a sixteenth of a cent better.

NO AFFILIATION FOR THE ELKS

Social But Secret Relations Between Two Orders.

Members of the Rival Organizations May Fraternize.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 9.—Thousands of delegates to the 39th annual reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks arrived here to-day and were given a hearty welcome as they marched through the gaily decorated streets with their banners fluttering in the breeze.

Grand Exalted Ruler Wm J. O'Brien and Planning have returned from Toronto, where they went to consult over the proposition to admit Canadian Elks to social intimacy with the parent order of the United States.

"We have formulated a report," said Mr. O'Brien. "The plan does not favour absolute affiliation, but places the two orders on a brotherly basis; it provides for social intimacy between the members of the two orders, the visiting of each other's club rooms, and participating in public demonstrations. Elks on both sides of the border can have the privileges of equality, but may not be present at any meeting where secret work is transacted. This is as far as we can go."

Oxford Chancellor Range

One of the troubles with most wood-burning ranges is the lack of hot water. The usual reservoir is of small capacity and not placed near enough the fire to raise the water to a sufficiently high temperature, and it takes considerable time and fuel to heat the water at all.

The Oxford Chancellor wood-burning range is fitted with a large reservoir of planished copper, which is easily kept clean. This reservoir is placed next the fire-box, and therefore the water heats very quickly and to a high temperature. The reservoir may be detached or attached to the range in five minutes by anyone.

BLOOD DISEASE CURED.

If you ever contracted any Blood or Private Disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been eradicated from the system. Don't be satisfied with a "patch up" by some family doctor. Our New Method is Guaranteed to Cure or No Pay. No Mercury Used without Written consent.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realize my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 30 years' experience and responsible financially, I gave you my case under a guarantee. You cured me permanently, and in six years there has not been a sore, pain, ulcer or any other symptom of the blood disease."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homestead upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

ENTERTAINMENT OF CANADIANS

Manufacturers Being Well Treated in England.

Local Representatives are Enjoying the Trip—Banquet at Leeds.

Papers received to-day from England, tell of the trip of the Canadian Manufacturers in the Old Land, and it is easy to see that in the hand of our ancestors the Canadians are being well entertained. Mr. B. F. Ackerman has forwarded a copy of the Leeds and Yorkshire Mercury in which a report of the visit of the Canadians to Leeds is given. It says:—

The promised visit to Leeds of the representative party of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association now in England took place yesterday, and proved as interesting and successful as could have been desired. The party, which numbered nearly two hundred, included many ladies, and this perhaps accounts for the extent to which business cares and keenness were set aside and preference given to the lighter side of the day's programme.

Arriving from Sheffield by special train about half-past ten, the visiters were met at the Midland Station by the President of the Leeds Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Henry Barran, and many members of the Chamber. Waggonettes were in waiting to drive parties to the various large industrial establishments which were open for their inspection; while in City Square four special tramcars, gaily adorned with drapery and fluttering flags, were ready for the conveyance of those who desired to see the ancient ruins of Kirkstall Abbey.

Cameras Among The Ruins.

The Canadians can see factories any time, while their opportunities of inspecting abbeys are limited, and there was a large party for Kirkstall, where hand cameras were soon at work, and even the disconsolate peacock did not escape the searching eye of the fair snapshotter.

The honours of the old Abbey were done by Colonel Harding, who not only placed his wide knowledge of its history at the disposal of the visiters, but also took them across to see Abbey House, the original gatehouse of the Abbey, in which the last Abbot ended his days after the dissolution of the monasteries.

After concluding an inspection of the ruins, which evidently added one more to the pleasant experiences of their tour, the visitors returned to the city, the procession of decorated cars being greeted with hasty cheers and smiling salutes from the youngsters and workpeople who were enjoying their dinner hour.

The various parties of sightseers assembled at Messrs. Powolny's Assembly Rooms, Great George street where they were entertained to lunch by the President and Council of the Leeds Chamber of Commerce.

The chairman, Mr. Henry Barran, President of the Leeds Chamber of Commerce, addressed the visitors, extending a hearty welcome, and Mr. R. J. Young, Secretary, responded on behalf of the Canadians.

In concluding his speech, Mr. Young presented the chairman with an autograph book, containing the names of all the Canadian guests, who, he said, would never forget the kindness and grace which had been extended to them there.

Mr. W. K. George proposed a toast to health of the chairman.

A CLEANLY AGE.

Twentieth Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventatives.

Nowadays scientists believe that in cleanliness lies the secret of prevention.

To prevent a disease remove the cause.

Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habits will also breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause baldness.

It's microbic infection, nothing more nor less.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and causes the hair to grow luxuriously. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease or other injurious substances.

Sold by leading druggists. Send ten cents in stamps for a sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond and Walsh, special agents.

A NEW CLAY BELT FOUND AWAY NORTH OF SUDBURY

On the Mattagami River and South of the Formerly Known Clay Belt—Letters From Exploring Parties to the Ontario Government.

Apparently the whole has not yet been told regarding Ontario's "great clay belt." To-day Mr. T. W. Gibson received reports from Mr. L. C. Kerr, chief geologist of the exploration party, and Mr. Archibald Henderson, agriculturist, who were sent out by the Department of Mines some weeks ago to pursue explorations in New Ontario, telling of a large new tract of clay land discovered in an area at present not included in the clay belt on the maps. It is in the great bend of the Mattagami River, some 200 miles north of Sudbury, and lies south of the clay belt, as mapped until now.

Mr. Henderson writes in part: "Although the region traversed is, according to the present maps, south of the southern limit of the clay belt, yet my line ran through excellent clay land, timbered mostly with some rich spruce. The soil is a clay loam. The country is very level, with no rock exposures. The township therefore, the greater part of which is included in the Great Bend of the Mattagami, will make excellent agricultural land, and apparently this area should be included within the limits of the clay belt."

Mr. Kerr, who is in the same district, reports meeting a prospector returning from the Porcupine River with good looking samples of gold-bearing quartz, hematite, traces of copper and another ore which the prospector claimed was nickel, but which Mr. Kerr did not see. The Mattagami River district bears good cedar, some jack pine, birch and poplar.

INSTALLED THE NEW OFFICERS

Joint Ceremony of Two Oddfellow Lodges.

Interesting Gathering of Local Fraternalists Last Night.

The newly elected officers of Peterborough Lodge No. 111 and Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F., were duly installed for the coming term last night. There was a large attendance of the triple-linked brethren.

Bro. Fred Fry, of Norwood, the retiring D.D.G.M., was unable to be present last night and requested Bro. L. Wallis, P.G., to act as installing officer. Bro. Warde Patterson, of Havelock lodge, the newly appointed D. D. G. M. was among the visitors and was warmly welcomed. The acting D.D.G.M., Bro. Wallis, was assisted by Bro. NO CASE AGAINST THE NATIONAL

Charge of Selling Liquor After Hours Fell Through.

Wm. Kimball Fined for Being Drunk and Disorderly—Police Court News.

Edward Kimball and William Sheehan appeared at the police court this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly. Kimball pleaded guilty, and was fined $2, and $2.60 costs, amounting to $4.60. Sheehan pleaded not guilty. In the witness box Kimball said he did not know what Sheehan was doing, as he had all he could do to look after himself. Sheehan's case was enlarged until to-morrow.

Richard Geary was charged with being drunk and disorderly in a public place. He said he had lived in the House of Providence. "And is the door still open for you?" asked the Magistrate. "Yes." "Well, make a bee line for it!" And the old man went out calling blessings on the head of the Magistrate.

Mr. J. A. Lawless, proprietor of the National Hotel, was charged with being lawless in violating the liquor bylaw by selling liquor after hours on Saturday night.

Frank Sheehan, the bell boy, was the first witness called. He said he did not carry any liquor on Saturday evening after hours, nor did he see Jas. Hoolihan, the bartender.

John Trotter of South Monaghan, was the next in the bar. He had been in town on Saturday, and had missed the boat. He was looking for a friend of his and went over to the National to look him up. He saw two or three men, Sam Newhall among them, standing in the hall. He afterwards went into the sample room with John Thompson, but he saw no one drinking.

John Thompson said he was in the hotel after 7 o'clock. He went into the sample room with Trotter, but saw no bottles, nor glasses nor any person drinking.

Sam Newhall — not of the strawberry patch — was called. He saw a bottle on a table in the hall and took a drink, but there were no glasses nor any servator near. "When you got through how much was in the bottle?" "Nothin'!" was Sam's ready answer. Sam said he did not see Trotter nor Thompson.

John Heaslip was at the hotel at 8.30 but he saw no drinking.

Crown Attorney Wood said the case was presented, but the Magistrate said there was no case.

THE FUNERAL WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

Many Friends Pay Respects to Late Joseph Condon.

The funeral of the late Joseph Condon took place this morning and was one of the most largely attended funerals ever held in the Douro church. Mass was sung at the church by Rev. Father Torpey, and the remains of the deceased, who was one of the most popular young men in the township, were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of people.

The pall bearers were three brothers of the deceased and three cousins: Messrs. Richard, William and Edward Condon, and W. Torpey, John Torpey and Patrick Devlin.

Universal sympathy is felt for the members of the family. It is just five years ago since the mother of the deceased passed away.

THE JOURNEYMEN WERE JUSTIFIED

Action of Barbers' Union is Upheld by Headquarters.

Mr. S. Baker has received the following letter from the headquarters of the Journeymen Barbers' International Union, in which justification is given for the action of the local union, and that action sustained. The letter reads:

Dear Sir and Bro. — Replying to yours of the 5th inst., I will hasten to say that where any local union adopts a full set of bylaws, the same must be submitted to my office for approval, and not until they have been approved can the same be considered legal; but where the union simply makes a rule to keep closed on a certain date, such as the action taken at your meeting on June 26th, such a rule would not be subject to my approval, as the constitution, No. 103, gives each union the right to regulate the hours in their respective localities.

Hoping this explanation will be considered satisfactory, I am, as ever,

Yours fraternally,
Frank X. Noschang,
Gen. Pres.

GLORIOUS 12TH AT WARSAW

A Huge Demonstration in Prospect.

Many East Riding Lodges Will Attend —Preparations are Completed.

(Special to the Examiner).

Warsaw, July 11th.

The preparations for the celebration to-morrow in Warsaw for the "Glorious Twelfth," are now complete in every particular and a monster demonstration is now assured.

The village has been handsomely decorated and is resplendent in gay coloured flags and bunting.

It is expected that all the lodges in the East Riding will take part in the demonstration, among them being Havelock, Norwood, South Dummer, Hall's Glen, Young's Point Hastings, and two from Belmont.

Ample provision has been made for the reception of visitors, and refreshments booths and improvised cafes, have been arranged for in large numbers.

The visiting lodges will assemble at one o'clock and parade to Tucker's Grove, where addresses will be delivered by Rev. W. L. Atkinson, Rev. Geo. McNicholls, and Rev. Mr. Battisby, of Warsaw; Rev. E. W. Pickford and Rev. W. H. Adams, of Norwood; and Mr. J. Saxsmith of Havelock. Mr. Jos. Moore, County Master, will occupy the chair.

Use "MAPLE LEAF" Canned Salmon. The Best Packed.

LOCAL LODGES WILL CELEBRATE

The Glorious 12th at Omemee To-morrow.

Members of District Lodges Will Assemble at Central Park To-morrow Morning.

A large number from Peterborough have signified their intention of attending the demonstration in Omemee to-morrow. All the lodges in the district, it is expected, will send their quota to the western village and a very enjoyable celebration is anticipated.

The local district is composed of the following five lodges: Peterborough L.O.L., No. 90; 'Prentice Boys, No. 321 Downer's Corners, No. 457 Nassau, No. 178 Fourth Line of Smith and Keene L.O.L.

The members of these lodges will assemble to-morrow morning at the Central Park, and will meet and escort the Lakefield Lodges from the train from that place upon its arrival at McDonel street. The different lodges will be marshalled in proper district order by the County Director of Ceremonies and will parade in procession to the train which leaves for Omemee at 10.30 o'clock.

The local contingent will be well provided musically. They will be accompanied by a section of the 57th Regiment Band, the 16th Line Smith brass band and several fife and drum aggregations.

OFFICERS ELECTED AND INSTALLED

Regular Meeting of Carpenters and Joiners Union.

The local union of Carpenters and Joiners, No. 672, met last night in their hall, Simcoe street. After routine business, the annual election of officers took place, the installation being made by Ald. W. J. Johnston, past president. The following officers were elected:—

President—John Alexander.

ADVANCE PARTY OF Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Leave by Noon Train for the Lakes—Main Party to Follow.

The advance party of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp left by the noon train for Lakefield. The party consists of Mr. Williamson, Mr. Baker, Arthur Emmerson, Peter Wallace and Frank Emmerson. A good load of provisions and camping supplies were taken along.

To-morrow, the main party of the boys, numbering over 40, will leave by the noon train and will camp for two weeks at Sandy Point.

A fine time is assured as this is a record year in the attendance at the annual camps.

THE GREAT EVENT OF THE SEASON.

COL.-SERG. MOORE SHOOTING WELL

Made Score of 34 in the Gregory Competition.

Also Selected as Member of the Kolapore Team—Brings Honour to Peterborough.

Despatches from Bisley to-day convey the pleasing intelligence that Col. Sergt. Moore has already brought honours to his town and regiment. He has been chosen on the Kolapore team which will shoot for the Rajah of Kolapore Imperial Challenge Cup. Later despatches state that Sergt. Moore in the Gregory competition made a score of 34 out of a possible 35. This is a seven shot match at 200 yards.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Campers at Pleasant Point Have Unpleasant Experience.

Young Boy Nearly Drowned—Prompt Action Saved a Life.

Mr. Fred Reeves, Jr., and wife, who are camping with their children at Pleasant Point, received a great fright yesterday. And their alarm was well founded.

It seems that while the mother was putting away the dinner dishes, and the father was busy elsewhere, their little three-year-old son strayed to the lake shore close by, and fell in without making any outcry.

Missing him a couple of minutes later, the mother hastened to the bank and saw her boy floating face downward some little distance out. Her agonized screams brought her husband on the run, and taking in the situation at a glance he plunged in and caught his son as he was going down for the second or third time. Life was not extinct but it took nearly an hour's brisk rubbing to restore the boy to full consciousness. It was a narrow escape from a fatality.—Lindsay Post.

Neglect the Liver And You Will Suffer

Scarcely an Organ of the Body but Feels the Effects of a Disordered Liver.

When the liver gets torpid and inactive bile is left in the blood—causing jaundice.

Indigestion results because the liver is an important organ of digestion.

Constipation arises because bile from the liver is nature's own cathartic.

A torid liver means a poisoned system—pain suffering, chronic disease.

By their extraordinary influence on the liver Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively remove the cause of such disorders.

Biliousness dyspepsia, constipation—headaches backaches and bodily pains disappear when the digestive filtering and excretary systems are set right by the use of this great medicine.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE MILITIA OF CANADA

Sir Frederick Borden Deals With its Reorganization.

PURCHASE OF LARGE GUNS

Training of the Young Men of Canada Suggested—English Gunmakers May Establish Works in Canada—For Earlier Sessions — Sir Wilfrid Laurier Favors Meeting in November—Trading Stamps.

Ottawa, July 11.—The long-delayed discussion of the militia reorganization took place in the House yesterday, and was marked by a suggestion by Sir Frederick Borden that all young men under 21 should be required to attend three annual camps as a part of their duty to the State. An alternative to this was suggested in the military education which might be imparted at schools throughout Canada, a uniform scheme for which he hoped to see adopted by a conference to be called of all the Provincial Governments in the Dominion. Sir Frederick made several other announcements, one of which was that the Government are buying a number of large guns and that several English gunmakers propose building factories in this country. He discussed the taking over of Halifax and Esquimalt, which had caused a large increase in the expenditure. Lieut.-Col. Tisdale and Dr. Sproule opposed taking over those fortresses, and favored accepting England's offer to pay over a lump sum toward their support.

Earlier in the day a general discussion occurred on the date of holding the session, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier made a statement almost explicit, that the House would, beginning perhaps in the fall of 1906, meet in November, and try to finish its work during the winter months.

Mr. Emmerson's bill to amend the railway act, 1903, of which notice had been given, was dropped.

Mr. R. L. Borden introduced a bill to amend the act respecting the House of Commons. His measure, he explained, was designed to cause the immediate issue within a reasonable time of the writ for a bye-election when a seat becomes vacant for any cause. The bill is on the lines of legislation in force in Ontario.

Hon. Mr. Oliver introduced a bill respecting roads and road allowances in the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, which formally places in the hands of the Governments of the new Provinces the same authority as is now held by the Government of the North-West Territories.

Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to amend the criminal code, 1892. The bill, he said, was intended to do away with the mischief of the trading stamp system by making it a criminal offence. The bill was introduced at the request of merchants and other associations in Quebec, and would impose penalties on the trading stamp company, the merchant and the customer using trading stamps.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill to amend the Canada evidence act, 1893, was dropped.

The bill respecting the Canadian agency was referred back to the Banking and Commerce Committee on motion of Hon. Mr. Brodeur.

Senate amendments to the bill to incorporate the Edmonton Boom Co. and respecting the Canadian Northern Railway Co. were concurred in.

The Speaker informed the House that he had been informed that the petition against the return of the member for Nicolet, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, had been dismissed, and the sitting member been confirmed in his seat.

The House adopted a resolution by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that morning sittings commence on Wednesday, and that the House sit on Saturday.

"When are we to expect the railway subsidies?" asked Mr. R. L. Borden.

"There will be no railway subsidies," Sir Wilfrid replied.

"Then we have practically all the Government business before us?"

"We have practically all the Government business," the Premier responded, "with the exception of certain resolutions, of which I am not prepared to speak at this moment." Sir Wilfrid agreed to a suggestion by Mr. Foster that the House take up notices of motion and clear them off the order paper on Monday next.

Mr. Oliver's bill to amend the land titles act was passed through final stages. It continues the present land titles act in the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan until replaced by an act passed by the new Assemblies.

The militia appropriations were disposed of, and a number of items in the Marine and Fisheries Department were considered and passed.

COLLISION AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Elk Delegates Seriously Hurt and Motorman Gets Leg Broken.

Niagara Falls, July 11.—About 6 o'clock last night on the Niagara Falls Park and River road at the first bend, north of Niagara Glen, a park and river local car, in charge of Moforman A. E. Rae and Conductor A. J. Zabell was standing inside of the curve with a disabled trolley arm, the motorman on top fixing the disabled arm, when a belt line car, loaded with tourists and visiting Elks, came around the bend at a good rate of speed.

It ran into the rear of the local. Both cars were bound for Queenstown. Fortunately no one was on the local car but the motorman. The heavy belt line car plowed into it and the impact twisted the local into a pile of debris. The front of the belt line car was badly bent and was derailed.

The force of the collision threw the passengers on the belt line car out of their seats and over the heads of others. Some nine or ten passengers were more or less injured, two of them seriously. J. Nickson got a severe cut on the forehead and cut under the eye and was badly bruised. W. Turner had an ankle broken. Both are Elks from Poplar Bluffs. Motorman Rae of this city had his leg broken.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Firmer—Cattle Easier—Hogs Higher at Buffalo.

London, July 10.—Cattle are quoted at 11c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9½c to 9¾c per lb.; sheep, 13c to 14½c per lb.

TORONTO JUNCTION LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 83 carloads, composed of 1128 cattle, 35 sheep, 40 hogs and 63 calves.

Exporters.

Prices ranged from $4.75 to $5.20 per cwt., and one load, a choice picked lot brought $5.35 per cwt. Mr. Levack reports having bought 75 prime cattle many of them picked stable animals, at $5.20, all of which would have brought a much higher figure a few weeks ago. The bulk of the shipping cattle sold at $4.85 to $5.10 per cwt. Bulls sold at $3.50 to $4 per cwt., with an occasional one of prime quality at $4.25.

Butchers.

There were several loads of prime butchers' cattle, good enough quality for export, but butchers weight, that sold at $4.75 to $4.90; medium to good loads of heifers, $4.40 to $4.60; common loads of mixed, with cows of good quality, at $4 to $4.25; rough and inferior at $3 to $3.65, and some as low as $2.75 per cwt.

A very few picked lots of two and three in a lot brought $4.90 to $5.10.

Milch Cows.

A few milch cows and springers sold at $30 to $38 each.

Prices ranged from $5 to $5.75 per cwt. W. D. Levack bought 50 calves at $5.50 to $5.75 per cwt.

Lambs.

Prices firm at $4 to $5.75 each. McDonald & Maybee sold one lot, 72 lbs. each, at $7.50 per cwt.

Hogs.

H. P. Kennedy was paying $6.25 per cwt., fed and watered.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, July 10.—(Special.)—Cables came stronger to-day from Liverpool, and prices show an advance of ½c per lb., with sales of Canadian cattle at 12½c and sheep at 12c. London cables were firm at 11½c to 12c for Canadian cattle, and 12½c for sheep. The shipments for the past week were 4083 cattle and 200 sheep. The demand for ocean freight space has been good, and considerable business has been done for August shipment to Liverpool, London and Manchester, 25s, and Glasgow is quoted at 40s. The receipts to-day were 1200 cattle, 50 milch cows, 700 sheep and lambs, 200 calves, 1000 hogs.

The unusually large supplies in such muggy weather had a depressing effect on trade, and the prices declined from ½c to ¼c per lb. on all kinds of cattle, while the prices of lambs were nearly 50c lower than on last week's market. Prime beeves sold at 5c to 5¼c; good cattle, 4¾c to 4¾c, and common stock, 3c to 3¼c per lb. Half of the cattle on the market were not sold. Calves sold at $3 to $10 each. Milch cows sold at $25 to $55 each. Sheep sold at 3¼c to 3½c per lb.; lambs at $2.50 to $4.50 each. The market for hogs was weaker, owing to the increased receipts and the limited demand from packers for the same; in consequence prices declined 25c per 100 lbs., with sales of selected lots at $6.75 and mixed lots at $6.25 to $6.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

Child Had Eczema

"My daughter, 13 years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician and used other ointments without benefit. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment she has been completely cured. This is the only ointment I feel like recommending."—Mr. James H. Patriquin, 176 Rockdale Avenue, Sydney, C. B.

DESPONDENT ALEX. ANDERSON.

Cuts His Throat on Train — Wife and Child With Him.

Winnipeg, July 11.—Alexander Anderson, an immigrant from Scotland, attempted suicide yesterday by slitting his throat in the lavatory of a colonist car attached to the westbound Imperial Limited, at Dexter, 378 miles east of Winnipeg.

His wife and one child were on the train with him and had been struggling against the man's despondency, resulting from a spree.

Dr. Crutchlow of Montreal, who was on board, dressed the wounds, and the man was removed to the General Hospital. Slight hopes are held out for his recovery.

Before committing the deed, Anderson deliberately tore up a $500 draft on the Winnipeg Bank, but some of the pieces have been recovered and the money will be paid his wife.

Sat Down in Front of Train.

Clifton Springs, N. Y., July 11.—Walter Smith, a resident of New Brunswick, N. J., and connected with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. committed suicide here yesterday. After waiting for the approach of a New York Central train at a crossing, he sat down on the rails when the locomotive was but a few feet away and was instantly cut to pieces. Mr. Smith came here about a week ago for treatment at the sanitarium.

Famous Woman Spy Drowned.

San Francisco, Cal., July 11.—Mrs. Charles Gray, who was formerly Mrs. Amanda Monka, a famous Confederate spy during the war of the rebellion, was drowned near Santa Cruz as the result of a runaway accident caused by an automobile. Mrs. Gray was more than sixty years old, and had lived in the Santa Cruz mountains for thirty years. She was a first cousin of Daniel Webster.

ANGEL CHILDREN.

Is there any happier woman in this world than that mother whose each successive little one seems to her but one more darling angel to continually lift her thoughts toward the sunshine of perfect happiness? But sorry is the lot of that poor mother to whom motherhood has ceased to be a cause of rejoicing, but has become instead a burden to be dreaded and looked forward to with melancholy and apprehension.

"About three months before our last baby was born (which is our fourth), writes Mrs. Nellie Carl, of Myrtlepoint, Coos Co., Oregon, "my health was very poor. I had been troubled for about eight years with female disease. I decieved with good physicians but obtained no relief, so I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, and was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so, and am happy to say my health began to improve and I did my work up to the last, and felt splendid.

"I got along finely during confinement, and have the healthiest baby I ever saw. When he was three months old he weighed eighteen pounds; he is now seven months old and weighs twenty-four pounds. I can say I have had no return of my old troubles. I thank you very much for the good you have done me."

Any woman may write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., a statement of her case, which will be considered in absolute confidence by this physician who stands among the foremost specialists of the century in the treatment of women's diseases. He will send her (in a plain, sealed envelope) sound, sensible, valuable advice free of all charge.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page, illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps.

GRAND TRUNK HAS SETTLED

With Messrs. James and Evans for Injuries.

They got Several Hundred Dollars for Accident at King Street Crossing.

Yesterday Mr. W. S. Wells, Claims Agent of the G.T.R., was in town in connection with the claim for damage made by Messrs. Chas. James and W. L. Evans, for injuries received at the King street crossing some weeks ago. It will be remembered that the details of the accident were fully reported in the Examiner at the time.

Mr. Evans was rather severely injured, and has been confined to his bed ever since, and in fact will not be able to be out for some time yet.

Mr. John Greene conducted the negotiations for Messrs. James and Evans, and to-day a satisfactory settlement was made, the injured men getting practically all that they asked. Mr. Green was not prepared to state the amount of the damages received, but said it was up in the hundreds of dollars.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Interesting Personal Items Gathered by Reporters.

Mrs. J. P. Martin, Peterborough, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Parsons, Osaca.

Mr. J. R. Jones of Roland, Man., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morgan, London street.

Miss Hasel Batton is spending her holidays visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Simson, Mount Pleasant.

Miss Mamie Kennedy, of Chicago, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kennedy, 863 Water street.

Miss Emma Carroll, who has been visiting Miss Gertrude McFadden, returned to Toronto yesterday morning.

Mr. T. J. Wallace and family will leave to-morrow for Rice Lake and will spend the summer at the serpent mounds.

To-day in Toronto the wedding of Mr. E. R. Jarvis, formerly accountant in the Bank of Commerce, to Miss Dick, will take place.

Dr. N. G. McKinnon, of Millbrook, who is the latest addition to the ranks of the medical profession of the town, has taken up residence at 453 Water street and will at once commence practice.

The following gentlemen left on the noon train to attend the Presbyterial meeting to be held in Port Hope:—Rev. J. G. Potter, Rev. Dr Torrance, Rev. W. Bennett, Mr. R. Harrison, Rev. Mr. Reeves, of Campbellford: Rev. Mr. Read, Omemee, and others.

Mr. Michael Donovan, of Cassopolis, Mich., is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. T. Holmes, 231 Charlotte street, and is renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Donovan having lived here some 34 years ago does a vast difference and is surprised at Peterborough's rapid growth, and greatly pleased with its appearance; he says it seems more cityfied that any town he has ever visited.

FORMER PETERBORO' BOY WAS MARRIED

Mr. Oscar LaBelle Married to Miss Florence M. Burton.

(The marriage of Miss Florence M. Burton, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Burton, to Mr. Wilfrid Oscar La Belle of Bowmanville, and for some time in the employ of the Kinsman Hardware was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 348 King street West, Toronto, Rev. W. H. Vance of the Church of the Ascension performing the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her father, was handsomely gowned in ivory crepe de chene over taffeta with berthe of duchess lace. A Brussels net veil (having been the bride's mother's) was worn with a coronet of orange blossoms, the sleep carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Celia Burton, sister of the bride. The groom was supported by Mr. Charles J. Hutchinson. The bride was also well known here, having been on the staff of the J. C. Turnbull Co. for some time.

PROMOTION FOR MR. HAMMETT

Local Bank Manager Promoted to Assistant Inspectorship.

Will be Succeeded Here by Son of Senator Ferguson—Mr. Hammett Will Remain Here.

Mr. E. T. THE RACES WILL BE FAST

Concluding Preparations For Race Meet Made.

Horses are all in Fine Condition—Turf Club Met Last Night.

The concluding preparations for the race meet are being prosecuted vigorously at the track. The horses are now nearly all in, and all appear in condition to extend themselves to the limit. The seats in the covered portions of the grandstand are being covered with cotton and will, when completed, be all that the fair sex can desire in the way of seating accomodation.

One horse—the speedy "Jap" arrived this morning.

A meeting of the Turf Club was held last night at the Crown Hotel, when the officers for the meet were appointed. The following will officiate:

Starter—Frank G. Smith, Editor Buffalo Horse World, Buffalo.

Judges—G. J. Martin, Stouffville; Fred Peake, Campbellford, and Wm. Leahy, Lakefield.

Several special policemen will be upon the grounds.

The track is in excellent condition and is being still further improved.

An evidence of the general interest which is being taken in the approaching meet is the large sale of tickets, which are being purchased in large numbers by the merchants and others.

ST. ANDREW'S WON FROM GEORGE STREET

The Total Score for the Whole Game Was 10-4.

Last night on the McDonel street grounds, the last half of the game between the George street and St. Andrews' teams, was played, resulting in a win for the Presbyterians by 3—0, which gives them the game by 10—4. The quality of ball last night was much superior to that of the former part of the game, and both teams were in better form.

Fred Parnell did the pitching for the Methodists, and did good work, while Swanston who did the slab work for the Presbyterians, was only touched up for a couple of hits. A run was scored on the first innings on two bases on balls, which Swanston gave. In the second innings, Wilson, who caught for George street, injured his finger, and had to retire from the game, his place being taken by W. Parnell.

This win from St. Andrews makes them the leaders of the district, with two wins and one loss. If they succeed in defeating St. Paul's in the next game they will again play off with Charlotte street for the league championship.

The batteries last night were:—George street, F. Parnell and Wilson and W. Parnell; St. Andrews, Swanston and McDonald, N. McWilliams manager.

GROOM FORMERLY PETERBORO' MAN

Mr. E. R. Jarvis Married in Toronto Yesterday.

Bride was Miss Edith Carfrae Dick—Miss Helen Boucher, Maid of Honour.

The many friends in Peterborough of Mr. E. R. Jarvis, for some years accountant of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, and more recently manager of the branch of the same bank in Melfort, Sask., will read with interest the following report of his wedding which took place yesterday afternoon in Toronto. The Toronto Star, writing of the event says:

"This afternoon at half past one o'clock, Miss Edith Carfrae Dick, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carfrae Dick, 1st Avenue Road, and Mr. Edgar Ralph Jarvis, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Melfort, Sask., son of Mr. R. P. Jarvis, of Stratford, Ont., were married in St. Simon's church, by the rector, the Rev. E. C. Cayley.

"The chancel of the church was profusely decorated with palms and marguerites, and there was a full choral service. The bride preceded by the choir and ushers, entered the church on her father's arms, looking very sweet in a gown of crepe de Paris, made with a train and trimmed with rose point lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her long tulle veil was held in place with orange blossoms. Miss Helen Boucher of Peterborough, was the maid of honour, and was gowned in green colbana, while Miss Jessie Dick, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was dressed in white colbana. Both wore black picture hats and carried shower bouquets of pink roses.

"The groom's gift to the bride was a very handsome sapphire ring, and to the maid of honour and bridesmaid small bloodstone rings.

"The bride's mother looked very young and charming in a gown of black and white grenadine, with a black and white toque to match, and carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas. Mr. Charles Jarvis of Boston, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Fred Brooke, and Mr. Arthur Brooke, cousins of the bride, Mr. Thomas Dawson and Mr. Edward Pringle.

"At the conclusion of the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at which only the nearest relatives and friends of the two families were present, owing to a recent death in the bride's family.

"One of the most highly prized among the many presents was that given by the bride's mother, the sword which had belonged to General George Frederick Macdonald, of the British Army, the great grandfather of the bride.

"The bride's travelling costume was of grey homespun, made with a long tight-fitting coat, and showing, when open, a white lace blouse, the toque being of mauve straw, trimmed with wings of the same colour. After a trip to several of the large cities in the States, the young couple will make their home in Melfort, Sask.

ENJOYABLE TRIP TO STONY LAKE

Rev. Father McColl Entertains Party Yesterday.

Charming Sail to Burleigh, Where Dinner was Served—Trip Much Enjoyed.

One of the most delightful of the many trips to Stony Lake, which have been taken this season, was that yesterday of the choir and altar boys of St. Peter's cathedral, and the teachers and trustees of the Separate schools.

The members of the party, which numbered about 120, were the guests of Rev. Father McColl. The arrangements for the trip were perfect in all details, and all conditions united to make it a thoroughly delightful outing.

The excursionists embarked upon the steamer Water Lily at the Wolfe street wharf at 8 o'clock, and after a trip over the Lift Lock, sailed to Burleigh Falls, where dinner was served. After a stay at that point of about two hours the return trip was commenced, the party arriving at the Lift Lock about 7.30.

A feature of the trip which added not a little to its enjoyment was the charming music furnished by the members of the choir.

BUILDING A NEW RAILWAY

Nova Scotia Eastern Railway Shareholders Meet.

Representatives in London Authorized to Act For Company in Negotiations For Flotation of Road.

Power was given yesterday at the meeting of the shareholders of the Nova Scotia Eastern Railroad, to Messrs. J. W. Grier, Vice-President, and T. P. Coffee, who are now in London, to represent the shareholders, in negotiations for the flotation of the project.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, President of the Company, presided. At the close of the meeting Hon. Mr. Stratton stated that negotiations were practically completed, that the work of construction had already commenced, and would be continuously prosecuted until its completion. The system, he said, would require 325 miles of track, running from Bartmouth, N.S., to the Strait of Canso and from Glasgow to Country Harbour, and the cost will approximate $6,000,000.—Globe.

BEST PIC-NIC IN THEIR HISTORY

Was St. Luke's Annual Outing Held Yesterday.

A Delightful Outing at Rice Lake—The Races and Winners.

A fine day and a large number of people, about 350, made St. Luke's annual Sunday School picnic yesterday the best ever held. The sail down the river to Gore's Landing was much enjoyed. At Jubilee Point the boat stopped for dinner, after which the races were held for the children, the following winning the prizes:

Girls race from 6 to 8 years—1, Irene Hayes; Maggie Colquhoon.

Boys race from 6 to 8 years—1, James Colquhoon; 2, Gladstone Palenbeam.

Girls race from 8 to 10 years—1, Greta Palenbeam; 2, Myrtle Clitteral.

Boys race from 8 to 10 years—1, Maxwold Adams; 2, Wilfrid Adams.

Girls race from 10 to 12 years—1, Ada Adams; 2, Fannie Long.

Boys race from 10 to 12 years—1, Freddie Long; 2, Willie Hele.

Girls race from 12 to 14 years — 1, Reba Gastins; 2, Florence Hoskins.

Boys race from 12 to 14 years — 1, Jack Fitzgerald; 2, George Colquhoon.

Young ladies race—1, Clara Adams; 2, Hazel Clitteral.

Boys boot race—1, Rollie Howden; 2, George Colquhoon.

Girls boot race—1, Ada Adams; 2, Hazel Crane.

Ladies race—1, Miss Lois Scott; 2, Miss Jessie Crane.

Gentlemen's race—1, Mr. Walter Palenbeam; 2, Mr. T. H. Adams.

Boys 3-legged race—1, Rollie Howden; 2, Cecil Clitteral.

Mr. Kington had special prizes for his Sunday School class which were won by the following girls: A camera by Hazel Craig, and other prizes by Eva Crane, May Curtin, Alice Carter and Mabel Mackie.

Mrs. George Curtis received a special prize of a pair of kid gloves for having the largest family on board.

The excursionists reached Peterborough wharf at 8.15 p. m. after having spent a most delightful day. Much appreciation was expressed of the kindness of the Captain and crew of the "City of Peterborough" and of the speed and the safety of the boat.

Daily Bath for 20 Years.

George Williams, who was fined $2.50 at Richmond, Eng., recently for bathing in the Thames without a proper costume, said he had bathed in the river for forty-five years, and daily, summer and winter, for the past twenty-six years.

ustoms Receipts Decrease.

Toronto's custom receipts show a slight falling off this month in spite of the good start. The receipts for the first week of July amounted to $127,352.35, while for the same time last year the amount was $134,852.63.

Encounter With Bees.

David Spencer, aged forty-five years of Marysville, Ohio, battled with a swarm of bees and as a result, may die. Spencer is a farm hand employed near West Mansfield. He went to the field yesterday to plow corn, and while at work a swarm of bees alighted upon him and the team, stinging them almost to death.

Gas for Brantford.

Brantford within the next three months will be receiving natural gas from Selkirk wells, 31 miles away, for heating and lighting, at a price not to exceed 45 cents per 1,000 feet, half the cost at which gas was previously procurable. The Dominion Natural Gas company, composed of Pittsburg men, own the Selkirk wells and are arranging for the supply.

Wanted to Die.

Fred Jackson, 36, a resident of Brantford, described as fairly well-to-do, asked for arsenic in a drug store and refusing to give satisfactory replies, the police were informed and he was cared for. Next morning he confessed his intention was to take poison. "I want to go to heaven," he said. He had several times before become crazed over religion.

Killed Eight Men.

Asserting he had killed eight men to make them good, as all live men are bad, Hezekiah Hall, 56 years old, was arrested yesterday at Chehalis, Wash., charged with killing John Grubb and with other serious offences in Virginia. Hall says he killed Grubb in self-defence. He told Sheriff Urquhart that men were never good unless they were dead, and he had "run against" eight men whom he found it necessary to make good.

Wife's Desertion Killed.

Joe Pennalet, son of the chief of police at the Mission, says the Fort William Herald, was deserted by his wife last spring. He brooded over it, and a few days ago, whilst visiting sets with his father and members of the family, the boat sailing fast at the time, he took off his outer clothing behind the sails, and, unnoticed by anyone, quietly slipped off into eternity. His body has not been found. He grieved constantly for his wife.

Walked on Broken Leg.

Frank Meahler, a New Yorker, fell from a ladder yesterday at the navy yard Brooklyn, and realizing he was hurt, decided to walk home, having no money for car fare. He made the distance over the bridge, two miles, and then gave up. When he came to himself he was in Hudson street hospital. He had walked those two miles while the edges of the bone of the injured leg crunched and splintered against each other at every step. It must have been excruciating. The doctors say the thing was without a parallel.

A Canadian Invasion.

The Wm. Davies company of Toronto, general supply stores, are extending their field of operations into Uncle Sam's domain. A New York state charter has been secured, and three stores will be opened about the 1st of August in Buffalo. There are a number of American shareholders, but the bulk of the stock is held on this side of the line. The employees will all be secured in the United States side, so as to run no risk of conflicting with the alien labour law. If the venture is successful it is probable stores will be established in other American cities.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed up cuticle of the scalp caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless and in time falls out. This can be prevented. Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people — all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation in the market to-day.

DEPARTURE OF LOCAL LODGES

Orangemen Left This Morning For Omemee.

Paraded This Morning to the G. T. R. Station—Splendid Appearance of Local Lodges.

The initial stages of the celebration of the Glorious Twelfth by the local Orange lodges, passed off most auspiciously this morning, when the lodges of Lakefield and Peterborough Patriots, after a highly successful and interesting parade, departed at about eleven o'clock for Omemee.

All the local lodges were well represented numerically and presented a splendid appearance upon parade.

The members assembled at ten o'clock at the Central Park, where the procession was formed, and headed by a section of the 57th Regiment Band, marched to the Grand Trunk station. The order of the parade was as follows:

Marshall.
W. H. G. Armstrong, D. D. M.
57th Regiment Band.
Peterborough Ergatice Boys,
F. Symonds, Master.
L.O.L. No. 82, Peterborough,
George Bartley, Master.
Colonel Sanderson L.O.L., No. 821,
Downer's Corners.
W. Weddle, Master.
Wellington L. O. L., No. 697, Harmony,
Fife and Drum Band.
G. Lemon, Master.
Keene L.O.L. No. 494,
Wm. Wedlock, Master.
North Smith Brass Band.
Wesley L.O.L. No. 419, Smith,
S. Stewett, Master.
Beresford L.O.L. No. 132, Lakefield.
S. Hunter, Master.
Young Canadian Lodge, No. 1288, of Lakefield.
R. Carter, Master.
Carriages.
Wm. Kinkead, Robert Weir, J. B. McWilliams, Lieut.-Colonel Miller, John McWilliams, and Ald. Bates.

The lodges from the Lakefield District came down by special train and were met at the McDonnel street crossing by the local brethren, and band.

The lodges presented a uniformly fine appearance, and the parade was conducted without a hitch. The trains conveying the party were crowded, and it is estimated that fully 1500 people went from town to participate in the demonstration at Omemee.

SIMMONS—ROY

This afternoon at three o'clock in St. John's church, a quiet wedding was celebrated by Rev. J. C. Saunders, the contracting parties being Miss Mabel Roy, eldest daughter of Mr. R. M. Roy, and Mr. Alfred Simmons. They were unattended. The bride's dress was pale brown taffeta silk, with white lace and trimmed with pale blue and pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left on the 5.10 train on a trip to Muskoka and the coast, and on their return about Sept. 15th, will reside on Ashburnham street.

DIED FOR HIS CHUM.

Gilbert Johnson Intervenes in Quarrel and Loses His Life.

Denver, Col., July 12.—Rather than see his chum, Arnold Lawson, only son of Thomas Lawson, Boston, killed, Gilbert Johnson of Denver sacrificed his own life. The tragedy occurred on Wednesday at the Tom Lawson mine at Vriqui, Mexico. The manager of the mine was paying some of the extra men. Among them was Jesus Rocha, who demanded $3 more. The manager refused, angry words passed, and the two men were soon engaged in a quarrel. Suddenly the Mexican drew a long knife. Lawson and Johnson ran to the manager's assistance. The Mexican aimed a blow at Rocha, but Young Lawson pulled the manager out of the way. The Mexican, wild with rage, tried to stab Lawson. Johnson attempted to disarm the man. Just as the Mexican's arm was raised to strike Lawson, Johnson attempted to catch his wrist but missed and the knife was plunged into his breast.

Rocha was overpowered, disarmed and taken away by angry miners, who, it is said, lynched him.

An expert may not know more than other people, but he doesn't mind that so long as he can draw money for being an expert.

In the mind of irrepressible youth failure is merely a milestone on the road to success.

DROWNED IN LAKE MANITOU

Major Sankey and Two of His Engineering Party---Claude Temple Was Saved---Their Canoe Upset in a Heavy Wind on Lake Manitou and Although They Clung to the Frail Craft For Three Hours Three of the Party Sank From Exhaustion---Major Sankey's Career.

Winnipeg, July 12.—Major Villiers Sankey, divisional engineer of the Transcontinental Railway, with two of his party, were drowned Monday morning near Kenora, formerly Rat Portage, Ont.

Major Sankey, who had charge of the Transcontinental engineering party, left Kenora with three of his men, Hull, Beauchamp and Temple, for their camp on Clear Lake, 20 miles east of here. On reaching Manitou Lake the party experienced a heavy wind and the canoe took in water, with the result that a quarter of a mile from shore they were upset. All four, with presence of mind, clung to the upturned boat, but after clinging for over two hours they gradually sank from exhaustion — first Beauchamp, half an hour later Hull and finally the major, who had hung on for over three hours. With a "Good-bye, Fred," he sank to rise no more when within 200 yards of the shore. Temple half an hour later made shore and, covering three portages and two small lakes, reached camp at 11 o'clock and reported to the party, who immediately set out to recover the bodies. So far they had not been successful.

Two of the party came into Kenora at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to report to the chief divisional engineer, Major Madgins, who has wired Major Sankey's family in Toronto. Major Sankey was to have taken up his residence here and expected his family in about three weeks.

Was Universally Respected.

Toronto, July 12.—Major Villiers Sankey was in the prime of life, and while in the employ of the city was one of the most popular and well-liked of city officials.

On January 10 of this year he resigned his post as city surveyor, which he had held since 1889, to direct a large surveying party for the G. T. P. between Lake Nepigon and Winnipeg, and his retirement from civic employ was at that time generally regretted by all who were brought into business relations with him. He was widely known, not alone in municipal and military circles, but by the general public of the Province.

Major Sankey will be remembered as having had charge of some very important undertakings in his official capacity as city surveyor, among them the Don improvements and the Esplanade and waterfront works.

Of the military career of Major Sankey much might be said. For over twenty-seven years he has been connected with the militia and the military of this city in various capacities.

Col. Galloway who for years has been a close comrade of Major Sankey, when told of his sad end last night, could not say too much in commendation of the man who had achieved so much in the circle of the military.

"Always painstaking and an ideal officer, Major Sankey was a friend of all who knew him.

"He was one of the most wonderful men I have known. In the annual field camps held at Niagara he would travel all over the peninsula in search of information. Always making maps and studying the geographical formation of that part of the country, I have no fear in saying that he knew more of that part of this Province than any other man in it."

News of his sad taking off was received last night by Mrs. Sankey at the family residence, 285 Huron street.

Deckhand Falls Overboard.

Walkerville, July 12.—Louis Arbour of Montreal, a deckhand on the steamer City of Montreal, while scrubbing the side of the vessel lying at the dock here yesterday morning, fell overboard and was drowned.

Boy Drowns; Father in Prison.

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 12.—Harry Rotondi, aged 11 years, was drowned while bathing in the Erie Canal Monday night. The boy's father is in prison for shooting a man, and an application was made yesterday to give Higgins his pardon, inasmuch as he had only a month to serve.

Launch Cut in Two.

New York, July 12.—One man was fatally hurt and six others had a narrow escape from drowning early yesterday, when the tug Oneida ran down the 40-foot naphtha launch Edna, off 26th street, Brooklyn. The owner of the launch escaped injury. The launch was cut in two and sank.

Jail For Abusing Women.

Brampton, July 12.—Dick Shannigan of Port Credit was sentenced to one year in the Central Prison by Judge McGibbon yesterday. The prisoner was arrested on two charges of assault, one upon his wife, from whom he had agreed to separate, and the other upon Mrs. Shelly and her newborn child, who were tenants with his wife. Shannigan served eight months in Brampton jail for a former attack upon his wife.

Lobsters Are Plentiful.

Halifax, July 12.—The lobster season in most of the fishing districts of the Maritime Provinces ended Monday. Reports from all districts are not yet available, but along the north shore of Nova Scotia lobsters were very plentiful, and most of the packers had secured the full output of the factories long before the legal period elapsed. It is expected that the catch in all the gulf factories will be the largest in recent years.

JAPS LAND AN ARMY

Victorious Little Fellows Sweeping Over Sakhalin.

HAVE CAPTURED CAPE NOTO

Count Shuvaloff, Prefect of Police at Moscow, Assassinated — Russian Squadron Still at Kustenji—Fear to Sail Because of Threatened Mutiny Over Potemkine's Imprisoned Sailors.

Nikolaivsk, Asiatic Russia, July 12.—The Japanese have already landed over 13,000 troops at Korsakovsk, Island of Sakhalin.

Cape Noto Captured.

Tokio, July 12.—The Navy Department has received the following report from Admiral Katka: "Two cruisers and four torpedo boats left Korsakovsk on July 10, with soldiers on board, for the purpose of landing and occupying Cape Noto. After some bombardment, the place was taken. The lighthouse and buildings were left undestroyed. Four prisoners were taken."

Fear Another Mutiny.

Kustenji, Roumania, July 12.—The Russian squadron seems to be delayed here, owing to the fear that another mutiny will break out should the vessels put to sea.

The fact that fifty-five sailors from the Knias Potemkine, who surrendered, have been imprisoned on board the different vessels of the squadron, awaiting trial for rebellion, has caused intense indignation among the crews, and as a consequence there are fears for another mutiny.

Betrayed Military Secrets.

Tokio, July 12.—The judgment in the case of Capt. A. M. Bougouin, the French resident who was sentenced Monday to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor, on the charge of being a Russian spy, declares the accused was engaged in searching for and reporting artillery secrets.

The judgment recites that Bougouin sent Maki, a Japanese clerk, who acted as Bougouin's assistant, to Nagoya, to ascertain the movements of troops. Maki confessed his guilt.

The comment on the judgment says that the information covered by two counts related to the movement northward of the Port Arthur investing army after the capitulation of the fortress, previous to the battle of Mukden. Therefore the movements constituted important military secrets.

Japs Send News of Mutiny.

Shinghai, Manchuria, July 12.—The news of the mutiny in the Black Sea reached the Russian army through the Japanese, who fired night shells charged with proclamations covering the information into the Russian advanced posts, scattering the proclamations broadcast. Rain is falling in torrents and all activity at the front has ceased.

Oversubscribed Twelve Times.

Montreal, July 12.—The Bank of Montreal received a cable last evening stating that the $50,000,000 London allotment of the Japanese loan had been oversubscribed twelve times.

CHARGE AGAINST ENGINEER.

Manslaughter Accusation Follows a Coroner's Jury Verdict.

Sault Ste. Marie, July 12.—William Tuer, an engineer on the Bruce Mines Railway, will face a charge of manslaughter at the next assizes. When the evidence was heard at the inquest following the accident, which resulted in the death of Engineer James Duncan on Saturday last, Crown Attorney Simpson had a warrant issued for Tuer's arrest.

He was brought to the Soo from Bruce Mines yesterday by Constable Rush, and appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Quibell, waived examination, was committed for trial and released on $2,000 bail.

Defrauded Montreal Merchants.

Montreal, July 12.—James Powers and Frances Smith are under arrest on charges of defrauding a number of merchants. Mrs. Smith comes from St. Louis, Mo., where she is well connected. Her sister arrived here Monday night and yesterday settled all the claims. It is expected that she will be released on suspended sentence. Powers will fight.

The Latest and Best Medicine for Women

Medicine has made great strides during the past few years. Doctors do not prescribe the same remedies now they did twenty-five years ago. There is something better.

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women are vastly better than the remedies put on the market then, which contain none of the medical discoveries since that time.

Good, perhaps, in their day, they are now superseded in the march of medical science by something better.

Many of the most effective ingredients in Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets had not been discovered twenty-five years ago. Some of them were not discovered ten years ago.

Yet the world's best physicians are now using them in diseases of women. There is no other preparation in which they can be obtained except these tablets. That is why we term Dr. Hugo's remedy "The twentieth century preparation for women." It is up-to-date. Women cannot afford to ignore these recently discovered ingredients, which science has made possible for their relief.

It is an incontrovertible fact that these tablets, embracing as they do, all the latest and best in medicine, will change weak and diseased organs (no matter which they may be) into strong and healthy organs, when the tired feeling, nervousness, and irritability, which come from a run-down condition, will disappear.

They will take away the backache, constipation, and dragging-down pains which are symptoms of a run-down condition or some serious disorder. They will cure all menstruation or uterine troubles even when chronic. In a word, they make healthy women.

Don't think you can never be a strong, healthy woman until after you have tried these tablets. One box will prove that you can. Improvement is noticed the first week.

TOO TIRED TO STIR!

ARE YOU ONE OF THE

WEAK WOMEN

To Become Bright, Happy and Healthy?—Use Ferrozone.

Modern life makes demands on every woman's strength that seem impossible to meet. Only the robust and strong can stand the strain. The weak, with their delicately balanced organisms, must fail. Blood gets thin, it's innutritious. Nerves go to smash, vitality declines, and then follows misery and suffering caused by interference with certain functions upon which the very existence of every female depends.

Don't let your condition grow worse. Check the decline of vital force before it is too late! The one sure remedy is Ferrozone—not a temporary stimulant—but an uplifting nutritive tonic that contains the kind of building material a weak body requires.

FERROZONE revitalizes the system by putting new life into the blood. Not only does it nourish the ordinary blood supply—it does more, it makes new blood, the rich, red kind that denotes health.

Energy is reinforced, strength is steadily and surely rebuilt. Keen appetite, strong nerves, more restful sleep, buoyant feelings, all tell of the enormous good Ferrozone invariably accomplishes. For restoring the weak, the pale, the despondent, there is no treatment so instant and permanent in effect as Ferrozone. A trial proves this. Won't you use Ferrozone yourself? It will surely make you well—its effect is instant.

BUILT UP HER STRENGTH

Mrs. M. E. Etherington, a well known merchant's wife, of Troy, writes: "I am quite willing to give a public testimonial for Ferrozone, believing it to be a tonic of superior excellence, and one that will rapidly build up strength and supply new energy to anyone not feeling well. Last Spring I was in a very poor condition of health. I was nervous, felt tired and completely worn out. No doubt it is quite a common complaint with ladies of my age, but I placed great reliance in Ferrozone, and took it for several weeks. It made me quite strong, and, in fact, I have been in better health ever since. I can heartily recommend Ferrozone."

Ferrozone Assures Good Health!

WARNING! Beware of the substitutor who urges you to accept something "just as good." Only FERROZONE can cure satisfactorily—see you get it, and nothing else. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all reliable dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ontario.

MANY VISITORS FOR HOLIDAYS

Lakefield People Are Entertaining Summer Guests

Council Meeting—School Board Held Session—Other News.

From our Own Correspondent.

Lakefield, July 12.—Mr. E. Bravender, of Madison, N.Y., arrived in Lakefield Tuesday.

Mr. Norman Knox, of Orillia, spent Sunday in the village the guest of Mr. J. H. Sherin.

Miss Buckner, of Toronto, is the guest of Miss Blomfield in the village.

Miss S. Kelly, of Peterborough, is the guest of her sister, Miss Hilda Kelly, here.

Mr. F. A. Kilbourn spent Monday in Campbellford in the interests of the Cement Company.

Mr. J. W. Stuart, of Calgary, is spending a few days in the village renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Wesley Leonard, who has been in the west for the past three months has returned home. Mr. Leonard while working in Calgary had the misfortune to meet with an accident which seriously effects the sight of his left eye.

Mr. McDonald, of Winnipeg, is visiting in the village the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald.

Mr. Reginald Blomfield, of Dominion Bank, Toronto, is spending a few days in the village with his father prior to his going to Stony Lake for a short vacation.

Mr. Fred Blomfield is home for a couple of weeks' vacation.

Miss Margaret Quigley, who graduated from St. Joseph's Hospital, London, Ont., this spring, is home for a couple of weeks.

Mr. Richard Nichols, of Peterborough, spent a couple of days this week in Lakefield and vicinity in the interests of the Peter Hamilton Company.

The Orangemen of the village attended Divine worship in a body at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Leggott gave a most interesting and healthful address.

Miss McDonald, of Belleville, has accepted a position in Mr. T. Y. Webster's store, and commenced duty July 7th.

Mr. Fred Richardson, who, with his bride, have been touring in the United States, arrived home Thursday last and have taken up their residence in the Richardson Homestead.

Mr. Albert Heftie has returned with his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Heftie have taken up residence on Regent street.

The Baptist Sunday School excursion took place per steamer Empress to McCracken's Landing on Tuesday. Quite a large number took advantage of the cheap rates to visit Stony Lake.

A regular monthly meeting of the Lakefield Public School Board was held on Friday evening, July 7th.

Present, Trustees J. Stuart, R. Clifford, J. Redpath, C. Tanner.

Moved by Messrs. Tanner and Redpath that J. W. Stuart be chairman, pro tem.—Carried.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The account of Mr. T. E. Webster, amounting to 60c. for flags for the school was passed for payment.

A communication from Mr. G. G. Hendren, re pictures for the different rooms was received and referred to the Property Committee.

Communications were received from Misses McGorman and Stephenson; former asking for an increase of salary of $50.00; the latter for an increase of $25.00 per annum.

After some discussion it was moved by Messrs. Redpath and Clifford, that the request of Miss McGorman for an increase be granted. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Tanner, seconded by Mr. Redpath, that Miss Stevenson be given an increase of $25 per annum, as asked.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

Mrs. and Miss Esdell arrived in the village on Monday from England, and will take rooms on Regent street. In all probability they will make their future home in this village.

That the municipal affairs of the village are being handled in a progressive and careful manner, is becoming more apparent every month, as our streets and sidewalks take on their new appearance of neatness and stability, owing to the new granolithic pavements.

The tax rate has just been struck for the year at 16 1-2 mills on the dollar. What village or town can beat this? Lakefield is the place to live in.

The regular meeting of the village council was held on Monday evening in the town hall. Present, E. A. Tanner, reeve, and Councillors Burgess, Cornish, Kidd and Lennox.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The treasurer's half yearly statement was read; also a communication from the Ontario Municipal Association, and the report of the Equalization and Assessment Committee of the County Council.

Moved by Councillors Cornish and Burgess, that the above reports and communications be received and placed on file.

Moved by Councillors Cornish and Burgess, that the motion adopting the report of the sidewalk committee re Regent street be and the same is hereby annulled, and the said report be referred back to the said committee for further consideration.—Carried.

A petition from Mr. J. G. Brown asking for a cement sidewalk, was referred to the Roads and Sidewalks Committee.

The Roads and Sidewalks Committee presented the following report:

To the Reeve and Council of the Village of Lakefield:

Gentlemen, — We, your Roads and Sidewalks Committee to whom was referred the petition of Samuel Sherin and six other ratepayers, for a granolithic sidewalk 4 feet 6 in. wide on Reid street, north side, beg to report that the sidewalk be constructed from Regent street to the large gate in front of the Roman Church yard and that a granolithic walk be constructed on the west side of Charlotte street between Reid and Burnham streets, said last walk four feet. That the petition of Jas. Brown for sidewalk be granted and that the sidewalk be built.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. J. Kidd,
R. Lennox,
J. W. Cornish,
Road and Sidewalk Committee.

The Finance Committee presented the following report:

Gentleman, — We, your Finance Committee having examined the accounts mentioned in the following list, and finding the same correct, recommend payment of same.

T. J. Burgess,
Chairman.

"Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind) is the purest and best form in which Ozone is put up. Each bottle of it contains a coupon entitling you to a package of "Celery King", the well known laxative which should always be used with Ozone.

By buying "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" you get Ozone in its most efficient form and you get about twice as much of it for your money as of other brands. You also get the package of "Celery King" without charge.

No other brand of Ozone offers this advantage because no other firm can give you the "Celery King." This is the only way to procure the full value of your Ozone purchase.

"Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" is fifty cents and one dollar at your druggists, and if he hasn't it the Public Drug Co., Bridgeburg Ont., will see that you are supplied. Sold by W. B. WARNE. 13

DOCTOR ADVOCATED OPERATION —PE-RU-NA MADE KNIFE UNNECESSARY.

MRS. EVA BARTHO.

Mrs. Eva Bartho, 130 East 12th street, New York City, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for three years with leucorrhea and ulceration of the womb. The doctor advocated an operation which I dreaded very much, and strongly objected to go under it. Now I am a changed woman. Peruna cured me; it took nine bottles, but I felt so much improved I kept taking it, as I dreaded an operation so much. I am to-day in perfect health and have not felt so well for fifteen years."—Mrs. Eva Bartho.

It is no longer a question as to whether Peruna can be relied on to cure all such cases. During the many years in which Peruna has been put to test by all kinds and stages of acute and chronic catarrh no one yet has put this remedy to greater test than the past year.

If all the women who are suffering with any form of female weakness would write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio and give him a complete description of their symptoms and the peculiarities of their troubles, he will immediately reply with complete directions for treatment free of charge.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

SOCIAL EVENTS AT MT. IRWIN

Pic-nic and Ball Held and Were Much Enjoyed.

Rathbun Drive Started—Personal News of Interest.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mount Irwin, July 9.—The weather here has been very favourable so far. The crops are in a very good condition.

The Roman Catholic picnic which was held here on July 1st, in Mr. Henderson's grove, proved a great success.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Collins, who were married in Downeyville last week, spent a few days visiting friends here, but have returned to Lindsay where they are going to reside.

The C.M.B.A. ball, which was held here on July 5th in the new hall, proved a success.

The Rathbun Company has started to drive a large block of logs which was left behind this spring on account of the water being so low but it is much higher now.

Miss Annie Allen, who has been in Lindsay for some time has returned home.

Mr. Patrick Deville, who has been visiting friends here has returned home.

Mr. William O'Leary, of Douro, has been visiting friends here.

Mr. John Allen left here last week for Lindsay where he intends to spend a few months.

Mr. William Tinley left here on Monday last for his home at Bores landing.

The crops here are in a very good condition; fall wheat and oats are a fairly good crop; spring wheat, peas and barley are very fair so far. Hay on an average is very nearly as good as last year. If the weather continues as it has been, the crops will be earliest and better than last year.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it to-day. It may save life.

Price, 25 Cents.

WEEK'S DOINGS AT WARSAW

Presbyterian Pic-nic Was a Grand Success.

Orange Funeral for Late Mr. Lowry—Personal Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Warsaw, July 11th. — The Presbyterian picnic, which was held in Mr. Tucker's grove on Tuesday afternoon, was largely attended. It was unfortunate that it began to rain just as the eatables were about to be attacked.

Mr. R. Deen was called to Bobcaygeon on Saturday to attend the funeral of a relative.

The death at Winnipeg, Man., of Mrs. G. A. Grant, has been reported. The news has caused much regret in this vicinity, as the late Mrs. Grant was well known here.

The funeral of the late John Lowry took place on Sunday under the auspices of L.O.L., No 284, with which Lodge the deceased had for years been associated.

The volunteers who returned from camp on Saturday evening report having had a good time.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute, has been postponed for one month.

Miss Dorn Payne who has been visiting at Stony Lake, returned on Wednesday last.

Miss Clara Dewart of the Norwood High School is home for the holidays.

Miss Edith Spence of Lakefield, was in the village on Monday visiting friends.

Miss E. Murduff of Lakefield, is visiting Miss Dorn Payne.

Mr. T. H. Wilson was in Peterborough on Saturday last.

Mr. O. G. Williamson of Omemee, who has been spending a couple of weeks here visiting with friends, returned on Friday.

7 Sutherland Sisters
Hair Grower
GREW THIS HAIR

SARAH SUTHERLAND

This lady is but one among the thousands whose hair was grown by the use of the 7 Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower; but the fact that she is one of the 7 Sutherland Sisters, and well known, has experience, and the manner in which she recommends this valuable preparation to the public, cannot fail to invite the attention of all who are interested in the culture and preservation of the hair.

The 7 Sutherland Sisters have devoted many years to this important subject—the structure of the hair; the cause of its decay, and means by which it may be preserved or renewed in all its original elegance. The 7 Sutherland Sisters can be seen and consulted without charge, and the magnificence of their own hair is the first and unquestionable proof of the merits of the preparations they manufacture and use, the 7 Sutherland Sisters Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner. For sale by 7 Sutherland Sisters and all Druggists. Price of HAIR GROWER, 50c. and $1 per bottle. SCALP CLEANER, the only Dandruff cure. It kills the Dandruff germ. For shampooing it has no equal. Price 50 cents.

FREE To any lady reading this notice who will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the 7 Sutherland Sisters, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

THE ash-pit of the Oxford Hot Water Boiler high base gives great depth for accumulated ashes, and, when ordered, is fitted with an ash sifter which separates the good coal from the dead ashes, thus, without any extra trouble, saving much fuel that is ordinarily thrown away.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The diameter of the fire-pot is greater at the top than at the bottom, preventing an accumulation of ashes around the most active part of the boiler.

The triangular revolving grate is hollow, allowing immense air space without permitting live coals to drop through. Dead ashes, clinkers, etc., are sharply cut off by a turn of the grate. The whole contents of the grate are dumped by a few extra turns.

We would like to tell you more about the Oxford Hot Water Boiler. Will you write for our book? It's free. 1007

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homestead upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until Tuesday, August 8, 1905, inclusively, for the supply of Coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application at this office.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. of amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the party tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

A REBUKE TO HAULTAIN.

From the Regina Leader.

Every word the Montreal Star states with regard to the motions of Messrs. Bergeron and Monk applies with tenfold force so far as the new Provinces are concerned with regard to Mr. Haultain's expressed intention to raise a school question in one of the Provinces if he obtains place and power to do so. Manitoba especially, and Canada generally, know the effects of a school question. Of all communities, these new Provinces have the most to lose and the least to gain by such a disturbance. We have a perfectly satisfactory school system—everybody admits it. Reports from Ottawa to which a recent Globe article lent weight revealed an intention on the Ottawa Government's part to have Mr. Haultain called as first Premier in one of the Provinces, presumably in whichever one he chose. Notwithstanding his erratic conduct since the Moose Jaw convention, there were many considerations to justify such action. But Mr. Haultain's Woodstock threat, we should think, is sufficient to lead both the Ottawa authorities and the North-west people to hesitate about giving to a man who seems to have lost all the good sense which once characterized his conduct the power to blight the material development of one of these new Provinces with an utterly needless, useless, and senseless school question. We say with all earnestness that no true friend of the North-west would wish to have this country suffer another Manitoba school question without very serious reason. The Manitoba Government of 1890 doubtless had serious reasons for their action. The Governments of Alberta or Saskatchewan will have no reason for similar action. In Manitoba in 1890 an inefficient, church-controlled Separate School was abolished. In Alberta or Saskatchewan there is no such school to abolish.

STIRRING UP STRIFE.

A Conservative paper reproduces from the columns of the New York Sun a Quebec letter, stating that "French Canada has virtually adopted a new flag." Following this statement the writer enters into a detailed description of various flags which have been popular among the French-Canadians at various times, and closes with the somewhat negative assertion "that French-Canadians dream of becoming an independent nation, which will in time dominate the northern part of this continent, few of them care to deny." Perhaps they do not care to deny it Because it is so foolish, says the Globe. The very papers which copy this drivel have been telling the French-Canadians that the day is coming when they will be a mere drop in the bucket of the population of Canada. Which do they believe? They profess to believe one thing one time and the other at another, just as it suits their political purposes. There is no question with them as to what is the just and patriotic line to take, but what is the course most likely to embarrass political opponents. It is conduct as despicable as it is dangerous.

There is not much mystery about the national attitude of the French-Canadians. They are, first and foremost Canadians. Canada is the only country that excites their patriotic devotion. They are loyal subjects of the King, but naturally enough the names Britain, England, Scotland and Ireland have not the same sweet sound to their ears that they have to the natives of those countries. It seems to be the policy of a certain foolish element of our people to compel them to have affections and enthusiasms that, of course do not exist in their breasts. Sensible people do not expect French-Canadians to thrill at the names of England, Ireland or Scotland. The main thing is to be good Canadians, and that they need no urging to be. We expect them also to remember that many of their fellow-Canadians look to the British Isles as their fatherland, and that they occupy along with Canada an almost equal place in their affections. While we expect from them that consideration, we should be equally ready to recognize their preferences and affections. They ought not to forget, and their spokesmen have made it plain that they do not forget, that Great Britain has treated them with great liberality and consideration, a liberality and consideration that Canadians should take as their example. Let politicians and publicists on both sides cease dragging this question of race into our campaigns and the fact that there are any serious differences between us will soon be forgotten, and will cease to be a fact of any possible significance.

CROP CONDITIONS IN S. MONAGHAN

Mr. John Riddell Gives An Interview to Examiner.

Generally Speaking the Crops Will Be Good.

Supplementary to the reports of the crops, which the Examiner published a few days ago, and which gave a very accurate forecast of the general conditions of the crops in the county, an interview was accorded to-day to Mr, John Riddell, of South Monaghan, a man who is well posted in all matters pertaining to agriculture, and in conversation with that gentleman some further details were learned, which throw additional light on the crop situation, as far as South Monaghan is concerned, and there are good reasons to believe that the conditions in that township are similar to those in other parts of the county.

Mr. Riddell, holds the view, that generally speaking, the crops will be fair to good, and, indeed, some lines will be particularly good. The continued wet and cold weather, however, of May and the early part of June, have had an effect which will be felt to a certain extent. The spring was rather backward, and for a number of weeks after the grain was sown it made little or no growth, but later, with the coming of the warm weather, and combined with the frequent rains, the growth has been very rapid. In fact, the growth has been, if anything, too rapid, and the result is, that in some instances, the straw is soft, lacking the body which is conducive to a satisfactory yield of grain.

As to hay, the crop is very bulky, much more so than was expected even three weeks ago, this condition being accounted for by the recent rains, which have added to the growth very materially. Practically all the hay has been cut, and if it can only be saved the crop will be good. An average yield is two good loads to the acre, which, for third year timothy is considered a satisfactory crop. By reason of the wet weather the haying is about two weeks behind.

Fall wheat.—There is considerable straw, and the grain has improved, as far as appearance is concerned during the last two weeks, but it is said to be ripening very irregularly, in some fields the grain being in two or three stages of ripeness. In wheat there are evidences of rust, and that much more dreaded evil, the weavil, has made its appearance, and is said to be more general than it has been seen for many years. The yield by reason of the facts mentioned, will not be more than fair.

Barley. — About the same conditions prevail as in wheat, as far as the straw is concerned, but the yield promises to be better, and the probabilities are that this grain will be a good crop.

On the oat straw there are signs of rust, but the season is yet young, and if the weather for the next few weeks is dry and warm the prospects are that the crop will be good.

The pea crop promises to be of a superior character. The wet weather has not affected it in the least, and unless something unforseen happens the yield of peas this year will be excellent.

Everywhere glowing reports of the root crops are given, and from present indications the roots this year will be most satisfactory, both as to quality and quantity. The rains came just when they were needed for them, and the farmers generally speak with pleasure of the prospects for roots.

Apples, it is believed, will be only a fair crop, the cold spring preventing them from setting well. Small fruits, however, will be good.

On the whole, the reports give encouragement to the belief that the crops, as a general rule, will be quite satisfactory.

A SOLUTION OF HOUSE FAMINE

Taking Up House-keeping in Flats Becoming Popular.

Number of Stores Over Which Rooms Will Be Fitted Up.

One of the signs of Peterborough's growth is to be found in the fact that so many storekeepers are fitting up the vacant rooms over their stores for offices, dwellings, etc. It has been found that rooms over stores in central locations are picked up quickly to be used by small families, roomers, and for business offices, at good rentals. This not only helps to relieve the demand for houses and offices, but has proved quite a source of revenue to storekeepers, who heretofore have allowed their second and third stories to remain useless, idle garrets.

Among recent improvements to the upper portions of stores are those just completed by Mr. Kelly, over the City Grocery and Liquor Store, George street. A number of eligible front offices and suites of rooms for dwellings have been specially well planned out and neatly furnished. Good judgment has been used both for the individual convenience and privacy of tenants, and they are not likely to remain long unoccupied.

GOLDEN WEDDING IN OTONABEE

Mr. and Mrs. Arch. Davidson Married 50 Years.

Personal News From Keene—Many Summer Guests.

(From our own Correspondent)

Keene, July 12th.—A number of local Orangemen are taking part in the 12th of July Celebration at Omemee to-day.

Mr. H. L. Kirby, of Toronto, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. John Lang, ex M. P. and Miss Jean Lang spent last week at Stony Lake.

The Union Sunday School picnic held on July 11th, was a decided success both as regards attendance and otherwise. A very pleasant day was spent on the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Weir, of Peterborough, are visiting friends in Keene, before leaving for British Columbia.

Miss A. Maher, of Douro, is visiting at Mr. John Doris'.

Mr. William Campbell is laying a concrete walk in front of his residence.

On Thursday, July 6th, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Davidson, of Keene, celebrated their fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at Mr. Davidson's farm, lot 28, con. 8, Otonabee, where the wedding was held fifty years ago. Over seventy guests were in attendance, including Mr. and Mrs. D. McNevin, of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe of Westwood, Mr. Jas. McNeil and Mrs. Peter McNeil who had witnessed the marriage ceremony fifty years ago.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

To the Editor:

Dear Sir,—Would some one in a position to speak authoritatively inform me whether an apostrophe should properly be used in such sentences as "St. Paul's Church," "St. Andrew's Church," etc.

OUBIOUS.

Post Card Editor:

Sir,—I should like to know why it is that the street cars always stop on the farther side of the street, which they are crossing. There are many reasons why, in my opinion, they should stop before they cross the street, one of which is the fact that it is much less dangerous to persons driving and walking, and invariably those wishing to take a car stop at the side of the street nearest the approaching car.

STRAPHOLDER.

Dear Sir,—I saw by last night's Examiner that Mr. Larmouth favoured running over the new dam, which would be a great convenience to the north part of the ward. If a frequent service could not be given, the cars could be run at stated times from, say, Concession street to the end of Dickson street, it would enable many to visit Nicholls Park which is hard to reach now. I understand that 98 per cent. of the people petitioned for the line. I think it would be a success.

ASHBURNHAM.

Mr. Editor—Your correspondent wishes to know why walks are placed outside the tree line. That's easy; so that there will be less width of street to keep in bad repair. 33 or 36 feet is wide enough for residence streets.

SOLOMON

Dear Editor—The police had better take a spurt at enforcing the bylaw regarding weeds on the streets, instead of enforcing the letter of a bylaw and harassing a few barbers merely scraping for a living?

BEARDLESS JOY.

WILLIAM SHEEHAN DISCHARGED

Charge Laid Against Geo. Gauthier was Dropped.

Two George Street Merchants Appear This Morning for Breach of The By-Law.

William Sheehan, charged with being drunk and disorderly on Monday evening, pleaded not guilty. The evidence of Geo. Gauthier went to show that the prisoner was talking a little loudly, but no profane language was used.

Mr. Fagan, a night watchman, said he saw Sheehan standing against the wall but he saw Gauthier with his coat off and he appeared to be going to fight someone.

Sheehan was discharged, and a charge of disorderly conduct was laid against Geo. Gauthier, but he was discharged with a warning.

A George street merchant next faced the music. "You are charged with hanging your skirts, or somebody else's skirts outside your door, contrary to the bylaw." The merchant said the goods did not obstruct the sidewalk, and when it came down to the fine thing his doorstep projected farther over the sidewalk than did the wrappers.

The magistrate said, "This prosecution is not to take any money out of you, but to enforce the law on you, who do not take kindly to it, and, you are discharged with a warning."

Mr. Barrie could not get any of the other merchants, who contributed to the pile of rubbish in Hogan's Alley, to assist in cleaning it out. He had removed ten loads, but there was considerable litter left for some one else to remove.

His case was enlarged for another week.

HALF CENTURY'S RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Wm. Galley Died This Afternoon After Long Illness.

This afternoon at 1 o'clock at his his residence, 593 George street, the death occurred after an illness of about two years, during which term he suffered from a complication of diseases, of Mr. Wm. Galley, at the age of 65 years.

The deceased had lived in Peterborough for 50 years, coming here at the age of 15, and during his half century's residence here he has won the high esteem and respect of all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three sons and one daughter. The late Mr. Galley was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters and of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows, as well as Mount Hebron Encampment. The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2.30 from the residence, George street, to the Little Lake Cemetery for interment.

WAS CLERK FOR MANY YEARS

Rev. Mr. Bennet Resigned Position of Presbyterian Clerk.

Rev. D. D. McDonald Elected Moderator—Rev. D. A. Thompson The New Clerk.

Rev. D. D. McDonald of Keene, is the new moderator of the Peterborough Presbytery, and Rev. D. A. Thompson, of Hastings, the new clerk.

Rev. Wm. Bennett, who has been clerk for the past 27 years, at the regular meeting held in Port Hope yesterday, asked to be relieved of his duties. Several clergymen made addresses expressing appreciation of Mr. Bennett's long and faithful services, and a committee consisting of Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. D. A. Thompson, and Mr. Russell, elder of Cobourg, was appointed to arrange some suitable recognition for Mr. Bennett at the next meeting of the Presbytery, which will be held at village of Keene on Tuesday, September 26th. Mr. Bennett will then celebrate his jubilee, having been fifty years in the ministry. He was pastor at Springville for many years, retiring some nine or ten years ago. Previous to labouring there he was in charge of the church at Kemptville.

Rev. Geo. Yule of Springville, the retiring Moderator, presided at the meeting yesterday, and there were present Rev. Dr. Torrance, J. G. Potter, Wm. Bennett, Jas. Ross, and Mr. R. Harrison, elder, Peterborough, Revs. W. Johnston, Millbrook; G. A. MacLennan, Norwood; A. C. Reeves, Campbellford; J. K. McLeod, Brighton; D. A. Thompson, Hastings; C. S. Lord, Grafton, James Skene, Baltimore; J. Johnston, Harwood; D. P. Oswald, Pontypool; J. M. Whitelaw, Omemee; J. J. McFarlane, Warkworth; and the Port Hope pastors, Rev. Messrs. Abraham and Nelles, besides several elders.

After Mr. McDonald, of Keene, had been elected moderator and the resignation of Rev. Wm. Bennet, clerk, presented, the call from Centreville Presbyterian church to Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, of Omemee, was presented. The call was placed in his hands and declined. Messrs. Sandy, Young and Moncrief from Omemee appeared before the Presbytery and presented strong reasons why Mr. Whitelaw should not be translated to Centreville. No representatives appeared from the latter place to prosecute the call which, as stated, was declined and Mr. Whitelaw will continue his good work in Omemee.

Interesting reports were presented by Rev. J. G. Potter on behalf of the Home Missionary Committee and by Mr. Robert Harrison on the Augmentation Fund with respect to stipends of ministers. The Presbytery adopted a suggestion that each communicant in the Presbytery be requested to give thirty cents toward this fund.

The ordination and induction of Rev. J. A. Petrie, B.A., lecturer on Hebrew at Queen's University, Kingston, as pastor of Marmora, Beaver Creek and Cordova churches will take place on the afternoon of Monday next, July 17th.

The next meeting of the Presbytery will be held at Keene on Tuesday, September 26th.

MAY PURCHASE MOTOR ENGINES

Committee Will Ask For Tenders For Fire Engines.

Meeting of the Fire, Water and Ligh Committee Last Night.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee is moving in reference to the purchase of a new fire engine, in response to the instruction issued by the Committee of the Whole. Last night a meeting of the former Committee was held in the Town Clerk's office, when the matter was discussed.

Those present at the meeting were Ald. Johnston, chairman, Mayor Best and Ald. Hall Crowe, McIntyre and Tovey.

Mr. Cameron, of Messrs. Hugh Cameron & Co., of Toronto, sales agents for the Waterous Engine Company, was at the meeting and addressed the members of the Committee in reference to the engine manufactured by the Company he represented. No action was decided on further than that tenders will be asked on engines of 600, 750 and 1,000 gallons per minute capacity.

There are only two manufacturers of fire engines in Canada, the Waterous Engine Works, of Brantford, and the Canadian Fire Engine Company, of London, and tenders will be asked from these firms.

The Chief, who was at the meeting spoke of motor engines, which, he said were becoming very popular in England. The Merriweather Company, of England, are said to have an agency in Canada, and if this is the case tenders will be asked from them also. The chief was of the opinion that a motor engine could be purchased for a sum not greatly in excess of that which the town would have to pay for an ordinary engine. In England the motor engine is used quite largely, and they are said to give good satisfaction.

The decision to advertise for tenders was the only action taken by the Committee last night.

Ald. Adams will take Ald. Hall's place on the Committee in the absence of the latter during the next few weeks.

Ald. Johnston and Ald. Hall will arrange for a locked box in which the switch for the lights at Victoria Park will be placed, and by this means the lights will be kept lighted every night, complaints having been received to the effect that in the past they have not been lit regularly.

TRAIN WRECK AT SMITH STREET

Three Flat Cars Were Overturned There This Morning.

Injuries it is Expected will be Slight—Passenger Train Detained.

Considerable excitement was occasioned this morning about eleven o'clock, at the Smith street crossing of the G. T. R. tracks by the derailing and overturning there of three cars. Upon the cars was a "rotary" which was being shipped to the Lakefield Cement Company works.

The rotary, which is cylindrical in shape, and about ninety feet in length, was noticed to have shifted from its proper position upon the blocking which held it. It was deemed advisable to remove it upon the cars to the Auburn siding, until such time as it could be properly adjusted, and it was while this was being done that the accident occurred. The huge cylinder had become loosened, and as the curve in the track was reached, it lurched to the lower side of the cars, causing them to overturn, two cars going clear of the track, while the one nearest the engine did not do so. This caused a blockade for an hour or more and detained the Lakefield train for about that length of time.

The injury to the cars will it is thought be slight, though the extent of that to the rotary cannot be determined as yet. It will probably, however, not be serious. The cars are being removed.

STRAWBERRIES AND A CONCERT

Delightful Evening Spent at Charlotte Street.

Festival and Entertainment—Graphophone Selections Rendered.

The young people of Charlotte street church, and the Guild Baseball Club, under whose auspices it was held, ought to be satisfied with the success which attended their strawberry festival held last evening on the lawn adjoining the church.

A large refreshment tent had been erected, and during the evening nearly 200 people partook of the strawberries and cream, ice cream, etc., which made up the menu.

The lawn was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights enclosed in Chinese lanterns.

Through the kindness of Mr. Mackie, agent for the Columbia Graphophone, numerous selections on a graphophone were given, many of them being repeated by request.

The committee in charge of the social were Messrs. Thornton, McWilliams, Carr and Bookout. Misses Jolliffe, Miller, Stenton, Lee, Moore and Thomas were kept busy in the refreshment tent attending to the wants of a hungry crowd.

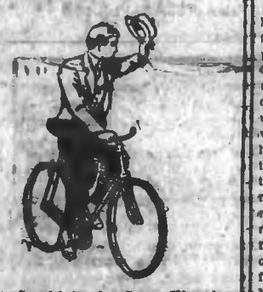
It is Back to Bicycles....



It should be back to Bicycles with everyone who ever rode a wheel — for these particular wheels this year are so far ahead of their predecessors that it would be realizing new pleasures and new and luxurious comforts in the joy of living to ride any of them.
Hon. J. T. Doyle, L.L.M., Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service, Washington, puts the matter in a nutshell regarding bicycles generally, when he says: "Of the things that help to make life more good and agreeable and extend the range of its activities, the Bicycle is among the foremost. It quadruples the area that one may move in and makes it quick and pleasant to 'get there.'"
The Hon. J. T. Doyle could speak particularly of the new wheel—the wheel that is equipped with the Hygienic Cushion Frame, the new Morrow Coaster Brake and the Stiff Handle Bar—improvements that makes wheeling an entirely different proposition from that of four years ago.
No breakdowns—every road a smooth road—more speed and less work—no jarring or vibration—better material—better workmanship.
"Massey-Harris"
This is the exclusive wheel that has the big modern improvements — Cushion Frame, Coaster Brake, Stiff Handle Bars. Above all, are made right and of the right material—and don't cost any more than the other kind.
By riding one of these wheels you save money in car fare—save time—get the best exercise on the catalogue—and get all the joy and all the comfort there is in modern wheeling.

JUPITER PLUVIUS INTERFERES WITH RACES

To-day's Events Have Been Postponed Until Friday; To-morrow's Races Will Be Proceeded With as Arranged ---Enthusiasts Will Be Treated to a Good Programme of Events---Track Will, it is Expected, Be In Good Condition To-morrow.

The racing enthusiasts who have been looking forward so eagerly to the race meet were to-day doomed to disappointment, through the unfortunate shower this morning.

To-day's events have in consequence of the rain been necessarily postponed. The races scheduled for to-day will be run on Friday, while to-morrow's events will be proceeded with according to arrangement. It is expected that by to-morrow morning the track will again be in good condition, and had it not been for the rain it would to-day have been in ideal shape.

To-morrow will undoubtedly produce some exciting events, and some close finishes are expected. All preparations have been concluded and a large crowd will without doubt be in attendance.

PLAY FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

T. A. S. and Auburn Will Start Series on Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon at the Riverside Park, the T. A. S. and Auburn baseball teams will play the first of a series of games for the city championship. This should be a good contest as both teams have had considerable practice this season and are in the pink of condition. The game will be called at 2.30 o'clock and will doubtless be witnessed by a good crowd, as both of these teams have many supporters.

LOCUST HILL WON FIRST GAME

Defeated Norwood Yesterday by Score of 4---0

Markham, July 11.—The semi-final football game for the Stratton Cup played here to-day between Locust Hill Clippers and Norwood resulted in a score of four goals to nothing in favour of the Clippers. After eight minutes of strenuous football, "Billy" Maxwell scored the only goal of the first half for the Clippers. In the second half the game was all Clippers, as, in fact, the whole game was, and the score does not even indicate the play. After twelve minutes' play in the second half, Norman Reesor scored a second game for the Clippers. In another eight minutes of play Routley scored a third goal for the Clippers. After six minutes W. Maxwell scored again for the Clippers, making the final score 4 to 0. The game was not closely contested, as the play of the Clippers was much superior in combination work.

PRESENTATIONS AT NORWOOD

Norwood Epworth Leaguers Honour Popular Ladies.

The Misses Fraser Are Presented With An Address on the Eve of Their Departure.

Special to the Examiner.

Norwood, July 12.—The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church met in the Sunday School room on Monday evening to spend a pleasant evening with the Misses Fraser, before leaving for their future home in Calgary, Alta. After singing a hymn, the president, Mr. L. Brown, opened the meeting with a few words of welcome to the new pastor, Rev. Mr. Adams.

The programme was as follows:—Piano solo, Miss A. Burt; solo, Mis Una Duffield; piano duett, Miss D. A. Fraser and Miss Grace Foster; reading, Miss Gertrude Squire; piano solo, Miss Heddle Howson; address, Rev. Mr. Adams; hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds".

Miss Gertrude Squire read an address to the Misses Fraser, while Mis Peters presented Misses Ethel and Jean with beautifully bound Methodist Hymn Books and to Miss Ethel with a pretty brass clock. Miss Jean Fraser, in a few well chosen words, thanked the Leaguers on behalf of herself and sisters.

EXPLOSION IN WELSH MINE

Fire Damp Causes a Terrific Explosion and Many Die.

LOSS OF LIFE MAY BE 126

Sixty-Eight Bodies Have Been Recovered — Disaster Occurred at Wattstown, in Rhondda Valley, Centre of Great Welsh Coal Fields—Hundreds of Women and Children in Dire Grief.

Cardiff, Wales, July 11.—An explosion of fire damp in No. 2 pit in the United National Colliery Co. at Wattstown, in the Rhondda Valley, the centre of the great Welsh coal fields, yesterday, is believed to have resulted in the loss of at least 126 lives. The first indication of the explosion was a loud report, immediately followed by belching of clouds of smoke and dust from the pit shaft, in which 150 men were working. The force of the explosion wrecked the machinery at the mouth of the pit.

All communication with the doomed men in this direction is completely severed. No. 1 shaft, adjoining, has ordinarily afforded communication with No. 2. The 800 men in No. 1 and the few who escaped from No. 2 were drawn up. A rescue party descended, but its work was seriously impeded by the foul air and falling masses of earth dislodged by the explosion.

Altogether sixty-eight bodies have been recovered. Heroic efforts have been made for hours to reach the entombed men, but late last night the absence of all sound from the interior of the mine told the tale of the worst disaster that has taken place in South Wales since 1894.

The news of the explosion spread rapidly and hundreds of women and children, and thousands of men thronged the head of the pit seeking information. The mountain roadways were crowded all the afternoon and there are now streams of people in the neighborhood of the mine all contributing to the pitiful scene.

Efforts at rescue were still in progress at midnight, and currents of fresh air were being driven through the shaft, but the rescuers are now working without hope of reducing the list of fatalities.

All Have Perished.

Dortmund, Prussia, July 12.—Efforts to rescue the thirty-nine men who were cut off by the fire in the Borussia coal mine Monday have been without success, and it is feared that they have perished.

Gored By a Bull.

Ottawa, July 12.—John Burns, aged 65, was gored to death by a bull at the farm of J. G. Clarke, Westborough. He was standing in the stable when the bull walked over and punctured him in the abdomen.

Fell in Front of Mower.

Niagara Falls, July 12.—A ten-year-old son of Joseph Galley of Stamford Township fell from a mowing machine on his father's farm and had one of his feet cut in two by the knives.

Found in the Woods.

Halifax, July 12.—The body of a young man who met death by shooting was found in the woods yesterday.

Stood in Front of Revolver.

Garden Hill, July 12.—As William Davison, who lives east of the village in Hamilton Township, was working at a revolver with a hammer and screw driver to force the cylinder to revolve, his wife did not hesitate to stand directly in front of the barrel. The result was the revolver went off, and now Mrs. Davison has a No. 32 bullet in her leg about 5 inches above her knee, which up to the present time has not been extracted.

Millions For Automobiles.

The proportions reached by the automobile industry in France, its first and still its special home, are shown by the manufacture of 32,000 (estimated) machines in that country during 1904, at a total value of $34,000,000. In 1898 the number manufactured in France was only 1,956, and their value $1,692,000.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED,

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or over-persuaded into accepting a substitute for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of thousands of cures of woman's peculiar ailments. It's the only remedy for woman's ills sold by druggists, that is not full of "booze"—pure Whisky, or bad alcohol.

A guarantee of 3 cures is offered that "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful drug. Keeps in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful invigorating tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to attempt to palm off upon you an alcoholic substitute for this well-known medicine. You know what you want. It's his business to meet that want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make—not of your welfare.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 300,000 copies; this year we shall give away 680,000 more. Cloth-bound copies, with your name in gilt on the cover, 10 cents extra. Address, with 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, for book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

If out of health, write to old Dr. Pierce. He will send you, entirely, professional advice without charge.

Pierce's Pellets are the smallest, the easiest to take, and the quickest in the way they act. To cure, not violence, no disturbance to the system, no constipation. They are the only pill sold under a positive guarantee. They have been tried for over forty years. They have never been found wanting. They come to vials, always fresh and reliable, a convenient vest-pocket remedy.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Receipts Light—Price Steady in U. S. Markets.

London, July 11.—Cattle are quoted at 11c to 12¾c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9¼c to 9¾c per lb.; sheep, 13c to 14½c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market since last Friday, as reported by the railways, were 79 cars, comprising 1,108 cattle, 749 hogs, 1,313 sheep, 197 calves and 12 horses.

Exporters.

Not many offered, and not much wanted. Prices ranged from $4.75 to $5.25, the bulk going at $5 per cwt. Bulls were slow sale at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

Butchers.

Prices were lower than at any time since the boom in April. Picked lots sold at $4.60 to $4.75, and very few got these prices. The best loads sold at $4.35 to $4.50; medium at $3.75 to $4.25; common, $2.90 to $3.50. There were several loads left unsold at the close of the market.

Feeders and Stockers.

Prices for feeders and stockers were lower, in sympathy with the fat cattle. Light feeders sold at $3.75 to $4 per cwt., and stockers all the way from $2.75 to $3.50 per cwt.

Milch Cows.

About 15 milch cows sold from $25 to $60 each, and only one was reported at the latter price. Trade was slow, with some few of the poorer grades left unsold.

Veal Calves.

Prices are still firm for veal calves, all offerings being readily bought up at steady prices, ranging from $2 to $10 each, or $3.50 to $5.75 per cwt., with something extra choice at a little more money.

Sheep and Lambs.

Trade was fair at steady to firm prices. Export ewes at $3.75 to $4 per cwt.; bucks, $3 to $3.25; lambs at $3.00 to $5.25 each.

Hogs.

Deliveries were not large. Prices are easier, as reported in The World on Saturday last, at $6.25 for selects, and $6 for lights and fats.

There are too many of the rough, unfinished light, as well as some heavy fat hogs, coming forward. These hogs are not wanted, as they will not make the class of bacon that has built up our bacon trade on the British markets. Prices have been, and are still, ready and farmers should try to produce the right class of hogs.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, N.Y., July 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 200; slow and easier; prime steers, $5.60 to $5.65; shipping steers, $5 to $5.40; butchers', $4.25 to $5.10; heifers, $3.25 to $4; cows, $2.75 to $4.25; bulls, $3 to $4; stockers and feeders, $2.75 to $4.25; stockers, heifers, $2.50 to $3.

Veals—Receipts, 125 head; active, 25c lower; $5 to $7.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2600; Yorkers, $6 to $6.05; heavy, $5.90 to $5.95; mixed, $6.05 to $6; pigs, $6.10 to $6.15; roughs, $4.75 to $5; stags, $3 to $3.50; dairies, $5.60 to $5.80.

Drank Half Pint of Acid.

Niagara Falls, July 12.—Geo. Kast, a plumber from Hamilton, committed suicide at Niagara Falls Monday night by drinking half a pint of carbolic acid. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the deed. Kast worked in Hamilton, but his wife lived at Niagara Falls, N. Y. He came down every Saturday and stayed till Monday. Last night he went up to his room and then called his wife. She found him lying on the bed, and as she entered the room he took up a pint bottle of carbolic acid and drank half the contents. Death followed quickly. Kast was 37 years of age.

Colonization Road Work.

Toronto, July 12.—About 2,000 men are employed on colonization roads in New Ontario. The number of overseers has been increased from seven to 20.

INTERNATIONAL WATERWAYS.

Proposal to Dam Lake Erie But Without Hurt to St. Lawrence.

Montreal, July 12.—The International Waterways Commission met here yesterday. J. P. Maybee, K. C., chairman of the Canadian section, occupied the chair.

A memorial was presented by J. A. Cuttle, president of the Dominion Marine Association.

He stated that the association represented most of the tonnage interested in the navigation of the lakes and Upper St. Lawrence, the fleets composing the association aggregating 112,000 net tons. Having regard for the St. Lawrence as a natural passage from the great lakes to the sea, and now used by a large and constantly increasing number of vessels, many of them of full canal size and heavy tonnage, and having regard also to the narrow margin of safety in the navigation of certain parts of the harbors, channels and canals on the route and the necessity for maintaining the levels at least at the present standard, it was believed that any lowering of the water in this route would not only be exceedingly detrimental to the trade interests directly involved, but would also sacrifice the rights of the much larger number who enjoy indirectly as well as directly the benefits of this great water highway.

Col. Ernst, chairman of the American section, repudiated any desire to do anything to hurt the St. Lawrence route. It was with a good deal of surprise and some chagrin that he had noticed that there was a disposition in some quarters to suppose that American engineers would favor a plan that would hurt the route. No such plan would be entertained for a moment. There was an idea, however, and not by any means a new idea, that something could be done at the outlet of Lake Erie to raise the level of the water and improve conditions for shipping on that lake, that would be of mutual advantage to the two countries. Canadians must remember that the St. Lawrence did not belong to them alone. "It belongs to us," he exclaimed; "it belongs to the world; it belongs to the whole human race."

If they could help the shippers on Lake Erie without hurting those below, he believed it would of advantage to all. "But," he concluded, "to do anything in Lake Erie that would hurt the St. Lawrence would be a crime against humanity."

Child Had Eczema

"My daughter, 13 years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician and used other ointments without benefit. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment she has been completely cured. This is the only ointment I feel like recommending."—Mr. James H. Patriquin, 176 Rockdale Avenue, Sydney, C. B.

TENDER OF A CROWN.

Prince Charles of Denmark is Wanted By Norwegians.

London, July 12.—The Associated Press is in a position to confirm the report that an offer of the Norwegian throne has been made to King Edward's son-in-law, Prince Charles of Denmark.

The matter is still under consideration. It is understood that King Edward and the British Government are favorable to the project, but much depends on King Oscar's attitude on the subject. Consultations are now going on.

Prince Charles' mother was a daughter of the late King of Sweden.

Willing to Accept.

Copenhagen, July 12.—It is understood that Prince Charles of Denmark will be willing to accept the crown of Norway if King Christian and the Danish Government consent.

Fish Licenses Cancelled.

Toronto, July 12.—Hon. Dr. Reaume has cancelled the license of the Dominion Fish Co., between Sault Ste. Marie and Pancake Bay, a distance of 40 miles. This action was taken owing to complaints that the company was not supplying local demands, and that the locality was being depleted. The company is controlled by the Booths of Ottawa.

Byron Lott is Homesick.

Belleville, July 12.—The family of Byron Lott, of West Hastings bogus box fame, are in regular communication with him, and he longs to return. He is working for a lumber company somewhere in the Western States. Phil Lott, who revealed the plot to the authorities, is still in Hastings, but is the victim of a systematic boycott.

Glad It is Over.

Paris, July 12.—The acceptance by France of the invitation to take part in the international conference on Morocco was despatched by special messenger to the Sultan last night. The messenger is expected to arrive at Fes July 19.

A PORTERHOUSE STEAK

that's a "porterhouse" in reality, as well as in name—tender, juicy, fine-flavored—can always be had at Kennedy's Meat Market, first because it will be cut from a prime grade of beef, second because great care is taken in handling the meat, third because it's cut just exactly as a porterhouse should be cut. We take special pride in our steaks, but equal care is taken with everything in the meat line.

WANT CONNECTION WITH THE CANAL

A Proposal to Connect the Waters of the Kawartha Lakes With Those in Haliburton County—Lindsay Board of Trade Passes Resolution Supporting It; Peterborough Board of Trade Will be Asked to Help.

That a connection with the waters of the Trent Canal is desirable is evinced by the fact that a movement is on foot to establish a connection between the waters of the Kawartha Lakes and the chain of waters in Haliburton County.

A meeting was held recently in Lindsay to consider the question and in reporting it the Lindsay Post says:

"Although hastily called, there was a representative turnout of citizens at last night's meeting of the Board of Trade, called to confer with a number of North Victoria and Haliburton County gentlemen respecting the feasibility of establishing water communication between Lindsay and Minden by means of the Gull River, via Coboconk, Norland, Elliott's Falls and Moore's Falls. In this way steamer connection would be established between the grand Kawartha chain of waters and the magnificent series of lakes and rivers in Haliburton County—a work which would mean millions almost to the residents of those townships in providing a cheap outlet for the almost inexhaustable quantities of valuable hardwood timber, tanbark, cordwood, poles and other kinds of forest produce at present unmarketable owing to the distance from a railway and the excessive freight rates. The land once cleared, the whole north country would become what nature intended it to be—one vast grazing ground for cattle and sheep.

Strong men and good timber come out of the north country, and the delegates who appeared before our Board of Trade last night promptly established themselves in the good opinion of all by demonstrating that they were keenly alive to the many advantages which would result from the proposed connection, as well as eloquent in pointing them out.

A number of speakers strongly endorsed the proposal, and Mr. McNab said that the active co-operation of Peterborough Board of Trade was desirable in approaching the Government with a request that an engineer be sent at once to take the necessary levels and estimate the probable cost of which he was confident would not be very great.

The following resolution was finally passed:

That the Board of Trade of the town of Lindsay, having heard the delegation from the north country regarding the Gull River waters, place on record their hearty approval of such a scheme as will enable these waters to be made navigable and connected with the present Trent Canal waterways, and that the Council of this Board are hereby authorized to act in conjunction with the representatives of the Provisional County of Haliburton in memorializing the Dominion Government in the matter.—Carried."

UNION SCHOOL HELD FESTIVAL

Enjoyable Evening at Brayley's School House.

57th Band Assisted in the Programme —A Progressive School.

Yesterday evening at Brayley's School House North Monaghan, a very pleasant gathering was held, the occasion being a garden party and and strawberry festival given under the auspices of the Union Sunday School established there about two months ago by Mr. H. E. Hawley, of Peterborough. The event was in every way a splendid success, the attendance being large and everyone present spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The affair was arranged by Misses. Fred and Harry Seabrooke, and its success was a tribute to their excellent management.

The grounds surrounding the school were very prettily decorated, and were illuminated with Chinese lanterns. They presented a very pretty appearance.

The 57th Band under the leadership of Mr. Rupert Gliddon was present and rendered a choice programme of music, which was much appreciated by those present.

The refreshments provided by the ladies were fully up to the standard of excellence for which the ladies of North Monaghan are noted. Two large tables were laden down with dainties, strawberries and cakes, etc., and were much enjoyed.

Those who dispensed the ice cream were Misses Patton and Morrow, and Messrs. H. Seabrooke and J. Arnott. Those who had charge of the large tables and who served the refreshments for the large table were Mrs. Seabrooke, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. J. Littlejohn, Mrs. Lash and Misses Middleton, Seabrooke, Preston, Swanston, Elliott and Jessie Campbell.

The Sunday School, which was organized during May, has already reached a membership of about fifty, and is an energetic organization.

Band in Jackson Park To-morrow, Thursday, Night.

BOGUS BALLOT BOX.

Mr. E. Gus Porter Exhibits One in the House—Militia Bill Passes.

Ottawa, July 12.—An echo of the last Dominion election broke upon the still routine of business of the House yesterday in the form of a warm discussion of the bogus ballot-boxes which were discovered in Hastings and Frontenac Counties last fall. It was precipitated by Mr. E. Gus Porter, whose name has been closely associated with the boxes by reason of his campaign tour, exhibiting one of the boxes. He used the same methods yesterday, and gave the House a demonstration with the box, which was greeted with a curious interest and evidence of bored amusement. The discussion turned on whether the Government had acted promptly in prosecution, and replying to Mr. Porter's charge, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick gave a spirited and strong defence of his Department, showing that his action had been prompt and exhaustive, though unfortunately failing to land Lott and Shibley, the two principal offenders.

Earlier in the day there was a further discussion on the militia reorganization, the result of which was the passing of the Minister's bill.

Most of the evening was spent in supply, several Interior Department votes being passed, but the Opposition generally manifesting criticism of Mr. Oliver.

The Sessional Indemnity.

Caucuses of both parties practically concurred yesterday in the proposition to raise the sessional indemnity from $1,000 to $2,000. All that now remains apparently is for a few leading Conservatives to give their approval to it. Endorsation has been given also to an increase in the salaries of judges. The raise, it is said, will amount to $1,000 in the case of County Court judges and $3,000 in the case of judges of the Supreme Court.

TRADES' COUNCIL ENDORSES UNION

Takes Action Supporting the Union Barbers.

President of Barbers' Union Waited on Council Last Night—The Latter's Appeal.

Last night the Trades and Labour Council met, and the principal business taken up was the discussion of the situation in the Barbers' Union. Mr. E. Baker, president of the union, was at the meeting of the council and submitted for their consideration the union men's side of the case, which was afterwards fully discussed, and the action taken by the Trades and Labour Council, which is the central labour union organization in the city is chrystalized in the statement which follows and which is furnished by the financial secretary of the council :—"At a regular meeting of the Peterborough Trades and Labour Council held last night, a resolution was unanimously adopted pledging the support of the council to the cause of the Journeyman barbers at present out on strike. An urgent appeal is being made to all true union men in the city of Peterborough to patronize none but union barber shops and to see that the proper union card is displayed."

THE PEACE PARTY NOW IN CONTROL

Evidence is Appointment of De Witte as Peace Envoy.

Head of the Peace Party and Greatest of Russian Statesmen to go to Washington.

Special to the Examiner.

St. Petersburg July 13.—Emperor Nicholas has signed the appointment of M. De Witte President of the Committee of Ministers to be chief plenipotentiary representing the Russian Government in the peace negotiations to be conducted in the United States. The appointment clothes M. De Witte with plenipotentiary powers. Notification was forwarded to Washington this morning. M. De Witte will take passage on the Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse which sails from Cherbourg July 26th.

De Witte is a Liberal who was born in comparatively humble circumstances in Tiflis in 1849. In 1870 he joined the Railway Administration and gradually rose to the chief place in it. By this time his fame as a financier was very well established and the autocracy, which had got the national finances into rather a bad mess called De Witte in to straighten out the tangle. From 1892 until a short time before Von Plehve's assassination last year De Witte was Finance Minister and the Czar's chief adviser. He never favoured the Manchurian adventure and it was on his advice and greatly to the chagrin of the Grand Ducal party that the Czar promised to evacuate Manchuria in the fall of 1903. Failure to keep that promise brought on the war with Japan.

SERGT. MOORE ON MACKINNON TEAM

Local Marksman is Doing Good Shooting.

Brings Credit to His Regiment at Bisley—His Score Yesterday.

Color-Sergt. W. H. Moore is still shooting well at Bisley, and has been chosen a member of the team to shoot for the McKinnon Cup. A despatch from Bisley, dated yesterday, says :—

Bisley Camp, July 12.—A tricky wind prevented good shooting to-day and the Canadians did not do much, delaying most of their competitions until after five o'clock.

The Kolapore Cup promises to be very keenly contested. The Transvaal team has gone to Staines specially to practice for the Kolapore match.

In the Armories' Company, Capt. J. M. Jones, of the 82nd, Townall, P. E. I., made 46 ; Color-Sergt. Moore, 57th, Peterborough, made 45.

The Canadian team of twelve who will take part in the Mackinnon Cup competition are as follows :—

Lieut. G. A. Boult, 5th Regiment, Victoria ; Staff-Sergt. C. R. Crowe, 30th Regt., Guelph ; Capt. A. Elliott, 13th Regt., Toronto, Capt. W. H. Forest, 6th Regt., Victoria ; Capt. J. M. Jones, 82nd Regt., Townall, P.E.I. ; Staff-Sergt. H. Kerr, 48th Highlanders, Toronto ; Color-Sergt. W. H. Moore, 57th Regt., Peterborough ; Sergt. F. Richardson, 5th Regt., Artillery, Victoria ; Sergt. G. W. Russell, G.G.F.G., Ottawa ; Sergt. J. H. Simpson, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto ; Capt. J. Duff Stuart, 6th Regt., Vancouver ; Pte. A. Wilson, 43rd Regt., Ottawa.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE THIS JOKE?

The Latest Wedding Joke to be Perpetrated.

There is nothing like getting a good start when you launch on the troubled sea of matrimony. A Toronto couple wedded there yesterday afternoon found this out when they boarded the train for Buffalo on their wedding trip. In every seat in the car reposed a printed dodger bearing this inscription :

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The kind attention of the passengers on this train is particularly directed to the newly married couple in the Buffalo car.

The Bride is a brunette of medium height, and is wearing a grey travelling costume.

The Groom

Is about the same height but not as good looking. He is slightly bald, with a faint indication of a moustache. He has not been married before. They are going as far as Buffalo, and will be glad to receive the congratulations of all on board.

CELEBRATIONS OF THE TWELFTH

Most Successful Demonstrations in Spite of Rain.

Omemee Had Forty Lodges in Parade —East Peterborough Lodges Met at Warsaw.

That a downpour of rain is nothing to an Orangeman, or, at any rate, nothing of which any special cognizance should be taken, was demonstrated yesterday, as it has been frequently demonstrated in the past, in Peterborough, as well as in other places.

Yesterday morning, when dawn broke on a beclouded sky, and the indications pointed to rain, and plenty of it, it was felt by some that the celebration of the Battle of the Boyne would have to be called off, or, at least, robbed of its success, but they who reasoned thus, did so without having taken into consideration the fact that to an Orangeman the 12th of July is a day, which, regardless of conditions, he celebrates.

Orangemen in Peterborough.

While yesterday there was no public demonstration in Peterborough in honour of the achievement of King William, 215 years ago, the city was not without its Orange parade, in fact, several of them, and they attracted the usual attention from the citizens. Peterborough was the rendezvous for the lodges in this district, before they took their departure for Omemee to join the main celebration, and early in the morning the different lodges gathered, the local lodges welcoming them in the usual manner.

There was marching and re-marching, and until the special train pulled out for Omemee about 11 o'clock, one could hear almost any time the sound of the fife and drum and the brass band.

Two Demonstrations.

The forces were, in a sense, divided, the lodges of East Peterborough going to Warsaw, where the celebration was held, and those of West Peterborough journeying to Omemee, to join those from Victoria and Durham, where a monster demonstration was held. Over forty lodges were in line in Omemee, and, in spite of the weather, the day was a complete success.

Crowds at Omemee.

Never in the history of the town have there been so many people gathered in Omemee at one time, as there were yesterday : and the heavy rainfall made the visitors resort to some rather ludicrous expedients to keep at least reasonably dry. The three or four awnings on the front street did good service, and were eagerly sought, when the rain came on. The hotels were full to overflowing and almost every house in the town transformed its front room into a reception room, to accommodate the visitors, who would otherwise have had to stand out in the rain.

The celebrations in both Warsaw and Omemee were highly successful, and the auspices under which they were held have every reason to feel gratified with the result.

CHANGES IN THE BAND UNIFORM

New Regulations in Effect in Reference to S. A. Band.

All the Members Will be Fitted Out—Suits to be Made in Toronto.

A few days ago Mr. Collier of Toronto, the regulation cutter for the Salvation Army, was in town, taking the measures of the members of the S. A. Band, for new uniforms. A change of considerable importance is to be made in the new uniforms on this occasion. The conspicuous red braid trimming is to be dispensed with and a black braid substituted. This will have the effect of giving the band an entirely new, more dressy and less conspicuous appearance. It may not be generally known that each individual member has to pay for his own outfit, the cost of which is estimated at $12.50.

ALL SAINT'S S. S. EXCURSION

Arrangements Being Completed for Trip on July 20th.

Arrangements are being made for the annual picnic of the Sunday School of All Saints' Church which will take place on Thursday, July 20th.

The steamer "City of Peterborough" has been secured for the occasion, but the objective point of the trip has not yet been decided.

WORLD'S NEWS IN A FEW LINES

Short, Pithy Articles Telling the Latest News.

Red Hot Flashes Off the Wires—Canadian and Foreign Despatches.

Surveying for Hudson Bay.

A party of Canadian Northern Railway engineers are working north from Erwood, and it is believed that they are making a preliminary survey for the Hudson Bay line.

A Fatal Collision.

It is believed that three and possibly four lives were lost when the steam launch Normandie was sunk in collision with a vessel supposed to have been a tramp steamship in the Hudson River.

A Gallant Rescue.

A small boy of Athlone was cut off by the tide, and, fully dressed, Miss Quinn, daughter of a British naval officer, swam out and rescued him. The lad clung about her neck, sinking his nails into her flesh.

A Cement Church.

The corner stone of a new church, Memorial Episcopal Congregation, of Stratford, was laid by Ven. Archdeacon Mackenzie of Brantford. The building will be of cement blocks, 72 feet by 30, and will cost $6,000.

A Dastardly Act.

A dastardly outrage is reported from St. Vidal West. D. Whyte, a dairyman, had his cows return home a few days ago from grazing, with their udders badly cut and hacked. It was evidently the work of some malicious debased person.

Fell from Train.

Two miles east of Belleville, Lt. Webster, of the 40th Regiment, Cobourg was blown off or fell from the train conveying the regiment home. Sergt. Hodge and Pte. Cummings jumped and rendered assistance, and Webster is now in the Belleville Hospital. The train was travelling at 25 miles an hour.

Fireman was Shocked.

At Kingston, John Hall, a fireman, while repairing an alarm wire, touched a live wire and was shocked and burned. He was at the top of a fifty foot pole at the time. He released himself and hung to the pole and called for aid. The hook and ladder company rescued him from his perilous position and called for medical help.

Quebec Line Not Abandoned.

The Quebec Telegraph ridicules the statement that the proposed eastern section of the Grand Trunk Pacific through Northern Quebec is likely to be abandoned in favour of a southern route from North Bay and via the Canada Atlantic to Montreal. Developments that will "startle" those who are responsible for starting the story are promised.

Skipped to Death.

Mrs. Theresa Ballesau, of Los Angeles, Cal., had a six year old great grandaughter, who had been presented with a rope on her birthday anniversary and didn't know how to use it. "Let me take it," said the old lady, "I will show you how to use it!" She took the rope and with the dexterity of younger days skipped it without missing for 87 times. Then she dropped to the floor and expired.

Froze Her Hand.

While the temperature was near the 95 degree mark, Miss Violet Hayes, of 315 West Commerce st., Youngstown, Ohio, having a headache retired holding a large piece of ice in her hand and fell asleep. When she awoke her hand was frozen, pained and swollen. She forgot the ice incident, and the doctor was mystified over a case of freezing in July until the girl's memory was jogged and she recollected the ice.

A Lone Robber.

The stage from Warren to Meadows, Idaho, has been held up by a lone highwayman near Resort station. The bandit covered the driver with two automatic revolvers and, compelled him to cut open the mail sacks and throw them down. He then removed all the registered letters. Two passengers and the driver were lined up and relieved of their valuables. The robber then walked away with the plunder, amounting to $1500. He was unmasked.

WALT. STOCKER'S BIG POSTER SHOW

Bill Posters' Association in Session at Montreal.

Poster Exhibition Now Open in Drill Hall—Some Specimens of Art.

The Bill Posters Association of which Mr. Walter Stocker is president, resumed convention yesterday morning in Montreal, first the discussion of routine business including the adoption of a new constitution and laws. The attendance of delegates had not in any way diminished and there was even a fair sprinkling of lady friends present.

The poster exhibition in the drill hall is now open and is worthy of a visit. The work is of a very high class and includes posters in litho and hand painted. The exhibits occupy almost the whole area of the hall and many of them are of colossal size. TRAGEDY OF THE SEA.

Negro Kills All on Board a Small Trading Schooner.

New Orleans, July 13.—The Norwegian steamer Bramen, Cape Holm, from Celba, Honduras, reports a startling tragedy on the small trading schooner Olympia, bound from Utila for Truxillo via Ruastan, to purchase cattle.

The crew and passengers, twelve in all, were all murdered by a negro named Robert McGill, except one passenger, a young woman, who escaped by swimming ashore, after having been struck on the head with an oar.

McGill is a resident of Utila. He shot all of his victims. He forced one of the crew of the schooner to scuttle her. McGill then shot him and escaped in a dory. He was subsequently captured at El Provener, Honduras.

The captain of the Olympia had $1,400 in his cabin.

FOG SPOILS THE TEST.

Turbiner Virginian and Cruiser Canada Fail to Meet.

Montreal, July 13.—The Allan Steamship Line officials have given up all hope of the turbiner Virginian and the cruiser Canada breaking the cross-Atlantic record for Canadian mails.

Despatches received at the head office yesterday indicate that a very heavy fog has prevailed for some days about the mouth of the gulf, and as a result of which the Virginian passed Cape Rouge only yesterday morning. Her earliest time off Sydney is now thought to be 4 a.m. Thursday. At this rate the liner will be very little ahead of the record to Rimouski.

The officers expect another trial will be made. The outgoing turbiner Victorian has been detained by fog for 48 hours in the lower gulf.

TO GRAPPLE FOR BODIES.

Major Hodgins and Party Have Begun the Sad Work.

Kenora, July 13.—Major A. Hodgins, chief of transcontinental staff, left with a party yesterday morning for the scene of Tuesday's drowning accident, taking with him more grappling irons and 1,500 feet of line, on account of the lake being so deep.

News came in last evening that no bodies had been recovered, but that Major Sankey's coat was found and one belonging to one of the other men.

Young Temple is fairly well recovered, and Mr. Sankey's brother is expected here from Toronto by Imperial Limited to-day.

Want Public-Owned Lines.

Ottawa, July 13.—E. Trowern, representing the Retail Merchants' Association of Toronto, was heard before the Telephone Committee yesterday. He complained that the rates were too high for their business, and the association favored the Government owning the trunk lines. Mr. Beaudry, representing the Retail Merchants' Associating, wanted cheaper 'phones. The association was in favor of the Government regulating the trunk lines so as to give connection to independent companies.

CHANGE MADE IN THE ENVOYS

M. De Witte Replaces M. Muravieff on Commission—Inspires Japanese Faith—Czar Will Make Announcement To-day---Peace Advocate Thus Takes Place of War Advocate, and the Outlook is Distinctly More Hopeful---Gen. Stoessel Arrested--Court-Martial for Admiral Kruger.

St. Petersburg, July 13.—M. Muravieff has resigned his position as chief peace plenipotentiary. It may be regarded as practically certain that he will be replaced by M. Witte, president of the Committee of Ministers, who all along has been considered the Russian statesman pre-eminently qualified to undertake the difficult task of negotiating peace with Japan.

However, though the Emperor, who, on two previous occasions, flatly declined to accept M. Witte, has now indicated his readiness to make the appointment, the commission will not be actually signed until Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who throughout has been M. Witte's warm supporter, has had an audience with the Emperor to-day. To that extent only the matter may be regarded as unsettled, nothing being certain in Russia, as a prominent diplomat remarked last night, until the Emperor's signature has been affixed.

M. SERGIUS DE WITTE.

Will Inspire Japan.

The conduct of the negotiations by M. Witte, it is felt by the peace party here, would inspire instant confidence in Japan.

M. Muravieff's retirement, ostensibly owing to reason of ill-health, is in reality due to the fact that the Emperor became convinced that the negotiations might be jeopardised if he went to Washington. M. Muravieff himself, upon consideration, quite frankly recognised his lack of diplomatic training and his want of acquaintance with the questions involved, and with equal frankness expressed satisfaction that he had been relieved.

The change in the chief of the plenipotentiaries does not involve any postponement in the setting out of the peace mission for Washington.

To Rebuild the Navy.

The announcement of the appointment of Vice-Admiral Birileff as Minister of Marine in succession to Admiral Avelan, which is gazetted this morning, is couple with a highly significant rescript, in which the Emperor charges the new Minister not only with the task of rebuilding the navy, but also with that of reforming and reorganising the whole system. The Minister is instructed to remedy the faults which have developed under the stress of war and to remedy the conditions which led to the recent mutinies.

Officers and Men Culpable.

Speaking of the "revolting" events in the Black Sea," the Emperor holds the officers and men of the fleet equally culpable, declaring that these events displayed a complete lack of discipline among the crews and neglect of duty on the part of the officers. The Emperor insists on a full and careful investigation of the mutinies among the sailors of the Black Sea fleet and that the most severe punishment be meted out to the guilty ones.

Will Let Them Go.

Russia has abandoned the idea of trying to secure the extradition of the men of the battleship Knias Potemkine, who mutinied.

STOESSEL ARRESTED.

Rear-Admiral Kruger Will Also Face a Court-Martial.

St. Petersburg, July 13.—The Nashashism says that Rear-Admiral Kruger will leave the service on account of alleged incapacity in connection with his treatment of the situation created by the mutiny aboard the Knias Potemkine at Odessa. The Admiral will probably be court-martialled. At the Admiralty he is known as one of the "court admirals."

The Nashashian prints a report that Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel has been placed under arrest at the Tsarkoe-Selo, in consequence of the revelations made by the commission which has been investigating the defence and the capitulation of Port Arthur, and that the sword of honor donated by a number of French admirers of Gen. Stoessel will not be presented.

In Tow.

Sebastopol, July 13.—In pursuance of instructions from the Russian Admiralty the Knias Potemkine is on her way here, having left Kustenji, Roumania, during the night in tow of the battleship Tohesma.

One of Them.

Vladivostock, July 13.—Capt. Reusme has left Vladivostock for Washington, where he will participate in the peace negotiations.

GATHERINGS OF ORANGEMEN

Many Great Demonstrations Throughout Ontario--Trample Stars and Stripes--Small Sized Riot in London Caused by Americans Insulting Remarks About Canada and Canadians---Port Huron Visitors Acknowledge That They Would Have Likewise Resented Such Insults.

London, July 13.—The American flag was torn from its pole at the head of Loyal Orange Lodge, No 67, of Port Huron, Mich., yesterday by a throng of angry Canadians and trailed in the dust. There had been the best of good-fellowship shown between the American and Canadian Orangemen all day, until an American, his name is not known, suddenly shouted, "To —— with Canada."

"It's only a country for suckers anyway," some one else offered to assert.

Then a crowd gathered. Canadian fists were shaken under American noses and anyone wearing an American uniform immediately became the centre of an excited and argumentative crowd.

The Port Huron lodge marched down the street. At the head flew a splendid Stars and Stripes.

"We will show you," shouted a Canadian patriot, and he led a rush for the flag. In a moment it was trailing in the street, splattered with mud and marked with the imprint of heels.

The police interferred and restored order.

The Americans show no animosity whatever over the affair. They regard it as an answer to insult such as they themselves would make.

Five Stunned by Lightning.

Renfrew, July 13.—Thousands of people and nearly 30 Orange lodges were here yesterday. Rain commenced just as the procession was formed, and before the last of the nearly two miles of lodges had passed the head of Main street there was a downpour, and shortly after getting back to the park the worst thunderstorm of the season came up.

During its course a bolt of lightning descended a tree and five of the visitors were struck by it. The victims were Samuel Adams and a Mr. New of Ottawa. Peter Pallilne, wife and son, of Douglas. They were all rendered unconscious, and remained so for a time, but were resuscitated. A team of horses was knocked flat, and the banner of Ottawa Lodge, No. 127, was torn to shreds and part of it embedded in the tree against which it was standing.

A grist and sawmill at the other end of the town was fired, but the blaze was quenched. Speaking in the park was abandoned.

Nearly 200 Lodges at Belleville.

Belleville, July 13.—The Orangemen held yesterday the greatest demonstration here in many years. There were 199 lodges in the procession, namely 89 Orange, 9 Prentice Boys and 6 True Blue lodges. The Counties represented were Durham, Northumberland, Peterboro', Hastings East, West and Centre, Prince Edward, Lennox, Addington, also Kingston. The crowd in town was not less than 10,000, who came by boat, train and rail. The day was very sultry, and rain compelled a change of program, whereby Dr. Sproule, M. P., Sovereign Grand Master, and other grand officers were obliged to address the people in the City Hall. Several other members of the order spoke. The brethren left for home early in the evening. Bro. Wellington Boulter, C. M., Prince Edward, celebrated his golden jubilee yesterday. Bro. Wm. White, Tweed, is his senior by two years.

BIG PROCESSIONS.

Orange Heats Make Great Showing in Many Ontario Towns.

Watford, July 13.—Nine lodges took part in the celebration of Boyne Water yesterday, and there were 2,000 visitors in evidence.

Meaford, July 13.—The Orange parade moved off at 1.30 o'clock, about 6 lodges took part. William Galbraith, of Montreal, was the principal speaker.

Clinton, July 13.—Local clergymen were the chief speakers at the large Orange gathering here yesterday. There were thousands of visitors present.

Kincardine, July 13.—6,000 people celebrated the Battle of the Boyne here yesterday. Mr. Gamey was the platform attraction.

Midland, July 13.—In this town there were over 2,000 people to celebrate the day. There were 20 stands of colors and twelve bands.

St. Catharines, July 13.—King William's day was celebrated here by the local Orangemen and brethren from Buffalo and Toronto. The Buffalo men brought the 65th Regiment bugle band along.

Stratford, July 13.—In the afternoon there were speeches in the park by prominent Orangemen, and there were between 2,000 and 3,000 strangers present.

Wiarton, July 13.—This town had its best Orange parade yesterday. The colors of 21 lodges were displayed in the procession, and there was an immense number of people present.

Southampton, July 13.—This town saw one of the largest crowds in its history yesterday, brought to witness the Orange parade. Centre Bruce Orangemen presented Dr. Beattie Nesbitt with a gold-headed cane.

Toronto, July 13.—Despite the heavy downpour of rain 5,000 Orangemen walked in memory of the Boyne yesterday. The procession took an hour and a quarter to pass the City Hall.

London, July 13.—The 12th of July parade here was over a mile in length and 4,000 were made in Queen's Park to 2,500 Orangemen.

Ottawa, July 13.—Eight Carleton lodges, numbering about 2,000 celebrated yesterday at Stittsville. The Pontiac lodges gathered at Aylmer to the number of about 4,000.

Wallaceburg, July 13.—Yesterday there were 28 West Lambton and North and South Kent lodges in line.

Caledon East, July 13.—The "Glorious Twelfth" was celebrated here with great eclat. There were 21 lodges lined up in the procession.

GOT TRANSPORTATION.

Magistrate Was Trying Case in Which the C. P. R. Was Interested.

Winnipeg, July 13.—Recently a number of conductors were discharged by the C. P. R. on the ground of irregularities, and several railway organizations are making application to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa for an investigation into the actions of at least one magistrate in the Northwest Territories before whom the charges laid by the company against the employes were tried.

It is alleged that this one, while the cases were on his docket, applied to the company for transportation for his wife and family to the coast. Passes were sent him, but these he refused to use, as the cases concerned the company to a very great extent. The passes were returned and free tickets, representing over $100 in value, were supplied him.

The railway conductors are the prime movers in applying to have the matter fully sifted.

VIRGINIAN DELAYED.

Expected Off Sydney Early This Morning—The Canada's Movements.

Halifax, July 13.—The cruiser Canada, which went to sea yesterday morning, returned to North Sydney in the afternoon, having been in wireless communication with the Marconi station at Cape Ray, Nfld., at 10 o'clock, when the turbiner Virginian was reported sixty miles east of Cape Race. As she had over three hundred miles to steam before arriving off Sydney she is not expected until 5 o'clock this morning, thirteen hours later than anticipated. Mr. Andrew Allan attributes the delay to the fog. The Canada sailed again last night to intercept the Virginian. Premier Murray and a large party of officials are aboard. Weather conditions are very favorable.

Symptoms of Nerve Disorders

Which foretell the approach of Nervous Prostration, Paralysis and Locomotor Ataxia.

Twitching of the nerves and muscles, sensitiveness to light, sound and motion, jerking of the limbs, sleeplessness, headache and indigestion—rush are some of the symptoms of exhausted nerves.

Because there is no acute pain people do not always realize the seriousness of nervous disease. They do not think of the helplessness of body and mind, which is the result of neglecting such ailments.

Because of its extraordinary control over diseases of the nerves Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has come to be considered the one great treatment for disorders of this nature.

Not only does it revitalize the wasted nerve cells, but actually forms firm flesh and tissue, builds up the system and sends new vigour and vitality to every organ of the body.

RAIN AND ADDRESSES ALTERNATE AT WARSAW

A Highly Successful Demonstration Participated in by Orange Lodges in East Peterborough—Rainfall Failed to Spoil the Celebration—Addresses Delivered at Tucker's Grove—An Interesting Day's Happenings in the Capital of Dummer—The Lodges in Line.

It takes more than a day's rain to spoil an Orange celebration in Warsaw, and although yesterday was about as unpleasant a day as one could well imagine, and the condition as far as the weather was concerned, depressing enough to dishearten anyone but an Orangeman, one of the largest crowds that Warsaw has ever seen turned out to join in the celebration of that day dear to every Orangeman, the 12th of July. In spite of the fact that commencing early in the day the rain fell almost incessantly until after dinner, the people came to the pretty little village on the Indian River, whose Orange celebrations have been the pride of that portion of the community, to whom the day means so much, until one almost wondered where such a large number of the wearers of the yellow could have come from.

Rain could not Spoil it.

At any rate they were there and in spite of the rain, and notwithstanding the unpleasant circumstances, proceeded to celebrate as only Orangemen can.

The public functions of the day, outside of the parade, were held in Tucker's Grove, a peculiarly well situated place for such a gathering, and to this point the procession headed.

During the morning it rained almost continuously and in consequence the visiting lodges found the roads very muddy to travel. In the afternoon it cleared up a little, and the Orangemen assembled at the Methodist church and proceeded to the grove, a little to the east of the village.

Lodges in Line.

The lodges paraded in the following order under their marshall, County Master Clifford:—

True Blues,
Norwood L. O. L., No. 34.
Master Q. Adams.
Belmont L. O. L., No. 277,
Master H. Thistle.
North Dummer L. O. L. No. 285,
Master Wm. Batton.
Havelock L. O. L. No. 326.
Master John Sexsmith.
South Dummer L. O. L. No. 522.
Master Thos. Webster.
Warsaw L. O. L. No. 224.
Master James Clifford.

Each lodge was headed by its banner and fife and drum band.

At the grove several of the speakers failed to put in an appearance and the chairman, County Master Moore decided to commence the programme.

The Addresses.

The chairman made a few preliminary remarks as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, we have met again to celebrate this glorious day, the 12th of July. I do not intend to keep your attention and as the weather is threatening, I will call on Mr. Jas Andrews for his speech."

Mr. Andrews only spoke for a few moments. He said that it appeared as if he would have to break the ice. He said the people wished him to work and not to speak or else they would not have kept him as secretary in his lodge for seventeen years. He remarked that there was a lack of speakers, but he was only an apology for one. He was glad to be at the gathering, and was glad that the weather had cleared a little, so that they could enjoy themselves with the young ladies and gentlemen present.

Rev. W. L. Atkinson

Rev. W. L. Atkinson was next called upon for an address. In his opening remarks he said that he did not know what kind of a speech to give, but he had got hold of some books on Orangeism, and he would give the audience some of the information he has gathered.

This is the day we celebrate, as we are all Protestants, if we are not all Orangemen. I believe, said he, we should study the principles of Orangeism, as many who are outside the organization do not understand them. The basis of the organization is manifold — it has an historical basis, that is, it is based on a fact. The Orange Order was instituted to enable men to enjoy the liberty which was theirs, and that liberty brings their principles. There is nothing in the colour nor in the name Orange, but these should be something behind their badges that would mould character and promote true citizenship, which is the outcome of true loyalty, and every loyal Orangeman should be a strong Christian and a follower of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Pre-eminently Religious.

The society, he said, is pre-eminently a religious society, and if so, the members should assist in the advancement of the Christian religion, in which there is liberty and charity.

There is also a social side to the Order, which is moulding the characters. If they were true and loyal Orangemen, they should have a clear, sensible view of the principles of the Order, in order they may assist the brethren who have erred. In closing he wished them prosperity, with all that is high and noble in the Order, but admonished them not to put their Order before their church.

Rev. Mr. Nichols, the new Methodist minister at Warsaw, also made a short speech. He said that he could not speak as one who was acquainted with the people, but as a stranger who was there through the courtesy of the local Orange lodge. He let the platform represent the principles of the Orange Order.

Liberty and Equality.

The principles of Orangeism gave a man liberty and equal rights with his fellows. He had a right to think for himself and use his own intelligence. A clerical body should not come between a man and his faith. The Orange Order also gave liberty of action, and no man could be imprisoned without a fair trial, and he then could be punished, if guilty.

The principles of Orangeism were the essence of the principles of Protestantism, and these were the underlying principles which had made Great Britain what she is to-day.

Orangeism was a necessity when it was organized, and is still a necessity, although some claim that it is a dead issue. To-day Orangeism is unity, and we should stand shoulder to shoulder to withstand the encroachments of capital on labour.

What we need is that the fundamental principles of Orangeism should be ever before us, as the Order, he believed, is as necessary now as it was in the past.

Need for Orangeism

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, Master of Havelock Lodge, also made a few remarks. He said that those Protestants who had suffered much in earlier days for their religion, felt the need of an institution the members of which would stand united for their Christian religion. We are, he said, here doing a good work in extending a helping hand to our brethren who have fallen. In conclusion Mr. Sexsmith said that the principles were not too strict nor too ideal, and the platform of the Orange Order would never fail.

This concluded the speech making, and the lodges again lined up and marched back to the village to the stirring airs from the bands.

The village was decorated with flags and orange and blue bunting, and several banners bearing well known legends were stretched across the street.

The crowd in attendance was large, but not what it would have been had the weather been fine. Almost the whole countryside was in the village, and there were many visitors from outside places.

The Orangemen marched or drove back to their respective halls, well satisfied that they had celebrated the Glorious Twelfth in right good style.

TWENTY-EIGHT WERE CONFIRMED

Rite Administered Last Night at All Saint's Church.

Right Rev. Bishop Hamilton, of Ottawa, Officiated—Delivered Earnest Address.

The rite of confirmation was administered last night at All Saints' Church, to twenty-eight candidates, seventeen of whom were girls and eleven boys, by the Right Rev. Bishop Hamilton, of Ottawa. The ceremony was attended by a large congregation. Assisting the Bishop, were the rector, Rev. W. Major, and Rev. J. C. Davidson, the latter of whom acted as Bishop's Chaplain.

After the candidates had taken their seats, the lesson was read by Rev. J. C. Davidson, from Acts, 8th chap.

His Lordship, the Bishop, delivered a very earnest address to the candidates, opening his remarks by a reference to the grand, great, purpose of confirmation, contained in the lesson just read. This was that the Holy Ghost might come upon each one, and make its temple in his body whereby he might be blessed.

A large number of people in our day have the idea that the Gospel is so simple that it does away with all mysteries. The many mysteries which we are to believe were then commented upon. Among these are mystery of regeneration, of prayer, and of the Holy Communion. They will exercise the gift of faith, which God has given us, which is higher even than the gift of intellect.

In the Bible we learn that "without holiness, no man shall see the Lord." By practicing the life of holiness we learn the habit of holiness of heart and life and disposition, which becomes established in us. As we cannot make ourselves holy, the Divine assistance is lent us of the Holy Spirit of God. How is its purpose accomplished? By living amongst us. He comes down from Heaven just as did the glorious second person in the Blessed Trinity, born of the Holy Ghost, living as a little boy and offering himself in manhood as a sacrifice for us and to make the Church of the living God. He has never ceased to dwell in the Church. The Holy Spirit speaks, acts and lives in the Church and through the church, all for the purpose of making us good and holy.

We may look upon the Church in one of its aspects, as a training school for Heaven. We sometimes think of the church as an institution of mankind, yet the Holy Spirit of God fills a larger place in it than all mankind. Every sermon, prayer, hymn, the great sacraments, and ordinances, are used to promote our sanctification, and fit us to see God in Heaven. Unless we believe devoutly the Holy Spirit will make little progress.

The preacher then addressed a few remarks to the parents, many of whom, do not, he said, think it a wise thing to compel their children to attend Church. Would you feel the same with regard to their secular schooling? It is the parents' duty to insist upon their attendance. Speaking again to the candidates, he remarked that the Holy Spirit of God, who has been living around us, comes in confirmation to dwell forever within us, and make our bodies His temple. This is a mystery which we cannot understand. He comes to influence our thoughts, wishes and desires, and draw us from what is evil to that which is good and holy. He will help us mightily if we will only perform our part. The speaker was not afraid of exaggerating the power of the Holy Ghost, who is, as we say in the creed, "the Giver of life."

The speaker referred to the power exerted in the creation of nature, yet that power, and infinitely more, will He exert upon our characters, if we will only do our part. The God who laid down His life for us upon the cross, will also come down to be our Guide, our Companion and our Sanctifier.

The ceremony of the laying on of hands was then performed by the Bishop, who at the conclusion of the service also addressed to those received into communion a few earnest words of instruction.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent or the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person, the homestead duties may be performed by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon cultivated land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent of the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

W. W. CORY.
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior

Sealed tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until Tuesday, August 8, 1905, inclusively, for the supply of Coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

SPENDING MUCH.

Some people who are better at asking questions than answering them honestly, are wondering what Sir Richard Cartwright really thinks about the present scale of national expenditure. If they honestly wanted to know they would turn up the reports of the speech he delivered at Montreal during the last election campaign. In that speech Sir Richard made it plain that he was proud and glad to spend the money when the money was available to spend and when the bulk of the increased expenditure was upon projects which make for the rapid development of the country and its trade. He made it plain that it was far better to have a lot of money coming into the public treasury, under a low scale of duties, than to have the treasury starved and the country put into debt by a tariff so high that it kept down customs' receipts. He made it plain that the absolute, unvariable demands upon the revenue are not very much greater than they were in former days, whereas the margin over and above is incomparably greater. He made it clear that the man who spends freely when his income is only enough to board and lodge him is a criminal towards himself, whereas the man who has a much larger income cannot do better than develop his estate with the surplus. That is what Sir Richard thinks. It is what every successful business man has thought about his own business these last eight years, what he has lived up to, and what, when he sits down to think about it, he is glad to see the Dominion living up to.

It may be that the scale of national expenditure has now reached a level which challenges attention, in view of a possible shrinkage in the revenues, or a possible attempt by high tariff advocates to reduce that revenue for their own supposed advantage. That is a matter to be weighed carefully, but honestly, in the light of such observations as men apply to their own businesses. The critics of the Government are not so weighing it, and their criticism, which might serve a useful purpose if intelligent and considerate, serves no purpose other than the gratification of small, malicious envy.—Herald.

MARRIED WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

The days when the wife was a sort of chattel of the husband have long since passed away, says the Hamilton Times, and both in practice and in law she is his equal. We say this with some misgiving, because we have a suspicion that in most cases she feels herself to be more than that; that she is generally the controlling partner in the firm. By degrees the laws affecting the rights of married women have been so changed that from a condition of absolute dependence she has come to be mistress of her person and property, and able to exercise wide independent powers. The New York Court of Appeals has just decided, by a vote of four to three, that a married woman, who while living with her husband and with his consent and approval goes outside of her own family and performs services as nurse and attendant for another, may maintain an action in her own name to recover for the value of such services. It was argued in defence that the services thus performed were incidental to the duties owed by a wife to a husband in the course of the marital relationship, and therefore that the right to compensation existed solely with the husband. The lower courts took the view urged by the defence, but the Court of Appeals while acknowledging the survival of the old common law right of the husband to the services of the wife, holds that the laws of the State of New York relative to marriage have enabled married women to exercise such rights to their own capacities and earnings apart from the husband. The written judgment says:

We have here the situation where a wife for a period of six years, or more was engaged openly in a separate occupation without protest or interference from her husband, the record disclosing that he was entirely willing that she should recover for her services. This is a sufficient election on the part of the wife to embark in an outside undertaking whereby she may earn wages on her own account, no complaint being made that she was in any way neglecting her duties as a wife. It is common experience that wives go out to service in various domestic callings—the washerwoman, the seamstress, the nurse and other callings to which reference has already been made. The fact that a married woman enters upon such independent employment is a circumstance showing that she intended to avail herself of the privilege conferred by the enabling statutes. . . . The plaintiff was under no obligation, so far as her husband was concerned, to enter into any contract, express or implied, to serve a person outside of his house, and to whom he was under no obligation; she having done so, the statute permits her to collect and retain her earnings as such employment.

Numerous cases are referred to by way of showing the progress of the emancipation of the married woman. The common law theory still exists, but recent statutes are held to justify the ruling that in such specific cases the wife is entitled to collect pay for her own personal services.

In Ontario a married woman may acquire, hold, and dispose of by will or otherwise separate property, sue and be sued; her husband need not be joined in such actions, and damages or costs recovered shall be her separate property. Likewise she alone is responsible for damages or costs awarded against her in such actions. She can hold her separate estate free from her husband's control and free from any claim for his debts. She can hold and control all her wages, earnings, or the profits of her employment, trade, or occupation as absolutely as if she were a mere man. She can buy, sell, hire, lease, deed or will, as her husband can; and the law holds her responsible for her antenuptial liabilities. In short, in Ontario a woman by marrying loses none of her individuality in the control of her property. She is the equal of the husband. Some—men of course—are mean enough to say that she has all the powers and privileges of the man save that of "wearing the breeches," and in some cases she arrogates to herself that privilege. But it is to be suspected that that is a cranky old bachelor's fling at her.

DUNCAN ROSS A CHARACTER

His Return to Peterborough After 30 Years Absence

Served in Many Wars—"Side" Partner of President Roosevelt—His Interesting Experience.

The sanctum of the Examiner was to-day honoured by a visit from Duncan C. Ross, champion wrestler and swordsman. Mr. Ross, whose reputation is almost world wide, is paying his first visit to Peterborough in thirty years, and since the time he was here last, has passed through some decidedly interesting experiences, not the least of which was that of serving a term of imprisonment in Venezuela, for his action in taking office as a general against the forces of the president of the republic.

He also served in the Spanish-American war, as a captain in the Rough Riders, and recounts with pride that "me and Teddy Roosevelt was side partners." After that war Duncan says he did a thing he should not have done, he enlisted as a member of Lord Strathcona's Horse, and thereby forfeited what to him, was dear, his American citizenship. But, his friendship for Roosevelt again stood him in good stead. He went to Toddy, after he became president and the matter was easily arranged, and Duncan again became a citizen of the United States.

Mr. Ross served in the Royal Scots Greys and saw service in the first Ashantee war as orderly to Sir Charles Slavley. He then did duty at the riding establishment at Canterbury and the school at Woolwich. His next service was in the first Zulu war under Lord Chelmford. In 1882 he was with his regiment in the Egyptian campaign. Between the periods of service in the British army he spent several years in Canada and served as deputy chief of police at Toronto. This position he left to go as physical director of the Baltimore Y. M. C. A. Since then he is well known in Canada by defeating Champion Hugh McKinnon in Belleville in 1879. Later he defeated the celebrated Rory McLennan.

As to his object in returning to Peterborough, Mr. Ross states that he is here to meet a well-known local wrestler, and the many lovers of the manly art here will await with expectation the announcement of the date of the contest, if there is any.

The Belleville Ontario a few days ago contained a letter written by N. C. Lavis, in which reference is made to Mr. Ross. The writer says in part:—

Editor of the Ontario.—Many of us I am sure, cannot realize at present to what extent our feelings and recollections of the past will be stirred on the occasion of the Old Boys' Reunion. I was strikingly made aware of this fact yesterday morning by seeing a remarkably athletic figure leisurely sauntering down Front street. Something in his air and appearance seemed familiar and on enquiry I was told that the gentleman was the world-renowned champion caledonia athlete, Duncan C. Ross. At the mention of that name a panorama of scenes floated and passed along the horizon of my imagination. When had I first seen him? At the old fair grounds competing at Caledonian games with the late Chief Hugh McKinnon, and particularly how well he tossed the caber on that occasion, although all his efforts in putting the stones, throwing light and heavy hammers, were all high class. Later his studio in the Metropolitan Block and his colleagues, E. W. Johnson, Jack King, the prize fighter, and Barnes the runner, were all remembered and many events in connection.

The curtain was then rung down on the quiet City of Belleville and a scene rose before me in the armoury of Champlain street, Cleveland, Ohio. A four-foot ring, built several feet from the floor and some hundreds of gentlemanly sports had assembled to see Duncan C. Ross and the noted Jap wrestler, Matsada Zaroschiki, contest in Japanese and other styles of wrestling. The wrestlers had just appeared in the ring when a familiar voice greeted my ears, saying "What! you here, Lavis?" I turned and met the astonished gaze of my superior in the Whipple Lock Manufacturing Company's office, Mr. W. C. Hayes, son of the late ex-President Hayes. I replied I was surprised to see him at a sporting event. My excuse he said is the fact that I am a great admirer of Mr. Ross and I regard him as the finest athlete in the world. I would like to be just such a man. The first contest was a mixture of catch-as-catch-can and jiu jitsu in which the Jap kept searching for and pinching arteries in Ross body when he had him on the mat. Personally I considered this foul work and I had a strong desire to kick the Jap in the short ribs. The Jap completed his mean work by pushing Ross off the platform which evidently roused all the fighting blood of the mighty Scot who leaped to the platform his eyes shooting fire and his face the colour of a conflagration. He seized the Jap and threw him to the floor with terrible force. We were then introduced to the Japanese style which was butting with heads. In sparring for an opening there was a remarkable exhibition of side stepping till the Jap saw an opening and rushed fiercely to butt. Ross jumped aside and struck the Jap with terrible force in the side knocking him over but Ross touched his hands to the floor before recovering which gave the fall to the Jap. In the next contest the Jap put one of Ross' ribs out of business with his head which closed the entertainment.

The festive sports then sought refreshments at Mr. Ross' saloon on Ontario street, where Mr. and Mrs. Ross did the honors till the bottles in the bar increased in size and finally doubled themselves in number, when we left feeling highly satisfied with the events of the night, not the least being the society of Mr. Harding, the famed writer for the Police Gazette, New York. During that winter Mr. Ross gave boxing contests every Saturday night in the basement of the saloon and rumour stated he made $10,000, which he bet on the Republican candidate for president, but Cleveland was elected and he lost his all.

My next recollection of Mr. Ross was some years later. I was walking up Superior street, Cleveland, when my attention was attracted by a black horse standing eighteen hands high, and mounted by a man in full armour of the crusaders' steel, breastplate, helmet. Richard I on his return from the crusades never appeared better than Ross did on that occasion. I found on enquiry that Mr. Ross and Mr. Welsh of the United States army would give a sword contest that afternoon on horseback. The contest was prefaced by a wrestling match and an attempt to draw Mervin Thompson from a ladder with a pair of horses. Mervin held the whiffletrees by his hands, and gripped a rung of the ladder by the back of his knees. To the surprise of everyone he held the team. The bugle then announced the charge of the swordsmen and all eyes were directed to the flashing and dashing of swords till a bugle sounded a return to their corners. After a number of charges and fine sword play Ross saw an opening and swung his heavy sword on Welsh's helmet, unhorsing him and apparently knocking him senseless. But as he kicked his feet out of the stirrup when falling I thought that it was part of the show. A howl of indignation went up from the Irish section, and a party by me declared that the Scotchmen should be mobbed. A Scotchman on the top seats jumped up and shouted back, "Just wait till I get down there and I'll mob you!" Murder was averted from the fact that the Scotchman could not get down before the party was lost in the crowd. Welsh was carried to the bar in the rear of the grand stand and revived with stimulants. Ross rode around on his mighty charger presumably looking around after his fallen foe, but he stood so long that a season was sought and some one said, "He not think he is there for fun or amusement! Why he gets a dollar a minute from the receipts of the bar as a drawing card." In the rush of the scampering years since then time has certainly dealt lightly with Mr. Ross, as his athletic frame appears as vigorous as ever.

In the days when the late Chief Hugh McKinnon gave attractions, and the success of them when Mr. Ross was a feature, leads us to believe he could furnish something on the programme of the Old Boys' Reunion that would greatly please the visitors who have met him away from Belleville.

—C. Lavis.

PARK STREETS' ANNUAL OUTING

Excursion to Jubilee To-day was Well Patronized.

All natural conditions combined today to make the annual excursion of the Park street Sunday school one of the most successful and enjoyable in the history of that school. This morning bright and early the "City of Peterborough," left her wharf at the foot of Wolfe street, carrying several hundred of the scholars and friends of the school on their annual outing.

The number attending was large and the arrangements whihc had been made for the entertainment of the excursionists were of such a nature that a good time was assured.

Jubilee Point was the destination of the boat, and a good programme of games was arranged. They will return early to-night.

CONSPICUOUS IN A BALLROOM

Flakes of Dandruff on the Collar and Shoulders of a Gentleman in Full Dress.

This is the thing you quite frequently see in the ball-room—a mans black dress-coat literally covered with dandruff.

It must be annoying to the wearer and certainly not a pleasant thing to observe. But dandruff can be eradicated. It is a germ disease that will some day cause baldness.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the hair-destroying germ and stimulates the hair to a rich abundant growth; it does more—keeps the hair soft and pliant.

Furthermore Herpicide is a most pleasant toilet accessory; of pleasing odor, and cooling to the scalp.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Company, Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh special agents.

CONSTABLE WILL BE APPOINTED

North Monaghan Council Decides to This Effect.

Monday Meeting Was Held on Monday, July 10th.

From our Own Correspondent.

North Monaghan, July 12 — The Council of the Township held a regular meeting in the Town Hall on Monday, July 10, at 7.30 p. m.

All the members were present, the Reeve, Mr. J. Madill, presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Accounts were handed in from:

Geo. Moncrieff, building culverts in R. Div. No. 3, $14.00.

The Best Stove Co., nails, etc, 60c.

M. Clark, gravelling road, $14.40

These accounts were passed and ordered to be paid.

A petition was presented from Mr. Doig and 29 others, praying the Council to appoint a special constable to enforce observance of the law, prohibit trespassing and indecent exposure along the river. This was received.

A statement was received from the County Clerk showing the equalized assessment of all the townships in the County to be used for assessment of County rates for the year 1905. This was received.

A letter was received and read from Mr. George Rimmon, stating that the agreement as made betwen the Peterborough Radical Railway Company and the Township was reasonable and protected the Township to a sufficient degree. This was received.

It was moved by Messrs. Brown and Holmes that Messrs. Morrow and Fowler are hereby appointed a committee to have repairs made to the porch of the Town Hall. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler that the Reeve and Councillor Holmes are hereby appointed to recommend a suitable person to be appointed a special constable and also to arrange a schedule of fees or charges to be paid to such person for the performance of these duties. This was carried.

The Reeve and Clerk then executed the agreement between the Petrborough Radical Railway Company and the Township. The same were sealed and will be forwarded for signature by the representatives of the Company.

(By-law No. 654, a by-law to confirm this agreement was then introduced and finally passed.

Council then adjourned until the 14th day of August in the Town Hall at 7.30 p. m.

The members of Eko Camp to the number of about twenty assembled last night at the Club rooms for the purpose of honouring one of their departing members, Mr. R. H. Elliott, who is also President of the Club. Mr. Elliott has been for some years one of the most popular members of the Camp and the knowledge of his intended departure, though learned but recently by many of his associates caused a wide-spread feeling of regret, not unmixed with pleasure at his success in securing a more responsible position in London, to which place he will remove in a few days.

Last night's event was a most pleasing one. After refreshments had been served, Mr. R. M. Glover arose and in a few brief and appropriate remarks referred to the feeling of sorrow among the members of the Club at Mr. Elliott's coming departure, also speaking of the esteemed and valued place he had won for himself by genial disposition and affable manner. The following address was then read by Mr. J. M Gemmell.

Peterborough, July 1, '05

MR. R. H. ELLIOTT,

TOWN.

Dear Bob:—We very much regret the circumstance that brings us together to-night in this manner—that of your intended departure from Town. Eko Camp will feel your absence to a greater degree than any of the other diffrent organizations of which you are a member, you being at the present time its President. Since you took the office we have found you agressive in the interests of the Club at the same time your affable manner and consideration for the feelings of others will make your place very hard to fill.

While we are sorry to see you leave Town yet we are pleased that a member of the Club has been selected for the important position you are taking and we trust that you will have your full share of success and happiness in your new sphere of life.

With best wishes and the hearty statement that you will be always welcome at the club we say Good-bye.

Accompanying the address was a beautiful gold locket which was presented by Mr. R. G. Higgins. The gift, which was of handsome design was suitably engraved and bore upon its face the initials of the recipient, and upon the reverse side, the legend "Eko Camp, 1905".

Mr. Elliott, though taken completely by surprise, replied in a few brief but appropriate remarks in which he spoke of the ties of the pleasant relationship which had existed in the past between himself and his fellow-members of the Camp, the memory of which he would long and gratefully cherish.

After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" the gathering dispersed.

QUIET WEDDING LAST NIGHT

Nuptials of Miss Esther Vass and Mr. Wm. J. Connors.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Vass, Chamberlain street, when her daughter, Esther, was united to Mr. Wm. J. Connors. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Major, rector of All Saints' Church, at six o'clock, in the presence of a number of relatives of the contracting parties.

The bridesmaid was Miss Connors, sister of the groom, the groom being attended by Mr. W. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Connors will take up residence on Romaine street.

WRESTLER ISSUES A CHALLENGE

Captain Duncan C. Ross Will Meet Any Local Wrestler for $100 a Side.

Into to-day's Examiner appears a challenge issued by Captain Duncan C. Ross for a wrestling match in which he offers to meet any local wrestler for $100 a side, and it is probable a bout will be arranged at any early date between the Captain and George Gauthier, who states that he is prepared to accept the challenge up on the terms offered. The match should be a highly interesting one as Captain Ross is the man who defeated Hugh McKinnon for the championship of British North America. Gauthier is at present in good condition and can undoubtedly exhibit all his old time dexterity upon the mat. An interesting measurement of the respective muscular development of the arms of the two wrestlers took place this morning in which they were found to be identical.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the match, which if details can be satisfactorily arranged should be one of the best ever seen in town.

Fished Within the Limit.

Vancouver, July 13.—The Canadian Government steamer Kestrel has reached port with the American fishing schooner North at Seattle in tow as a prize. The North was captured by the Kestrel off Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island, with seines out, fishing halibut well within the three-mile limit.

KILLED COUNT SHUVALOFF.

Best Type of Russian Official Assassinated at Moscow.

Moscow, July 13.—Major-Gen. Count Shuvaloff, prefect of police here and formerly attached to the Ministry of the Interior, was assassinated yesterday morning, while receiving petitions. One of the petitioners drew a revolver and fired three shots at the prefect, who fell dead.

The assassin, who was dressed as a peasant, has not been identified. He was recently arrested as a political suspect, but escaped from the police station before his examination.

The assassin walked in the anteroom of the prefecture till the other petitioners had been received, and then entering the audience room he advanced towards Count Shuvaloff, firing five shots at close range. The bullets passed through the body of the prefect.

The assassination is considered to be a purely personal crime, as the count was not yet 40 years old, and was regarded as being the best type of the Russian official. He came from one of the most famous families in Russia. The count was a son of Count Peter Shuvaloff, the statesman who represented Russia at the Berlin conference.

Quiet Under Martial Law.

Tiflis, Caucasia, July 13.—The streets and squares are occupied by troops, but the city has been quiet since the proclamation of martial law. At Batum business is at a standstill. The shops and banks, with the exception of the Imperial Bank, are closed.

SUPPLIES LOST TO SURVEYORS.

Forest Fire in Temagami Will Set Their Work Back.

New Liskeard, July 12.—The surveyors of the T. & N. O. Railway, who are engaged in location work at McDougall Chute, 70 miles north from here, have sent word that they were burned out in a recent fire which has been raging for some time in the north. They lost all of their supplies, and saved their lives with difficulty. The transcontinental party, it is said, succeeded in saving their supplies, but only by the most heroic efforts. Twenty-five men were engaged for two days in fighting this fire. The loss of supplies to a body of men that distance in the woods is a fearful set back. The difficulties of transportation are enormous. It sometimes happens that there are as many as fifty portages, and it will take nearly the rest of the summer to get in the supplies.

Starves to Death.

Montreal, July 13.—Locked up in a freight car and starved to death was evidently the fate of an unknown man whose body was found in a car on a siding in the G. T. R. yards yesterday. The odor of decomposition led to the discovery. There was nothing about the man to lead to identification, and it is supposed he got into the car to steal a ride.

Left 180 Men Dead.

Tangier, July 13.—Mohammed El Torres, the representative of the Sultan here for foreign affairs, has received information to the effect that Imperial forces have won a victory over the Moorish Pretender, near Ujda, in the northeast of Morocco. The Pretender escaped, leaving 180 men dead. The Sultan's troops captured many prisoners.

FRENCH INTERVENTION ASKED.

Baron D'Estournelles Would Avoid Scandinavian Conflict.

Paris, July 12.—Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, the French member of The Hague Peace Tribunal, has written a letter to Premier Rouvier urging French intermediation in the conflict between Norway and Sweden. The letter says, in part:

"Without thrusting ourselves into the conflict, we cannot remain indifferent to our duty to ourselves, and to all Europe to prevent the spread of a conflagration.

"The relations of France toward Sweden and Norway insure a sympathetic welcome to words of conciliation from you. I therefore ask in the name of a great number of French and foreign parliamentarians that you give authority to the pacific efforts which will receive an approving echo from the Governments of the country."

London, July 12.—A son was born to the Princess of Wales yesterday.

The Prince of Wales is now just turned 40 years of age, and Her Royal Highness is two years his junior. They were married on July 6, 1893, the princess then being Princess Victoria Mary ("May") of Teck. Their family now consists of five sons and one daughter, as follows.

Edward, born June 23, 1894.
Albert, born December 14, 1895.
Victoria, born April 25, 1897.
Henry, born March 31, 1900.

Electrocuted in Mid-Air.

Kingston, July 13.—Fireman John Hall had a narrow escape from death Tuesday evening. There was a cross somewhere in the alarm system. Just as Hall fixed it, his hand came in contact with a live wire, which burned through to the bone. The fireman cleared the wire by raising himself up and standing on the cross-arm, he hugged the top of the pole, fifty feet in the air. The hook and ladder wagon came down on a mad gallop, and the firemen effected the rescue of their comrade.

Railwayman Killed.

Hamilton, July 13.—Mrs. Charles Bristol received a telegram yesterday stating that her husband had been killed in Indiana in a railway wreck, caused by a washout. Bristol was formerly an engineer on the T., H. & B. here and was well known. He leaves a widow and one child.

Government Dredge Launched.

Toronto, July 12.—The Canadian Shipbuilding Co. at their Toronto shipyard, foot of Bathurst street, yesterday launched the Government steel dipper dredge which has been under construction at their shipyard for months. There was no special ceremony attending the launching.

Killed by Falling Coal.

Frank, Alberta, July 13.—A miner named W. Carmichael was killed in the Canadian-American coal and coke mine Tuesday by falling coal. Other workmen are afraid to attempt to secure the body owing to danger of further collapse of the roof.

SOMETHING EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW.

Are You the One Woman Neglecting a Mother's or a Wife's Duty, or Are There Countless Thousands.

Many women formerly full of robust vigor, with clear complexions and bright, vivacious spirits find themselves slowly losing their good looks and strength, fading under the influence of an unknown cause, ignorant of their real condition. Just when a woman should be at her best she becomes depressed, fretful, nervous. And why? You ask. She has been so busy planning, has been so absorbed with her social duties, her work has been so continuous, that she scarcely allowed herself a moment's relaxation. She has neglected her health and, where her food formerly seemed to nourish, now she has but little appetite and even what she does eat does not seem to do any good. If you should ask her what the trouble is, she would say, "I am just tired out." But the real cause is constipation and its resulting conditions bad blood. Just think what habitual neglect of the bowels means, sickness instead of good health, nervousness instead of vigor, cheerfulness replaced by depression, happiness by misery. A week's use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills in these cases will work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the liver and bowels, immediately unload the congestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities. It is pitiable to see women with no color in their cheeks, without ambition, always tired, with the exuberance and vivacity of youth sapped as by some dreaded vampire, just because nature has been neglected, the bowels have become sluggish and poisonous elements have been absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels regular by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills. Never allow constipation or a torpid liver to develop. A stitch in time will save mountains of misery, of bad feelings and depression. These little pills are wonderful health givers. They are Nature's true laxative and a positive cure for sick headache, constipation and biliousness in one night. 25 cents at all dealers.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

BILL IS NOW IN THE SENATE

The Autonomy Bill Debated in the Red Chamber.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT

In Fine Form He Spoke in Favor of the Bill — House of Commons Voting the Estimates — Interior, Railway and Canal Items Voted — Complain of a Noisy Fog Horn At Toronto.

Ottawa, July 13.—Sir Richard Cartwright was heard in the Senate last night on the motion for the second reading of the autonomy bill. He was in fine form and his sonorous voice penetrated to every corner of the chamber, where usually many speakers are inaudible. Though his speech occupied only 30 minutes, it was a most able and luminous presentation of the salient features of the Government's case. Sir Richard received an attentive hearing, not only from the Senators but from the members of the House who had been attracted to the Red Chamber by his oratory.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

Moves the Second Reading.

The second reading of the bill was moved in the afternoon by Hon. R. W. Scott, who gave a clear and forcible explanation of its features and of the necessity for legislation.

Moves Six Months' Hoist.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell argued that the educational clause was in violation of Provincial rights. He also said there was legal doubt as to the right of Parliament to pass such legislation, and the courts should have been asked to clear the matter up. Sir Mackenzie closed by moving the six months' hoist.

A Question of Interpretation.

Sir Richard Cartwright, in his remarks, paid special attention to the statement that Provincial rights were encroached upon. He was a very strong advocate of Provincial rights, but the question did not arise in this case. These Provinces had no Provincial rights until they were created by the Dominion Parliament, and no legal obligation rested upon Canada. If any lawyer in Canada disputed that proposition Sir Richard would like to hear it.

Senator Landry—The Minister of Justice.

Sir Richard replied that the Minister of Justice did not dispute the proposition. No human being could pretend that there was a Province of Alberta or a Province of Saskatchewan until the measure creating it had passed Parliament and received the Royal assent.

IN THE COMMONS.

Afternoon and Evening Taken Up Voting the Estimates.

Ottawa, July 13.—The House of Commons yesterday began its morning sessions and heard complaints from Toronto members concerning the noisy foghorn. The Minister of Marine said experiments had to be made. The horns were manufactured in Toronto and must be tested. The experiments would go on for two or three weeks more.

Not After I. C. R.

Mr. Fitzpatrick introduced a bill to amend the act respecting arbitration between His Majesty and the Grand Trunk Railway. A bill was passed last session allowing the arbitrators to examine witnesses under oath. The present bill is to permit separate awards being made on different points, and also to permit the chairman of the Railway Commission to continue as one of the arbitrators.

W. F. Maclean asked if there was any proposition by the Grand Trunk to purchase the Intercolonial Railway.

Mr. Fielding: No such negotiations.

Mr. Emmerson. And no proposals.

Voting the Estimates.

Practically the entire afternoon and evening sessions was spent by the House in Committee of Supply, reducing the mountain of items which confronted them before school can be let out for the autumn vacation. Although there was a good deal of criticism by the Opposition of several particular items, fair progress was made with the Interior and Railways and Canals estimates. During the discussion on immigration Mr. Foster advanced the idea that immigrants should now be allowed to come in without the persuasion of a large force of agents. The Opposition also condemned the vote for connecting Newmarket with the Trent Valley Canal system. Items to the amount of $6,238,741 were passed during the day.

Hill's Battle Over.

Ottawa, July 13.—The Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern Railway bill was called at the Senate committee, and the bill was passed without any opposition. Senator Ferguson asked if the opposition to the bill was withdrawn, and he got the reply that it was.

London, July 12.—Cattle are quoted at 11c to 12½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9½c to 9½c per lb.; sheep, 13c to 14½c per lb.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, July 12.—(Special.)—The receipts were 1000 cattle, 20 milch cows, 500 calves, 800 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs. Besides these there were several hundred head of cattle, which were not on the market, but were sent out to pasture to wait for a better market. The excessive supplies in such hot, muggy weather had a very depressing effect on the prices all round, and a large number of the cattle will be held for next week's markets. Prime stall-fed beeves sold at 5c to 5¼c; pretty good cattle at 4¾c to 4¾c, and common stock at 3c to 3c per lb. A dealer bought about 100 fair-conditioned dry cows and steers at an average price of 3c per lb. These were sent out to pasture until the market recovers from the present depression. The milch cows were an ordinary lot, and sold at $35 to $40 each. Calves sold at from $2 to $10 each. Sheep sold at 3¾c to 3¾c per lb.; lambs at $2.50 to $4.00 each. The market for hogs was weaker and prices declined 25c per 100 lbs., owing to the extreme heat and limited demand from packers. Sales of selected lots were made at $5.60, and mixed lots at $5 to $5.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, July 12.—Cattle—Receipts, 200 head; dull; prices unchanged.

Veals—Receipts, 175 head; slow and steady, $5 to $7.50.

COULD LAUGH AT KAISER.

Ex-Minister Delcasse Explains Why British Alliance is Desired.

Paris, July 13.—Former Foreign Minister Delcasse, in the course of an interview published by The Gaulois yesterday upon the British and French naval amenities at Brest, was induced to discuss his general policy relative to Great Britain and Germany. He said:

"The policy of nations nowadays is not based on sentiment or antipathy, but upon their material interests. As between Germany and Great Britain our commercial balance shows where our interests lie. Great Britain is our best purchaser, while Germany buys almost nothing of us and tries to sell us all she can. Moreover it is evident that we could not leave open irritating controversies with Great Britain which might precipitate an armed struggle, for Great Britain holds indisputably the empire of the seas.

"For every warship we build she builds four or five. It is therefore well to accept these manifest facts and consider the value which British co-operation would give us in certain eventualities. The greatest intrinsic value of such co-operation would be the virtual impossibility in which it would place Germany of making war upon us.

"It is the sea which it is necessary to command to-day, and the war in the Far East has conclusively demonstrated that."

In conclusion Minister Delcasse was asked for his opinion of France's accepting a conference on Morocco, to which he gave the following textual response: "To go to a conference is a mistake—and such a mistake——!"

APPOINT CECIL B. SMITH.

Chief Engineer of Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Toronto, July 13.—Cecil B. Smith, chairman and chief engineer of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, has been appointed chief engineer of the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario, for such is the official designation of the body recently appointed by the Ontario Government to investigate the question of the development of water powers and its cost. Mr. Smith was appointed at yesterday morning's sitting, at which all the members were present.

The chief engineer will give his entire time to the duties of the dual position. He receives an honorarium of $3,000 from the Government as engineer of the railway; and the power commission will, it is expected, duplicate this. The decision to seek joint quarters is taken to mean that the new railway will be operated by electricity. It is known that this is one of the questions that are now being considered by the Government.

Pending the appointment of a secretary, W. C. Wilkinson of the law department will act as secretary.

Suicides In Police Cell.

Essex, July 13.—Geo. Mustard, aged about 55, committed suicide, yesterday morning by hanging himself in the police cell. Deceased had been drinking the last few days, and Tuesday night was arrested. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning he appeared to be quite sober and wanted to get out. He was told he would be let out in the morning. After this deceased took a rope off an old tent lying in the cell, hitched it to the ceiling and hung himself. He leaves a widow and large family.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton Street, Port Hope, Ont., states:—"I was troubled for some time with kidney disease and though I tried a great many different medicines, never succeeded in obtaining relief until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease.

NOT CAPTURED YET.

Joe Bennett, the Alleged Indian Murderer, Eludes the Searchers.

Brantford, July 12.—No authentic report of an arrest has reached this city from the Indian reservation, where Joe Bennett, charged with murder, is supposed to be in hiding. High Constable Montgomery, who is directing the man hunt, still maintains that Bennett has not got away, but that he will be caught.

LONG ago we realised that the baking and roasting qualities of the oven of a range are of greatest importance to the range user. We brought our knowledge, gained by years of experience, to bear on this one point. The result was the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue. With this exclusive feature, the Imperial Oxford stands to-day the most perfect baking and roasting range on the market.

After getting this most important feature of a range to such a point of perfection we naturally did not neglect any other improvement which could add to the working of the range. These improvements were incorporated in the because they added to the life of the range, simplified its operation or economized fuel.

Of these improvements the draw-out oven rack is one which will instantly appeal to the cook. The handle of this rack is outside the range—always cool enough to hold with the bare hand. By pulling this handle forward anything roasting in the oven may be drawn out onto the oven shelf to be basted, without touching the hot pan or reaching into the oven. The same applies to the testing of bread, cake or pies.

We would like you to see the Imperial Oxford Range. If your dealer doesn't handle it, write us for illustrated literature and the address of the nearest dealer who does. 15

that's a "porterhouse" in reality, as well as in name—tender, juicy, fine-flavored—can always be had at Kennedy's Meat Market, first because it will be cut from a prime grade of beef; second because great care is taken in handling the meat, third because it's cut just exactly as a porterhouse should be cut. We take special pride in our meats, but equal care is taken with everything in the meat line.

FORTY LODGES IN LINE AT OMEMEE

The "Glorious Twelfth" Celebrated in That Town by Several Thousand Orangemen—Rain Interfered With the Parade, Which Was Held After the Addresses—Members of Parliament and Ministers Speak of the Principles of Orangeism—A Most Successful Demonstration in Victoria County—Many Lodges Attended From West Peterborough.

The 215th. Anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne was successfully and fittingly celebrated yesterday at Omemee by the Orange Lodges of Victoria, Durham and West Peterborough. A larger procession or a bigger crowd was probably never seen in Omemee and it was a turnout which demonstrated that Orangeism is in a healthy condition in this district. The village was invaded at an early hour in the morning, and the historic airs, peculiar to the Glorious Twelfth, resounded throughout the streets all the day. The fife and drum bands were rarely silent, and the "Protestant Boys," "Boyne Water" and other music synonymous of Orange celebrations, filled the Sons of King William with loyal enthusiasm.

Rain Couldn't Spoil it.

The weather during the greater part of the day was very bad and at noon the rain was falling very heavily. But it takes more than weather to stop the Orangemen when they mean to celebrate, and as the bands played on, undismayed by the rain, and the many coloured uniforms were displayed just as prominently as if the sun was shining brightly. The wet weather was the cause of the procession being postponed until four o'clock by which time the rain was over.

About forty lodges took part in the grand procession and it was an interesting and impressive sight. Many fife and drum bands were in attendance as well as the brass bands. In fact few lodges were without a musical organization of some kind. The 57th Regimental Band was divided into two separate bands, one fourteen strong, playing for Emily L.O.L. No 41, and the other heading the Peterborough section. Both divisions of the band played very effectively, and their music was the subject of very favourable comment from the spectators. Other bands in the procession were the Welcome, North Smith and Millbrook organizations.

The accommodation at Omemee was

MR. W. H. G. ARMSTRONG,
Peterborough, Deputy District Master L. O. L.

almost inadequate for the enormous crowd that packed the village, and as a result even with the many improvised restaurants there was great difficulty in filling the needs of the innerman. There were booths everywhere on King street and all appeared to be doing a rushing business. Merry-go-Rounds and other attractions were also in evidence.

The Addresses.

At two o'clock an enormous crowd assembled before a platform on King street to listen to the usual speeches. This part of the ceremony was to have taken place at the grove, but owing to the wet weather it was not possible to gather there. The 57th Regimental Band re-united to play several selections, rendered in their most effective manner, and were warmly applauded by the crowd who thoroughly appreciated the music. Their playing was one of the features of the day.

The platform was occupied by a large number of the prominent Orangemen from the lodges present. Bro. Rev. J. M. Whitelaw made a very efficient chairman.

Welcome to Omemee.

Mr. J. T. Beatty, Reeve of Omemee, was the first speaker. He was very glad to be able to welcome them to Omemee and congratulated them on their fine appearance. The people of Omemee had done their best to provide for the Brethren and he hoped their efforts had not been in vain. He wished the Brethren continued success and prosperity.

Rev. Mr. McCulloch, the new pastor of the Methodist church, Omemee, was next called upon and made a very effective speech. He was very proud to be present on such an occasion. Although not an Orangemen himself he had many friends who were associated with the Order. There were several things which commended the Orange Order very highly to him. In the first place it was an undenominational order. The churches were liable to get into narrow circles. But this was not the case with the Orange Order which was founded on broad principles. Then the Order was loyal and no one had ever accused the Orangemen of being disloyal.

He was glad that he belonged to the British Empire and to the fairest province in the Dominion of Canada. The great thing to attain in the Orange Order was the fatherhood of our God and the brotherhood of Christianity.

Col. Hughes.

Col. Sam Hughes M. P., was the next speaker and was greeted with prolonged applause. His speech was a forcible and eloquent one. He regretted the unfavourable weather, but William III had not been afraid of water and he did not think his song would.

Col. Hughes then referred to the Autonomy Bill, which he characterized as an iniquitous measure.

When Nova Scotia and the other provinces had entered the Dominion they were given school systems of their own making, but the separate schools had been forced upon the people of the Territories. He didn't blame the Church of Rome, but he did blame the Protestant politicians

MR. W. A. KINDRED,
A Prominent Local Orangeman in Omemee Parade Yesterday.

of both parties. He had refused to support the attempt made by the Conservative government to coerce Manitoba, and he was now opposed to Sir Wilfrid Laurier forcing of separate schools upon the territories. The speaker in closing, referred to the absence of several familiar faces from the lodges.

Reminiscences of Derry.

After another delightful selection from the 57th Band, Rev. Wm. Johnston, of Bethel Mission, gave an address which was listened to with great attention. He looked upon the assembly as a great religious gathering coming together in defence of liberty. The speaker told of his having stood on the walls of Derry and seeing many things reminiscent of the famous seige. He had also stood upon the ground upon which the battle of the Boyne had been fought. The principles of the Orange Lodge were liberty and equal rights to all, and they were good principles.

Orangeman Congratulated.

Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M. P. P., was greeted with warm applause when he arose to speak. He regretted the wet weather, but he said that it seemed as if rain or heat could not stop the Orangemen when they wanted to celebrate. He congratulated the Orangemen on their grand demonstration and the people of Omemee for the way in which they had provided for their visitors. He expressed himself as being in hearty sympathy with the principles of Orangism. Some people say "Why celebrate the 12th of July? It only stirs ill feeling." "But," said the speaker "as long as the Church of Rome concinues aggressive, it is right to have some way to combat its influence." The speaker paid a tribute to the press of the land, which he says has immense power in moulding public opinion.

Rev. Mr. Toney, rector of the Anglican church, Omemee, was the next speaker. He was proud to welcome the Orangemen to Omemee and proud too, that he was a resident of Omemee, which he said was celebrated for two things, the bravery of its men and the beauty of its women. He was glad he was born under the British flag. He expressed himself as being strongly opposed to the Autonomy Bill, and had done all he could to resist it. The speaker closed with a reference to the great historical event which they were celebrating.

East Victoria's M. P. P.

Mr. S. J. Fox, M. P. P., East Victoria, was next called upon. He referred to the principles of Orangism handed down from our fathers—liberty and equal rights to all, and said the Orangemen should endeavour to improve upon them.

Bro. Sullivan Northey of Peterborough, asked permission to say a few words and was invited to the platform. He said that he had grown up an Orangeman and had always been one. He referred to the Conservative attempt to coerce Manitoba in 1896, and of the Laurier Government to coerce the Territories. On both those cases he had voted for liberty and he denied that he had voted for Laurier at the last election as one of the speakers had alleged.

Bro. J. McCartney, of Bethany, made a vigorous speech very strongly condemning the educational clause of the Autonomy Bill. The Pope of Rome was ruling our fair Dominion, he said, but the true Orangeman should not forget the Autonomy Bill and when the general elections once more came round, let them mete out punishment to those who have shown they deserve it by the stand they took in this most important matter. There were things in Ontario that should be rectified, for instance the Christian Brothers were allowed to teach in many places without a license.

Battle of the Boyne Recalled.

Dr. Wood, of Lindsay, who was introduced as an old Omemee boy, was the next speaker. He was glad to see such a gathering of loyal Orangemen, and said that it was in the village of Omemee that he had been educated in Orange principles. The speaker referred of the attempt of the Conservatives to coerce Manitoba in 1896, and said that the late Clarke Wallace, the head of the Order, stood head and shoulders above all men in opposing the measure. Dr. Wood attacked the Autonomy Bill. He closed with an eloquent reference to the Battle of the Boyne.

Col. J. W. Miller of Peterborough, was the last speaker. He addressed the gathering as true Orangemen, who were always prepared to fight when the Protestant religion was at stake. He referred to the Battle of the Boyne and the glorious heritage which had been handed down from it. Some people say that bigotry holds the Orange Order together, but the speaker said that the Orangemen were not bigoted, but believed in religious and political liberty, and denied the right of anyone to coerce them or their friends. Col. Miller closed by reminding the Orangemen that it was their duty to see that these principles were passed on to the next generation.

At the conclusion of the speeches three hearty cheers were given for the King, and the gathering dispersed.

The procession was formed immediately after the speeches, being marshalled by Bro. Thomas Newman, D. M., of Emily.

The procession was certainly a fine one and there were many neat and natty uniforms.

It was certainly a great day for the Orangemen despite the disagreeable weather, and the walk of 1905 will long be remembered by the loyal descendants of King William.

The village was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the work being done by Mr. A. Kingscote, of town, in his usual effecient and satisfactory manner.

WILL SWIM THE TRENT CANAL

From Lakefield to the Lift Lock at Peterborough.

This is the Feat Which H. T. Strickland Will Attempt.

On Monday Mr. H. T. Strickland, of Toronto, formerly of Lakefield, and a nephew of Mr. Harry Strickland, of town, will attempt a swimming feat, the equal of which has never been made in Canada, viz., that of swimming from Lakefield to Peterborough by the Otonabee River and the Trent Canal. This is a distance of 9 miles and if this famous swimmer succeeds in his attempt it will be an achievement of which he may well be proud. Mr. Strickland has written a letter to his uncle here which says:—

"Another fellow and I are going down to Lakefield Saturday to swim down from Lakefield to Peterborough which will establish the Canadian record. There is nothing in it for us but glory and a little ad. for Peterborough.

"If we leave Lakefield at 8 a.m., we figure to land at the lift lock at 1 p.m. We want some one in Peterborough to look after it for us, and report for the papers.

"I think that the City of Peterborough should give a couple of medals to us if we make the swim successfully.

"We would like some interest taken in the race and would be glad if we could get some one to do so.

"If we go down we will leave here Saturday morning, C. P. R., and swim Monday a.m.

"This event should create considerable interest here especially in view of the fact that Mr. Strickland is well known here.

"Mr. R. M. Roy will accompany the swimmers on their trip, with his yacht and will take the time. Mr. Strickland's performances in the past in this line have been watched with interest by his friends here, and if he succeeds in making this trip it will be a fresh achievement of which his friends will all be proud.

Medical Association Decide to Refuses Lodge, Factory, Sick Benefit Society or Insurance Work Under Contract After January First—All Must Pay Alike for Their Services—Some Reasons Why This Decision Was Reached—Meeting of the Local Doctors Held Last Night to Discuss the Matter—A Schedule of Charges Was Drawn Up.

Last night the Medical Association met in the Ontario Bank Chambers, and out of the twenty-six doctors in town, twenty-three were present. Two most important matters were discussed, that of the adoption of a schedule of prices, and contract work. In respect to the former the physicians decided to adopt a new schedule of charges, but the officers of the Society were instructed not to furnish copies of the schedule to the press at the present time, the reason being that it was hardly complete, some additions having to be made to it.

In general it was learned that the new schedule is in the aggregate slightly higher than the charges which have been made in the past, but in the majority of cases no material increase has been made, which fact, doubtless the "suffering" public will be glad to learn.

In discussing the question of contract work, it was decided that after January 1st, 1906, no doctor in the Association would accept such work. This means that after that date, lodges, factories, insurance companies, etc., will have to make some new provision to have their work done, and a radical change will be effected. Nearly all the large factories in town, and the majority of the lodges have arrangements made with doctors by which their employees or members as the case may be are given medical attention for a certain lump sum each year. In some cases the charges thus made are more than the services at the ordinary rates would amount to, but in the great majority of cases the charge is very much less.

It is felt by the doctors that this system is an injustice, both to those who accept the contract to do this work, and the other doctors, interfering as it does in many cases with the practice of having a family doctor.

A man who works in one of the factories gets his arm broken and he is attended by the factory doctor. His family doctor sees him walking around with his arm in a sling, and thinks that he has been turned down for another physician. The lodge work is even more objectionable to the doctors, and one of them stated to The Examiner to-day that the present situation was that the lodges were using the doctors as a football to boom their membership. The usual rate of pay was $1.50 per year for each member, but it was pointed out that this was altogether too low. A man takes sick with typhoid fever and his lodge doctor pays him say thirty visits, for which he receives $1.50, or five cents a visit. If another man not a member of a lodge gets the same disease, he calls in a doctor and has to pay $1 a visit. The doctors assert that this is a decided injustice, both to the doctors and the patients.

Those at the meeting last night discussed the matter fully, and although at the start, there was not a unanimity of opinion on the matter, it was finally made unanimous. One of the objections raised was that the lodges might combine and bring in a doctor to do their work, but in answer to this it was suggested that if the members of the profession stood together they could kill this action by refusing to consult with this doctor, if he asked for a consultation. It was pointed out that in this way they would be masters of the situation.

This is a matter which concerns a great many persons in the town, because perhaps the majority of men are either members of lodges which have a contract with a doctor, or they work in factories, where there is a benefit society, or where the company pays a doctor.

It will mean that after January 1st, the lodges which give their members free medical attendance, will have to charge higher fees, or dispense with the doctor's services, as all the members of the Association are now bound not to accept any work of this kind.

It is understood that some of the doctors came in for some pretty severe criticism from their brother, professional men at the meeting last night, on account of the allegation that they had been doing cheap work.

Good Steamship Business.

The passenger and freight accommodation on the boats leaving Toronto is taxed these days almost to its limit. The Kingston and Belleville, of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, left yesterday with every room occupied. Steamship men say this is the best year they have ever known for passenger traffic, and that freight is almost as good.

Scrap at Port Arthur.

J. McDermid and John Bentley worked their way up to Port Arthur on the Saronic and on going ashore began fighting, when Bentley knocked McDermid down and, drawing a knife, drew it almost around his victim's head as though he intended to scalp him, but McDermid managed somehow to free himself and ran away, the blood spurting from the wound. Bentley was coolly washing his hands and face in the lake when the police arrested him.

Stealing His Own Child.

William Crowder is under arrest at Sarnia, for stealing his own baby. He married a Sarnia woman two years ago, and they separated, and he then married a Port Huron, Mich. woman, without, it is alleged, securing a divorce. The second wife recently discovered Crowder's first marriage, and left him, taking their baby with her to Port Huron. Crowder went to her house, and snatched the baby from the cradle, and the second wife had him arrested.

Object to Farming.

A party of 100 English immigrants landed at Toronto yesterday, nearly all of whom were bricklayers, carpenters, or mechanics of one kind and another. Hardly any of them would hear of going on farms. One said to Mr. Perse, the immigration agent, "It is too bad to expect a man with a good trade at his finger's ends to go on a farm at $15 a month, and nothing for the winter. I have enough money left for a return ticket and would rather go back."

Henry Spilker's Suicide.

Henry Spilker, 40 years of age, of Muscoun, Mo., committed suicide in the city jail by tearing his shirt into stripe and hanging himself to the bars. Recently he told the police that he was jealous of his wife. John Lowery, Mrs. Spilker's first husband, committed suicide three years ago, because of jealousy. Mrs. Spilker is a middle aged woman. At the inquest she said that she would never marry again, because men were so foolish. She denied having given either husband any real cause for jealousy.

Bargains in Marriages.

Aspiring to the reputation of a "marrying squire," after many years in the magistrate's office, where none came to be married, James Edleman, of Henry County, Indiana, published a notice in a local paper agreeing to marry couples for 50 cents each at his home and throw in a night's lodging and supper and breakfast. The notice was read with incredulity, but when a couple appeared the magistrate gave them supper and provided them with the best room in his large residence. The next morning he gave them breakfast, and would accept nothing but a fee of 50 cents. Another and another couple came and were accorded like treatment, and within the last week there has been a rush of couples from Emery and surrounding counties.

JOSEPH BENNETT ARRESTED.

Nabbed by a County Constable at Supper in Dunn Township.

Dunnville, July 14.—Joseph Bennett, the supposed murderer of Betsy Jacobs, in Brant Indian Reservation, was arrested here last evening.

Chief County Constable Farrel of Cayuga tracked Bennett down and located him yesterday morning at the farm of Watson Murdock, in Dunn Township, with whom he had hired to assist in haying.

THE INDIAN JOSEPH BENNETT.

Farrell came to Dunnville and, securing the assistance of the local police, who knew Bennett, returned and arranged to secure their prisoner when he came in from the hay fields last evening.

Bennett sat down to the supper table with the other men and was seized from behind.

He was not armed and made no resistance, and did not deny his identity.

He will be taken to Brantford this morning.

AMENDE BY AUDITOR-GENERAL.

Allegation Against Mr. Collingwood Schreiber Publicly Withdrawn.

Ottawa, July 14.—The Public Accounts Committee held its final meeting for the session yesterday. Mr. J. L. Macdougall publicly withdrew his statement, made a week ago, that Mr. Collingwood Schreiber took his estimate of what the Sorel bridge cost from the Government. "I withdraw that altogether," he said. "When Mr. Schreiber tells me he did not, that is the end of it, so far as I am concerned."

Mr. Schreiber was again questioned by Mr. Barber as to the payments for the Sorel bridge subsidy, and admitted that the Auditor-General's refusal to obey the order-in-council had saved the country $16,803 so far, although he understood the company was not satisfied with the $14,725 received. The claim was paid five years ago.

Col. L. F. Pinault, Deputy Minister of Militia, was examined again with reference to the contract with Woods, Limited, Ottawa, for tents.

BRITAIN'S POSITION.

Balfour Replies to Interrogation Re Roosevelt's Proposals.

London, July 14.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Robertson asked Premier Balfour whether there had been any further representations in regard to the international conference proposed by President Roosevelt, and whether the Government was prepared to agree to the president's proposal to include in the subjects of discussion the question of making private property not contraband of war, free from capture or destruction.

Mr. Balfour replied that the Government cordially welcomed the proposal of President Roosevelt, but Great Britain, in common with other nations, reserved the right of considering what should be submitted to the conference.

The Premier added that there had not been any further negotiations on the subject.

Rev. Dr. Young Is Dead.

Winnipeg, July 14.—News was received this morning of the death of Rev. Dr. Young, Bishop of Athabasca, at Southwerth, England.

Rt. Rev. Richard Young, D. C. L., D. D., was born in Lincolnshire in 1842 and was ordained in 1868. He was incumbent of St. Andrew's parish, Manitoba, from 1875 to 1884 and Bishop of Athabasca from 1884 until 1903.

Welcomed in Paris.

Paris, July 14.—Over 100 British naval officers from the visiting squadron at Brest arrived here at noon yesterday and were met at the Invalides Railroad station by representatives of the Minister of Marine and a large party of French officers. President Loubet will give a reception in honor of the British officers to-day. The boulevards display many British flags.

SESSION NOW IN LAST STAGE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Sees Evil in Trading Stamps---Makes a Frank Statement---Minister of Justice Announced That He Was Not in Sympathy With the Bill---Sir Wilfrid Declared That Necessity Existed to Protect the People Against Themselves---Supply Passed.

Ottawa, July 14.—The problem of trading stamps occupied a good deal of attention in the House yesterday, when Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill to suppress them came up for second reading. Mr. Fitzpatrick announced himself as not in sympathy with the principle of the bill, which drew a spirited though brief declaration from Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the necessity for legislation which to that extent would protect the people against themselves. The bill eventually received the second reading, and now stands for its final stage, the text of the bill being as follows:

Trading Stamp Bill.

(1) The expression "trading stamps" includes, besides trading stamps commonly so called, any form of cash receipt, coupon, premium ticket or other device, designed or intended to be given to the purchaser of goods by the vender thereof, or his employe or agent, and to represent a discount on the price of such goods or a premium to the purchaser thereof, which is redeemable either (1) by any person other than the vendor or the person from whom he purchased the goods or the manufacturer of the goods, or (2) by the vendor or the person from whom he purchased the goods, in cash or foods not his property or not his exclusive property; or (3) by the vendor elsewhere than in the premises where such goods are purchased, or which does not show upon its face the place of its delivery and the merchantable value thereof, or is not redeemable at any time.

When its Not a Violation.

(b) An offer, printed or marked by the manufacturer upon any wrapper, box or receptacle in which the goods are sold, of a premium or reward for the return of such wrapper, box or receptacle is not a trading stamp within the meaning of the section.

(c) The expression "goods" means anything which is merchandise or the subject of trade or manufacture.

(d) The expressions "every one," "vendor," "purchase," "merchant," "agent" or "person" includes any partnership or company or body corporate.

Heavy Punishment.

(2) Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment and to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars who by himself or his employe or agent, directly or indirectly, issues, gives or sells or otherwise disposes of or offers to issue, give, sell or otherwise dispose of trading stamps to a merchant or dealer in goods for use in his business.

(3) Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to six months' imprisonment and to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars who, being a merchant or dealer in goods, by himself or his employe or agent, directly or indirectly, gives or in any way disposes of or offers to give or in any way dispose of trading stamps to a purchaser from him of any such goods.

Begins in November.

Section 4 imposes a maximum fine of $20 upon a person who receives stamps. The next clause applies the penalties of subsections 2 or 3 to any executive officer of a corporation or company who aids or abets the offences named. The last clause provides that "That this act shall not apply to any trading stamps issued by a manufacturer or vendor on or before the 1st day of November, 1905."

Grain Inspection Act.

The Senate bill amending the grain inspection act asked by the Board of Trade of Winnipeg and the Grain Growers' Association, were considered, and Hon. Thomas Greenway offered another amendment, as being in the interest of the grain grower. He did not see much necessity for the standard board. The established standards were fixed and should remain so. It would be a good thing for the trade if all below No. 3 northern were thrown into one grade of milling wheat. There was a great difficulty now as to the spread in price of wheat, which amounted to 17 3-3c between No. 2 and No. 3. He asked why farmers could not sell their wheat the same as any other produce. The amendments to the grain inspection act had all been of late in the direction of giving greater facilities to the farmer to market his wheat. The crop last year was 60,000,000 bushels, and of that more than 10,000,000 bushels was No. 3 northern, so that the loss to the farmer on No. 3 alone was half a million dollars. He proposed an amendment for the appointment of an officer in the interests of the shipper, who would have access to all inspection papers, transportation records, etc.

Mr. Fisher said that this could be done by order-in-council, and the Government had agreed to do so.

Arch. Campbell said that the difficulty mentioned might arise from the option markets in Winnipeg. At present No. 3 northern could not be delivered under contract.

Payment For Immigrants.

On motion to go into supply Mr. E. B. Osler moved that the Government give notice of cancellation of the contract with the North Atlantic Trading Co., under which $5 a head is paid for immigrants from the northern countries of Europe.

Hon. Mr. Oliver said Canada had been paying for immigrants at this rate for six years. The Conservatives had once done the same thing.

Mr. Foster said they had stopped doing so owing to the protests, chiefly from Liberals, in opposition.

Mr. R. L. Borden expressed the opinion that Canada's immigration efforts should be directed chiefly to getting people from Great Britain. Last year in Winnipeg there had been applications for the Bible in 37 languages. That showed the variety of people we were getting.

Mr. Uriah Wilson spoke at length on immigration matters, criticising the Government for lack of care in the past in bringing in immigrants.

Hon. Mr. Oliver quoted from a statement by Dr. Sproule in the Agriculture Committee a few years ago, approving a similar contract to that which the Opposition now condemned.

Dr. Sproule condemned the Government for encouraging immigration from northern Europe to come here and take our good lands and get favors not given to our own people.

Mr. H. H. Miller (South Grey), while agreeing that it was necessary to exclude some nationalities from Canada, thought that immigration would supply needed labor for farm and railway construction work.

After some further discussion the amendment was lost on division by 41 yeas to 78 nays.

The House in Supply.

The House got into Committee of Supply at 10 o'clock, and passed for the G. T. P. Ry. Co. and the I. C. R. items amounting to $2,440,362. Public Works estimates will be taken up to-day.

The House adjourned at 1 a. m.

In the Senate.

The Autonomy bill was debated in the Senate until one o'clock this morning.

PITIFUL CASE OF DROWNING

Kenora Keeps Up Her Unenviable Record of Death---Mother Saved---Boy Drowns---Mrs. Law and Her Seven Year Old Boy and a Friend Were on a Raft When it Shot Into Deep Water---Eli Fell Into the Water and Never Rose Again---Mother Jumped in After Him—Other Casualities

Kenora, July 14.—Another drowning accident occurred here yesterday at Sandy Beach, Coney Island, when Eli Law, the 7-year-old son of Conductor Law, of the C. P. R., lost his life. Mrs. Law and young Law, along with another young friend, got on a raft and were being pushed along by bathers close to the shore, when the raft shot into deep water and Eli fell into the water.

The mother, to save her boy, jumped in after him, but the lad never rose again. Screams brought Mark Musk from his cottage, who plunged in and with difficulty rescued Mrs. Law, who had gone down a second time. Other people arriving, they got the body up after 10 minutes, but all efforts at resuscitation were unavailing.

Drowns in Hotel Bath.

Montreal, July 14.—Douglas Remnie, a young man aged 20 years, was seized with an epileptic fit while swimming at the Bath Hotel last night and was drowned.

A Frank Elliott's Horrible Death.

Ottawa, July 14.—Frank Elliott, aged about 16 years, met a horrible death last night.

He was engaged at J. R. Booth's big mill at the Chaudiere Falls, and was caught in the carriers which carry the sawdust to the incinerator. The unfortunate fellow was carried to the top and hurled into the fiery furnace.

His charred body was taken out at the bottom where the ashes are removed.

Killed by Iron Bar.

Toronto, July 14.—Frank Brank 66 Albert street, was instantly killed by a 300-lb. bar of iron, which he was unloading from a truck, falling upon his head and crushing his skull. The accident occurred just north of King on Bay street, and was caused by Brant slipping on the curb. His brother, living near Dundas, has been notified.

Smothered by Well Gas.

Winnipeg, July 14.—Peter Anderson was smothered to death by gas at Yorkton while digging a well. He was lately from Minnesota and leaves a widow and small family.

Perhaps Fatally Injured.

Lac du Donnet, Man., July 14.—While engaged in drilling rock at the dam of the Power Co. here Wednesday, two Italian laborers struck an unexploded shot and were seriously, if not fatally, injured. One had his foot blown off, and the other received a serious scalp wound and had his arm broken.

Gave His Life For Another.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 14.—Dr. William Clarke, aged 40 years, of Maine, N. Y., lost his life Wednesday afternoon while assisting in the rescue of Edwin Haskins, a 12-year-old boy, who had gone beyond his depth while in swimming. The boy was saved.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE"

PRAISE FOR A FAMOUS MEDICINE

Mrs. Willadsen Tells How She Tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Just in Time.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude to you in words.

Mrs. T. C. Willadsen

"Before I wrote to you, telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady and spent lots of money on medicines besides, but it all failed to help me. My monthly periods had ceased and I suffered much pain, with fainting spells, headache, backache and bearing-down pains, and I was so weak I could hardly keep around. As a last resort I decided to write you and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful that I did, for after following your instructions, which you sent me free of all charge, my monthly periods started; I am regular and in perfect health. Had it not been for you I would be in my grave to-day.

"I sincerely trust that this letter may lead every suffering woman in the country to write you for help as I did."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse all substitutes.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ENJOYABLE DAY AT JUBILEE POINT

Park Street Baptist Sunday School Had Delightful Outing.

The Prize Winners in the Games—Committees in Charge.

The members of the congregation and friends of Park Street Baptist Sunday School to the number of about two hundred left the Wolfe street wharf at 8.15 yesterday morning per donia price is now not much more steamer City of Peterborough, on the annual picnic under the auspices of the Sunday School. The weather was fine and an enjoyable time was spent on the boat, and at the park.

The boat made the trip in the good time of two and one-half hours, arriving at Jubilee at a 10.45.

After dinner had been disposed of the young people amused themselves playing ball.

A ball game between two picked teams resulted in a score of 2—2 in favour of the winners, of course.

Batteries for winners.—J. Pilling and W. Denoon; for losers, Jackson and Killenbeck.

The following were the winners in the sports which were run off in the afternoon:—

Girls' race, 6 years and under — Aline Braund, Gertrude Henderson.

Boys' race, 6 years and under — Stanley Henderson, Ethelbert Boys.

Girls race, 9 years and under — Verne Lee, Lillian Tranter.

Boys' race, 9 years and under — Walter Evans, Harvey Holt.

Girls' race, 10—12 years — Pearl Pogue, Ada Barrie.

Boys' race, 10—12 years — Molly Smith, Frank Barrie.

Girls' race, 12—15 years — Bessie Mowry, Mossie Loomis.

Boy's race, 12—16 — Charlie Pegue, Young ladies' race—Bessie Mowry, Mossie Loomis.

Young men's boot race — Douglas Loomis, Roy Jackson.

Boys' three-legged race — Will Denoon and Roy Jackson.

Wheelbarrow race—(Will Denoon and Walter Labby.

Girls' consolation race — Viola Booth, Ethel Killenbeck.

It was a hungry crowd that made the trip, sixteen gallons of ice cream not being sufficient to satisfy them in that line.

The Committee in charge of the day's outing was Messrs. Gillespie, Haddow and Inkpen. The sports committee consisted of Messrs. Haddow and Inkpen, and Misses E. Gillespie, G. Buntin, A. Miller and M. Oldham had charge of the refreshment stand.

The highest appreciation of their services is due the boat's crew who looked after the welfare of the passengers and did all in their power to make the trip a pleasant one and free from irksome delays.

OLDEST DURHAM COUNTY FAMILY

Last Surviving Member Died on Thursday.

William H. Harris J. P. Grandson of First Settler in Durham.

William H. Harris, J. P., the last surviving member of the oldest Durham county family, died on Thursday at the family residence, "Brandon Manor," near Port Hope.

The late Mr. Harris was a grandson of Myndert Harris, who came to Port Hope in 1793, and was the first actual settler in that part of the Province. Prior to the American revolution the family owned the best farms in Duchess County, New York State. At that time they were strictly conservative in every sense of the term, and remained loyal to the British Crown. With the close of the war they found themselves surrounded on all sides by enemies. In 1785, under the protection of the retiring British Governor, of New York State, Sir Guy Carleton (Lord, Dorchester,) the Harris family sought a home at Digby, on the Bay of Fundy, in Nova Scotia. The choice was an unfortunate one and after seven weary years the family decided to again emigrate. They made their journey from Nova Scotia to Upper Canada, through the State of New York, and upon their arrival at Niagara they were entertained by Governor Simcoe, who had not then removed to Little York.

By the Governor's advice, Myndert Harris, the elder, determined to settle at Smith's Creek, whither he was despatched in a Government gunboat, commanded by Capt. Jonathan Walton, a gentleman whose name is familiar to all old residents of Port Hope, and whose surname is perpetuated in the designation of the principal street of the town. The boat reached its destination on the 8th of June, 1793, and the family at once disembarked, when they found some two hundred Indians in encampment. It took all the eloquence of Captain Walton to convince the Indians that the newcomers were not "Yankee intruders," but loyal subjects of the "Great Father" — King George III of England.

The late William Hamilton Harris was born in Port Hope, near Smith's Creek, on October 28th, 1821, and was thus in his 84th year. The township of Hamilton had just been surveyed and named, and the late Mr. Harris was named after it.

In 1847 Mr. Harris married Eliza, only daughter of the late Gardiner Gifford, and settled in the township of Hope. Their farm was new and rich and they were prosperous, having amassed considerable property at his death. In 1882 he purchased the Brand estate, where he had lived ever since, with the exception of a few years spent in Port Hope. He had been a magistrate of the county for more than thirty years. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, and respected by all who knew him. He was connected by marriage with nearly all the old county families, being a first cousin of the late Hon. Sidney Smith.

Mr. Harris leaves a family of three. They are Anna, wife of Albert N. Ball, of "Revelstoke Manor," Hope; Alice, widow of the late Stephen Carr, at home; and Myndert, in Clarke. There are four grandchildren, Dr. Walton Ball, of Toronto; Messrs. H. G. W. and E. H. W. Ball, Hope; and Miss Aggie Carr.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 3 o'clock.

Not Just as Good

When you go to your druggist to buy "Ozone" ask and demand "Solution of Ozone, the coupon kind". This will give you a twenty-five cent package of "Celery King". It will give you the best preparation of "Ozone" in the world and it gives you about twice as much for your money as other brands, sixteen ounces for fifty cents, over twice that much for a dollar and a package of the well known remedy "Celery King" free.

We put "Celery King" coupons in our "Ozone" because the people know "Celery King", because it gives better results with "Celery King" and because no other firm can give "Celery King" with "Ozone". It cures, that's the reason we give you a package free and that's the reason you should never buy any other kind.

Ask for "Solution of Ozone, the coupon kind". Fifty cents and one dollar at your drug store and don't take any other kind, because if you do you won't get a package of "Celery King".

MR. DUNCAN BUMP GETS HIS BUMPS

American Newspapers Repudiate His Officious Action.

Even the Right of the American to Make a Fool of Himself Outraged.

Duan Bump, collector of customs at Charlotte, N.Y., hoped, no doubt, that by this time he would be regarded as a patriotic hero in the eyes of his fellow-countrymen. He saw his chance to gain that distinction easily and without any danger to himself. By simply refusing to give the Canadian Captain Simmons his clearance papers until the captain hauled down from the masthead the Union Jack which had been raised in honour of the Fourth of July, the queer name of Duan Bump might be added to the shorter roll of native-born American worthies.

Poor Bump must now realize that he blundered. His act did not cause a wave of indignant protest throughout Canada and the rest of the British empire, as Bump doubtless hoped. Alas! on this side of the lakes Bump was only laughed at as a chump of more than ordinary chumpishness. The indignation was on his own side of the international boundary. If we are to judge from newspaper comment, intelligent Americans regard Bump's action with disgust. For example, the Detroit Free Press sorrowfully remarks that "unfortunate though the omission may be, there is nothing in the constitution to prohibit a man's permitting his patriotism to make a fool of him." And the Cleveland Plain Dealer pays its respects to Bump in this fashion:

The inalienable right of the free American to make a fool of himself on the glorious Fourth is too firmly established to be challenged, but it is a question whether the general license of the day can be held to excuse the action of a public official in insulting and threatening other injury to the stranger within his gates who seeks only to do his country honour. An American skipper who should be treated thus for flying the stars and stripes in Portsmouth on the king's birthday or in Oberbourg on July 14 would think himself aggrieved and the whole country would agree with him. No clear headed and fair minded American can feel anything but shame over such an incident or have any sensation save one of satisfaction on learning that the Washington government had disciplined the offender.

Canadians don't want to have poor Bump punished. Knowledge of the fact that his foolish act is regarded with shame and utterly repudiated by the mass of his fellow-countrymen, is sufficient to allay any resentment that may have been caused on this side of the border. For such acts are resented mainly because of the general spirit which they are sometimes supposed to express.

TWO AIRSHIPS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Capt. T. S. Baldwin in Charge of the Aerial Contests.

Navigation of the Air Promises to be Solved at the Fair.

Special to the Examiner.

Portland July 14.—With two airships already on the grounds, and a series of flights and contests scheduled for an early date, the prospects of successful demonstrations at the Lewis and Clark Exposition of the practicability of aerial navigation are exceedingly bright. Captain T. S. Baldwin, inventor of the California Arrow, the only successful airship at St. Louis last summer, is in charge of the contests at Portland, which, for the first time, have been put upon a practical financial basis, so as to avoid all unnecessary flukes.

The two airships now housed in the aerodrome, on the Aeronautic Concourse at the Fair, are the Angelus, which was designed by Captain Baldwin, and built by him in Portland, and a machine of which Charles B. Knox, a prominent gelatine manufacturer of Johnstown, N.Y., is the inventor. Both machines are built after the model of Captain Baldwin's Arrow, but differ in important details of construction. The machines have gas bags for lifting power, and the propelling machinery rests on an open framework composed of three long, light beams, braced frequently by cross pieces. The framework is of triangular cross section. The aeronaut, while running the machine, stands on one of the lower beams. While the airships are steered to the right or left by means of a rudder like that on a boat, the upward and downward direction is obtained by changing the balance of the craft, this being accomplished by the aeronaut moving forward or backward along the beam.

Captain Baldwin's machine has a cigar-shaped bag of pongee silk, 69 feet long by 22 feet in diameter, and has a capacity of 16,000 cubic feet. The framework and engine weigh 815 pounds. Oregon spruce was used exclusively in the construction of the frame, as this wood, according to Captain Baldwin, is the lightest and strongest known. The motive force for the craft is furnished by a seven and a half horse-power two-cylinder, four-cycle gasoline motor, which is situated near the forward end. The propeller, which consists of two blades similar to those used in water navigation, is located at the forward end, and pulls the airship after it. This is done so that the air current engendered may be used to cool the engine. The rudder, which sticks out behind like the tail of a fish is, operated by steering ropes. Lincoln Beachy, of San Francisco, has been engaged as aeronaut.

In the Knox machine, which is in charge of George C. Tomlinson, an aeronaut of Syracuse, N. Y., the gas bag is 41 feet long and 19 1-2 feet in diameter, and shaped like an elongated egg. Tomlinson's machine has a propeller with disc-shaped blades, which he claims is a distinct advantage, and he has his engine moved forward of the centre of gravity. This enables the aeronaut to be near his engine all the time. Tomlinson's engine is a single-cylinder, five horse-power machine.

Captain Baldwin, who has charge of the flights and contests at the Fair, has agreed to furnish twenty ascents during the Exposition period, which continues until October 15, and, if weather conditions permit, he will give two exhibitions a week. Weather conditions at Portland are far superior to those at St. Louis, strong winds being quite infrequent, and on this account, if for no other, it is thought that the airship experiments may meet with success. The gas-making arrangements are also much superior, and the place of starting, on the shore of Guild's Lake, in the western part of the grounds, is an ideal one. It is planned that the airships shall describe a course over the City of Portland, circle the Observation Tower on Portland Heights, and return to the starting place.

Captain Baldwin, who is probably the foremost aerial navigation expert in the United States, has been working on the problem of aerial navigation for a quarter of a century, originally a tight wire walker, he became interested in balloon ascensions, and conceived and worked out the idea of the parachute leap. He was also for some time a well-known baseball magnate. The captain is affable and talks interestingly of his business.

"I shouldn't be surprised if some of these young fellows would beat me out," he said, "Tomlinson has a good ship, and he may turn the trick. I think we are going to have some good contests anyway."

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhoea.

It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success.

It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe attacks of cramp colic and cholera morbus.

It is equally successful for summer diarrhoea and cholera infantum in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his house. Buy it now. It may save life.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORT-WEST.

HOMESTEAD REGULATION.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

PATRONIZE OUR MERCHANTS

A city merchant has been good enough to draw our attention to an article which appeared in a recent issue of Dun's Bulletin, dealing with the practice of people in the various communities of Ontario sending their money to and purchasing their supplies from the large departmental stores in the provincial capital instead of patronizing the merchants in their own localities, remarks the Woodstock Review. The article quite rightly maintains that this practice is not fair to the local merchants. The article goes on to show how the numerous catalogues that are mailed by these departmental stores to the individual addresses of everyone in the community having any purchasing power together with the large amount of newspaper advertising done by these same stores are responsible for this unsatisfactory state of affairs. The article rightly claims that the home merchant helps to build the houses and churches the public buildings, thereby assists in every way in maintaining and building up the town in which he resides thus making the community richer thereby and at the same time a more desirable place to reside while the departmental store in the city several hundred miles distant pays nothing back to the communities from which it derives a large portion of its revenue and is consequently of no benefit to these communities.

We feel that the above conclusions are right. Local merchants ought to receive as much of the public patronage as it is possible to give them. It is true that complaints have been made that certain merchants have endeavoured to take advantage of many of our citizens because they were railroaders and therefore supposed to have the ready cash which is generally put down for goods without the dickering that clerks have with others. Railroaders are good buyers. They make good wages and do not haggle over a few cents in prices. When purchasing goods they expect the best and naturally suppose that they are being treated fairly and are not being imposed upon because of the fact that they do not endeavour to beat the merchants down in his price. It must not be supposed the practice of imposing on any class is a habit with any of our merchants, but the complaint has been made that buyers have been subjected to such treatment in the past. We have great faith in our merchants and believe that they are prepared to deal honestly and fairly with the public. It is true that there are more shoddy goods disposed of in the States and railroaders who are not expert in knowing the qualities or value of goods may, in some cases, imagine they are getting a bargain, when on the other hand they are in reality paying more for the goods as to real value than they would have paid had they purchased at home, and paid a little higher price. Our merchants are the backbone of our city, and when they do the right thing by the public are justly entitled to the first consideration. As advertisers they are second to none in any city in Ontario, and they are always found foremost in the promotion of the city's best interests. For that reason thier goods and prices ought to be examined and considered before purchasers take or send their money out of town, to departmental stores, which contribute nothing towards the development of the city or the welfare of the citizens. Our merchants as a rule are wideawake and carry stocks of the right quality, so that the people ought not to consider it necessary to go to the larger cities for their requirements.

Furthermore, it is said by people who should know whereof they speak, that shopping can be done in the local stores on a more economical basis than in the large departmental stores of the metropolis. Consequently, the public in addition to leaving their money at home and thus building up their own city, thereby enhancing their own property, and at the same time making the community a more desirable place in which to reside, do so with a direct financial benefit to themselves.

While the conditions referred to in the above article apply specially to a railway town, the principle is the same everywhere, and the admonition to patronise our home merchants may be given to Peterborough buyers with equal justification.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Now that the Sunday school picnics are about over, there will be a marked decrease in the attendance at the Sunday afternoon sessions of these institutions for the religious instruction of the young.

A man in New York, or some place, died from drinking ice water, so that, after all, may be it's just as well that Ald. Batten's committee has decided not to have ice put in the two town fountains this year. But the cold water tastes good, just the same.

And now because the City Council refuses to pay the hundred bucks for wiring Jackson Park unless the Radial Railway Company puts in that apparatus to make water hot, just as if it was not hot enough for some of us now, the latter says they can keep their money, and they'll take out the lights in the fall, and light them just when they get good and ready.

The discoveries of cobalt in Cobalt, Ont. on the Temiskaming Railway, having more than doubled the world's visible supply of the mineral the result has been a rather sharp depression in the price of cobalt especially in New Caledonia the only other region which has any quantity of the ore. As yet the Ontario miners are mostly getting the high prices which prevailed when the discoveries were first made because they have contracts with a New York firm at 60 to 75 cents a pound for the cobalt in the ore, although the New Caledonia price is no wnot much more than half this. The New York firm which is buying practically all the cobalt nickel, silver cobalt, and arsenic ore is managed by Mr. Harris, who has associated with him some of the leading shareholders of the International Nickel Company, which owns the Sudbury nickel mines.

BRIGHT FUTURE IS PREDICTED

Prophecy That British Columbia Will be the Greater Province.

Great Wealth of Timber, Mineral and Agricultural Resources.

The Canadian Pacific Railway owns large areas of land on the mainland of British Columbia, and within the last year or two has taken considerable pains to draw attention to the agricultural possibilities of some of the fertile valleys in which the railway is interested. Settlement has however, been slow, the greater attractions of prospecting and mining absorbing for the most part the energies of the population and of the incomers. The very profusion of nature is moreover, a deterrent. In favoured places the forest growth is so gigantic so thick, and so matted with undergrowth and windfalls that the mere settler with his axe is appalled at the task before him.

According to a despatch from Victoria a new era is about to begin. The Canadian Pacific recently acquired the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway on Vancouver Island. The railway has a land grant of a million and a half acres of land. So far not much impression has been made on this area because of the cost of clearing up the agricultural sections of it. The railway now, however, proposes to go to work and clear the land employing for the purpose the irresistible powers of steam and the machinery that modern ingenuity is able to supply. Clearing the land in this extensive and wholesale way the management expects to be able to sell the land at $70 an acre. Some of the railway companies in the State of Washington, where a similar condition of gigantic forest growth exists, have followed this plan, and settlers have been rushing in to the cleared lands. The plan for the work has been formed by Mr. J. S. Dennis, Assistant Second Vice-President of the road. Mr. Dennis is just completeing the first section of the great irrigation ditch in the Calgary District, by which a large area of agricultural lands will be brought into use in 1906. He is one of the prophets of the West, where he has spent the greater part of his life. High as is his opinion of the prairie provinces it is still higher in regard to British Columbia, which, he has been heard to say, will yet be the greatest province in the Dominion. The new policy with regard to a portion of the agricultural lands will make a very good beginning in showing how they can be made available for the uses of the husbandman.

We sometimes forget how large an area Vancouver Island occupies. It contains 16,000 square miles, eight times as large as Prince Edward Island and but little less than Nova Scotia. The climate is much milder than any other part of British America, and while a great part of its area is hilly there are, nevertheless, large areas of grazing and agricultural lands. If the plans of the Canadian Pacific prove successful on Vancouver Island they will undoubtedly be also employed on the areas of timbered land owned by the company on the mainland.

SHIRT-CUFF NOTES OF TRIP THROUGH CANADA

WOODMEN LIKE THE EXAMINER

Official Organ of the W.O.W. Reports Meeting Here.

An Enjoyable Visit With the Woodmen of Peterborough—Trip to the Locks.

The Canadian Woodman of this month says:

In another column will be found a very good "write-up" of the Executive Meeting, which was held in the city of Peterborough, on the 27th and 28th of June. It is taken from the "Peterborough Examiner."

We take this occasion to thank this paper for the very fair account it has given of the meeting, and of the financial standing of the Order. At the same time we would like to call the attention of the members to the financial standing of the Order for this year up to the 25th of June, which is practically the first half of the year.

Reference is then made to the finances of the Order. Continuing, The Woodman says:

We might say that at the conclusion of the business of the Executive the Peterborough Camp tendered to the Executive an excursion on the steamship Stony Lake, in charge of Captain W. Scollard, through the famous lift locks, Trent Canal, and picturesque Kawartha Lakes.

Those in charge of the excursion from Peterborough were: Sovs. Haskell, Gibbs, Armstrong, T. B. Manice, B. Waram, Kennedy, Gunsolas, Millburn, Rickey, Mellis, Worboy, W. Manice, Johnston, Lake, Taylor, Mickle, Graham, McBain, Hickey, and the representatives from the Ladies' Circle were: Mesdames Tooley, Gibbs, Brooks, McCallum, Taylor, Peters, Armour, Roe, Hickey, Haskell and Moss.

Sovs. Haskell and Gibbs were untiring in their efforts for the comfort of the Executive and their friends, as, well as those accompanying the excursion. On the boat we had dinner and tea, and all returned, having enjoyed the ride extremely, with loud praise for the hospitality of Peterborough and its members. Accompanying the excursion was Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M. P. P., local member for West Peterborough.

Excursion to Thousand Islands.

Rev. F. B. Stratton, of excursion fame, has arranged for an excursion in the interests of the Queen street church, Lindsay, by special train from Mariposa to Belleville, July 29, leaving there at 9.45 by the spacious steamer Niagara, running direct to Kingston and Island Park, stopping at the Park over Sunday, returning on Monday. Fare from Peterborough $2.15 for round trip. Plan for it and go. For particulars see bills. 1d

LOCAL PUPILS SCORE SUCCESS

Miss McCabe's Pupils Were All Successful.

In Recent Toronto College of Music Examinations—Many Secure Honor Standing.

All the pupils of Miss McCabe, who tried the recent examinations in Toronto College of Music have been successful. The list is as follows:—

Senior Rudiments — Janet Quinn, first-class honours; Emily Walker, first-class honours.

Intermediate Piano — Janet Quinn, second-class honours.

Junior Piano — Lizzie Smith, pass; Primary Piano—Angela Devlin, second-class honours; Alice Neil, second-class honours; Harold Brown, pass.

Miss McCabe and her pupils are to be congratulated upon the success attained, as the results evidence not only a high standard of musical ability among the pupils, but a thorough and excellent tuition.

ENJOYABLE OUTING TO JACKSON PARK

Primary Classes of St. Andrew's Sunday School Had a Pleasant Time.

Yesterday afternoon the Primary and Kindergarten Classes of St. Andrew's Sunday School enjoyed an outing to Jackson Park. Misses Tully, Robertson and McMillan were in charge of the pupils.

The youngsters amused themselves playing in the park, and at four o'clock they were taken for the round trip on the street cars.

On their return to the park a shower of rain came on, making it uncomfortable for the children. The need of a covered pavilion was felt, and it was thought that if the bandstand was covered, and some blinds or shutters placed around the side it would make a suitable shelter for parties who were unfortunate enough to get into similar circumstances.

Tea was served in the park, and the young people left for their homes early in the evening well satisfied with their day's outing.

THE SUMMER SEASON AT RICE LAKE

Late Season Keeping Tourists Back From Summer Resorts.

The summer season has not been very brisk at Rice Lake resorts, the reason probably being the lateness of the season and the inclement weather. But with the warm days now being enjoyed campers and tourists are beginning to arrive. There are very few campers along the Otonabee River who are spending a few weeks' holidays, but on Saturday afternoons many small parties pitch their tents a few miles down the river, staying over Sunday to enjoy the fresh air and perfumed breezes from the surrounding woods and fields after the close and dusty atmosphere of the city.

The fishing at Rice Lake in good, many fine catches of bass and lunge having been made.

Has Given Satisfaction.

Mr. Kingscote has received the following testimonials on his work in Omemee:

Omemee, July 13, '05.

We the committee on the Orange Demonstration at Omemee July 12th, 1905, tender to Mr. A. Kingscote, our appreciation of the manner in which he decorated our town on the 12th of July, and kept the decorations in good shape for the celebration, giving us entire satisfaction in every particular.

Signed on behalf of the committee,
W. R. Collingham; W. Neil, J. J. Willemon, John G. Beatty, District Secretary, Thos. Mewan, District Master, L.O.L., Omemee.

From the Mayor of Omemee,—

Omemee, July 13, 1905.

I have to congratulate Mr. Kingscote on the way he decorated our town for the brethren of the local Orange Orders on the 12th of July. The decorations put up by Mr. Kingscote were satisfactorily done, and, on behalf of the citizens of Omemee, I extend to him our best thanks.

Joseph T. Beatty,
Mayor of Omemee.

CITY NEWS OF TO-DAY

—There was nothing doing at the Police Court this morning.

—To-night the Board of Works will meet in the City Clerk's Office.

—A large British plate mirror, handsomely framed, at a bargain, for quick sale, at The Framery. dtf

—Piano tuning promptly attended to. Satisfaction guaranteed. A. F. Hoover, 222 McDonel street. 'Phone 193.

—W. F. Nelson & Co. will execute the following orders promptly: general auditing, book-keeping systems established, accounts collected. 287 Water street. 'Phone 325. 5d100 —Is your clothing cleaned clean? Bring your suits, dresses, etc., to "My Valet." We have no machinery for pressing the dirt in. We clean by hand, and our cleaning lasts. Wesley & Seymour, phone 576.

—Come for a sail to-night or a fish. Boats to hire at the new Otonabee boat house, terminus of the street railway. Leave order with caretaker on premises. Moderate charges. H. B. Rye, proprietor. dtf

—A warning has been issued by the Ontario Bank cautioning the public to beware of a rather dangerous counterfeit ten-dollar note on the Ontario Bank which has made its appearance within the last few days.

—Strawberries—fresh picking today from Cedar Park Gardens; will have them regularly until close of season. Fresh crock butter arriving daily; good time to buy. Also sound potatoes and new cabbage, at James R. Bell's, 161 Hunter street. 'Phone 455. dtf.

—Beer was flowing in plenty to-day, and quite a quantity of it sprinkled our main street. The brewery waggon, with three hogsheads, was going down the street this afternoon when one of the hogsheads burst and the foaming liquid flowed freely about the street.—Port Hope Guide.

—An exciting incident occurred in the office of Messrs. Hall & Hayes yesterday afternoon when an unknown gentleman who entered the office, became overcome by the heat, and fell unconscious upon the floor. He was removed to the Hospital, and had recovered sufficiently to be out to-day.

—A special meeting of Court Peterborough No. 29, C.O.F., will be held in their hall, Simcoe street, this evening for the purpose of initiating a number of new members. All those who have recently become members of Court Peterborough are especially invited. Organiser Copeland who leaves this town next week, will be present and give an address.

—An agricultural high school is the next educational institution to be established in the province. The Government has had the proposal under consideration for some time, the purpose being to give boys and girls a special agricultural training, while they are still in the high school age. A deputation from Napanee has waited upon the Government asking that the school be established in that town.

—A recent regulation issued by the postal department is worth bearing in mind by those having boxes. As all the postmasters are liable to make mistakes in putting mail matter into wrong boxes, this new regulation requires people to examine their mail before leaving the office and should they find a piece not addressed to them they must return it at once, or be liable to a fine of $200. That it is the fault of the postmaster makes no difference.

—The insurance companies in Toronto have announced that in future the 15 cents added some time ago to commercial risks will be knocked off. This increase on commercial risks means approximately $500,000 annually in Ontario and Quebec. Following up this idea, says an exchange, there is no reason why general insurance in towns should be as high as it is, unless it is to make up for losses sustained in the large cities, and this is manifestly unfair.

—Mr. F. J. Bell has received the following letter from Washington:

Frank J. Bell, in charge of American Consular Agency, Peterborough Ont.:

Sir,—The President, having appointed Roland J. Hemmick, of Pennsylvania, Commercial Agent at Peterborough, you are instructed to deliver to him the records and archives of the office, the seals, flags and arms, together with the revised statutes, the Statutes at Large, consular regulations, and all other books and property in your business belonging to the United States upon his application therefore.

—There are many ups and downs in life. On Independence Day, July 4th, an event took place at Cobourg that the interested parties will not want repeated. One of our humble citizens unlocked his door in the morning and went about his work. A young woman who had been living in Grafton some time, but had returned to town the previous evening, opened the door, entered the bedroom and took possession of the bed. The lord and master of the house not liking the state of affairs rushed down to the Chief of Police, who promptly visited the place, but in the meantime one more had been added to the population of the town in the person of a baby boy. What will the charge against the young woman be? No matter, the town will have to foot the bill.—Cobourg Sentinal-Star.

LAST RESPECTS PAID TO LATE WM. GALLEY

The Funeral This Afternoon Was Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Wm. Galley took place this afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery under the auspices of the local lodges of Oddfellows, who attended in a body.

The funeral was a large one, many friends of the deceased attending to pay their last respects to the dead. Many wreaths, bouquets, etc., were sent as a token of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The late Wm. Galley was 65 years old and has been a resident of Peterborough for fifty years.

A REGATTA AT STURGEON POINT

Annual Summer Meet Will Take Place on Aug. 3rd.

A Good Programme of Races—Local Canoeists and Yachtsmen to Compete.

The Sturgeon Point Club has arranged for a regatta to be held at the Point on Thursday, August 3rd, when a good programme of aquatic events will be run off. The regattas at the Point have always been successful in the past, and the prospects for the continuance of this success this year are good.

The following is the programme:

Sailing race, for Sturgeon Lake championship flag, open to any class of boat, 6 miles.

Dinghy race, 6 miles.

Canoe sailing for 16 foot open canoe, single sail, without centre board or rudder, 3 miles.

Canoe paddling, tandem, men.

Canoe paddling, tandem, ladies.

Canoe paddling, tandem, boys, 15 years and under.

Canoe paddling, men, single, 1 mile, professional; prize $10 cash; must be three starters; $1 entrance fee.

Canoe paddling, tandem, ladies and men.

Crab race.

Gasoline launch, any size.

Gunwale race, single.

Tug of war, four in canoe.

Upset race.

Water polo, Sturgeon Point vs. the world.

Steam yacht race.

Raft contest.

It is expected that a number of local gentlemen and canoeists will take part.

The rules governing the races are as follows:

Races will commence at 1.30 p.m., sharp and proceed continuously. Suitable prizes will be given in the different events. All events are amateurs. All canoes must be ordinary utility canoes, except the men's professional race.

The committee, of which the president is Mr. C. H. Grantham, and the secretary G. H. Hopkins, is J. D. Flavelle, Dr. Allen, H. O'Leary, K.C., C. B. Nasmith, Wallace Jones, J. C. Grace, Dr. Ryerson, F. C. Taylor, G. H. Wilson, R. L. Morgan, F. A. Clarry, Jos. Brown, J. M. Knowlson, W. H. Simpson, H. J. Clarry, J. W. Anderson.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Choice Musical Programme Presented—Busy Night for Street Cars.

That Jackson Park has not lost its popularity was evidenced by the size of the crowd which attended last night's band concert. The crowd numbered about the same as at last week's concert. The street cars carried nearly 2,500 people last night, the majority of whom attended the concert.

A choice programme of a varied character was rendered, the popular airs, and newer pieces being alike well received by the crowd.

The popularity of these weekly concerts is on the increase, and judging by previous evenings this move on the part of the Street Railway Company has been a good one.

CITIZENS HONOUR MR. THOS. FRASER

Norwood Regrets Losing a Valued Citizen.

School Board Passes Resolution Expressing Appreciation of Service.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Norwood, July 13—On Tuesday evening July 11th, about fifty of the leading business men of Norwood, including clergy and professional men, met in the lunch room of Messrs. W. H. Tucker & Bro., to bid farewell to Mr. Thomas Fraser, who is leaving town on Saturday for Calgary, Alta.

Dr. Ford occupied the chair and in a short speech referred to Mr. Fraser's long service and many good qualities. At the conclusion, the Dr. presented Mr. Fraser with a gold watch and chain, also a purse containing $50 in gold.

Mr. Fraser replied, thanking those present for the gifts and the kind words spoken.

Mr. J. B. Pearce, who has lived beside him for many years assured him that no persons who had before left the community carried with them more fully the good wishes of all than would Mr. Fraser and family.

Mr. Fraser has been a resident of Norwood for the last forty-seven years, and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

In 1883 he was Reeve of the village, and has also held the position of Clerk of the 2nd Division Court for the past twenty years. He was also chairman of the Board of Health for several years, member of Board of Education for 22 years, member of Methodist church and for several years member of the Trustee Board.

The Board of Education passed the following resolution to Mr. Fraser, Resolved that this Board of Education desires to place on record its deep sense of appreciation for the service rendered by Mr. Thomas Fraser, whose resignation has recently been accepted, consequent upon upon the removal from the town to the North-West Territories. After having been a member of the Board for twenty-three years, and furthermore to assure him that he carries with him the well wishes of every member of this Board for his future prosperity and welfare.—Carried unanimously.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser with their family leave here on Saturday for Calgary, N. W. T., where they will in future reside.

OPENING DAY OF A SUCCESSFUL MEET

Large Attendance at the Turf Club Meet Yesterday—Races Were the Best Ever Seen on a Local Track—Records Were Broken—Hal Patron Won Free-for-All in a Strong Finish—Close Finishes in All Events.

The first day of the most successful race meet in the history of this branch of sport in Peterborough, was held yesterday at the grounds of the Turf Club. The attendance was large and the splendid contests fully worthy of it. The different events brought out some of the prettiest trotting efforts ever seen on a local track and some hair-raising finishes were witnessed.

The postponement caused by Wednesday's downpour of rain apparently did not diminish in the slightest the interest in the meet nor did it produce any seriously harmful results to the track, which through the influence of yesterday morning's sun, was in excellent condition by midday. At noon the promise was for a hot and sultry afternoon, but the slight shower in the afternoon brought much relief and did not to any extent affect the track.

Yesterday's events produced some startling features, one was the breaking twice in quick succession of the track record in racing events. The first was in the initial heat of the free-for-all, when Doctor H lowered it to 2.16 3-4, which caused the crowd to cheer, but when in the succeeding heat Phil, Davey's Helen R, driven by Wm. Snow, extended herself in beautiful space-eating strides to a 2.16 1-4 clip, the enthusiasm knew no bounds. The time made in all the events was highly creditable and somewhat astonished everyone, who had not seen some of the workouts during the past week. Dr. Smith, of the Buffalo Horse World, who officiated yesterday as starter, expressed his opinion that yesterday's events were the best he had ever witnessed upon a half-mile track.

The arrangements for the meet were perfect and were carried to a highly satisfactory conclusion in every detail. The officers of the club, Messrs. A. Rountree, R. J. Munro and J. M. Brooks are deserving of the greatest credit for their painstaking efforts in its behalf, which were so largely responsible for the great success attained. A gratifying feature of the day was the large attendance of ladies, who throughout, displayed the greatest interest and enthusiasm. There can be little doubt that if the succeeding meets are maintained at the present high standard that the proportion of the fair sex in attendance will continue to increase.

The betting yesterday, while quite brisk at some stages was comparatively light, and few heavy wagers were reported. The bookies are reported to have broken to the good. The odds which they carried were not particularly inviting, and few long chances were offered. The free-for-all probably drew the heaviest wagers, particularly in the closing heats, in which a finish occurred, which was not upon the cards in the opening portion.

First Race.

2.28 Class—Purse $150. 3 heats.
Miss Paisley, George Lipsett, Peterboro, 1, 1 1.
Minnie Bell, Geo. Powell, Orillia, 2 2 2.
Sir Oliver, Arthur Walls, Oshawa, 3 3 3.
White Blaze, Dr. Johnston, Peterboro, 4 4 4.
Time—
1st heat, 2.29 1-4.
2nd heat, 2.28 1-4.
3rd heat, 2.28 3-4.

Second Race.

Free-for-all—Purse $200. 3 heats.
Hal Patron, Perrigo and Tracey, Eganville..... 4 4 2 1 1 1
Helen R, Phil. Davey, Tordiff..... 2 1 1 2 3 3
Doctor H, H. Edmonds, Blenheim..... 1 3 3 3 2 2
Minnie Keswick, Geo. Curtiss, Lindsay, dr..... 3 5 4
Billy P, Dr. Johnston, Peterboro, dr..... 5
Time—
1st heat, 2.16 3-4.
2nd heat, 2.16 1-4.
3rd heat, 2.18.
4th heat, 2.17.
5th heat, 2.19.
6th heat, 2.21 1-2.

Third Race.

3-4 Mile Run—Purse $150.
Chatelaine, Chas. Phair, Toronto, 1.
The World, Howard and Lattimer, Toronto, 2.
My Honey, J. P. and P. Hynd, Norway, 3.
Marston Moor, John B. Smith, Montreal, 4.
Time—1.19 1-2.
Starter, Dr. Smith, Buffalo.
Judges, W. J. Leahy, Lakefield; Fred. Beake, Campbellford, and Jas. Martin, Stouffville.
Timers, E. J. Moore, Alex. Elliott.
Clerk of the Course, C. H. Clementi.

2.28 Class.

The first race called was the 2.28 class, which brought out four fast starters; Minnie Belle, White Blaze, Miss Paisley, and Sir Oliver. Miss Paisley was an even money favorite. In the first heat Sir Oliver got away with a surprising burst of speed and maintained his position till near the half, when Minnie Belle closed in. Miss Paisley got off to a bad start and maintained a trailing position to almost the three-quarter mark, Monohan keeping her well in hand. In the stretch she bounded forward, and in a lightning finish easily passed the field, winning by a length, Minnie Belle finishing second.

The second heat was also very interesting, Sir Oliver again getting off in first place, with Miss Paisley, White Blaze and Minnie Belle following in successive order. At the half Miss Paisley crept to second and won out by over a length from Minnie Belle.

The third heat was easy, guessing from the start. Paisley got away on a good start and won easily by a good margin.

The Free-for-all.

The free-for-all was the race of the day and was never at any stage free from surprises. Quite a number picked Doctor H, which, however, after the first heat, failed to justify their expectations. The feature of the race was the breaking of the record twice in succession in the first and second heats by the Doctor and Helen R. The latter made a beautiful race and looked like a winner. Her chances were, however, materially lessened by an unfortunate occurrence, her driver being thrown backwards while she got away on a three-lap sprint, before submitting to capture. While she was able to capture the next heat, there is little doubt that the escapade told heavily upon her powers of endurance at the finish. Another feature of the race was the strong finish in the concluding heats of Hal Patron. He did not exhibit anything of what he could do till the third heat, when he extended himself in a spurt down the stretch which caused the wise ones to take on an air of deepening interest. The three concluding heats were easy for the black, whose pretty work and marvellous staying power won unstinted admiration.

The running dash was one of the most exciting of yesterday's events, and a prettier start or better finish would be difficult to imagine. The horses got away from the barrier at a lightning clip, and at the quarter were bunched as closely as was possible. Chatelaine, however, looked the goods from the start, and finished in a neck and neck struggle with The World, with My Honey and Marston Moor trailing about a length behind.

TRACK NOTES.

Hal Patron was the surprise of the day. Few picked him on the start, but his finish was a marvel of endurance.

The attendance exceeded 800.

Quoth Dr. Smith, of the Buffalo Horse World:—"The races were as good as anything ever seen on a half-mile track. They were a credit to the city."

Miss Paisley justified the aspirations of her admirers.

Doctor H., was a disappointing proposition to many.

The bookies did not post anything which would lead one to think that they were given to philanthropy.

The free-for-all offered some long chances for the wise "pokers."

ST. ANDREW'S WIN FROM ST. PAUL'S

In the First Half of Their Game—Score 6—4.

The first half of the game between St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Guild League teams was played last night on the Mcdonel street grounds. Only two innings were played, St. Paul's making four runs in the first to their opponents' nil, and it looked as if they had been grasped a Maggie to win. But the second innings told a different story, St. Andrew's sending six man over the plate to St. Paul's nil. This left the score 6-4 in favour of St. Andrew's.

The old veteran "Doc" Wrightman, made a sensational one hand stop of a hot liner to ground.

The teams took the field as follows:—St. Paul's—Gillespie, c., Watt p., Stacey 1sb., Wrightman, 2nd., Logan s. s., Rogerson 3rd., Ferguson l. f., Sturgeon c. f., J. Watt r. f.,

St. Andrew's—McDonald c., Swanston p., Elliott 1st., Downey 2nd., Thompson 3rd., Gibson s. s., Butcher r. f., Cameron l. f., Miller c. f.

SCORED HIGH IN MACKINNON MATCH

At 900 Yd. Range Col. Serg. Moore Led the Team.

Was Tied for Second place on First Day's Shooting—A Good Record.

Col.-Serg. Moore still continues his winning streak at Bisley, and yesterday in the match for the Mackinnon Cup, he was tied for second place, his score being 44, being tied with Capt. Duff Stuart, of Vancouver.

At the second range in the 900 yards, Serg. Moore led the whole Canadian team, his score being 48 out of a possible 50.

His shooting on the whole, has been excellent, and if he continues at the present rate, he should bring some honours to his native town and his regiment. Teams in town, who are following the shooting at Bisley, will be interested in the details of the scores as published from a Canadian Associated Press cable, as follows:—

Scotland leads in the first stage for the Mackinnon Challenge Cup, with a score of 635, the other scores being:

Transvaal	532
England	515
Canada	493

BOWLING ON THE GREEN.

The following games were played last night:—

D. Kerneghan	W. H. Bradburn
R. Cottrell	G. K. Martin
T. E. Peat	E. T. Stimmons
F. Hilton, sk.—23	A. H. Stratton—9
A. W. Bellgrham	W. Dayman
W. Lamb	A. Kidd
J. McClung	W. Aitchison
D. Bellgrham—23	H. Cox — 14
J. W. Green	W. Bannon
R. Meredith	W. J. Thompson
H. McBain	H. Priest
S. Sharpe—21	A. Moore—6

There was also a consolation game on the side, played between skips Johnson and D. H. Moore. Out of respect for the feelings of Mr. Moore's players, the scores are not given.

There may be more ways of skinning the cat in the minds of Mr. Johnson and his wife. At the conclusion, Mr. Johnson claimed that they were even up, but his wife claimed that they were seven up. Either or neither may be correct, but it is not likely Mr. Moore came much nearer winning than within one of it.

A notable thing in this game was that Mr. Johnson, who is the soul of honour and British fair play, when progressively given his first choice, he chose his whole rink instead of only one, and asking the others a chance. Needless to say, he chose the most experienced players—that is not usually like our Togo.

Schedule for to-night:
A. Moore vs. J. McClung.
R. Cameron vs. Bill Rutherdie.
W. F. Talbot vs. T. S. Medd.
J. McIntyre vs. W. J. Thompson.
D. H. Moore vs. W. F. Johnson.

LAWN TENNIS.

Last night in the first round of the mixed doubles of the tournament of the Nicholls Oval Tennis Club:—

Miss Wareham and Mrs. Broome won from Miss Bellgrham and Mr. Middleton.

Miss Dobbin and Mr Dobbin won from Miss Beattie and Mr. Turner.

BASEBALL.

On July 24th the Oshawa baseball team will play their first game with the local team here. On that day an excursion will be run from that town, and the ball team will accompany it.

Child Had Eczema

"My daughter, 18 years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician and used other remedies without benefit. THE LOCUST HILL TEAM LEFT FIELD and Game Was Not Played With Norwood.

Claim the Game was not Played as Advertised.

Special to the Examiner.

Norwood, July 14.—The game between the Locust Hill and Norwood teams advertised to take place yesterday afternoon in the semi-finals of the Midland League did not take place. The Locust Hill team came to Norwood all right, but would not wait to play the game, which was advertised to start at four o'clock. The visitors claimed they were given to understand that the game would be played at 3.30, which would give them time to catch the afternoon train for home. When they learned that the game would not be played at the earlier hour, the team went on the field, scored one goal, came to the hotel and dressed and caught the 4.40 train for home, claiming the game by default. When the local team came to the field at four o'clock, the visitors were not there, and they also claim the game. The matter will be submitted to the League.

WINTER CIRCUIT WAS ORGANIZED

Meeting of Horsemen Held Last Night.

Schedule of Dates was Suggested and Will Probably be Adopted—Fast Ice Racing Now Assured.

A meeting was held in the Palace Hotel last night to arrange a schedule for a winter circuit along the same lines as the summer circuit now being held. It was attended by representatives of turf clubs, those present being Messrs. F. J. Daly, Orillia; Wm. Snow, Dufferin Park; Wm. Simpson, Lindsay; C. Wilmot, Port Hope; C. Mofatt, Picton; Dr. Morgan, Kingston, and R. J. Munro, J. M. Brooks and A. Rountree, Peterborough.

The following schedule was suggested, and will probably be adopted:

Dufferin Park, Dec. 27th and 28th.
Orillia, Jan. 2nd and 4th.
Port Perry, Jan. 9th and 10th.
Lindsay, Jan. 12th and 13th.
Peterborough, Jan. 19th and 20th.
Port Hope, Jan. 26th and 27th.
Picton, Jan. 31st and Feb. 1st.
Belleville, Feb. 3rd and 4th.
Kingston, Feb. 8th and 9th, concluding with the Ottawa races.

The officers elected were: President, C. Wilmot; Secretary, Wm. Carnew, Belleville, who also occupy the same offices in the Eastern Ontario Trotting Association.

Local horsemen are highly enthusiastic over the prospects for the establishment of the Ice Racing Circuit, which is now practically assured by the representative meeting of last night. The plans as formulated by the horsemen present should result in the fastest kind of winter racing, and the advantages of the formation of a circuit upon the lines laid down will be manifold. The schedule which, while not finally adopted, will, it is expected, be carried into effect with very little variation.

AUBURNS AND T.A.S. TEAMS WILL MEET

First of City Championship Series to be Played To-morrow.

Those who are unable to accompany the seniors to Cobourg to-morrow, will see a good exhibition of ball at home in the afternoon. The Auburns and the T. A. S. teams meet at the Riverside Park in the first of a series of games for the City Championship. Both teams have fast and good pitchers on their line up and a good game is assured. There has always been strong rivalry between these teams, and a good crowd should turn out to see the contest. Game called at 2.30.

THE LOCALS SAY THEY WILL WIN

Expect to Defeat Cobourg To-morrow at the Lake Town.

To-morrow the Peterborough baseball team will go to Cobourg to play the return game with that team. The players will leave here at 11.45, and will return by way of Harwood and the Otonabee, a yacht having been arranged for to meet them at that village.

The team will line-up as follows:—Graham, 1b; Callaghan, 2b; Rhea, ss; Seagram, 3b; Sheridan, rf; Rattray, c; Douglas and Quinlan, p.

The team is confident of winning the game to-morrow and assert that if they play up to their usual form will win easily.

The result of the game will be bulletined at this office to-morrow evening.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

DE WITTE ON A PEACE ERRAND

M. Witte Leaves Russia As Chief Plenipotentiary.

FIGHT PLAGUE AND CHOLERA

Troops of Japan Went Peace — Field Marshal Oyama Continually Issuing Glowing Appeals to Patriotism of His Armies — Capture of Karasvorsk—Troposff Warned of His Impending Doom.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Emperor Nicholas has signed the appointment of M. Witte, president of the Committee of Ministers, to be chief plenipotentiary representing the Russian Government in the peace negotiations to be conducted next month in the United States. appointment clothes M. Witte with plenipotentiary powers. Notification of the designation of M. Witte to head the mission was forwarded to Washington yesterday morning. M. Witte will take passage on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which sails from Cherbourg July 26.

WHAT JAPS ARE FIGHTING.

Plague and Cholera and the Troops Want Peace.

Sipinghai, Manchuria, July 14.—Quiet continues along the front, but the Japanese are still moving in Corea. The Russian trains move as far as Chantafu. Information from the Japanese lines indicates that the rank and file are exceedingly anxious for peace. To counteract this feeling Field Marshal Oyama is continually issuing glowing appeals to the patriotism of his armies.

The Chinese says that decaying corpses buried in shallow graves in frozen ground after the battle of Mukden have created a terrible condition.

Plague and cholera are said to have appeared among the Japanese.

Capture of Karasvorsk.

Tokio, July 14.—An eye-witness of the Japanese bombardment of Karasvorsk wires that the Russian forts were silenced on July 7, after the exchange of a very few shots. The piers, warehouses and other buildings were set on fire and the conflagration was reflected by the foggy atmosphere, converting the sky into a mass of blood and color. The Japanese army landed amidst the fire, which was fast spreading to the forts. The infantry quickly captured the forts, from the tops of which the bewildered inhabitants were seen fleeing in every direction, carrying what property they could remove. The fires were not subdued for over 48 hours.

Communication Severed.

Shanghai, July 14.—Chinese postoffice officials have issued notice that communication has been stopped between Newchwang and all western Manchurian towns, to and including Harbin.

OMINOUS FOR TREPOFF.

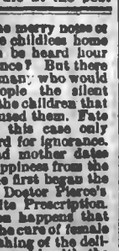
Terrorists Warn Him That He Will Die In His Own Room.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—The resignation of M. Bouligola as Minister of the Interior is expected daily. Gen. Trepoff, the assistant Minister of the Interior, probably will be his successor.

The terrorists have recently renewed their warnings against Gen. Trepoff with ominous persistence. The General is constantly in receipt of letters signed by the executive committee of the fighting organization, informing him that his hour has come. A remarkable feature of all the communications is that the writers take pains to say that no safeguards will avail or avert his impending doom. At the same time they tell him he need not be afraid to go abroad in the streets. They add:—"Your sentence will be executed in your own room. You will lie in your bed."

The terrorist seem to take pride in issuing a challenge involving a demonstration of their power and resource to penetrate the armour of the police. Moreover, Gen. Trepoff knows enough of the resources and desperateness of the organization to firmly believe the terrorists are able to execute their threat. He makes no concealment of the fact that he expects to be killed, but his nerve is unshaken. He says:—"I will at least die at the post of duty."

Who would exchange the merry noise of children at play, with the childless home where the clock tick can be heard hour after hour in the dull silence? But there are a great many who would like to people the silent house with the children that fate has refused them. Fate is often in this case only another word for ignorance. Many a glad mother dates her happiness from the day she first began the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It often happens that with the cure of female weakness and the establishing of the delicate womanly organs in sound health, the way is opened for the joy of motherhood. "Favorite Prescription" is a specific for the chronic ailments peculiar to women. It cures them perfectly and permanently.



No other medicine can do for women so much as "Favorite Prescription." Do not therefore let any other medicine be palmed off on you as "just as good."

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

"I can truly say your medicine is a friend of mine," writes Mrs. Arthur Bratt, of Amherstburg, Ontario, Canada. "I am mother of four children and suffered greatly at time of birth of first three. When three months along with the last one I began to think of trying some medicine to ease those terrible pains and asked our doctor whether there was anything he could give me to lessen labor pains. He said there was nothing that would help me. Then thought I would write to Dr. Pierce. He advised me to take his 'Favorite Prescription.' I started to take it at fourth month. I was very weak, had heart trouble and would faint away two or three times a day. Our doctor could not help me and the was a drug. I would often say, oh, if I could only die in one of these spells; but I kept five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and felt better every way. Was alone well at the time of delivery. I had heard of painless childbirth, and I thought it must be a good medicine that would help those pains, but I know now for myself, and can not tell it plain enough. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine to use motherhood more. advise my friends to try it. Baby is now three months old and is a dear healthy boy."

Twenty-Four Hanged.

Odessa, July 14.—Twenty-four leaders of the recent disturbance here were hanged yesterday in various prisons. Another batch of 17 will be publicly executed upon the arrival here of Gen. Ignatieff. The battleship Georgi Pobiedonosets has arrived here with a fresh crew for the purpose of taking 67 mutineers to Sebastopol for trial by court-martial.

Of 202 persons arrested and charged with robbery or incendiarism during the recent riots, 74 were acquitted yesterday owing to lack of evidence and 28 were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment, the time to include the two weeks which they have already passed in prison.

PARIS RECEIVES CANADIANS.

Welcome By the Municipal Council and Honor Accorded.

Paris, July 14.—(C. A. P.)—The Paris Council received the Canadians yesterday afternoon, when speeches were made by three councillors. All spoke in French.

Mr. Wilkins of Montreal replied in French. He reviewed the tour and was glad it ended at Paris, a visit most important and profitable.

Though the council was in session it rose to receive the Canadians. A banquet was given by the Chamber of Commerce last night. President George is invited to occupy President Loubet's box at the review of the troops to-day.

The Deputy Minister of Fine Arts, after an interview with Mr. McNaught, promised to send five of the finest paintings to Toronto Exhibition.

May Drive Them Across the River.

Amherstburg, July 14.—Government officials are disposed to collect an income tax from the force of employes engaged upon United States improvements in the channel of the Detroit River at this point. As Amherstburg is convenient to their work, the engineers, and many employes, live here, and the town derives the benefit.

Hon. Edward Blake Ill.

London, July 14.—Hon. Edward Blake is confined by illness to his residence in London and has been forbidden by his doctor to resume his attendance at the House of Commons for the remainder of the session. He will likely leave for Canada for the benefit of his health before the end of July.

H. Marryat Martin's Suicide.

Toronto, July 14.—Heart-broken at his failure to live down his past, and wearied out in an attempt to make a livelihood in a country that seemed to offer him nothing but rebuffs, Henry Marryat Martin, an Englishman of excellent family, committed suicide by shooting near High Park on Monday night. Martin's story, as well as it can be gain from the letters found in his pocket, has been a pathetic one. He was a man of about 35 years of age, and had but recently come to Toronto. His reference showed him to have been the nephew of the late Sir Martin Holloway, and a grandson of the late Capt. Marryat, R. N. From 1898 until 1901 he was connected with The London Echo.

Cured Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Fred Hills, Walton Street, Port Hope, Ont., states:—"I was troubled for some time with kidney disease and though I tried a great many different medicines, never succeeded in obtaining relief until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. By the regular use of this preparation for a time I was completely cured of kidney disease.

WORKING FOR QUICKER TIME.

Special Train Left North Sydney Thursday With Virginian Mail.

North Sydney, N. S., July 14.—The Allan line steamer Virginian arrived off Sydney Harbor at 7.20 o'clock yesterday morning, having made the run from Moville in five days, 20 hours, and 25 minutes, being the quickest time on record from mail station to mail station across the Atlantic. She has 1,847 passengers on board, 1,047 of whom are for Canada, and the rest for the United States. The transfer of mails took place about 16 miles off Sydney, the time occupied being one hour and 45 minutes. After the mails had been transferred, the Virginian proceeded to Montreal with passengers. The special train carrying the mails left Sydney at 10.47 o'clock.

Ship Against Train.

The race is now between a special train, with a clear road to Montreal, and the Allan liner, proceeding full steam up the Gulf. The race is to determine the merits of Sydney as a port of call. The Virginian expects to make the trip in thirty hours, but the Intercolonial anticipates doing it in less time. The Virginian had 748 bags of mail and 108 bags of parcel post. These include all the Canada mails for this week and those for the Western States. There were no Canadian mails sent by New York this week. The parcel post includes mail matter for China and Japan.

Killing in Strike Riot.

New York, July 14.—Yesterday Isaac Newman, proprietor of a clothing factory was hit on the head by an iron bar in the hands of a striker and received a fracture of the skull. More than a score were slightly hurt and hundreds were involved in the rioting. A large number of strikers called at the factory and attempted to induce a score or more employes who had continued at work to leave. Newman protested against their action, and a pitched battle with the strikers on one side and Newman and his employes on the other followed.

LEAKING joints are the natural outcome of the old style of boiler construction; two smooth surfaces squeezed together on a sheet of rubber. This rubber in a short time became dried out and left a leaky joint.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

Nothing but iron and steel enters into the construction of the Oxford Hot Water Boiler—no rubber or composition washers are used.

Smooth, tapered steel nipples pressed into smooth, tapered holes make an absolutely indestructible joint. We would like to tell you the many other advantages of the Oxford Boiler. CURRENT NOTES ON LOCAL SPORT

Present Summer Meet Most Successful in History of Club.

Next Wednesday's Lacrosse Game—Guild League Finish Interesting.

Yesterday the most successful racing meet in the history of Peterborough opened at the Driving Park and will close this afternoon. In the past, racing meets held under the auspices of the Peterborough Turf Club for various reasons have not been the successes which their promoters had hoped for, but this year a change for the better seems to have taken place and it is to be hoped, and if present conditions are any criterion of the future there is reason to believe that the hope will not be a vain one that it is but an augury of success which the future will see.

Those who attended the opening day at the Driving Park yesterday were well repaid for their trouble. There were some exciting finishes and the free for all furnished some great sport as well as some surprises. Hal Patron's performance after having finished fourth in the first two heats and second in the third and afterwards taking first in three straight heats gave the surprise of the day. In this race the fastest time ever made on the Peterough track in a race was recorded, the time for the second heat being 2.16 1-4 which, in view of the fact that Wednesday was wet till day long was remarkable and an evidence that the Peterborough track is nearly all right.

That the ladies delight to see a horse race was evidenced yesterday when there was the largest attendance of members of the fair sex that has ever been seen in Peterborough. Special provision has been made in the covered grand stand for their accommodation and they were enabled to witness the events in comfort. The result will probably be that in the future there will be a gradually increasing attendance of ladies and now that the street car service makes it comparatively easy to reach the grounds it is reasonable to expect that with good weather the number of spectators at the semi-annual races here will very materially increase and the directors may be assured that as long as sport equal to that provided yesterday is given the races will be well attended.

Next Wednesday the second home game for the local lacrosse team in the championship series will be played, the visiting team being Oshawa, the only team which has succeeded in taking a fall out of the locals this season. In the first game that the Peterborough team played, they were defeated by Oshawa, on the latter's grounds, by 5—2, and it is said that the Oshawa supporters have confidence in the ability of their aggregation to repeat the dose on the Peterborough grounds. At any rate they will make the try next Wednesday, and which ever team wins, the game will be worth watching.

The Oshawa team this year is a combination of players, the majority of whom know the game well, and have played for years, some of them on senior teams. In the first game there is little doubt that they won on their merits; they played better lacrosse than the Peterboroughs, but those who know predict that there will be a different story to tell after the game on Wednesday, for it is expected that the local team, which has been considerably strengthened since the first game, will wipe out the stain of that defeat. So far, each team in the district has won its home game, and the supporters of the local dozen look to them to do just that on Wednesday, but that they will have to work to win, no one will deny.

The finish in the Guild League this year promises to be equally as interesting as was that of 1904, and at the present time it looks as if the same two teams would fight it out for the championship. Charlotte street team has already won its district, and St. Andrew's in all probability, will win District No. 1, unless St. Paul's takes a brace, and wins out this game, started last night, in which case it would put the three teams in that district a tie for first place. The situation, at present, however, favours St. Andrew's, as the winners of that group and, while last year, they were not the runners up for the championship, still there is no doubt that they really were the second best team in the League, and there are those who can be found holding the opinion that with a fair run of luck, they would have won out from the Methodists, but this year they are quite likely to have the opportunity, and the games will be decidedly interesting.

SPORTS AT THE NICHOLLS OVAL

The First Annual Pic-nic of Separate School Scholars.

A Most Enjoyable Afternoon Spent there Yesterday—Prize Winners in Sporting Events.

The first annual picnic of the pupils and graduates of the Separate School and the graduates in the Collegiate Institute was held yesterday at the Nicholls Oval and proved most enjoyable in every respect. The attendance was large, fully 500 being present, including about 300 children and 200 adults.

A long schedule of sports was proceeded with and the different events were closely contested, and furnished unlimited amusement. The programme included 20 events, for each of which three prizes were awarded. The prizes were presented by Rev. Father McColl, whose kindly interest in the pupils of the School and abundant generosity in providing for their enjoyment is much appreciated. It is intended to make the picnic an annual affair, and if yesterday's success may be taken as a criterion, a highly successful future may be taken as assured.

The committee in charge of the sports was composed as follows: Messrs. Geo. H. Giroux, chairman; H. Phelan, J. Corkery, R. Sheehan and Leo Derocher. Mr. G. H. Giroux officiated in a highly satisfactory manner as starter.

Rev. Dr. O'Brien and Rev. Father McColl were in attendance.

The sports were commenced at two o'clock, and the many exciting events were watched with keen interest by the crowd, who gave frequent manifestations of their interest and enthusiasm. The following were the prize winners in the different events:—

Boys' race, under seven years, 75 yards — B. Grady, C. Lavende, A. O'Brien.

Girls' race, under 7 years, 75 yards —E. Mallory, G. Giroux, G. O'Donnell.

Boys' race, under 9 years, 100 yards—H. Rogers, W. Hayes, W. Kearns.

Girls' race, under 9 years, 100 yards—Catharine Clancy, M. Audette, M. Hickey.

Boot race, under 10 years — Nagle Phelan, Jas. Sharp, Cian Callaghan.

Boot race, under 14 years — H. Callaghan, H. Hickey, H. Giroux.

Boys' race, under 11 years, 100 yards — W. Hatrick, G. O'Brien, R. Rose.

Girls' race, under 11 years, 100 yards — M. Audette, L. Clancy, M. Wolff.

Boys' race, under 14 years, 100 yards — J. O'Brien, J. Eano, B. Heenan.

Girls' race, under 14 years, 100 yards — Julia Sweenor, Celia Kennealley, M. Clancy.

Running broad jump, boys, under 14 — J. O'Brien, V. Hayes, C. Hayes.

Girls' Race, Collegiate Institute—Mauds Theobald, R. Fitzgerald, E. Connor.

Standing broad jump, boys, under 14—E. Hayes, J. Hayes, F. Hayes.

100 yards race, Institute boys — V. Corkery, K. Corkery, M. O'Brien.

Consolation race, boys under 10—100 yards — Roy Donohue, C. Leahy, McMahon.

Consolation race, girls under 10, 75 yards — Alma Levasseur, Edna Cassidy, G. Abearn.

Boot race, boys under 13 — R. Sheehy, V. Hayes, C. Wolff.

Consolation race, boys under 14—100 yards — V. Hayes, H. Giroux, S. Sheehy.

Consolation race, girls under 14, 75 yards, M. Rose, Pauline Sweanor, Pearl Halpin.

At the conclusion of the sports, at about six o'clock the picnickers partook of lunch, after which followed the presentation of prizes, which were sixty in number, by Rev. Father McColl.

The gathering dispersed about 7 o'clock, after an afternoon of thorough enjoyment.

DOCTORS' BILLS WILL COME HIGH

The New Schedule of Charges Adopted by Physicians.

What the Patients Will Have to Pay in Future.

While at the meeting of the Medical Society last night it was decided that the schedule of charges adopted at that meeting, should not be given publicity, the Examiner has come into possession of a copy of the schedule, and to-day presents it to its readers. This is the identical schedule which the doctors discussed last night, and which was adopted unanimously, by the twenty-three physicians present last night out of a total of twenty-six in town.

It is stated that the charges are in advance of those formerly charged in some cases, but the statement is made that a number of the doctors have been accepting jobs at much below the charges which were considered fair by the profession.

THE OLD BOYS' WILL RETURN

Peterborough Old Boys' Decide to Run Excursion on August 3rd.

Between 300 and 400 Will Take the Trip on Toronto's Civic Holiday—Association Met on Thursday.

Arrangements have been concluded for the excursion of the Peterborough Old Boys, and it is expected that they will return home in force on Thursday, Aug. 3rd, Toronto's Civic Holiday.

Mr. Clarence Bell, President of the Association, was in town last night and completed the railway arrangements for the trip, which will be run by G.T.R. via Lindsay. The Old Boys' Association of the latter place has also determined upon the same date for their visit to their native heath, and the two excursions will be run conjointly.

It is expected that the Peterborough party will number between 300 and 400. A meeting of the Association was held on Thursday evening in Toronto, at which the members enthusiastically favored the project.

It is hoped that suitable arrangements for the reception of the excursionists will be made.

MR. W. STOCKER IS PRESIDENT

Was Re-elected Head of Bill Posters' Association.

The Next Convention Will be Held in Chicago—Closing Meeting at Montreal.

The Associated Bill Posters in convention yesterday discussed among other general matters of business the place for the next convention, which after a close contest between the following towns—Chicago, Boston, Niagara Falls and Ashbury Park—Chicago was chosen. The other chief item of business was rating as applied to different towns.

The following was the result of the election of officers for the Canadian Association:—President, Mr. Walter Stocker, Peterborough; Vice-President, Mr. C. C. Lindsay, Winnipeg; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Arttfat, Ware, Montreal, and three of an executive, viz.,—Messrs. Henning, Toronto; R. W. Allan, Kingston, and W. W. Scane, Chatham.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION RESULTS
LIST OF SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES

The following are the names of the successful candidates at the recent Entrance examination held at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. It was required to take 40 per cent. of the marks in each subject as well as 60 per cent. of the total. This is a higher standard than that required in former years, which was 33 1-3 per cent. for each subject and 50 per cent. of the total. This advanced standard has materially reduced the number of successful candidates. Honors are given to those who have taken 70 per cent. of the total, 650.

Lulu Bushnell wins the scholarship for the girls, and Donald Denham that for the boys.

SUMMARY

Out of 179 Students who tried the Entrance Examinations this year 95 were successful, and of these 20 took honours—75 passed. Miss Lulu Bushnell, with a total of 547 out of a possible 650—Donald Denham, with 528, took the two scholarships.

SWIMMING SAID TO BE A NEGLECTED ART

Messrs. Strickland and Carson Will Give an Exhibition of Endurance on Monday---Will Swim From Lakefield to Peterborough---Are Demonstrating Life-Saving at Little Lake This Afternoon---Former Peterborough Boy Who is to Attempt to Break the Canadian Record for Long Distance Swimming---An Interesting Trial.

Messrs. G. H. Carson and H. T. Strickland, the two men who will on Monday make the attempt to swim from Lakefield to Peterborough, arrived in town this morning, and this afternoon are swimming across the Little Lake, from Mr. Strickland's house to the west side of the lake. They will also give an exhibition of life saving.

Mr. Carson is an expert in life saving and teaches it in the Toronto Y.M.C.A. They believe that swimming is a very much neglected art, and the reason that so many drownings take place is that the people do not know how to swim. Mr. Carson says that he only knew one good swimmer to drown, and that was Captain Webb, who undertook the foolhardy trick at Niagara.

Messrs. Carson and Strickland are taking this trip, not in their personal interest, but for the purpose of doing a little missionary work, and of creating an interest in swimming.

Mr. Strickland said this morning that there is nothing in it for them but glory, and if Peterborough is the place where the longest fresh-water record in the world is created, he was sure Peterborough city would see that their efforts were rewarded—not by money, for they were not out for that, but glory, and honour was all they were after, and he said that he would like to make it in the town of his birth.

This evening they will go to Lakefield and on Monday morning will start from that village at 8 o'clock and will swim to Peterborough through the Otonabee and Trent Canal.

This event will create great interest, and the prospects are that there will be a good crowd to see the finish.

Mr. Strickland is 35 years of age, and is a son of W. R. Strickland, of Toronto.

He learned to swim at the age of 8 years. Love of art developed at Shieldrake's School, Lakefield, where he went from 1880 to 1883, the finest boy's school he believes, in Canada. He holds the record of 50 minutes across Toronto Bay. Has won many races of lesser proportion and has always outclassed competitors at Kew and Balmy Beaches, Toronto, where he has lived for some years. He might win considerably more races if he entered more into competition trials, but he prefers tests of endurance rather than short speed dashes. He has done 100 yards in 70 1-4 seconds. The fastest time on record for 100 yards is 66 1-5 seconds. This is the world's record. Seventy and one-quarter seconds is very fast time. He holds record of having bathed in Lake Ontario throughout the year, during winter of 1903. His weight is 178 lbs; height 6 ft. 1-8 inches.

Mr. Strickland is a vegetarian and rarely ever touches meat.

Previous to this race and others he finds shredded wheat biscuits and cream furnishes best elements to supply needed energy and heat, and green vegetables and fruits to give bulk and water. He swims a mile in fast time every day as regular exercise.

The following article from the Toronto News of January 5th, 1903 will be read with interest:—

"E. F. Strickland and Geo. Carson, two swimmers from the Toronto Swimming Club, report an enjoyable 5 mile run and swim at Kew Beach yesterday. They claim the record for early bathing. The icebergs along the shore interfered somewhat with getting in and out of the lake. Skaters on Ashbridges Bay were somewhat surprised to see two men clad in light swimming suits appear in their midst and enquire as to the best place to swim."

HOME-SEEKERS LEFT TO-DAY

Number of Peterborough Persons Going to the West.

Many will go to Take up Land—Visitors in Manitoba.

This morning the third of the series of Homeseekers' Excursions to the Canadian North-west left from Peterborough and about fourteen left this city; among them were Mr. D. Drummond, whose destination is Winnipeg; Mrs. Cavanah, Medicine Hat, N.W.T.; Miss Isbister, Winnipeg, Mr. J. W. Kelly, Strathcona; Mr. D. W. Savagny, Strathcona; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fowler, Souris, and Mrs. Buchanan, Medicine Hat.

The excursion to-day was the last this season, and the number to leave here was about the largest. A special train left Toronto at 2.45 this afternoon, going through to the west, and the tickets are good for two months, to return to the starting point.

In addition to those mentioned as having left Peterborough a number of farmers went, the object of their trip being to spy out the land with a view of taking up land there if the conditions were favourable.

Mr. McIlroy, the local C. P. R. agent, is of the opinion that the harvest excursion to the west next month will be the largest in the history of the country. The railway offices are already in receipt of enquiries in reference to these excursions, and if the signs be correct there will be a very large number leaving her on those trips.

NAME OMITTED FROM THE LIST

Mr. A. W. McPherson, Successful in Primary Examination in Medicine.

Among the names of candidates omitted from the list of successful candidates at the examinations of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario was that of Mr. A. W. McPherson, of Peterborough, who successfully negotiated his primary. "Mac's" many friends in town will unite in extending to him their hearty congratulations.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE WRITES LETTER

Makes Suggestion to Board of Education.

An Analysis of the Collegiate Institute Vote—Advocate 5th Form for Public School.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

The recent vote of the people on the Collegiate Institute bylaw demonstrates several things which it is well to take note of.

First, then, it very emphatically pronounced that the people are not in favour of spending $100,000 for an Institute.

There are in town four public school buildings owned by the people and all together they did not cost $50,000. There are 1,600 public school pupils in attendance; there is not adequate school accommodation for them, yet a fine building which cost the town $10,000 was given to the Government to be torn down, and that too, when our highest local authority states that the Government officers preferred for armoury purposes the northern lots. This the people did not approve, this wilful waste. The public school education is absolutely necessary, the law of the land makes it compulsory—there is no law that makes Collegiate education compulsory. Only about ten per cent. of the public school pupils enter the Collegiate. Why then so lavish in expenditure for the ten per cent. and such indifference as to the ninety per cent.?

The law provides for a fifth form in the public schools, where a student without entering the Collegiate can get a thorough commercial education.

The Trustee answers—that is all right, but the first form of the Institute and the fifth form of the public school over-lap and cover to some extent the same ground. My answer to that is, that the entrance examination keeps many public school pupils out of that first form and besides the public school is free, and the Institute is not free, but supposes a fee of $10 a year. Then under present government a pupil entering the Collegiate would be compelled to take all the subjects of that form, whereas he may only want the commercials, which he should get in the fifth form of the public school.

The people understand this and demand a fifth form of the public school. That fine Separate School building would have answered well for all the 4th and 5th form pupils of the town. Let our Board of Education interpret the vote of the people. Give them better public school facilities. Establish a fifth form of the public school. Get the Government to exchange the south for the north half of the park lots and so give the Separate School building; then build an Institute sufficient for present requirements, but so that in the future when enlarged buildings are required, the present structure could be extended in the same style of architecture. The people very generously gave the Board $50,000 for a Collegiate, let them cut their present garment according to their cloth—if there is future growth let out the tucks.

Yours truly,
D. W. DUMBLE.

POPULAR YOUNG MAN'S DEPARTURE

Mr. R. H. Elliott Left for London This Morning.

This morning Mr. R. H. Elliott, who for some years has been on the staff of the Golden Lion, left this morning for London where he has accepted a position as head of the silk department of the wholesale house of John C. Green & Son. Mr. Elliott's departure from town will be deeply regretted by his friends of whom he has made a great many during his residence here. He was a member, and up to the time of departure, President of Eko Camp Club. He was also Treasurer of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild, and manager of the baseball team representing that Guild in the League. He also occupies a prominent social position, and was very popular with the young people of the city, which he leaves followed by the best wishes of all, for his future success.

HOW THE PEOPLE LOSE CONFIDENCE

In Present Board of Education, is the Question.

Letter From R. F. McWilliams, in Which He Suggests Change in Method of Election.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—The Board of Education has held two meetings this month and struggled with the muddle into which they they have gotten themselves but seem unable to find any way out. It will be admitted by all that there is a serious situation for which some remedy must be found. There must be more accommodation for both collegiate and public schools and the question can neither be shirked nor indefinitely postponed. The success of the first bylaw showed that the people are prepared to vote for a good collegiate. The failure of the second bylaw showed that they are not prepared to expend so large a sum as $100,000, but the fact that the bylaw got 40 per cent. of the vote shows clearly that the ratepayers are willing to increase the amount already voted when they are satisfied that it is necessary. But in order that the people shall be convinced of the necessity the problem must be handled in a way and by a Board which will inspire a greater degree of public confidence. It must be frankly admitted that the way in which this and some other matters have been handled has not been such as to inspire a high degree of confidence in the present Board.

Under such circumstances I want to urge the adoption of the new method of electing the Board of Education by direct popular vote. The city council has now the power to establish the system under which the Board is reduced from 17 to 10 members, all elected in the same manner as the council, with this advantage that the members hold office for two years, one-half retiring each year. As a member of the town council I tried last year to have this system adopted, but the council was unwilling to do so against the wish of the Board who contended that it was then not an opportune time to make such a change. But, surely now is an opportune time and I would strongly urge the members of the city council to make this change this year.

I believe the people of this city can be trusted to pass an intelligent judgment on our educational as well as other affairs and that the result of such an election would be the choice of a very strong Board. A Board elected in this way would have the public confidence in a degree which can never be possessed by a Board elected in the present sectional and complicated manner. Let such a Board go carefully into the whole question of school buildings, confer with the council, have regard to the views already expressed by the ratepayers and devise a modest but not cowardly scheme and if they find more money necessary, I have not the slightest doubt the great majority of the people will willingly vote the required amount. Now is the time to make this important change and give the people the chance to choose a Board in whose recommendations they will have entire confidence.

Yours very truly,
R. F. McWILLIAMS

AN INVITATION TO WORSHIP

City Mission Band Issues an Unique Dodger.

Their Object to Help and Bless, Irrespective of Position or State.

To-day the City Mission Band is circulating the following dodger, which is original enough to attract one to a place of worship even in this sultry weather:—

THE CITY MISSION BAND SPEAKS.

Fellow citizen, your attention please, well what is it? Who are you? Do you belong to the Salvation Army, or some church? No, not in the strictest sense of the word, but we are one with all who are preaching Jesus Christ in sincerity. Our object is to help and bless all irrespective of position or state. We want you to find us out, to come with us, for we will surely do you good. We are having a good time and are desirous that you should share in the same. We have a large airy hall at 256 1-2 Water street, where Sunday mornings and nights, and Tuesday and Friday nights, the story of God's love and salvation is told out. Our meetings are open and free to all.

Next Sunday, July 16th, morning and evening Mr. Sager, of Oil City, Penn., will preach the gospel of salvation from sin.

Will you come and bring some one with you? We extend to you a hearty invitation and will gladly welcome you.

THE CITY MISSION BAND.

THE WRECKED CARS WERE REMOVED

Auxiliary at Work Yesterday—Mixer to be Raised To-morrow.

Yesterday the auxiliary from Lindsay was again down to clear the G. T. R. tracks near Smith street. The three flat cars were taken out of the ditch after considerable trouble.

To-morrow the work of raising the rotary mixer will be proceeded with. As this piece of machinery is said to weigh over one hundred tons, and is over one hundred feet in length, a hard day's work may be expected. It is proposed to place oaken timbers along the bank, and roll the mixer up by means of block and tackle arrangement.

BOARD OF WORKS MET LAST NIGHT

Street Railway Co. Will Not Draw Gravel.

Many Requests Were Heard—Little Business was Transacted.

The Board of Works met last night in the Town Clerk's office, the following members being in attendance: Ald. Adams (Chairman), Mayor Beat, Aldermen Tovey, Batten and Johnston.

Mr. J. W. Bennet was heard again in regard to the proposition to put sewers in the lanes between Park street and Boswell avenue, and Boswell avenue and Pearl avenue. His suggestion was to have the sewer which it was proposed to lay on Park street between Charlotte and King laid between Downie and Park, and the Burnham estate would agree to pay for half the cost of that sewer, from the point where it struck Park street, to King street.

The Board agreed to the proposition.

The Peterborough Radial Railway Co. wrote that they had sunk several test pits opposite the end of their track on Water street for gravel, but had not been successful in finding it, and consequently could not draw gravel for the town at present.

It was decided to ask Mr. Chipman to lay out the sewer in Ward 5 for the contractor to proceed with the work.

Mr. E. M. Beat was heard regarding a plumbing contract taken before the passing of the by-law. No action was taken.

Mr. A. E. Ironside and Mr. Mitchell, representing the Sawyer Massey Co., were heard regarding a stone crusher. No action was taken.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was heard regarding Mr. Zimri Blodgett's street watering contract. He asked that a standpipe be put in on Water street, north of the railway track, as stipulated in Mr. Blodgett's tender, or that Blodgett be further compensated if he was expected to water that part of the street properly. No action was taken.

SCOOPED HAIL UP IN SHOVELS

Worst Hail Storm in History of Buckhorn.

Followed by Four Hours Rain—Many Tourists Have Arrived.

Mr. W. A. Stabler who returned today from Buckhorn states that on Thursday there was a terrific hail storm at that place, and hail fell as large as small apples. After the storm had passed, it was scooped up in shovels.

Considerable damage was done by the storm to the crops. Cucumber vines were cut, and destroyed, and the paint on buildings marked by the force of the falling hail.

Following this the heaviest rain storm that has been seen there in years came on, lasting for four hours.

The season has fully opened at this popular resort, and a large number of tourists have arrived for the summer.

BURY OLD STRIFE.

Independent Section of Ulster Orangemen Plead for Peace in Ireland.

Belfast, July 15.—An independent section of Ulster Orangemen, headed by Commoner Sloan, has issued a striking manifesto to the country, appealing for the burial of sectarianism, "which now is dividing Protestants and Catholics, and invoking the co-operation of all secular forces in the promotion of the national welfare.

The manifesto expresses distrust of English parties, which, it says, will continue in the future as in the past to play off Catholics and Protestants against each other to the prejudice of the country's higher claims.

The country too long has been neglected in the strife of party and creed, the manifesto continues, and there now is room for a patriotic party having the policy to rid Ireland of the domination of impractible creeds and organized tyrannies and to secure the desired redress.

C. M. A. Program is Ended.

Paris, July 15.—(C. A. P.)—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association divide here, some going to Liege Exposition and other to Switzerland and Italy. The party will be back in London to-day, and many sail for Canada on the 20th. President George and others on August 3.

FOUR DEAD AS RESULT OF WIND

Hoover Building in Winnipeg in Its Collapse Injures and Kills.

Six Injured in Addition to those Killed —A Serious Tornado.

Special to the Examiner

Winnipeg, Man., July 15.—Four dead and six injured is the result of the collapse of the Hooker Building and the consequent crushing in of two adjoining houses during the cyclone storm which swept the city about midnight. The dead are H. White, W. Steinhoff, and two sisters named Reilly. The injured are F. Bennett, A. F. Gladhill, J. Steinhoff, ——Coombes, J. Anderson, and D. Ferguson. No other damage was done in the city with the exception of chimneys, awnings and trees being blown down. It is not known whether serious damage was done throughout the country, owing to the prostration of wires.

To the Editor,—

Sir, — Would it not be a good idea for some bank in this city to keep open, say from 5 to 8 o'clock p.m., on Friday and Saturday evenings, in order to enable the working classes to get their checks cashed? I am sure it would be a great benefit to merchants, as well as having a tendency to encourage the workingmen to open a savings account. It has proved a success in all cities in other countries where such a system has been adopted.

"Check."

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women

Make Healthy Women.

Whether you believe it or not, this incontrovertible fact remains. These tablets will change weak and diseased organs into strong, healthy organs; fast with some, more slowly with others, but sure and absolutely certain with all who persist in their use, except the few beyond the help of medicine.

Disease, even chronic, will then disappear as these organs are restored to their normal conditions.

These tablets are now recognized beyond doubt or question as best adapted to the special needs of women.

PANAMA CANAL IN CANADIAN'S EYES

Peterborough Man Who Spent a Few Months There Returns and Tells The Examiner About It—Conditions of Living There Are Not Conducive to Health or Comfort —Mr. Ed. Tighe Tells of His Experiences—While Men are Scarce and are Falling Victims to "Yellow Jack"—Will Take Many Years to Build the Canal.

There is a man in town to-day who is mighty glad that he is here instead of in Panama, from which place he has just returned. That man is Edward Tighe, whose departure for the Isthmus where he was employed to work on the construction of the Panama Canal, was recorded in the Examiner at the time. A letter which had been received from there recently, and in which he described life in Panama was published a few days ago in this paper, but it appears that the half has not been told, and the experiences recorded there are amplified by Mr. Tighe in an interview in which he reveals something of the life which he and the other five hundred white men who were employed on the canal had to lead.

The conditions, to a white man especially are almost unendurable, and the statistics of the majority of those who have been unfortunate enough to go there seems to be to get enough money raised together between their spells of sickness, to take them back home. There are many, however, who have now become so heavily involved that it looks almost impossible for them ever to get back home. They have been sick, and by the agreement entered into when they accept work, a man draws pay for thirty days if he should be ill, and as for that he is on his own responsibility it is almost impossible for there any length of time without taking sick with the fever, and usually the sickness lasts longer than the thirty days, and the result is that they get into debt, and since it is impossible to leave the country until all one's debts have been paid, some of the many have now given up hope of ever being able to get home.

Mr. Tighe was at Colsabo, which is about the centre of the Isthmus, and about half-way between the Pacific and Atlantic oceans. It is at this point that the greater part of the work on the canal is being done by the United States Government, by whom are employed the 500 white men referred to, and many thousands of negroes.

According to Mr. Tighe, however, there is no prospect that the canal will be completed in the near future. At the place where he was working there is a cut 300 feet deep, necessary to bring the canal to the ocean level, and at the present rate of progress it will take sixty years for the cut to be completed. The aim of the Canal Commission is to construct a canal, which, without the use of locks will enable ships to sail from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, or vice versa, without having to use the locks. It appears, however, that it has by no means been established that this will be accomplished, the character of the land being such that it raises from above and there is a fear that after the canal has been dug, it will gradually fill in by the earth caving, which is said to have done since the French company ceased operations on its construction.

Mr. Tighe left the Isthmus on July 5th, and after seven days' sail, reached New York on the 12th, and came on to Peterborough, arriving here last night.

The primary cause of his leaving that country was the fear that he with the other men would take sick with the fever, known there as "Yellow Jack," from which many of the men are dying every day. The conditions in which the men have to live there, are conducive to taking this disease. The temperature goes away above 100 degrees, and even when it is pouring rain, the thermometer (will read 90 degrees in the shade. The marshy nature of the country, combined with the water which the men have to drink, also have a tendency to make the inhabitants susceptible to the disease.

Mr. Tighe has prepared a statement in which he sets forth the conditions under which he went to Panama, and his experiences since he went there. In part he says—

"I was employed from Canada as a steam and air drill workman at a salary of $1,460 per year, payable monthly, which is far from enough, as a machine workman in the match gets $5 per day. A sailor, under the conditions at the Isthmus, should get at least $175 per month, as one has to pay $45.00 per month for board, which is so poor one can hardly exist on it. Quarters are usually furnished to Americans by the Commission, but they are far from pleasant, and many of them are simply intolerable. All the furniture one gets is a cot in a bare room. There are swarms of flying ants and mosquitoes and tarantulas as large as lobsters, and various other insects that keep one awake at night.

I was employed to operate a steam machine, and they put me and another miner running a drill, 11-4 inch, 25 ft. long, out in the boiling sun, were the natives refuse to go, also swinging 8 pound hammers.

Almost every American has the fever, and they suffer more than words can tell. One can see the poor fellows staggering around weak from the effects of fever.

The hospital at Culibra is at the side of the hill, in a hole, and is far from being clean. They have negro nurses to attend the sick.

The hospital at Ancon is a very good hospital, but the patients are dying at the rate of two a day. Rhinos are getting worse, and the death rate will be higher as the hospital is full.

The city of Panama is the filthiest town in my opinion in the world. The streets are narrow and very dirty and the natives go about the streets naked. Colon is about the same as Panama. There are towns along all along the Panama Railway. They vary from 25 to 125 people.

The water is bad, Americans have to drink the same water as the negroes out at the works—common creek water—but at the hotel, boarders get sterilized water.

The clerks get better water. They have ice water in the offices, while the men that are building the canal get their drinking water from the creek. This water is brought to the men twice a day, by a negro boy, at morning and noon.

I just noted an article in the Toledo paper, written by George E. Weaver, stating that chances for a young American are good. I want to say that his statement is false. One is sent down by the Commission to do certain work, and he is kept on that work, and if the Commission wants a man for a higher position, they will send one down from the States. The old men still holds his old job with the same wages. The new man gets a better job and more wages.

Whatever the waiters bring us to eat we have to put up with it or leave it and do without. Meat was brought me that I actually could not chew, and had to leave it in disgust.

I am a member of the Western Federation of Miners, in good standing, and I write this as a warning to all miners not to come to Panama under a salary of $175 per month, and to do no other work but machine work or blasting. There are many miners here who would be happy if they had the means to get away from the canal and there are others going to leave as soon as they can get away. Several men are left here from each boat as they are unable to secure a passage as the passages are all taken.

Mr. Tighe repudiates the statements contained in letters published in a number of American papers, written by a correspondent named Carpenter, in which the conditions at the Isthmus according to Mr. Tighe, are misrepresented.

He is said to be at home again, and would not advise anyone looking for work to go to the Panama Canal to find it.

CURED LAME BACK AND WEAK HEART

What Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill, Did for a Hardworking Carpenter of Simcoe.

Here is what a resident of Simcoe, Ont., writes regarding "Bu-Ju," the Kidney Pill. The immediate effect of this remarkable specific is worthy of special attention. There is no other "kidney remedy" offered the public at all comparable with Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill.

Simcoe, Ont., March 23rd, 1905.
Claflin Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont.:

Gentlemen,—I have been using "Bu-Ju" Kidney Pills for some time, and can say that I have been greatly benefitted by them, and that when I began my back was very lame, my heart working badly and I simply had to force myself to work; more than that, as a proof that they have curative powers, I will say that the work I was doing when I began their use was very hard and trying on the back, (hardwood floor work) but the lameness decreased and on the second or third day I could work as hard as I wished. You may add this to your other testimonials if you wish, as I believe they will do as much for others as they have done for me.

Yours truly,
ARTHUR OWEN.

The change from a lame back, a disordered heart and an inability to work was very welcome in the case of a man who had to work for his living; and that change came in two or three days, it was due to Bu-Ju, the Kidney Pill. These pills cure lame backs and strengthen weak hearts, because they act directly on the kidneys. A weak or deranged condition of these sewers of the body prevents the throwing off of poisons from the system. The blood then becomes infected and a number of diseases are the result. "Bu-Ju" cleanses and invigorates the kidneys, enabling them to do their work of elimination gloriously. What this sovereign specific did for Mr. Owen it will do for all others afflicted as he was. The effect of this remarkable remedy is felt at once in a measure of relief, and faithful adherence to directions will bring about a cure. Bu-Ju Kidney Pills are for sale by druggists generally. Ask for them and refuse substitutes.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORT-WEST. HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

PROPOSED INCREASED INDEMNITY.

At the last general election, and in the elections preceeding it, for the Dominion House, when the sessional indemnity of the members was $1500, or even when it was but $1,000, it is not recorded that there was any particular difficulty in inducing men to accept nomination. They were, for the most part, willing enough to become members of Parliament, provided they could get enough electors of the opinion that they were the men who should represent them, and accept the $1,500. Now the proposal is made, and, apparently it finds some rather general support among the members, to increase the indemnity to the sum of $2,500. It is only a few years since the members were satisfied, if they could only be elected, to accept $1,000, and later, when, because of increased cost of living, etc., it was raised to $1,500, it was felt that the limit had been reached. As a matter of fact that sum is more than the majority of the members are worth, to the country or to themselves. How many of the present members of Parliament, if they were thrown on their own resources could earn or make $2,500 a year? Yet they ask the people of the country to add to the already large sum required to administer the affairs of the Dominion, to the extent of an additional $1,000 a year for each of the two hundred odd members of Parliament.

It is urged as a reason and justification for the increase, the fact that the business of the country, growing as it is, necessitates a longer session of Parliament. But is this the case? Undoubtedly there is more business to be done, but who is there that would say that it has required all the time spent in the session just closing, for example, to transact all the business that has been put through the house? The present opposition has been a pretty expensive one for this country. They have spent days and weeks in talk, for the benefit of their constituents, when they might better have allowed the business of the House to proceed. Four months is, under ordinary circumstances, plenty long enough to transact all the business, and, because of the fact that the Opposition has seen fit to spend nearly twice that length of time in useless, and, for the most part, meaningless talk, the people are now asked to sanction an increase in the indemnity to the sum referred to above.

As far as the general business of the session is concerned, it is conceded that the greater part is done by a few men on each side of the house, and, except for that which affects the immediate constituencies represented by them, the majority of the members might as well be at home attending to their private business affairs.

The business of the country and consequently, that of the House, is undoubtedly growing, but the great bulk of the work falls upon the departments, the heads of which report to the House, where assent, or otherwise, is given to the wishes of the Government of the day. It is not the men who are the most useful in the House who are clamouring for the increased indemnity, but those who are in Parliament for what they can get out of it, and who are trying to make a living out of the amount which they receive from this source. This is not the class of men that Canadians want, to transact their business for them, and to represent them in the legislative halls of the nation.

The British Parliament is held up as a model, and, in the main, Canadians could, with profit, follow the example set by the legislators of the Mother Land. Those who sit in that Parliament receive nothing for their services, and, while of course in a young country like Canada, it is not to be expected that members of Parliament could spend their time, and receive nothing for it, still the tendency should be in that direction, and the sooner men can be procured, who are willing to serve their country, because of their interest in its affairs for their own sake, and not because they are going to get something out of it, the better it will be for Canada.

The members in Ontario and Quebec can attend the sessions of the House without any serious interruption in their business, because they can keep in touch with it, and then the expense of going from their home to Ottawa is not great. To some extent, the members from the Maritime Provinces, Manitoba, the Northwest Territories, and British Columbia, are not as favourably situated, but, to offset this disadvantage, they have the amounts which they receive for mileage, and which is considerable, and, in addition, free transportation on all the railways.

There is no necessity for an increase of the sessional indemnity, and if the members of Parliament are anxious to serve the interests of the country they will not support the proposal to increase the indemnity. Sir Wilfrid and his Government, will be acting prudently if they decline to sanction any increased indemnity to members. The present sum is sufficient, and those who cannot afford to give their services had better withdraw from public life. The Dominion will get along without them.

STRIKES BAD FOR THE UNION.

The New York State Department of Labour, in its quarterly bulletin, speaks of the disastrous effect of recent strikes upon the labour organisations that prosecuted them. It says:

"The failure of the strike on the Rapid Transit system in New York resulted in the disruption of unions embracing more than 4,000 men; that of the glaziers was followed by the dissolution of a union of 500 men, while the disputes in the Fulton County glove manufacture also caused very heavy losses. In some industries trade has only recently recovered from the recent depression, which greatly weakened the workmen's organizations. Thus the Schenectady unions lost 14 per cent. of their members between October, 1904, and April, 1905, while Syracuse was the only large city in which unionism made any gain in number of adherents. In the six months specified 165 organizations in the State dissolved and 20 more amalgamated with other unions of the same trade.

During that period New York City lost 8761 members. A losing strike is generally disastrous, and even a successful one has its drawbacks. Like wars, strikes should be a last resource, never undertaken until all other means have failed to obtain the desired object. And the object should be such as every man could approve of if he were in the other fellow's place.

UNITED STATES MURDERS.

The large number of murders in the United States and the small number of legal executions for that crime is no new theme. But it is new to have so high an authority as the Secretary of War, Mr. Taft, pointing to the great increase in this grave crime and the utter failure of the law to mete out anything like adequate punishment. Here, in brief, is the record of 20 years:—

	1885.	1904.
Murders	1,808	8,482
Executions	108	116

It will be noted that the number of murders increased well on to five-fold in the 20 years, while the number of executions scarcely increased at all. It will be further noted that, in 1885 there was only about 1 case in 17 where the death penalty was exacted, or in about 6 per cent. of the murder cases. In 1904 there was only about one case in 72 where the death penalty was carried out, or in far less that 1 1-2 per cent. of the murder cases. Such figures certainly show an enormous increase in crime, and also an enormous decline in the practical effectiveness of the public laws, even from the very low figures obtaining in 1885. Secretary Taft charges this practical worthlessness of the laws against homicide to the facility offered by the present practice in the United States to dilatory motions, and to appeals in criminal cases, and he strongly urged the adoption of the British system, in which appeal, as ordinarily understood, is unknown, and the administration of the criminal law is kept well in hand under the very limited appeal procedure known as the 'crown case reserved." — Brantford Expositor.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT MARKET THIS MORNING

There was an Increased Variety of Garden Products.

The largest attendance of this summer was witnessed on the market this morning. There was a large showing in garden and farm products, as well as dairy produce. New potatoes made their first appearance, 35c. per peck being asked. A few green apples were also in evidence.

The hall in the inside market was well filled, large quantities of butter and eggs, which was sold at 20c. per lb., and 16 to 18 c per dozen, respectively. There were also a few pairs of chickens which went from 75c. to $1.00 per pair.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness.

Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contageous as any other malevolent disease, and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush, is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Ormond & Walsh special agents.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

Interesting Extracts From The Examiner of 25 Years Ago.

The Examiner continues to-day the publication of a series of news items taken from the files of this paper, published in the corresponding week of 1880:

• • •

Rev. E. J. Stobo, of Collingwood, received a hearty and unanimous call to the pastorate of the Peterborough Baptist church.

• • •

The Peterborough third eleven bested the Port Hope High School at cricket. Score 67 to 62. Local team, Hamilton, Carnegie, Hamilton, Mills, Cottingham, Burritt, Dumble Rogers, Snyder, Canning, Douglas.

• • •

The Lakefield train was ditched at Nassau through running into a cow.

• • •

The Board of Education held its regular meeting on Tuesday. Present, Jas. Stevenson, Chairman; and Messrs. Dumble, McClelland, Shaw, Denne, Cox, Rutherford, Carlyle, Wrighton, Mensies, Hughes, and Best.

The following was the attendance for June:

Collegiate Institute	139
Central School	404
First Ward	167
Second Ward	175
Auburn	31

A letter from Mr. Jeffers was read tendering his resignation as master.

An animated and heated discussion over the alleged "cramming" of pupils, and the excessive amount of home work, was one of the features of the meeting.

Jules Joubert, who was riding Mr. Ed. Phelan's mare, "Maud S.," at Port Hope races, had a narrow escape from a fatal accident. The horse bolted into a crowd of pedestrians, injuring a number seriously. Joubert himself was badly hurt.

• • •

At a meeting of the Electric Hose Company, Captain James G. Macdonald handed in his resignation, which was regretfully accepted. Lt. George Lyttle was appointed to the Captaincy.

• • •

The Grand Junction Railway is now in operation as far as Keene, and several Otonabee farmers have had cattle killed by the iron steed.

• • •

While the Messrs. English were engaged in removing a heavy safe belonging to Messrs. Edmison and Wood, to offices at the corner of Brock and George street, they met with a surprise. It appears that the supports underneath the sidewalk had been washed away, and the men supposing the walk solid, deposited the safe. Their surprise was great when the safe disappeared out of sight taking the walk with it.

ONLY ONE CASE AT THE POLICE COURT

Charge of Violation of By-Law Quickly Disposed Of.

There was only one case to occupy the attention of the Police Court this morning. Mr. Benj. Shortly appeared before His Worship for allowing goods to stand over the sidewalk. The Magistrate had seen the goods, but they projected only an inch or so, the horse's nose being the worst offender. He thought Mr. Shortly had tried to keep to the spirit of the by-law and he would therefore discharge him with a warning to be good.

The Magistrate advised the Chief not to go out of his way looking for such slight infringements as they wished to be kind to the citizens, and not to create any ill feelings.

Helpless With Salt Rheum.

I HAVE never known my friend to be in better form, both mental and physical, than in the year '95. His increasing fame had brought with it an immense practice, and I should be guilty of an indiscretion if I were even to hint at the identity of some of the illustrious clients who crossed our humble threshold in Baker street. Holmes, however, like all great artists, lived for his art's sake, and, save in the case of the Duke of Holdernesse, I have seldom known him claim any large reward for his inestimable services. So unworldly was he—or so capricious—that he frequently refused his help to the powerful and wealthy where the problem made no appeal to his sympathies, while he would devote weeks of most intense application to the affairs of some humble client whose case presented those strange and dramatic qualities which appealed to his imagination and challenged his ingenuity.

In this memorable year '95 a curious and incongruous succession of cases had engaged his attention, ranging from his famous investigation of the sudden death of Cardinal Tosca—an inquiry which was carried out by him at the express desire of his holiness the pope—down to his arrest of Wilson, the notorious canary trainer, which removed a plague spot from the east end of London. Close on the heels of these two famous cases came the tragedy of Woodman's Lee and the very obscure circumstances which surrounded the death of Captain Peter Carey. No record of the doings of Mr. Sherlock Holmes would be complete which did not include some account of this very unusual affair.

During the first week of July my friend had been absent so often and so long from our lodgings that I knew he had something on hand. The fact that several rough looking men called during that time and inquired for Captain Basil made me understand that Holmes was working somewhere under one of the numerous disguises and names with which he concealed his own formidable identity. He had at least five small refuges in different parts of London in which he was able to change his personality. He said nothing of his business to me, and it was not my habit to force a confidence. The first positive sign which he gave me of the direction which his investigation was taking was an extraordinary one. He had gone out before breakfast, and I had sat down to mine when he strode into the room, his hat upon his head and a huge barb headed spear tucked like an umbrella under his arm.

"Good gracious, Holmes," I cried, "you don't mean to say that you have been walking about London with that thing!"

"I drove to the butcher's and back."

"The butcher's?"

"And I return with an excellent appetite. There can be no question, my dear Watson, of the value of exercise before breakfast. But I am prepared to bet that you will not guess the form that my exercise has taken."

"I will not attempt it."

He chuckled as he poured out the coffee.

"If you could have looked into Allardyce's back shop you would have seen a dead pig swung from a hook in the ceiling and a gentleman in his shirt sleeves furiously stabbing at it with this weapon. I was that energetic person, and I have satisfied myself that by no exertion of my strength can I transfix the pig with a single blow. Perhaps you would care to try?"

"Not for worlds. But why were you doing this?"

"Because it seemed to me to have an indirect bearing upon the mystery of Woodman's Lee. Ah, Hopkins, I got your wire last night, and I have been expecting you. Come and join us."

Our visitor was an exceedingly alert man, thirty years of age, dressed in a quiet tweed suit, but retaining the erect bearing of one who was accustomed to official uniform. I recognized him at once as Stanley Hopkins, a young police inspector, for whose future Holmes had high hopes, while he in turn professed the admiration and respect of a pupil for the scientific methods of the famous amateur. Hopkins' brow was clouded, and he sat down with an air of deep dejection.

"No, thank you, sir. I breakfasted before I came round. I spent the night in town, but I came up yesterday to report."

"And what had you to report?"

"Failure, sir; absolute failure."

"You have made no progress?"

"None."

"Dear me! I must have a look at the matter."

"I wish to heavens that you would, Mr. Holmes. It's my first big chance, and I am at my wits' end. For goodness' sake, come down and lend me a hand."

"Well, well, it just happens that I have already read all the available evidence, including the report of the inquest, with some care. By the way, what do you make of that tobacco pouch found on the scene of the crime? Is there no clew there?"

Hopkins looked surprised.

"It was the maa's own pouch, sir. His initials were inside it. And it was of sealskin—and he was an old sealer."

"But he had no pipe."

"No, sir, we could find no pipe. Indeed, he smoked very little, and yet he might have kept some tobacco for his friends."

"No doubt. I only mention it because if I had been handling the case I should have been inclined to make that the starting point of my investigation. However, my friend, Dr. Watson, knows nothing of this matter, and I should be none the worse for hearing the sequence of events once more. Just give us some short sketches of the essentials."

Stanley Hopkins drew a slip of paper from his pocket.

"I have a few dates here which will give you the career of the dead man, Captain Peter Carey. He was born in '45—fifty years of age. He was a most daring and successful seal and whale fisher. In 1883 he commanded the steam sealer Sea Unicorn of Dundee. He had then had several successful voyages in succession, and in the following year, 1884, he retired. After that he traveled for some years, and finally he bought a small place called Woodman's Lee, near Forest Row, in Sussex. There he has lived for six years, and there he died just a week ago today.

"There were some most singular points about the man. In ordinary life he was a strict Puritan—a silent, gloomy fellow. His household consisted of his wife, his daughter, aged twenty, and two female servants. These last were continually changing, for it was never a cheery situation, and sometimes it became past all bearing. The man was an intermittent drunkard, and when he had the fit on him he was a perfect fiend. He has been known to drive his wife and daughter out of doors in the middle of the night and flog them through the park until the whole village outside the gates was aroused by their screams.

"He was summoned once for a savage assault upon the old vicar, who had called upon him to remonstrate with him upon his conduct. In short, Mr. Holmes, you would go far before you found a more dangerous man than Peter Carey, and I have heard that he bore the same character when he commanded his ship. He was known in the trade as Black Peter, and the name was given him not only on account of his swarthy features and the color of his huge beard, but for the humors which were the terror of all around him. I need not say that he was loathed and avoided by every one of his neighbors and that I have not heard one single word of sorrow about his terrible end.

"You must have read in the account of the inquest about the man's cabin, Mr. Holmes, but perhaps your friend here has not heard of it. He had built a wooden outhouse—he always called it the 'cabin'—a few hundred yards from his house, and it was here that he slept every night. It was a little single roomed hut 10 by 10. He kept the key in his pocket, made his own bed, cleaned it himself and allowed no other foot to cross the threshold. There are small windows on each side, which were covered by curtains and never opened. One of these windows was turned toward the highroad, and when the light burned in it at night the folk used to point it out to each other and wonder what Black Peter was doing in there. That's the window, Mr. Holmes, which gave us one of the few bits of positive evidence that came out at the inquest.

"You remember that a stonemason named Slater, walking from Forest Row about 1 o'clock in the morning two days before the murder, stopped as he passed the grounds and looked at the square of light still shining among the trees. He swears that the shadow of a man's head turned sideways was clearly visible on the blind and that this shadow was certainly not that of Peter Carey, whom he knew well. It was that of a bearded man, but the beard was short and bristled forward in a way very different from that of the captain. So he says, but he had been two hours in the public house, and it is some distance from the road to the window. Besides, this refers to the Monday, and the crime was done upon the Wednesday.

"On the Tuesday Peter Carey was in one of his blackest moods, flushed with drink and as savage as a dangerous wild beast. He roamed about the house, and the women ran for it when they heard him coming. Late in the evening he went down to his own hut. About 2 o'clock the following morning his daughter, who slept with her window open, heard a most fearful yell from that direction, but it was no unusual thing for him to bawl and shout when he was in drink, so no notice was taken. On rising at 7 one of the maids noticed that the door of the hut was open, but so great was the terror which the man caused that it was midday before any one would venture down to see what had become of him. Peeping into the open door, they saw a sight which sent them flying with white faces into the village. Within an hour I was on the spot and had taken over the case.

"Well, I have fairly steady nerves, as you know, Mr. Holmes, but I give you my word that I got a shake when I put my head into that little house. It was droning like a harmonium with the flies and bluebottles, and the floor and walls were like a slaughter house. He had called it a cabin, and a cabin it was, sure enough, for you would have thought that you were in a ship. There was a bunk at one end, a sea chest, maps and charts, a picture of the Sea Unicorn, a line of logbooks on a shelf, all exactly as one would expect to find in a captain's room. And there, in the middle of it, was the man himself—his face twisted like a lost soul in torment, and his great brindled beard stuck upward in his agony. Right through his broad breast a steel harpoon had been driven, and it had sunk deep into the wood of the wall behind him. He was pinned like a beetle on a card. Of course he was quite dead and had been so from the instant that he had uttered that last yell of agony.

"I know your methods, sir, and I applied them. Before I permitted anything to be moved I examined most carefully the ground outside and also the floor of the room. There were no footmarks."

"Meaning that you saw none?"

"I assure you, sir, that there were none."

"My good Hopkins, I have investigated many crimes, but I have never yet seen one which was committed by a flying creature. As long as the criminal remains upon two legs so long must there be some indentation, some abrasion, some trifling displacement which can be detected by the scientific searcher. It is incredible that this blood bespattered room contained no trace which could have aided us. I understand, however, from the inquest that there were some objects which you failed to overlook?"

The young inspector winced at my companion's ironical comments.

"I was a fool not to call you in at the time, Mr. Holmes. However, that's past praying for now. Yes, there were several objects in the room which called for special attention. One was the harpoon with which the deed was committed. It had been snatched down from a rack on the wall. Two others remained there, and there was a vacant place for the third. On the stock was engraved 'Sea Unicorn, Dundee.' This seemed to establish that the crime had been done in a moment of fury and that the murderer had seized the first weapon which came in his way. The fact that the crime was committed at 2 in the morning, and yet Peter Carey was fully dressed, suggested that he had an appointment with the murderer, which is borne out by the fact that a bottle of rum and two dirty glasses stood upon the table."

"Yes," said Holmes, "I think that both inferences are permissible. Was there any other spirit than rum in the room?"

"Yes, there was a tantalus containing brandy and whisky on the sea chest. It is of no importance to us, however, since the decanters were full, and it had therefore not been used."

"For all that, its presence has some significance," said Holmes. "However, let us hear some more about the objects which do seem to you to bear upon the case."

"There was this tobacco pouch upon the table."

"What part of the table?"

"It lay in the middle. It was of coarse sealskin—the straight haired skin, with a leather thong to bind it. Inside were 'P. C.' on the flap. There was half an ounce of strong ship's tobacco in it."

"Excellent! What more?"

Stanley Hopkins drew from his pocket a drab covered notebook. The outside was rough and worn, the leaves discolored. On the first page were written the initials 'C. P. R.," and the date "1883." Holmes laid it on the table and examined it in his minute way, while Hopkins and I gazed over each shoulder. On the second page were the printed letters "C. P. R.," and then came several sheets of numbers. Another heading was "Argentine," another "Costa Rica" and another "San Paulo," each with pages of signs and figures after it.

"What do you make of these?" asked Holmes.

"They appear to be lists of Stock Exchange securities. I thought that 'C. P. R.' were the initials of a broker and that C. P. R. may have been his client.

"Try Canadian Pacific railway," said Holmes.

Stanley Hopkins swore between his teeth and struck his thigh with his clinched hand.

"What a fool I have been!" he cried. "Of course it is as you say. Then 'J. H. N.' are the only initials we have to solve. I have already examined the old Stock Exchange lists, and I can find no one in 1883, either in the house or among the outside brokers, whose initials correspond with these. Yet I feel that the clew is the most important one that I hold. You will admit, Mr. Holmes, that there is a possibility that these initials are those of the second person who was present—in other words, of the murderer. I would also urge that the introduction into the case of a document relating to large masses of valuable securities gives us for the first time some indication of a motive for the crime."

Sherlock Holmes' face showed that he was thoroughly taken aback by this new development.

"I must admit both your points," said he. "I confess that this notebook, which did not appear at the inquest, modifies any views which I may have formed. I had come to a theory of the crime in which I can find no place for this. Have you endeavored to trace any of the securities here mentioned?"

"Inquiries are now being made at the offices, but I fear that the complete register of the stockholders of these South American concerns is in South America and that some weeks must elapse before we can trace the shares."

Holmes had been examining the cover of the notebook with his magnifying lens.

"Surely there is some discoloration here," said he.

"Yes, sir; it is a blood stain. I told you that I picked the book off the floor."

"Was the blood stain above or below?"

"On the side next the boards."

"Which proves, of course, that the book was dropped after the crime was committed."

"Exactly, Mr. Holmes. I appreciated that point, and I conjectured that it was dropped by the murderer in his hurried flight. It lay near the door."

"I suppose that none of these securities have been found among the property of the dead man?"

"No, sir."

"Have you any reason to suspect robbery?"

"No, sir. Nothing seemed to have been touched."

"Dear me, it is certainly a very interesting case. Then there was a knife, was there not?"

"A sheath knife, still in its sheath. It lay at the foot of the dead man. Mrs. Carey has identified it as being her husband's property."

Holmes was lost in thought for some time.

"Well," said he at last, "I suppose I shall have to come out and have a look at it."

Stanley Hopkins gave a cry of joy.

"Thank you, sir. That will, indeed, be a weight off my mind."

Holmes shook his finger at the inspector.

"It would have been an easier task a week ago," said he. "But even now my visit may not be entirely fruitless. Watson, if you can spare the time I should be very glad of your company. If you will call a four wheeler, Hopkins, we shall be ready to start for Forest Row in a quarter of an hour."

Alighting at the small wayside station, we drove for some miles through the remains of widespreading woods which were once part of that great forest which for so long held the Saxon invaders at bay—the impenetrable weald, for sixty years the bulwark of Britain. Vast sections of it have been cleared, for this is the seat of the first iron works of the country, and the trees have been felled to smelt the ore. Now the richer fields of the north have absorbed the trade, and nothing save these ravaged groves and great stacks in the early shows the work of the past. Here, in a clearing upon the green slope of a hill, stood a long, low stone house, approached by a curving drive running through the fields. Nearer the road and surrounded on three sides by bushes was a small outhouse, one window and the door facing in our direction. It was the scene of the murder.

Stanley Hopkins led us first to the house, where he introduced us to a haggard, gray haired woman, the widow of the murdered man, whose gaunt and deep lined face, with the furtive look of terror in the depths of her red rimmed eyes, told of the years of hardship and ill usage which she had endured. With her was her daughter, a pale, fair haired girl, whose eyes blazed defiantly at us as she told us that she was glad that her father was dead and that she blessed the hand which had struck him down. It was a terrible household that Black Peter Carey had made for himself, and it was with a sense of relief that we found ourselves in the sunlight again, making our way along a path which had been worn across the fields by the feet of the dead man.

The outhouse was the simplest of dwellings, wooden walled, shingle roofed, one window beside the door and one on the farther side. Stanley Hopkins drew the key from his pocket and had stooped to the lock when he paused with a look of attention and surprise upon his face.

"Some one has been tampering with it," he said.

There could be no doubt of the fact. The woodwork was cut, and the scratches showed white through the paint, as if they had been that instant done. Holmes had been examining the window.

"Some one has tried to force this also. Whoever it was has failed to make his way in. He must have been a very poor burglar."

"This is a most extraordinary thing," said the inspector. "I could swear that these marks were not here yesterday evening."

"Some curious person from the village, perhaps," I suggested.

"Very unlikely. Few of them would dare to set foot in the grounds, far less try to force their way into the cabin. What do you think of it, Mr. Holmes?"

"I think that fortune is very kind to us."

"You mean that the person will come again?"

"It is very probable. He came expecting to find the door open. He tried to get in with the blade of a very small penknife. He could not manage it. What would he do?"

"Come again next night with a more useful tool."

"So I should say. It will be our fault if we are not there to receive him. Meanwhile let me see the inside of the cabin."

The traces of the tragedy had been removed, but the furniture within the little room still stood as it had been on the night of the crime. For two hours with most intense concentration Holmes examined every object in turn, but his face showed that his quest was not a successful one. Once only he paused in his patient investigation.

"Have you taken anything off this shelf, Hopkins?"

"No; I have moved nothing."

"Something has been taken. There is less dust in this corner of the shelf than elsewhere. It may have been a book lying on its side. It may have been a box. Well, well, I can do nothing more. Let us walk in these beautiful woods, Watson, and give a few hours to the birds and the flowers. We shall meet you here later, Hopkins, and see if we can come to closer quarters with the gentleman who has paid this visit in the night."

It was past 11 o'clock when we formed our little ambuscade. Hopkins was for leaving the door of the hut open, but Holmes was of the opinion that this would rouse the suspicions of the stranger. The lock was a perfectly simple one, and only a strong blade was needed to push it back. Holmes also suggested that we should wait, not inside the hut, but outside it among the bushes which grew round the further window. In this way we should be able to watch our man if he struck a light and see what his object was in this stealthy nocturnal visit.

It was a long and melancholy vigil, and yet brought with it something of the thrill which the hunter feels when he lies beside the water pool and waits for the coming of the thirsty beast of prey. What savage creature was it which might steal upon us out of the darkness? Was it a human thief of crime, which could only be taken fighting hard with desperate hand and claw, or would it prove to be some skulking jackal, dangerous only to the weak and unguarded?

In absolute silence we crouched among the bushes, waiting for whatever might come. At first the steps of a few belated villagers or the sound of voices from the village inspired our vigil, but one by one these interruptions died away and an absolute stillness fell upon us, save for the chimes of the distant church, which told us of the passing of the night, and for the poignant whisper of a fine rain falling amid the foliage which roofed us in.

Half past 2 had chimed, and it was the darkest hour which precedes the dawn, when we all started as a low but sharp click came from the direction of the gate. Some one had entered the drive. Again there was a long silence, and I had begun to fear that it was a false alarm, when a stealthy step was heard upon the other side of the hut, and a moment later a metallic scraping and clinking. The man was trying to force the lock. This time his skill was greater or his tool was better, for there was a sudden snap and the creak of the hinges. Then a match was struck, and next instant the steady light from a candle filled the interior of the hut. Through the gauze curtain our eyes were all riveted upon the scene within.

The nocturnal visitor was a young man, frail and thin, with a black mustache, which intensified the deadly pallor of his face. He could not have been much above twenty years of age. I have never seen any human being who appeared to be in such a pitiable fright, for his teeth were visibly chattering, and he was shaking in every limb. He was dressed like a gentleman, in Norfolk jacket and knickerbockers, with a cloth cap upon his head. We watched him staring round with frightened eyes. Then he laid the candle end upon the table and disappeared from our view into one of the corners. He returned with a large book, one of the logbooks which formed a line upon the shelves. Leaning on the table, he rapidly turned over the leaves of this volume until he came to the entry which he sought. Then, with an angry gesture of his clinched hand, he closed the book, replaced it in the corner and put out the light. He had hardly turned to leave the hut when Hopkins' hand was on the fellow's collar, and I heard his loud gasp of terror as he understood that he was taken. The candle was relit, and there was our wretched captive, shivering and cowering in the grasp of the detective. He sank down upon the sea chest and looked helplessly from one of us to the other.

"Now, my fine fellow," said Stanley Hopkins, "who are you and what do you want here?"

The man pulled himself together and faced us with an effort at self composure.

"You are detectives, I suppose," said he. "You imagine I am connected with the death of Captain Peter Carey. I assure you that I am innocent."

"We'll see about that," said Hopkins. "First of all, what is your name?"

"It is John Hopley Neligan."

I saw Holmes and Hopkins exchange a quick glance.

"What are you doing here?"

"Can I speak confidentially?"

"No, certainly not."

"Why should I tell you?"

"If you have no answer, it may go badly with you at the trial."

The young man winced.

"Well, I will tell you," he said. "Why should I not? And yet I hate to think of this old scandal gaining a new lease of life. Did you ever hear of Dawson & Neligan?"

"I could see from Hopkins' face that he never had, but Holmes was keenly interested.

"You mean the west country bankers," said he. "They failed for a million, ruined half the county families of Cornwall and Neligan disappeared."

"Exactly. Neligan was my father."

At last we were getting something positive, and yet, it seemed a long gap between an absconding banker and Captain Peter Carey pinned against the wall with one of his own harpoons. We all listened intently to the young man's words.

"It was my father who was really concerned. Dawson had retired. I was only ten years of age at the time, but I was old enough to feel the shame and horror of it all. It has always been said that my father stole all the securities and fled. It is not true. It was his belief if he were given time in which to realize them all would be well and every creditor paid in full. He started in his little yacht for Norway just before the warrant was issued for his arrest. I can remember that last night, when he bade farewell to my mother. He left us a list of the securities he was taking, and he swore that he would come back with his honor cleared and that none who had trusted him would suffer. Well, no word was ever heard from him again. Both the yacht and he vanished utterly. We believed, my mother and I, that he and it, with the securities that he had taken with him, were at the bottom of the sea. We had a faithful friend, however, who is a business man, and it was he who discovered some time ago that some of the securities which my father had with him had reappeared on the London market. You can imagine our amazement. I spent months in trying to trace them, and at last, after many doublings and difficulties, I discovered that the original seller had been Captain Peter Carey, the owner of this hut.

"Naturally, I made some inquiries about the man. I found that he had been in command of a whaler which was due to return from the arctic seas at the very time when my father was crossing to Norway. The autumn of that year was a stormy one, and there was a long succession of southerly gales. My father's yacht may well have been blown to the north and there met by Captain Peter Carey's ship. If that were so, what had become of my father? In any case, if I could prove from Peter Carey's evidence how these securities came on the market it would be a proof that my father had not sold them and that he had no view to personal profit when he took them.

"I came down to Sussex with the intention of seeing the captain, but it was at this moment that his terrible death occurred. I read at the inquest a description of his cabin, in which it stated that the old logbooks of his vessel were preserved in it. It struck me that if I could see what occurred in the month of August, 1883, on board the Sea Unicorn I might settle the mystery of my father's fate. I tried last night to get at these logbooks, but was unable to open the door. Tonight I tried again and succeeded, but I find that the pages which deal with that month have been torn from the book. It was at that moment I found myself a prisoner in your hands."

"Is that all?" asked Hopkins.

"Yes, that is all." His eyes shifted as he said it.

"You have nothing else to tell us?"

He hesitated.

"No, there is nothing."

"You have not been here before last night?"

"No."

"Then how do you account for that?" cried Hopkins, as he held up the damaging notebook, with the initials of our prisoner on the first leaf and the blood stain on the cover.

The wretched man collapsed. He sank his face in his hands and trembled all over.

"Where did you get it?" he groaned. "I did not know. I thought I had lost it at the hotel."

"That is enough," said Hopkins sternly. "Whatever else you have to say, you must say in court. You will walk down with me now to the police station. Well, Mr. Holmes, I am very much obliged to you and to your friend for coming down to help me. As it turns out, your presence was unnecessary, and I would have brought the case to this successful issue without you; but, none the less, I am grateful. Rooms have been reserved for you at the Brambletye hotel, so we can all walk down to the village together."

"Well, Watson, what do you think of it?" asked Holmes as we traveled back next morning.

"I can see that you are not satisfied."

"Oh, yes, my dear Watson; I am perfectly satisfied. At the same time, Stanley Hopkins' methods do not commend themselves to me. I am disappointed in Stanley Hopkins. I had hoped for better things from him. One should always look for a possible alternative and provide against it. It is the first rule of criminal investigation."

"What, then, is the alternative?"

"The line of investigation which I have myself been pursuing. It may give us nothing. I cannot tell. But at least I shall follow it to the end."

Several letters were waiting for Holmes at Baker street. He snatched one of them up, opened it and burst out into a triumphant chuckle of laughter.

"Excellent, Watson! The alternative develops. Have you telegraph forms? Just write a couple of messages for me: 'Sumner, shipping agent, Ratcliff highway. Send three men on to arrive 10 tomorrow morning. Basil.' That's my name in those parts. The other is: 'Inspector Stanley Hopkins, 46 Lord street, Brixton. Come breakfast tomorrow at 9:30. Important. Wire if unable to come. 'Sherlock Holmes.' There, Watson, this infernal case has haunted me for ten days. I hereby banish it completely from my presence. Tomorrow I trust that we shall hear the last of it forever."

Sharp at the hour named Inspector Stanley Hopkins appeared, and we sat down together to the excellent breakfast which Mrs. Hudson had prepared. The young detective was in high spirits at his success.

"You really think that your solution must be correct?" asked Holmes.

"I could not imagine a more complete case."

"It did not seem to me conclusive."

"You astonish me, Mr. Holmes. What more could one ask for?"

"Does your explanation cover every point?"

"Undoubtedly. I find that young Neligan arrived at the Brambletye hotel on the very day of the crime. He came on the pretense of playing golf. His room was on the ground floor, and he could get out when he liked. That very night he went down to Woodman's Lee, saw Peter Carey at the hut, quarreled with him and killed him with the harpoon. Then, horrified by what he had done, he fled out of the hut, dropping the notebook which he had brought with him in order to question Peter Carey about these different securities. You may have observed that some of them were marked with ticks and the others—the great majority—were not. Those which are ticked have been traced on the London market, but the others presumably were still in the possession of Carey, and young Neligan, according to his own account, was anxious to recover them in order to do the right thing by his father's creditors. After his flight he did not dare to approach the hut again for some time, but at last he forced himself to do so in order to obtain the information which he needed. Surely that is all simple and obvious?"

Holmes smiled and shook his head.

"It seems to me to have only one drawback, Hopkins, and that is that it is intrinsically impossible. Have you tried to drive a harpoon through a body? No? Tut, tut, my dear sir, you must really pay attention to these details. My friend Watson could tell you that I spent a whole morning in that exercise. It is no easy matter and requires a strong and practiced arm. But this blow was delivered with such violence that the head of the weapon sank deep into the wall. Do you imagine that this anaemic youth was capable of so frightful an assault? Is he the man who bobnobbed in rum and water with Black Peter in the dead of night? Was it his profile that was seen on the blind two nights before? No, no, Hopkins, it is another and more formidable person for whom we must seek."

The detective's face had grown longer and longer during Holmes' speech. His hopes and his ambitions were all crumbling about him. But he would not abandon his position without a struggle.

"You can't deny that Neligan was present that night, Mr. Holmes. The book will prove that. I fancy that I have evidence enough to satisfy a jury, even if you are able to pick a hole in it. Besides, Mr. Holmes, I have laid my hand upon my man. As to this terrible person of yours, where is he?"

"I rather fancy that he is on the stair," said Holmes serenely. "I think, Watson, that you would do well to put that revolver where you can reach it." He rose and laid a written paper upon a side table. "Now we are ready," said he.

There had been some talking in gruff voices outside, and now Mrs. Hudson opened the door to say that there were three men inquiring for Captain Basil.

"Show them in one by one," said Holmes.

The first who entered was a little ribston-pippin of a man, with ruddy cheeks and fluffy white side whiskers. Holmes had drawn a letter from his pocket.

"What name?" he asked.

"James Lancaster."

"I am sorry, Lancaster, but the berth is full. Here is half a sovereign for your trouble. Just step into this room and wait there for a few minutes."

The second man was a long, dried up creature, with lank hair and sallow cheeks. His name was Hugh Pattins. He also received his dismissal, his half sovereign and the order to wait.

The third applicant was a man of remarkable appearance. A fierce bulldog face was framed in a tangle of hair and beard, and two bold dark eyes gleamed behind the cover of thick, tufted, overhung eyebrows. He saluted and stood sailor fashion, turning his cap round in his hands.

"Your name?" asked Holmes.

"Patrick Cairns."

"Harpooner?"

"Yes, sir; twenty-six voyages."

"Dundee, I suppose."

"Yes, sir."

"And ready to start with an exploring ship?"

"Yes, sir."

"What wages?"

"Eight pounds a month."

"Could you start at once?"

"As soon as I get my kit."

"Have you your papers?"

"Yes, sir." He took a sheaf of worn and greasy forms from his pocket. Holmes glanced over them and returned them.

"You are just the man I want," said he. "Here's the agreement on the side table. If you sign it the whole matter will be settled."

The seaman lurched across the room and took up the pen.

"Shall I sign here?" he asked, stooping over the table.

Holmes leaned over his shoulder and passed both hands over his neck.

"This will do," said he.

I heard a click of steel and a bellow like an enraged bull. The next instant Holmes and the seaman were rolling on the ground together. He was a man of such gigantic strength that even with the handcuffs Holmes had so deftly fastened upon his wrists he would have very quickly overpowered my friend had Hopkins and I not rushed to his rescue. Only when I pressed the cold muzzle of the revolver to his temple did he at last understand that resistance was vain. We lashed his ankles with cord and rose breathless from the struggle.

"I must really apologise, Hopkins," said Sherlock Holmes. "I fear that the scrambled eggs are cold. However, you will enjoy the rest of your breakfast all the better, will you not, for the thought that you have brought your case to a triumphant conclusion."

Stanley Hopkins was speechless with amazement.

"I don't know what to say, Mr. Holmes," he blurted out at last, with a very red face. "It seems to me that I have been making a fool of myself from the beginning. I understand now, what I should never have forgotten, that I am the pupil and you are the master. Even now I see what you have done, but I don't know how you did it or what it signifies."

"Well, well," said Holmes good humoredly. "We all learn by experience, and your lesson this time is that you should never lose sight of the alternative. You were so absorbed in young Neligan that you could not spare a thought to Patrick Cairns, the true murderer of Peter Carey."

The hoarse voice of the seaman broke in on our conversation.

"See here, mister," said he, "I make no complaint of being man handled in this fashion, but I would have you call things by their right names. You say I murdered Peter Carey; I say I killed Peter Carey, and there's all the difference. Maybe you don't believe what I say. Maybe you think I am just slinging you a yarn."

"Not at all," said Holmes. "Let us hear what you have to say."

"It's soon told, and, by the Lord, every word of it is truth. I knew Black Peter, and when he pulled out his knife I whipped a harpoon through him sharp, for I knew that it was him or me. That's how he died. You can call it murder. Anyhow, I'd as soon die with a rope round my neck as with Black Peter's knife in my heart."

"How came you there?" asked Holmes.

"I'll tell it you from the beginning. Just sit me up a little so as I can speak easy. It was in '83 that it happened—August of that year. Peter Carey was

Special Warning—The Manufacturers of the popular Diamond Dyes would direct the attention of our Canadian women to the fact, that crude, adulterated and worthless package dyes are now offered for sale by some merchants who care little about the ruin and trouble they cause.

The imitation package dyes are so poor in quality, that many ladies have reported that their materials and goods have been destroyed by their use.

Diamond Dyes never fail to give satisfaction. They produce the most lovely colours, on the heaviest and finest fabrics. See that each package of dyes you buy has the name "DIAMOND DYES," and you will be safe. The millions say, "It's easy to dye with Diamond Dyes."

"Royal Household" Flour

Gives Stomach Less Work and Body More Strength.

No flour in the world is so nourishing, so vitalizing, so rich in all the elements of body, bone and brain building as pure, well-balanced, white flour.

Bran in bread is just so much wood fibre—so much extra work for the stomach—there is no nourishment in it for man. Cattle digest it and get nourishment from it because nature has given them a fermenting plant and double chewing facilities.

But man masticates once and digests once. For that reason he gets nothing whatever out of anything but the gluten portion of wheat—the inside of the grain—the part which yields "protein." And he gets more out of Royal Household Flour because more of the branny and waste portions are removed in making it than from any other flour.

The Royal Household Mills eliminate more bran and shorts than any other mill—therefore Royal Household Flour is the most nourishing flour in the world.

House of Commons Transacts a Lot of Business.

THE TRADING STAMP BILL

Third Reading of Measure Without Event — Report of the Tuberculosis Committee — Dominion Will Not Establish Undesirable Precedent by Making Provincial Grants— New Departmental Buildings.

Ottawa, July 15.—When the House met yesterday morning Hon. Sydney Fisher moved the adoption of the report of the Tuberculosis Committee, stating that the clause recommending that a certain amount would be paid over by the Dominion annually to the Provinces to defray the cost of dispensaries, inspection, the erection and maintenance of sanitaria, etc., was to be struck out.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that this clause, if adopted, would have far-reaching consequences. He objected to the Dominion being bound to do anything in the way of contributions to the Provinces. Whatever expenditures were made ought to be done and controlled by the Dominion.

Mr. Borden said that his view was pretty well along the same line as expressed by the Premier. The Dominion ought not to be bound, but left free to take its own initiative.

Trading Stamp Bill Passed.

The trading stamp bill was read the third time.

Mr. Oliver's bill respecting roads and allowances for Saskatchewan and Alberta was read a second time.

Mr. W. F. Maclean brought up the question of a report adopted by the Telephone Committee, which had been adopted at a meeting earlier in the day, which did not recommend any legislation this session. Mr. Maclean contended that legislation should be introduced at once providing for the interchange of traffic and the admission of telephones to all railway stations.

Mr. Zimmerman called him to order for referring to a report not before the House, and, the point being sustained by the Speaker, Mr. Maclean deftly based his remarks on the judgment of the Railway Commission on the Port Arthur case. He went on to say that independent telephone development in the United States had been very great.

"How does my hon. friend know that?" asked Mr. Alex. Johnston.

"Does my hon. friend want me to say I heard that in committee?" Is that his idea of statesmanship?" asked Mr. Maclean, amidst laughter. He went on to argue that the Bell Co. had become more strongly than ever entrenched in their monopoly in Canada.

Over $4,000,000 Passed.

Ministers with large batches of estimates found the House certainly in an obliging mood yesterday. So much progress was made that another clear day should finish the work in supply, as only ten items remain of all the estimates. Over $4,000,000 was voted, embracing hundreds of items, the largest group being for the Public Works Department, amounting to $2,240,100. Hon. Mr. Hyman's brief and businesslike explanations covered the points so well that few questions were asked. To-day will probably start off with a discussion on the Auditor-General. On Monday there will be a chance for private members to have their last say for the session.

New Departmental Buildings.

When the committee reached the item of $500,000 towards new departmental building at Ottawa, Hon. Mr. Hyman explained that the time had come when a new building should be provided to house the existing offices and provide somewhat for the future. The Government now rented office area in Ottawa amounting to 170,000 superficial feet, which was equal to the size of two buildings like the Langevin block and another block higher. No site had yet been decided upon for the new building, which would be a modern structure in every way and be as near as possible to the Parliament buildings. The present vote would be used for acquiring a site and preparing plans and specifications, which he hoped to report fully to Parliament next year.

Various scattered items from the Agricultural and Marine and Fisheries Departments, the Government of the Northwest Territories, and other matters were passed, making over $4,000,000 for the day, and the House adjourned at 11.30 a. m.

Autonomy in the Senate.

The debate on the autonomy bill was resumed in the Senate yesterday, and was continued until after midnight. The Senate sits again to-day.

MEMBERS INDEMNITY.

House of Commons Will Likely Pass on the Question To-day.

Ottawa, July 15.—It is pretty well assured that an all-round increase will be put through this session in the salaries of judges, the sessional indemnity of members of the Commons and the salary of the Premier and Cabinet Ministers. The matter, which had been the sole topic in the lobbies last night, is expected to come up to-day. When it is said, resolutions will be introduced.

CZAR AND M. WITTE.

Plenipotentiary Will Be Guided by the Emperor's Wishes.

St. Petersburg, July 15.—M. Witte's appointment as chief of the Russian peace plenipotentiary was announced yesterday in The Official Messenger, in the following words:

"Owing to the serious illness which overtook M. Muravieff on his arrival in St. Petersburg, which made it impossible for him to familiarise himself at short notice with the considerable material connected with the negotiations, His Majesty the Emperor has been pleased to appoint president of the Committee of Ministers Witte to the post of chief plenipotentiary."

M. Witte had a prolonged audience with the Emperor at Peterhof yesterday afternoon, at which the whole subject of the peace negotiations was gone over in detail. The difficulties of the situation were freely discussed, and indications were given that His Majesty is more apt to personally govern M. Witte's course than formal instructions which have been given him.

Ministry is United.

France, through Ambassador Nelidoff, strongly urged him for the post, but the main credit for M. Witte's selection belongs to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who never ceased to press for his selection. Count Lamsdorff and M. Witte are now in close alliance, and when M. Bouligion retires from the Ministry of the Interior all the Ministers will at last be in harmony, especially should Prince Svyatopolk-Mirsky, as rumor yesterday intimates, return to the head of the Ministry of the Interior.

Muravieff Leaves.

M. Muravieff has already departed for Rome, to resume his post as Ambassador.

Regiment Murders Officers.

Tiflis, Caucasia, July 15.—A regiment of Russian Sappers stationed at a small village in the mountains near here has murdered all its officers and it is rumored has joined the revolutionists.

Band of Terrorists Caught.

St. Petersburg, July 15.—A band of terrorists fully equipped to manufacture bombs and forged passports were captured in a house near the Fontanka Canal last night. Several of the policemen were wounded.

AN ENGLISH PEERESS

Praises Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People.

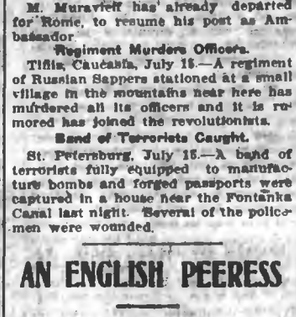
From the London (Eng.) Star.

Though sharing with many of our old nobility their traditional reluctance to emerge from aristocratic privacy and come before the public as the subject of a newspaper article, the Right Hon. Lady Haldon has expressly permitted the publication of a statement recently made to a representative of the Star regarding her wonderful cure by Dr. Williams Pink Pills.

Recognizing that the words of a titled lady in her position must necessarily bear great weight with the public; realizing that in respect to the ailments of the body, prince and peasant, lord and labourer are alike, earnestly desiring that the benefits she had derived from Dr. Williams Pink Pills should be publicly acknowledged, in the hope that other sufferers might be influenced by her testimony, Lady Haldon waived all personal reluctance and told a story which cannot but impress every reader who considers for a moment the serious reasons which must have prompted a member of the British peerage to come forward in this way.

Lady Haldon's opening words emphasize the lofty motive with which she granted the interview.

"For the sake of all sufferers," said her ladyship, "I want to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People did for me when I had given up all hope, even though, as was natural in my position, I had the best available professional treatment.



LADY HALDON.

"I have been a great traveller. Five years ago, when I was residing in Australia, my heart became seriously affected. Symptoms of advanced Anaemia showed themselves. One of the results was the most acute indigestion you can imagine. I suffered severely in the back and under the shoulder blades; but there were present in an aggravated form all the symptoms of indigestion, including an especially severe oppression of the chest. I was most careful in my choice of food, but dieting brought no relief. Even after a glass of water my discomfort was almost unbearable. Food of any kind caused me such misery that I grew to have a strong aversion to it. I ate less and less, till I was practically starving myself. I could hardly get about, for in attempting to walk even the shortest distance the dreadful palpitations of the heart would make me feel as though I were suffocating.

"As the anaemia developed, I grew still more alarmingly ill. I could not sleep at night. My whole system was deranged. My nerves broke down; my head ached constantly until I could only read by the aid of glasses."

"Such suffering must have interfered with your enjoyment of life, Lady Haldon?"

"It did, indeed, and it also took all the pleasure out of travel. When I was in Russia I really thought I was dying. I was ready to do anything or go anywhere to seek relief and release from anxiety. I had the advantage of the treatment of many leading physicians. My illness seemed so deeply rooted that I determined to go to Switzerland for a course of treatment at the Clinique de la Caroline, where I was, for a time, assiduously attended by physicians of European reputation.

"To attempt to enumerate the medical men who have prescribed for me at various times, unfortunately without any lasting success, would indeed be a lengthy task, and outside the object of this interview. Suffice it to say that about August, 1903, after my return from Australia, I was nearly prostrate with one of my attacks. I was travelling by train, but felt too ill to read until, casually picking up a small pamphlet referring to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I became so interested in some cures mentioned therein that I determined to give a trial to the medicine which appeared to have effected such miracles.

"What arrested my attention was the straightforward simplicity of the stories. We are all human—all liable to the same complaints—and I found my sufferings were exactly like those of other women who had been cured. As I read the simple facts of their experience, I became convinced. I procured a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and commenced taking them as directed.

"Within a few weeks I was astonished at the change that had already taken place, and the great improvement that had resulted in so short a time. I procured further boxes of pills, and very soon I was delighted to find that all traces of my complaint had practically vanished.

"I could now walk moderate and even long distances, with an entire freedom from pain. My appetite had returned with a heartiness and vigour that surprised me, and my general health was such as I had not enjoyed for many years.

"I have ever since made it a rule never to be without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and both at home and abroad I find them to be my truest and best friends. Through their aid I have, at various times, in distant and out-of-the-way parts of the world, been able to give relief to sufferers. I remember how, when I was in Rostoff, South Russia, I met at the Hotel Continental, a poor, anaemic creature whose sufferings were terrible. I advised her to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and gave her some from the supply which I always carry with me. To her great surprise and delight the pills speedily cured her, and she was so grateful to me that she gave me a beautiful snake-ring as a keepsake. I treasure that ring," said Lady Haldon, impressively, "for I, too, know how to be grateful for relief from pain."

"Have I your permission, Lady Haldon," inquired the interviewer, "to publish these facts without reservation?"

"I shall be delighted if you will," her ladyship replied. "It gives me the greatest pleasure to testify as to the undoubted efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and you have my full permission to publish my tribute to their merits."

Previous to his withdrawal, the journalist was entrusted with a portrait of the beautiful Lady Haldon, bearing her autograph, which he was desired to present to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. A portrait sketch from the photograph is published with this interview by her Ladyship's express permission.

PETER WILLIAMS MAY DIE.

James Shackleton Hurled Pickaxe at Head and Has Disappeared.

Hamilton, July 15.—At the new brickyard yesterday morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, Peter Williams, 3 George street, was laid out with a pickaxe. It is alleged that Jas. Shackleton, 376 West Jackson street, a south African veteran, threw the pick at him. A sad feature of the case is that Williams was married only two weeks ago. He is an Englishman, and has been in Canada only ten months. From what the police have learned they say that Shackleton was teasing the Englishman and that a quarrel started. Shackleton then threw the pick. He left the brickyards soon after the occurrence, went home, changed his clothes and disappeared. He told some of his fellow workmen that he did not intend to hurt the Englishman.

There was little change in the condition of Williams last night. An operation was performed in the afternoon, and he has regained consciousness. The authorities considered his condition so critical that they decided to take an ante-mortem statement. T. H. Crerar, Acting Crown Attorney, and Acting Chief Prentice went to the hospital for that purpose. There is still no tidings of Shackleton.

CHARLES MEETS APPROVAL.

Rests With King Oscar to Name Him Norway's King.

Copenhagen, July 15.—At yesterday's Cabinet meeting it developed that the Ministers were in full agreement that Prince Charles of Denmark should accept the crown of Norway if King Oscar and the other courts most nearly concerned expressed their approval. King Christian and the other members of the Danish royal family are also favorable to Prince Charles becoming King of Norway.

WINDSOR, N. S., BURNS.

Historic Hotel is Gutted—Town Was in Danger.

Halifax, July 15.—Fire started in the Dufferin Hotel at Windsor, N. S., about 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning and gained great headway in a few minutes. All the firemen could do was to keep the fire from spreading to the buildings on the left, Bennett, Smith & Sons' block, and other buildings in the vicinity. The falling of burning timbers caused great danger. The hotel was built in 1860, the year the Prince of Wales visited Windsor.

The citizens worked with buckets to put out fires on buildings caused by sparks. The new station was in great danger, and at noon the round house and freight shed were on fire. It was impossible to stand on Upper Water street on account of the terrific heat.

At 2.00 the fire was about out. The Dufferin building is a perfect wreck.

Diphtheria Quarantine Raised.

Toronto, July 15.—The diphtheria quarantine at Niagara commons has been raised, the patients have been returned to their homes cured, and the tents and equipment have been returned to the military stores in proper condition.

Big Action For Debt.

Quebec, July 15.—An action of debt has been issued against the Levis County Railway Co. for $262,500, the plaintiffs in the case being the New York Trust Co., representing the bondholders.

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

maste of the Sea Unicorn, and I was spare harpooner. We were coming out of the ice pack on our way home, with head winds and a week's southerly gale, when we picked up a little craft that had been blown north. There was one man on her—a landsman. The crew had thought she would founder and had made for the Norwegian coast in a dingey. I guess they were all drowned. Well, we took him on board, this man, and he and the skipper had some long talks in the cabin. All the baggage we took off with him was one tin box. So far as I know, the man's name was never mentioned, and on the second night he disappeared as if he had never been. It was given out that he had either thrown himself overboard or fallen overboard in the heavy weather that we were having. Only one man knew what had happened to him, and that was me, for with my own eyes I saw the skipper tip up his heels and put him over the rail in the middle watch of a dark night two days before we sighted the Shetland lights.

"Well, I kept my knowledge to myself and waited to see what would come of it. When we got back to Scotland it was easily hushed up, and nobody asked any questions. A stranger died by accident, and it was nobody's business to inquire. Shortly after Peter Carey gave up the sea, and it was long years before I could find where he was. I guessed that he had done the deed for the sake of what was in that tin box and that he could afford now to pay me well for keeping my mouth shut.

"I found out where he was through a sailor man that had met him in London, and down I went to squeeze him. The first night he was reasonable enough and was ready to give me what would make me free of the sea for life. We were to fix it all two nights later. When I came I found him three parts drunk and in a vile temper. We sat down, and we drank, and we yarned about old times, but the more he drank the less I liked the look on his face. I spotted that harpoon upon the wall, and I thought I might need it before I was through. Then at last he broke out at me, spitting and cursing, with murder in his eyes and a great clasp knife in his hand. He had not time to get it from the sheath before I had the harpoon through him. Heavens, what a yell he gave! And his face gets between me and my sleep. I stood there, with his blood splashing round me, and I waited for a bit, but all was quiet, so I took heart once more. I looked round, and there was the tin box on the shelf. I had as much right to it as Peter Carey, anyhow, so I took it with me and left the hut. Like a fool, I left my baccy pouch upon the table.

"Now I'll tell you the queerest part of the whole story. I had hardly got outside the hut when I heard some one coming, and I hid among the bushes. A man came slinking along, went into the hut, gave a cry as if he had seen a ghost and legged it as hard as he could run until he was out of sight. Who he was or what he wanted is more than I can tell. For my part, I walked ten miles, got a train at Tunbridge Wells, and so reached London and no one the wiser.

"Well, when I came to examine the box I found there was no money in it and nothing but papers that I would not dare to sell. I had lost my hold on Black Peter and was stranded in London without a shilling. There was only my trade left. I saw these advertisements about harpooners and high wages, so I went to the shipping agents, and they sent me here. That's all I know, and I say again that if I killed Black Peter the law should give me thanks, for I saved them the price of a hempen rope."

"A very clear statement," said Holmes, rising and lighting his pipe. "I think, Hopkins, that you should lose no time in conveying your prisoner to a place of safety. This room is not well adapted for a cell, and Mr. Patrick Cairns occupies too large a proportion of our carpet."

"Mr. Holmes," said Hopkins, "I do not know how to express my gratitude. Even now I do not understand how you attained this result."

"Simply by having the good fortune to get the right clew from the beginning. It is very possible if I had known about this notebook it might have led away my thoughts, as it did yours. But all I heard pointed in the one direction. The amazing strength, the skill in the use of the harpoon, the rum and water, the sealskin tobacco pouch with the coarse tobacco—all these pointed to a seaman and one who had been a whaler. I was convinced that the initials 'P. C.' upon the pouch were a coincidence and not those of Peter Carey, since he seldom smoked and no pipe was found in his cabin. You remember that I asked whether whisky and brandy were in the cabin. You said they were. How many landsmen are there who would drink rum when they could get these other spirits? Yes, I was certain it was a seaman."

"And how did you find him?"

"My dear sir, the problem had become a very simple one. If it were a seaman it could only be a seaman who had been with him on the Sea Unicorn. So far as I could learn he had sailed in no other ship. I spent three days in wiring to Dundee, and at the end of that time I had ascertained the names of the crew of the Sea Unicorn in 1883. When I found Patrick Cairns among the harpooners my research was nearing its end. I argued that the man was probably in London and that he would desire to leave the country for a time. I therefore spent some days in the east end, devised an arctic expedition, put forth tempting terms for harpooners who would serve under Captain Basil—and behold the result!"

"Wonderful!" cried Hopkins. "Wonderful!"

"You must obtain the release of young Neligan as soon as possible," said Holmes. "I confess that I think you owe him some apology. The tin box must be returned to him; but, of course, the securities which Peter Carey has sold are lost forever. There's the cab, Hopkins, and you can remove your man. If you want me for the trial, my address and that of Watson will be somewhere in Norway. I'll send particulars later."

HIS GRAVEL WAS SURELY CURED

Dodd's Kidney Pills Removed the Stones.

And now Reuben Draper is Well and Strong after His Long Suffering.

Bristol, Que., July 14,—(Special).—Reuben Draper, a well-known resident here, keeps the proof right with him that Dodd's Kidney Pills will surely cure the much dreaded Gravel. The proof consists of two stones, one the size of a small bean and the other as big ass grain of barley. He passed these stones and was relieved of all the terrible pains they caused after using Dodd's Kidney Pills for a short time.

Mr. Draper is confident that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else caused his cure, as he tried two doctors without getting help, and was fast getting weak and despondent when he stopped all other treatment and started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. In a week he passed the large stone stone and four days later the smaller one.

This cure causes a feeling of relief over people in these parts as it shows those terrible operations, long thought to be unavoidable in case of Gravel, are no longer necessary.

A Large Family.

A couple of weeks ago we complimented Alexander Beaudoin upon the safe arrival of his fourth pair of twins, making the even dozen in his family of small children. At that time we thought that this was "about the limit," but we knew not the prolific resources of the town we live in and the inhabitants thereof. Last Friday Sovey Lalonde, a west end resident, dropped into the office of the local registrar of birth, deaths and marriages to record the advent of a new baby boy, and incidentally remarked that that was his twenty-sixth. After the registrar revived sufficiently to speak he learned that Lalonde had been married twice—the first wife being a Beauchamp, and No. 2 a Vasseur. By each of his wives he has had a baker's dozen. Mr. Lalonde seems quite proud of his achievement, and until someone can make a better showing we shal regard this as a record. We may mention that three pairs of twins and twenty singles account for the full twenty-six.—Penetang Herald.

LITERATURE IN CANADA

OUR PEOPLE DEPENDENTS ON ENGLISH AND U. S. AUTHORS.

Ominous Feature is the Americanizing of the Canadian Public—Effect on Business of American Advertising in Canadian Homes—The Plaint of the Canadian Writer — Good English Magazines.

Canada's abject dependency in the matter of literature upon English and American authors and publishers has lately become the subject of discussion in several quarters, says The Mail and Empire. From whatever point of view the matter may be regarded, it is most unsatisfactory, and surely must be humiliating to every good Canadian. It is to be hoped that our period of tuteiage will not continue forever, and that in this matter, as in most others, we shall reach a point when we shall be self-sufficient. The most distressing feature of the situation is not that some of the popular literature should be of alien origin and inspiration, but that it should be in many instances absolutely hostile to our national ideals and character. It is for this reason that the subject becomes of first-class importance, and one which might well command the attention of Parliament.

The Dominant Americanism.

There are two aspects in which the Americanizing of the Canadian public may be regarded. Undoubtedly the most ominous feature is that which strikes at the very root of our patriotism. In the course of a year the number of popular American magazines which enter this country must be enormous, probably reaching into the millions. Among the stories and articles there may be very few which are really insulting to Canadian readers; but there is not one which has not a tendency to glorify some American charcter, some American institution, or some American achievement. A couple of years ago there were two or three publications whose tone was consistently offensive to British sentiment. The decline in the Canadian sales of these magazines was so marked as to cause a readjustment of at least two editorial staffs. The Canadian market had become worth while. If to-day there is less twisting of the lion's tail, it is because this good old American practice has proved costly, not because there has been any conversion in the sentiments of American publishers and writers.

The Effect on Business.

While the general influence of American magazines should concern the Government, business men are most affected by another matter. This is the advertising of American goods in Canadian homes, with the valuable assistance of the postal authorities. This phase of the question has already been discussed in The Mail and Empire, and the American magazine likened to a pump which conveys Canadian trade into the United States. Whatever the volume of our purchases in the United States each year may be, it cannot be doubted that the bulk of it is inspired by advertisements. Some of these advertisements appear in Canadian publications, chiefly in newspapers. These, however, are a small fraction of the American advertising matter circulated in Canada. American advertisers who pay particular attention to Canadian business use Canadian newspapers of course, but the American magazine which circulates in both countries holds a position which neither Canadian nor American journals can threaten.

The Canadian Writer's Plaint.

The undermining of Canadian sentiment and the assaults upon Canadian industry are undoubtedly the two most objectionable features of this American invasion. In spite of these, some Canadian story writers warmly uphold the cause of the foreign magazine. It alone offers them a market for their output, for it may well be doubted if ten thousand dollars a year is paid by Canadian publications to Canadian writers for fiction. These authors forget that the market would not be closed to them, even if not a single American publication entered Canada. Their stories are published, not because the authors are Canadians, but because they are entertaining writers, and can more than hold their own with the fiction producers of the United States. The pity is that they are obliged to go abroad for their publishers, for in many cases it is first the story, then the writer, who crosses into the United States. As some of the brightest of Canada's youth engage in fiction writing, their loss is a serious one. The leak is from the top. But in the present circumstances it is idle to contemplate the total exclusion of American magazines. The public of this country wants to read short stories, and timely illustrated articles. There is no Canadian publication which supplies the demand, and so the American magazine is purchased by thousands of Canadians every month.

Good English Magazines.

It might be feasible to give British magazines a preference, for they are undoubtedly of a higher class than those published in the United States. This, of course, is generally admitted as applying to the old and almost classical monthlies and quarterlies; but is not so widely realized as regards vehicles of pure fiction. It may be confidently asserted, however, that there is no American magazine which receives contributions from such a galaxy of authors as contribute to an English magazine published by Ward, Locke & Co. The most successful series of stories published in recent years — the "Adventures of Sherlock Holmes"—appeared first in another English magazine. The same magazine is now exclusively publishing the humorous stories of W. W. Jacobs, probably the most highly paid of regular magazine contributors. Were we dependent upon English magazines alone, our plight would not be so serious, after all, for our reading matter would be better in every respect than it is at present.

Englishmen and Story-Tellers.

As regards more serious essays in fiction than magazine short stories, our dependence is no more abject than that of readers in the United States. The good novels continue to be written by Englishmen. One might mention a dozen off-hand, not one of whom is equalled by any living American writer. There is growing up in the United States a kind of literature peculiarly American, and in its development our cousins have shown marked ability. This may be described as the literature of business. Also we observe a tendency, which may be fleeting, to make politics the subject of novels. In both these departments some really good work has been done; but after all, American business and American politics are interesting to American readers. We should rather read about Canadian business and Canadian politics, but rather than do without dime magazines we swallow the good with the bad, not because they satisfy us, but because we have no choice.

In His Line.

"No; it keeps him humping to get people to notice him."

He Is Loaded.

Hear the booming of the gun?
It's the Jap.
He is only having fun
With the map.
If you're looking for a scrap,
Go and find the gentle Jap;
He has one or two on tap
And will hand you out a slap
Or allure you to a trap,
Just for fun.

Good Casters ON Ives' Brass Beds

The caster on a metal or brass bed is important.

An imperfect caster is liable to injure carpets or rugs while on polished floors it always leaves marks.

Ives' Brass Beds have a double wheel ball bearing caster. The double wheel divides the weight and its wide face does not mark the floor, while it turns so easily to the motion of the bed that it never injures carpets.

It is attention to important, small things that makes Ives' beds the finest in America.

Ask to see an Ives Brass Bed and examine it closely.

HEIR TO HALF OF QUEBEC.

Mrs. Caroline Lambert Campbell of Brooklyn, N. Y., Will Press Claim For Twenty Millions.

Seeking to establish her claim to a $20,000,000 estate escheated for three generations by the British Government in 1760 which includes a tract a mile and a half long and a half mile wide through the heart of the City of Quebec and eight acres of the famous Plains of Abraham, Mrs. Caroline Lambert Campbell, wife of William A. Campbell, an assistant superintendent of schools in Brooklyn, has engaged counsel to push her case in the Dominion and British courts.

Recently she received from Lord Lyttelton, Colonial Secretary, a reply to a letter she addressed to King Edward, which states that Lord Knollys, the King's private secretary, is unable to advise His Majesty to take other action than to suggest that Mrs. Campbell take her claim to the courts.

In 1887 the Privy Council refused a joint application from representatives of the Catholic Church, the Church of England and the citizens of Quebec asking that £30,000 held by the British Government and collected as rentals upon this property should be equally divided between the two churches in Quebec. The Privy Council with the assent of Queen Victoria decided that the heir would in time appear and that the property and its usufruct from the time the decree of escheat terminated in 1865 belongs to the heirs of Louis Joseph Lambert, who gave largely of his vast fortune to the French in the French and Indian War. When the English conquered he was deprived of his estates and those of his wife, the Demoiselle Genevieve de Villeray, who inherited 103 acres in Quebec City from her father.

Sir Wilfrid's Inquiry.

"Where have you been for forty years, Mrs. Campbell?" said Sir Wilfrid Laurier when Mrs. Campbell visited him two years ago. "I know every member of your family and their history, and you are the only missing member." Sir Wilfrid through his wife was a collateral claimant to the Lambert estate.

The energetic efforts of Mrs. Campbell, only child of the late Leander Lambert, of Kingston, N. Y., so far have resulted only in finding many documents which Montreal and Quebec lawyers told her did not exist or had been lost. Her success would mean her life interest in the property upon which are the Provincial Parliament buildings, the Dufferin Terrace and many of the best business and residence sites in the city, for which the British Government is collecting ground rents.

Mr. Campbell went to Quebec in 1874, visited the famous old Church of the Basilica and found a priest delivering a sermon. It was known that the Lambert ancestor had built the church, and therefore became owner in perpetuity for himself and his heirs of three pews. Mr. Campbell asked the aged sexton to admit him to the Lambert pew. The man gazed at him in astonishment, and said that none but the Lamberts might enter.

"I am the husband of Augustine Lambert's granddaughter," said Mr. Campbell. The sexton hurried away, and returning with a great bunch of rusty keys led Mr. Campbell down the centre aisle and near the front opened an ancient pew. The priest paused in his discourse and the old residents half rose in their seats. As the sexton left he whispered to Mr. Campbell: "No one has sat in any of the Lambert pews for fifty years."

Grandfather's Papers Removed.

Among the effects of Mrs. Campbell's grandfather was a memorandum which read, "Treasury Office, Quebec. The papers are in the vault, No. 37, about the sixth tier from the door." Mrs. Campbell tried to see these papers. She learned that the building had been burned, but the vaults were uninjured, though their contents were romved. But where they are now she has not been able to learn from the Provincial Government.

Mrs. Campbell's father, Leander Lambert, was the oldest son of Augus- thought their contents were removed to Troy about 1850 and died there in 1865. Leander had married and one child, Mrs. Campbell, was born before the young father went to St. Louis on business in 1855 and fell a victim to the cholera epidemic which swept over that city.

Augustine Lambert was the Lambert of the third generation, with whose life the escheat of his grandfather's estates ended. But he had removed to the United States. His son was dead and the young widow was not in a position to enter the controversy for the estates. So the matter slumbered in the direct

BAD STOMACH MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a beverage composed of whisky or alcohol, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and invigorator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Miss Evaline Louis, of 35 Walter Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold sore on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it nearly covered my face. I was a frightful sight and could not go outside the house because of my appearance. I used a blood medicine which did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. The scrofulatous eruption disappeared and my blood was cleansed. My complexion is clear and fresh and I have felt better this year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years to its credit. It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuasion to palm off upon you in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is his business to meet that want.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

time, but collateral heirs eventually learned of Augustine Lambert's death and began proceedings to recover the property, which were unsuccessful.

Died as Peacemaker in Duel.

Far back in the romantic days of Quebec Le Sieur Louis Joseph Lambert was a great man. He married the daughter of Louis Rouer de Villeray and joined the vast fortune of that house to his own. He gave to the French immense sums to aid the defence of Quebec against the English, and died when he sprang between the brother of his wife and another young aristocrat of old Quebec, who were fighting a duel with swords in about 1760. He saved his brother-in-law's life at the cost of his own, according to the family tradition.

The estate is estimated to be worth at least $20,000,000, but Mrs. Lambert would not come into actual possession of this. It is entailed under the British law, she says, and she would have only a life interest with the right, however, to mortgage the properties. She has no son, though two daughters are as much interested as their mother in her claims, and on Mrs. Campbell's death the estates would pass to her first cousin, Henry Lambert, president of the Grand Avenue National Bank, of Kansas City, who lives in St. Louis. Another cousin is C. D. Lambert, general passenger agent of the West Shore Railroad, who investigated his rights in the matter several years ago, and discovered that he was the furthest removed of the direct descendants of Augustine Lambert.

Since Mrs. Campbell has appeared upon the field, the properties she claims in Quebec have been practically tied up and the Government declines to give any but short leases to the lands at issue. It has refused to permit the rebuilding of the Victoria Hotel, which was burned there a few years ago.

ANXIOUS MOTHERS.

The summer months are a bad time for little ones and an anxious time for mothers. Stomach and bowel troubles come quietly during the hot weather, and almost before the mother realizes that there is danger the little one may be beyond aid. At every home at this season there should be kept a box of Baby's Own Tablets, and at the first symptom of illness they should be given. They promptly cure cholera infantum, diarrhoea and stomach troubles, and are just the thing a mother needs at this time to keep her children well. Mrs. Frank Moore, Brookfield, N. S., says: "I always keep Baby's Own Tablets on hand in case of emergency. I do not know any other medicine that can equal them in cases of stomach or bowel troubles. And this medicine is absolutely safe — it is sold under a guarantee to contain no opiate or harmful drug. You can get the Tablets from your medicine dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

How to Be Cheerful.

Innumerable magazine articles and several books have been written admonishing all to be cheerful and often furnishing diagrams as to how it may be done.

Their theory is that a man may be cheerful by turning up the corners of his mouth with a mechanical effort and forgetting his troubles.

Did you ever try to forget trouble? You administer a sort of mental jiu jitsu to it and toss it over your shoulder. Say, it hops right back as cheerful and chipper as though you had been kind to it, with a you-can't-lose-me expression on its face.

It seems to me these doctors of cheerfulness have all missed the mark. The real way that seldom fails is to inherit a million, but it is so simple that no one appears to have thought of it before.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER.

Mr. Lee Stark on Journalistic Tramps and Gentlemen—The Family Paper Has a Great Value.

That the value of advertising is best obtained in the home was the chief contention in an able paper, read by Mr. M. Lee Stark, at the Circulation Managers' Convention in Toronto the other day.

Publisher of The American Advertiser and manager of the New York end of one of the largest advertising agencies in the world, Mr. Stark's opinion is not that of a theorist. And if he had not devoted himself to making converts to sensible, effective advertising, Mr. Stark might have made converts in the pulpit, for he has the persuasive gifts of a preacher.

"Three kinds of newspapers come into my home," said Mr. Lee. "One I have never paid for and never expect to, for it circulates free. Sometimes I glance through it; sometimes not. It's advertisements I never read. It goes to the waste can before any of my family get a chance to read it. That paper has a wide circulation. What is it worth to advertise in such a sheet? Practically nothing."

"Another paper that comes regularly to my home is a sensational sheet, full of big headlines and cheap trash. This one I glance over hurriedly. It goes the way of the other one before any one of my family have a chance to see it—for it is not for my family to read. That paper also circulates widely. What value has its circulation to the advertiser when the head of the family has so little respect for either its news or its advertisements that he will not permit it to be read by the members of his family?"

"The other kind of paper I take," continued Mr. Stark, "is a respectable home paper. It contains a picture of life with the joys and its sorrows, its successes and its failures, its news of the individual and of the State. Its news is eagerly sought after by all my family, and all read it. That paper also circulates widely because it deserves to. Its utterances command respect, whether in the news columns or the advertising columns. What is the value of that newspaper to the advertiser? Ask him. He knows."

Mr. Stark emphasized the truth that the value of advertising depends ultimately upon the respectability of the home demanding respectability, cleanness and dignity, and, therefore, veracity in the family journal.

"People may read magazines once a month," he said. "They may read weekly papers. They may pass billboards and glance at dodgers. But the circulating medium for which they watch as regularly as for their meals, is the home paper. The genteel paper commands respect, just as a gentleman commands respect. The tramp newspaper, filled with flashy headlines and sensational advertisements, gets the back door in any respectable family, just as the tramp does. A paper of quality, with 30,000 circulation, is worth more than a tramp newspaper with 50,000, or even 100,000 subscribers."

That Mr. Stark had struck the ethics of newspaper making and newspaper advertising right in its vital centre in the ultimate respectability of the home was well asserted by the convention giving him three cheers and a tiger when he sat down.

A Queer "Fish."

Farmers from the neighborhood of the Little Lake, says the Brussels Post, report the presence in the large lake north of the Shakespeare road of a large water animal, probably of the snake species. It appears that no one has seen it on land, but during the past week it has been seen at various times swimming about the lake, with only its head visible. It is described as having a head dog shaped and about the same size as an ordinary dog's head. Its body is that of a snake.

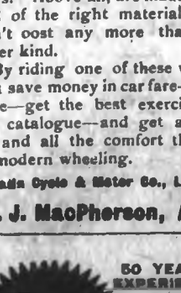
It is Back to Bicycles....



It should be back to Bicycles with everyone who ever rode a wheel — for these particular wheels this year are so far ahead of their predecessors that it would be realizing new pleasures and new and luxurious comforts in the joy of living to ride any of them.

Hon. J. T. Doyle, L.L.M., Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service, Washington, puts the matter in a nutshell regarding bicycles generally, when he says: "Of the things that help to make life more good and agreeable and extend the range of its activities, the Bicycle is among the foremost. It quadruples the area that one may move in and makes it quick and pleasant to 'get there.'"

The Hon. J. T. Doyle could speak particularly of the new wheel—the wheel that is equipped with the Hygienic Cushion Frame, the new Morrow Coaster Brake and the Sills Handle Bar—improvements that makes wheeling an entirely different proposition from that of four years ago.

No breakdowns—every road a smooth road—more speed and less work—no jarring or vibration—better material—better workmanship.

CLEVELAND

This is the exclusive wheel that has the big modern improvements — Cushion Frame, Coaster Brake, Sills Handle Bars. Above all, are made right and of the right material—and don't cost any more than the other kind.

By riding one of these wheels you save money in car fare—save time—get the best exercise on the catalogue—and get all the joy and all the comfort there is in modern wheeling.

ELKS' PAGEANTS AT BUFFALO

The Most Gorgeous Spectacle Ever Seen There.

Canadian Lodges Were In the Parade —Seventy-two Bands.

In Buffalo on Thursday between two walls of humanity, embracing in number not less that 200,000 human souls, the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks marched to the music of 70 bands and to the plaudits and cheers of a greater multitude than ever gathered upon the streets of that city. Every race, every colour and almost every creed was represented in a cosmopolitan host that gave its hand and voice to Elkdom, from the unwashed urchin of the street to the silk-gowned woman of the aristocracy. With 200,000 people on the sidewalk, stretching necks to see the great pageant, and 30,000 more crowded into windows along the line of march, the scene was one without precedent in Buffalo. Main street, from Exchange to Chippewa, was one solid mass of humanity; Chippewa street to Delaware was the same, and Delaware avenue to Utica street, the end of the line of march, was likewise—one long stretch of people throbbing with excitement.

And the parade! There was nothing like it ever before in the history of Buffalo, and the natives of this generation will not see its like again in this decade. The parade was a picture of American manhood in its best element; it was a spectacular, vari-coloured moving picture of humanity; it was almost indescribable because it was so picturesque, so unique.

THE BRIDE WAS KNOWN HERE

Miss Ethel Jean Barr Married in Lindsay.

Many persons in Peterborough will be interested in a wedding which took place in Lindsay on Tuesday, and which is reported in The Globe as follows: One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place in the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, when Miss Ethel Jean Barr was united in marriage to Dr. Charles Flint Kline, of Portsmouth, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George R. Welsh, B.A., in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Dr. A. E. Vrooman, wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon cloth and Irish point lace, mounted on chiffon over white taffeta. The conventional veil was dispensed with, a white picture hat of Irish point lace trimmed with roses and plumes being worn. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses adn maidenhair fern. The bride was attended by three bridesmaids, Miss Mamie Campbell McQueen, of New York; Miss Florence M. Winters, of Toronto, and Miss Emma Kennedy, of Lindsay, who were gowned alike in white silk mull over white silk, with girdles of pale yellow chiffon taffeta. They wore white chip picture hats trimmed with white wings and yellow tulle and carried sheaves of marguerites, tied in yellow streamers. Miss Grace Matthews, of Ottawa, in white silk mull, and carrying a basket of marguerites, made a charming little flower girl. The groom was attended by Dr. Fulton Schuyler Vrooman, of Ottawa. The ushers were Mr. T. Walter Ellis, of Toronto, and Mr. William Garrison Whiteside, of Seaforth. A reception Whiteside, of Seaforth. A reception was held after the wedding ceremony at the residence of Dr. A. E. Vrooman, 24 Cambridge street. Mrs. Harriet Grace Whiteside, aunt of the bride, wore an elegant gown of black crepe de chene over silk, with trimmings of white chiffon and Florentine lace. She carried a cluster of white carnations and maidenhair fern. Mrs. Reed, of Portsmouth, Ohio, sister of the groom, was handsomely gowned in pompadour silk.

HEAVY HEADACHE FOR FOUR YEARS

But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Cured It—They are Known by Their Works all Over Canada.

"By their works ye shall know them," and if you know Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets by their works you must admit that they are the greatest comfort producers of the present age. Here is some of their work. Mrs. A. Waddell of No. 34 Simcoe street, Hamilton, says:

"I was troubled with heavy headache for four years caused by Dyspepsia. I doctored with the best doctors but they failed to help me. I got one box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and after taking part of them I found that I was cured. I can now eat in the morning before I could not eat a bite."

Thousands of other Canadians relate similar experiences. In fact, everybody who has used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets tells the same story—Indigestion and Dyspepsia cannot live in the same body with them.

SERG. MOORE ON WINNING TEAM

Kolapore Cup Won by the Team From Canada.

Local Marksman Making Good Scores at Bisley.

The Kolapore Cup has been won by the Canadian team at Bisley, of which Col. Sergt. Moore is a member. The score was 758, two higher than the first team. In the first stage Col. Sergt. Moore, the representative of the 57th Regiment, scored 32, in the second stage 30, and the third. The team score:

Canada's total score, 758. The Transvaal was second with 756, the Mother Country third with 752; New Zealand fourth, 749, and Guernsey fifth, 734.

Owing to the poor showing yesterday, Capt. Jones, of the 82nd, and Sergt. Simpson, of the Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, gave place on the team to Sergt. Russill, of Ottawa, and Capt. Stuart, of Vancouver.

Colonel Hesslin offered a prize of $25 to the member of the Kolapore team making the highest score at the three ranges, and the same amount to the member making the highest score at the 600 yards range. This match is one of the most important at the Bisley meet. It was open to teams of eight, one of which represents the volunteers of the Mother Country, and one from each of the colonies and India. The distances are 200, 500 and 600 yards, seven shots being allowed at each. The cup was donated in 1871 by the late Rajah of Kolapore. A special commemorative silver bowl is also given to the captain, adjutant, and each member of the winning team.

A prize of $400 is divided among the team, exclusive of the Mother Country team, making the highest aggregate score.

The Canadian team was lowest in the match for the McKinnon Cup.

A ROMANCE WAS REVEALED

By Accidental Death of Frank Brant in Toronto.

Thought to Have Been Single, But May Have Had a Wife.

Only a few days ago Frank Brant told his landlady where his brother lived. "If anything happens to me, let him know," he said. When hundreds of people were going up Bay street to the evening meal yesterday, Brant was instantly killed on the street. A bar of iron which he was unloading from a wagon in front of the office of the Dodge Manufacturing Company, just north of King street, fell upon his head and crushed his skull.

Brant boarded with Mrs. Gray at 60 Albert street, and for the past few days has been employed by Robert Bee, carter, 217 Elizabeth street. He was about 25 years of age, and his parents live somewhere near Kingston. Although he has boarded with Mrs. Gray over a year, he never said much about his folks until he told her that his brother, whom he wished notified if anything happened to him, lived a mile or so from Dundas. When he spoke of the brother he was cheerful and did not seem to expect anything extraordinary to occur to him.

There appears to have been a little romance in his life. Until after his death it was thought that he was unmarried, but when the news of the tragedy spread it transpired that Brant was married to a young woman who was an occasional visitor at Mrs. Gray's house. Mrs. Gray said she had heard so, but she would not say anything further about it for a day or so. A friend of Brant's who is a soldier at Stanley Barracks, and visits a young lady at Mrs. Gray's, was overcome with the news of the fatality when he called and was seriously affected with heart trouble.

When he came home from work on Monday his hand was sore, and he remarked that he had hurt it, and that during the day he had narrowly escaped being badly crushed.

Yesterday afternoon he was sent to A. R. Williams' Works to cart some 30 foot bars of 2 1-2 inch shafting to the Dodge Manufacturing Company on Bay street. He delivered one load and it was on the next trip that he met his death. The bars weigh 300 lbs. each, and are a pretty heavy load for one man to tackle. At the Bay street office they had to be transferred to be sent to the works. He was standing at the edge of the sidewalk and had got one of them partly off the wagon. While he was lifting out the other end his foot slid over the curb. He fell and the heavy bar dropped upon his head, crushing his skull and killing him almost instantly. Many people were passing when the fatality occurred, and Brant was hurried into the Emergency Hospital, which is directly opposite where he met his death. The doctors could do nothing for him.

The brother of the dead man was notified by the authorities last night. Coroner Johnston is enquiring into circumstances of the man's death.

GRAND FISHING AT CEDAR LAKE

One of the Finest Bass Fishing Grounds in Central Ontario.

Mr. Clarence Bell, President of Peterborough Old Boys' Association, Toronto, passed through Peterborough to-day on his way to his island at Cedar Lake, where there is a jolly party of 16 camping. Cedar Lake is about three miles north of Mount Julian on Stony Lake, and is said to be one of the finest bass fishing grounds in Central Ontario. Mr. Bell reports that the fishing is excellent, there being no difficulty in catching "the limit" before breakfast. As the island possesses a magnificent beach the excellent facilities for bathing render it a chief source of pleasure.

Among the party at this favoured retreat are:—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Gooding, Miss Lawes, Miss Nolan, Messrs. Lloyd Sills, Wm. Peacey, F. Ward, W. Dinsmore, G. Morrison, J. Good, C. Brown and Archie Ryall, all of Toronto.

Fell From a Train.

While a freight train was pulling into a siding at Hagersville, a man made an attempt to board it, but missed his hold and fell, both feet being cut off. The injured man at first refused to give his name, but an envelope was found in his pocket addressed to Charles Shields, Postlac. Before he died he stated that his mother, Mrs. J. Shields, lived in Oshawa, and his sister in Philadelphia.

CRIME TO ISSUE TRADING STAMPS

Bill Introduced in Parliament Dealing With It.

Local Merchants Interested—They are Opposed to Stamps.

In view of the fact that the local merchants have taken active steps to further the movement to abolish trading stamps, the news that a bill has been introduced in Parliament dealing with this matter will be interesting. A despatch from Ottawa says: Mr. Fitzpatrick's bill in regard to trading stamps, is presented as an amendment to the Criminal Code, section 526a, and is as follows—

"(a) The expression 'trading stamps' includes, besides trading stamps commonly so called, any form of cash receipt, receipt, coupon, premium ticket or other device, designed or intended to be given to the purchaser of goods by the vendor thereof or his employee or agent, and to represent a discount on the price of such goods or a premium to the purchaser thereof, which is redeemable either

"(i) by any person other than the vendor, or

"(ii) by the vendor elsewhere than in the premises where such goods are purchased, or which does not show upon its face the place of its delivery, and the merchantable value thereof; or is not redeemable at any time;

"(b) The expression 'goods' means anything which is merchandise or the subject of trade or manufacture;

"(c) The expression 'everyone, 'vendor,' 'purchaser,' 'merchant,' 'agent,' or 'person,' includes any partnership, or company or body corporate.

"2. Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment, and to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, who, by himself or his employee or agent, directly or indirectly, issues, gives, sells or otherwise disposes of, or offers to issue, give, sell or otherwise dispose of trading stamps to a merchant or dealer in goods for use in his business.

"3. Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to six months' imprisonment, and to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, who, being a merchant or dealer in goods, by himself or his employee or agent, directly or indirectly, gives or in any way disposes of, or offers to give or in any way dispose of trading stamps to a purchaser from him of any such goods.

"4. Every one is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding twenty dollars, who, being a purchaser of goods from a merchant or dealer in goods directly or indirectly receives or takes trading stamps from the vendor of such goods or his employee or agent."

"526b. Any executive officer of a corporation or company guilty of an offence under subsection 3, or subsection 3, of the next preceding section, who in any way aids or abets in or counsels or procures the commission of such offence, is guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to the punishment stated in the said subsections respectively."

Child Had Eczema

"My daughter, 13 years old, suffered from eczema for three years. She was treated by our family physician and used other ointments without benefit. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment she has been completely cured. This is the only ointment I feel like recommending."—Mr. James H. Patriquin, 176 Rockdale Avenue, Sydney, C. B.

British Warships.

The Scientific American claims information that the British admiralty has decided to have constructed as a result of the war in the east several battleships of 18,000 tons each, to carry ten 12-inch guns mounted in turrets with a speed of 21 knots. Plans are being prepared for huge armoured cruisers of 25 knots with 9-inch guns. A number of 1,000 ton torpedo destroyers to make 30 knots are to be built. Britannia is evidently going to rule the waves for some time to come.

BRIGHT EYES.

Lend an Irresistible Charm to Every Face.

Clear, sparkling eyes make the plainest face beautiful. The eyes cannot be bright if the body is suffering from blood poisoning. Many people suffer from blood poisoning and do not know it, but they show it by their dull eyes, grey or sallow complexion and faded appearance. Constipation poisons the system. Instead of the blood taking up wholesome nourishment in the intestines, it absorbs the poisons which the bowels have not gotten rid of. The blood deposits these poisons wherever it can, which accounts for the dull eyes, pimples and headaches. Ripe fruit is Nature's remedy for constipation. Fruit acts on the bowels and makes them move—acts on the liver and causes more bile to flow, which is the natural purgative,—acts on the kidneys—acts on the skin and clears it and beautifies it. An Ottawa physician has discovered a process for combining the juices of oranges, apples, prunes and figs—and then by forcing into the united juices an additional atom of bitter from the orange peels, a new and very much stronger fruit is produced. The fruit extract is made into tablets, with the addition of tonics, and sold under the name of "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets." These little tablets are easy to take, have the gentle fruit action and are a positive cure for constipation, biliousness, headaches, kidney and liver disease and all blood impurities. "Fruit-a-tives" are recommended by able physicians everywhere. For sale at Druggists 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

AN ENORMOUS WHEAT CROP

100,000,000 Bushels the Estimate Made by Mr. W Whyte.

Thirty Thousand Laborers Will be Required—C. P. R. Making Big Preparations.

One hundred million bushels is the extent of this year's Western wheat crop, according to an estimate made by Mr. William Whyte, second vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and manager of the Western Division. Mr. Whyte arrived in Toronto Thursday, and, in conversation with a newspaper man, stated that he based his estimate upon the fact that there are four million acres under wheat and that the yield will be quite equal to that of 1902, when 25 bushels per acre was the average. There is also a large increase this year in the acreage under barley and oats crop.

New locomotives and cars of the largest capacity are being delivered the Canadian Pacific every week in preparation for the moving of this crop. Mr. Whyte predicted that his company would be able to handle 400 cars per day from Winnipeg to Lake Superior.

The prices which will be secured for wheat this year, Mr. Whyte predicted, will be good. He based the prediction on the fact that the Russian crop will be comparatively small as a result of the war and that the United States area under cultivation has not increased in proportion to the increase in that country's population.

Thirty thousand harvesters would be needed in the West this year.

The railway man expects to handle some 50,000 head of cattle from the West for the markets of Toronto, Montreal and Europe. Besides this from 10,000 to 15,000 head would be shipped to the Yukon and British Columbia. The sheep industry had also grown immensely.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has been making tests of all Western coals, and Mr. Whyte expressed the belief that the company will be able to buy fuel from Canadian sources more advantageously than from Pennsylvania.

Torn by Dog.

Three-year-old Emmett Rigan, of Brantford, was playing with a small Irish terrier when the dog furiously attacked the child, bit his face in several places, and tore off a portion of his right ear. The dog has been shot, and the child is under the doctor's care, and it he lives will be disfigured for life.

BABY GIRL'S AWFUL HUMOUR

Would Scab Over, Break Open, and Be Raw—Intense Suffering for Two Years—Doctors and Medicines Failed to Help Her.

CURED BY CUTICURA WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED

Writing under date of August 15, 1904, Mrs. L. C. Walker, of 5 Tremont Street, Woodfords, Me., says: "My sister had a terrible humour on her shoulder when she was eighteen months old, causing intense suffering for two years. We had several doctors, and tried everything, but in spite of all we did it kept spreading. One day it would scab over and then crack open and a watery matter ooze from it and the scabs would all fall off. It would be raw for a time, then scab over again. Some one recommended Cuticura, and we immediately procured a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a cake of Cuticura Soap. She was much better after the first bath with warm water and soap, and an application of the Ointment. Before it was half gone we saw a marked change for the better, and she was entirely cured, without a scar being left, by the one box of Ointment and one cake of Soap. Her skin is now entirely clear, and she has not had a sign of trouble since."

CULTURE CLUB WAS ORGANIZED

A New Addition to the Educational Forces of the City.

First Meeting Will be Held in September—Interesting Programme to be Rendered.

A number of the musical, artistic and literary people of the city gathered at the Conservatory last night to organize an Art Culture Club, one of many which have been formed throughout Canada and the States. The originator and promoter, Mr. J. F. C. Johnson, was in the chair, and fully described the aims and plans of the club and the method of conducting the meetings. A programme with prepared material is furnished for thirty evenings extending over two periods of seven months each, from September to March, for two years. Great benefit will be derived by the members from the study of famous artists, musicians, and poets and no doubt the excellent opportunity of doing so will be taken advantage of by a large number. The number of active members in the club is limited but additional members may be taken on, who may join at reduced fee.

The officers of the club, as elected last evening, for the first term, are:

President—Rev. J. C. Davidson.

Secretary—Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot.

Librarian—Miss Winnifred Dobbin

It was decided to have the first meeting of the club on Friday, September 8th, when Mrs. J. G. Lewis, Rev. F. J. Scott and Miss Madeline Wilson, will have charge of the programme. The evenings promise to be very enjoyabe and profitable and those who wish to join are asked to do so as early as possible, and may leave their names with any of the officers.

Miss Clara Belleghem was heard with much pleasure during the even- Sweet and Holy," and her accompaniment was played by Miss Mabel Clarry.

THE LODGES ARE NOT WORRYING

They Say That Action of the Physicians Will Not Seriously Affect Them.

Many Lodge Members do not Accept Their Services—Say Doctors Make Good Money.

The announcement made in yesterday's Examiner, that after January 1st, the doctors of Peterborough would refuse to accept contract work, and that the lodges, etc., which at present had contracts with physicians, would have to make new arrangements to have their members given medical attention, has created considerable interest in town, and the heads of these societies are wondering just where they are at in the matter.

The schedule of charges, also published exclusively in this paper, has set people thinking. It appears in the past a great many of the local doctors have not charged the prices they are supposed to charge and it is stated that the younger doctors especially, and those who are anxious to build up a practice, will accept almost anything in payment for their services, but the intention of the members now is that in future all this will be changed, and all the members of the Association will have to charge the scheduled prices. Before this comes into effect, however, it must be signed by every member of the Association, and that is just where the rub comes in. Will they all agree to this? Or will the desire to get work, induce them to accept jobs at prices lower than those provided for in the schedule?

The question of the contract work, however, is the one upon which the greatest comment is being made, and there are those who, speaking of the situation, say that the doctors, by the contract arrangement, have not fared at all badly, for there are hundreds of members of lodges who have not required the services of a physician during the whole year, and yet lodge doctors get pay for them just the same. For every one that gets his doctoring cheaply there are scores who pay for more than they get, at least that is the view taken by those who speak for the lodges. They further state that the great majority of the doctors in the city are anxious to accept society work, and if, they argue, this work is not remunerative, it is surprising that the doctors are so desirous of getting it. It is pointed out that it gives them a connection, and usually it leads to other work, for if one of the other members of the family take sick, the lodge doctor, if he is satisfactory, is likely to be called in, and has then an opportunity to make up in that way anything he may lose on the contract work.

One prominent member of the C. O. F., the largest fraternal society in town, with a membership of over 600, said that the matter was not worrying them much. In the first place he did not believe that the doctors would abide by their decision of Thursday night, and in the second place if they did the lodges would simply reduce the fees by $1.50 a year for each member, and they could then pay their own doctors. He stated that even as it is at present a number of members, who, while they still pay the $1.50 fees, do not accept the services of the lodge physician.

CONCLUDING DAY OF THE RACE MEET

Exciting Finishes Were the Order of the Day—Large Crowd in Attendance—Donna Bell Carries Off Three Straight Heats—Joe Allen Gets the 2:40 Class Honours—The Meet was the Most Successful on Record.

The Peterborough Turf Club has indeed reason to congratulate itself upon the splendid success scored in their summer meet which closed yesterday with a record crowd in attendance. The events of yesterday were all of a first-class order and some of the prettiest trotting and running ever seen in Peterborough took place. The finishes were almost without exception close and exciting. The track was in the best possible condition, which is saying much in view of it's reputation as the best 1-2 mile race-course in Canada. While the time made in yesterday's races did not equal that of the opening day, the races were fully as interesting from a spectator's point of view.

The 2.40 class brought out some good horses, and though the honours were carried off by Joe Allen in three successive heats he had to extend himself on every occasion. Miss Paisley did not appear scarcely up to the grand form which she displayed the previous day, yet had it not been for a rather poor start in the first and an unfortunate accident in the second, heat, the story of the score card might have been vastly different. She gave probably the best burst of speed seen yesterday in the second, when she narrowed a gap of about a quarter of a length between herself and the field. This effort appeared to have had a telling effect upon her powers of endurance in thie last heat. Dan Finister went a steady race and was always in the money.

The 2.19 class brought all that could be desired in the way of exciting finishes. The win of Dr. Johnston's Donna Belle was highly popular with the crowd which gave way to enthusiastic applause, as the pretty mare came under the wire, winner in three successive heats. She was driven by Wm. Snow, of Toronto, whose work won for him much flattering comment. The race was practically between the two Belles, and the Orillia mare was always a close second.

The 1-2 mile run was one of the most exciting of the day's events, and probably brought out more money than the others. Chatelaine ran in splendid form, carrying off the 1st and 3rd heats. Victoria took the second in a pretty race.

First Race.

2.40 Class:—

Joe Allen, S. Hallet, Sunderland	1	1	1
Dan Finister, J. Aldous, Fenelon Falls	2	2	2
Happy Harry, Perrigo & Tracey, Eganville	4	4	4
Miss Paisley, Geo. Lipsett, Peterborough	5	3	3
Brown Gyp, Geo. Curtis, Lindsay	3	5	5

Time:—
First heat, 2.30.
Second heat, 2.28 1-4.
Third heat, 2.25 1-4.

The first heat in the 2.40 class was a race all the way from the wire. Miss Paisley got away on a bad start, breaking as she came up to the wire. On the first lap she came up with the field, which passed the half in a beautiful race. Dan Finister leading by less than a length. The finish was one of the prettiest ever seen on a half-mile track. The horses entered the stretch in the order of the finish.

The second heat was a good exhibition of trotting. Miss Paisley's line became wound around the shaft and she got off fully a quarter of a lap in the rear of the field. Joe Allen secured the lead, which he maintained throughout, with Finister and Gyp coming in quick succession, and Happy Harry trailing. Monahan drove Miss Paisley a grand race, and the manner in which the little mare closed up the gap between her and the leaders was a marvel. The race down the stretch was exciting. Happy Harry came up in a nice burst of speed. The four leaders finished abreast across the track. Joe Allen won by about half a length from Dan Finister. Paisley came in strong after a highly creditable race.

Joe Allen got away in the lead. A good start. Miss Paisley came up strong in the early part of the race, but it became apparent that her staying powers were somewhat diminished by her splendid work in the previous heat. Joe Allen came fast down the stretch, winning by about 1 1-2 lengths.

Second Race.

2.19 Class.

1, Donna Belle, Dr. Johnston, Peterborough	1	1	1
2, Orillia Belle, J. Daly, Orillia	2	2	3
3, Little Jap, H. Edmonds, Blenheim	3	3	3
4, Billy P, H. Nesbitt, Peterborough	4	4	4

Time—
1st heat, 2.21 1-4.
2nd heat, 2.19 1-4.
3rd heat, 2.19 1-4.

Donna Belle had the pole. Orillia Belle, in fourth position, got away in the lead, and at the quarter was a length in advance.

The half was passed with Orillia Belle leading by about a length from Donna Belle, with Billy P and Little Jap trailing about three lengths in the rear. At the turn before entering the stretch, Orillia Belle, which was leading by about 1 1-2 lengths broke, and Donna Belle, who had lots of speed left, came up in a beautiful spurt and passed the leader. A pretty race down the stretch ensued, and Snow, who drove Donna Belle a beautiful race, sent her under the wire about half a length in the lead. A close contest for third place was won by Little Jap.

Donna Belle, at the pole, got away in the lead, with Orillia Belle following. After an interesting lap, the position at the half was Donna Belle, Orillia Belle, Little Jap and Billy P. After passing the half, Orillia Belle extended herself and took the lead at the three-quarter, and led at the entrance of the stretch by about a length. Snow, who was driving Donna Belle a grand race, sent her to the lead in the prettiest spurt of the day. The race up the stretch was a beautiful effort and was won by Donna Belle amid unbounded enthusiasm, by about a neck.

Donna Belle got away well in a good start, Orillia Belle coming second. The order at the half was Donna Belle, Orillia Belle, Billy P and Little Jap.

The concluding half was interesting. Orillia trailed close behind, but Orillia trailed close behind, but came down the stretch in a magnificent finish.

DONNA BELLE,
Dr. Johnston's Speedy Mare Which Won the 2:19 Class in Three Straight Heats.

Third Race.

Half Mile Run.

1, Chatelaine, 117, Chas. Phair, Toronto	1	3	1
2, Victoria, 114, John Covontry, Woodstock	3	1	2
3, My Honey, 101, J. F. and F. Lynes, Norway	3	2
4, Seaton, 108, Chas. Phair, Toronto	2

Time.
1st heat, 51 1-2 seconds.
2nd heat, 50 seconds.
3rd heat, 51 seconds.

The running race was one of the most exciting. Chatelaine got away in a rather poor start, but easily passed the field in the stretch in a grand burst of speed. The second heat went to Victoria in a field of three. The concluding heat narrowed down to a struggle between Chatelaine and Victoria, which from the start was a procession.

MARRIED MEN WERE DEFEATED

Single Men Pile Up a Big Score.

Exciting Game Played on Riverside Park Last Evening.

When Ernie Wasson and his married men stacked themselves up against Ernie Best's single men, they received such a trouncing, as will last them for the rest of the season. Married life apparently does not improve the "Has beens," for at half time they were "all in," and played the rest of the game on the defence. Dave Belland was out for the married men, but he was in goal for half the game, and was not so dangerous. Bill Crowley appeared on the field shorn of his locks, but his cap covered all such deficiencies.

For the married men, Ernie Wasson put up a strenuous game. Disposing of all unnecessary apparel, he went into the game in tights and running shoes, and Crowley had some trouble to keep track of him. In the second half the "Has beens" went to pieces, and when the smoke cleared away the score piled up looked like this——12—2 in Best's favour!

Referee Joe Picard blew his whistle at 7.30, and the great game was on. The ball quickly travelled from one end of the field to the other, but Cavanah got hold of it and passed to Ford, who hit the top of the nets, but failed to score. Again the ball went travelling and Mahoney scored from a mix-up in front of the goal while Wasson was out. Score 1—0.

Ford got the face-of, and the ball went to the "Has-beens'" end, but Wasson got it and made a long run up the field, and scored on a pretty shot. Score 1—1.

Best scored after a few minutes' play. Score, 2—1.

But the married men again got busy and Parnell scored what proved to be the last goal for Wasson's team. Score, 2—2.

The ball was in the single men's territory, and the prospects for scoring on them were bright, but time was called, leaving the score 2—2.

Play was resumed after a minute's rest and Belland was called upon to do some work in goal. He succeeded in stopping a few warm ones until Best found an opening, and scored. Score, 3—2.

Crowley made a grand shot on goal but the ball went wide, and nearly went into the river, but he retrieved himself by making an accurate pass to Cavanah, who scored. Score, 4—2.

Cavanah again scored in a minute on a pass from H. Donovan. Score, 5—2.

Crowley and Wasson got mixed up, and Ernie sat on Bill's legs until Galley got the ball. But Ford got the ball from Galley and passed to "Red" Mahoney, who sent it into the nets. Score, 6—2.

Wasson now got down to business, and, getting rid of his sweater, he blossomed out in pale blue tights and somebody else's running shoes, about size 12. But it was no use, and Mahoney again sent one in. Score, 7—2.

The married men were "all in" now and contenanted themselves by stacking themselves in front of the goal. But they were easy, and for track of the scoring. One was scored in 10 seconds, and another in 5 seconds by Best, leaving the score 9—2.

Parnell made a long run, passed to Graham, who shot, but Boyle took care of the rubber and the chance was lost.

The married men again changed their goal tender, putting in "Indian" Earls, but just to show that the change was useless Cavanah sent in one and the score read 10—2.

The remainder of the game was played by moonlight, and the music floating across from the band in the park inspired the players to still greater deeds. Earls was easily passed, making the score 11—2, and Bill Cavanah made an even dozen for his bunch by sending in an easy one.

The referee thought that the several minutes it was hard to keep slaughter was complete, and he blew his whistle for time, leaving the final score 12—2.

With Hickey on their line up the "Has beens" claim that a different tale might have been told, but everyone else thought otherwise.

The teams played ten men a side and the players played in any position they seemed to fancy. The line-up was:

"Has Beens" — Wasson, Meagher, Graham, F. McCoy, L. McCoy, Parnell, Overend, Earls, Galley, Belland.

"Stalwarts" — Best, Cavanah, Crowley, Morgan, Dillon, Boyle, W. Donovan, H. Donovan, Mahony, Ford.

FAST TROTTERS CHANGE HANDS

Jap, and Happy Harry Will Remain in Town.

Two important transfers of horseflesh have taken place since the races. Mr. R. J. Munro has purchased Jap from Edmonds, of Blenheim, and Perrigo and Tracey, of Eganville, have disposed of Happy Harry to Mr. Nattrass, of Millbrook, for the sum of $500. Happy Harry is a comparatively green horse, having been entered only in three races. His showing of yesterday is certainly not as good as may be expected at a later period.

Perrigo and Tracey will leave tonight for Montreal, where their horses will be entered in the Delorimier Park races. Hal Patron, which carried off the honors in the free-for-all in a magnificent finish, will be entered in the 2.13 class. He has also done some good things in Winnipeg, having won in the 2.15 trot and 2.10 pace. Perrigo and Tracey may also handle Happy Harry at Delorimier Park, in which case he will be entered in the 2.29 and 2.27 classes.

GALT PLAYS A TIE GAME WITH WOODSTOCK

Score 1—1 in Eleventh—Brilliant Fielding by Galt.

On Thursday afternoon Galt and Woodstock, the league-leaders, played what is said to have been the best ball game seen in Woodstock for years. For eleven innings both teams played ball on their toes, and it was disappointing that the game had to be called to allow Galt to catch their train.

"Yebby" Flaherty did not keep up his previous performances, only fanning five men and passing four. But he did good work and figured in a fast double play.

BENSFORT COURT'S ANNUAL OUTING

Canadian Foresters' Take Trip by Steamer Water Lily.

On Thursday the Foresters of Bensfort conducted their annual excursion. The medium of travel was the steamer Water Lily, and as a consort, a palace barge. In the morning a happy company, counting over one hundred, embarked for the sail down the river, and then up the river—that is, one of the objective points being the beautiful village of Keene, where dinner was available, the excursion party had, necessarily to ascend the Indian River. Advantage was not taken of the new and short cut at the Devil's Elbow, and the only mishap of the voyage was a little difficulty in negotiating the cleerance process—the steamer and the barge, as Jean Baptiste would say, "she pass on de shore," for a short time — rest temporarily aground. But on the voyage down the Indian River the steamer and barge passed through the "short cut" with colours flying, fiddlers fiddling and dancers dancing. Dancing was the chief delight of the day, especially for the lighter hearted and light-ered heeled members of the party. Hardly a moment from the beginning of the excursion to the end did the dancing cease, except for eating and drinking. Idyl Wild was visited and tea taken there. The party returned home after a most successful and enjoyable day.

AMERICAN VISITOR ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Distressing Accident at Stony Lake on Saturday—Mrs. J. Audley Pierce, of McKeesport, Pa., Wounded by 22 Calibre Bullet—Missile Entered Her Shoulder—Conveyed to Peterborough by Special Train.

A regrettable accident, which it is hoped, will not result in serious complications, occurred at Stony Lake on Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. J. Audley Pierce, an American guest at Viamede, was shot, and painfully wounded, while fishing at Burleigh Falls.

The regrettable occurrence took place about two o'clock in the afternoon, when a party of Viamede guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and Miss Dale, were fishing from a row boat just off the shore at Burleigh. Two boys were standing upon the shore, with a small 22-calibre rifle, which one of them, it appears, discharged at a crow. The bullet went wide of the mark, and glancing upon the surface of the water, struck Mrs. Pierce, entering her shoulder.

The injured lady was at once conveyed to the Burleigh Hotel, where an examination of the wound was made by Dr. J. R. Fraser of Lakefield, who was, fortunately, present at the time. An effort was made by probing to locate the bullet, but this proved unavailing. It was considered best to place the patient as quickly as possible under hospital attention, and the steamer Majestic, which was present upon her regular trip, was secured for the purpose of conveying her to Lakefield, where the patient was taken by special train to Peterborough, and is at present at the Nicholls Hospital where she is reported to-day to be doing as well as can be expected.

The occurrence is deeply regretted, and a complete recovery is hoped for at an early date. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce had just arrived from their home in McKeesport, Pa., upon the day previous to the accident, and much sympathy is expressed on all sides at the unfortunate commencement of what would undoubtedly have been a pleasant holiday.

MIXER PROVED A HEAVY TASK

Was Eventually Loaded After Hard Day's Work.

The Operation was Witnessed by a Large Crowd.

The G. T. R. crossing at Smith street presented a very busy scene all day yesterday. There was a large crowd constantly in attendance watching the work of placing the rotary mixer on the cars.
